A Noble Woman Of The Highest Type Is Called Home To Live In Peace After Long Illness. Loved And Respected By All Who Knew Her. This Cultured Lady Truly Lived A Christian Life.

After a long illness during which all that loving care and expert medical attention could possibly do to save the life so dear to those left behind, Mrs. Frank J. Temple went peacefully to meet a well earned reward of life eternal on last Thursday morning at three o'clock.

Mrs. Temple had lived twenty-eight years in the same home from whence her loving spirit was borne away last Thursday and during every moment of the time, she has been all that a tender mother, a faithful loving wife and a true Christian woman could possibly be. She was intensely a home woman centering her every effort on making those about her happy and contented, yet she took an active part in all of the community welfare where her assistance could possible aid in any worthy cause.

She was a faithful considerate church worker who lived most conscientiously the life of a consecrated woman doing all possible to cheer, aid and comfort those less fortunate or in need. Her life was a splendid example of courage, devotion and fortitude which ever pointed to the loving example of Him whose wisdom she was emulating.

And now after a short period of trial, she was tenderly carried to that home eternal from whence borne no travelor ever returns, to that mansion in the skies where dwells our Lord and King there to await the coming of those she loved so well when once again they will reunite never more to part.

Nellie Reynolds Temple was born at Petersburg, Michigan, May 2nd, 1858 and passed away on Thursday, August 10th at her home in Tecumseh. She was married to Frank J. Temple on October 12th, 1881. Three children and the devoted husband remain to mourn their loss, Harry Temple of Britton, Herbert Temple and Vie Temple of this place and Frank J. Temple.

"Well done thou good and faithful servant" has surely been sung at the close of this [illegible] consistent Christian life gone to accept a well earned reward, and her memory will ever remain green in the hearts of those who knew her best. Grievous is the parting today but joyful will be the reunion soon to come "when life's fitful fever" shall be o'er and quietly we go into that long sleep until the day "when the clouds shall be rolled back like a scroll" and the mysteries of the stars shall be unfolded before us.

The funeral was held Saturday at 3 p. m., Rev. W. A. Gregory officiating Burial was made in Brookside.

AT THE BRADLEY.

Probably no modern author is better fitted to tell of the joys and tragedies that daily come and go in a large hospital, than Mary Roberts Rinehart, at one time a nurse in the famous Mayo Brothers hospital, and wife of a noted physician, Stanley Marshall Rinehart. Her new Goldwyn picture, "The Glorious Fool," which comes to the Bradley Theatre, Saturday, is a story of pathos and humor and deals convincingly and realistically with the carreer of Jane, a probationer, and the other inmates of a big city hospital.

Wednesday, August 23.

Bill Perkins comes home from war, and finds that he cannot get his old job back, or any other for that matter. He knows he has an uncle in the west somewhere and learns that his uncle's ranch is located on the route of the Government Air Mail. He stows away in the fusilage of a mail plane, and drops off at the ranch in a parachute.

He breaks up a gang of rustlers, discloses the foreman as its leader and through the aid of an attorney in a nearby town, proves his claim to the ranch. He and the ranchman's pretty daughter are married, and live happily ever afterward.

ALBERT J. USBURN DIED LAST NIGHT.

Albert J. Usburn who lived at his farm three miles northeast of Tecumseh died last night (Wednesday) at about 11 o'clock. Death was due to a general breaking down as he had not been well for some little time.

Mr. Usburn was 73 years of age and has lived in this community practically all his life. He was a prosperous highly respected citizen. Beside his farm he owned considerable business property in town. He leaves no immediate relatives.

The funeral will be held at 10 a. m. Saturday. The remains were brought to the Belding Funeral Home last night where the funeral will be held. Burial will be in Brookside.

Miss Helen Straw of Paulding, Ohio, is a guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Straw.

SELF-WINDING CLOCK HAS BEEN INSTALLED.

The Tecumseh Telephone Company has installed a Western Union Self-Winding Clock which is set hourly by a sub-master clock in the Western Union office which is regulated at eleven o'clock a. m. by the Naval Observatory at Washington, D. C.

This will give the Telephone office correct time and will be a great help to the public as it will be possible to get correct time by calling central.

There are several of these clocks in town, at the Paramount Hotel, Gaston's, Pulver's, Braman's Tecumseh State Bank, Tecumseh Junction and Heesen's Foundry.

TRAIN KILLS TWO COLTS.

Sometime during Thursday night two yearling colts, one belonging to Eugene Ambruster and the other to Bert Nixon got out of the pasture and onto the N. Y. C. tracks and were both killed by a passing train.

Friday morning no train crew had reported striking any objects and it was not then known what train killed them. It was reported that a Wabash train had passed over the tracks during the night and further than that it is not known what train killed them. They were killed outright and one of them was dragged nearly to the D. T. & I. crossing.

It seems strange that such objects could be hit and dragged along without a train engineer or fireman knowing it. It will probably be discovered what train did the damage after investigation.

FACTS WORTH KNOWING.

Three weeks from Monday a million kiddies will be rudely called from ice cream cones and other refreshments to labor again at the sound of the bells in the north, south, west and east. Bare feet and roustebouts will go in the discard and little indians will once more become civilized.(?)

If our present government officials can't bring the warring factions who are threatening to disrupt this country together on a basis fair to both sides and the public as well, then it is time to consider appointing a King and let him run it while the rest of us take what is handed out and quit monkeying with this political game.

Do you know that right here in Tecumseh it costs the man who owns a $5,000 home, fifty dollars per month to live in it? And if he builds a new porch or puts on a new roof, he is fined several hundred dollars for so doing. Civilization is a wonderful thing when the people allow "party leaders" to nominate, elect and make the laws of the land.

Tecumseh's streets may be torn up somewhat but the merchants have the finest lines of seasonable goods on their shelves that is carried in these parts. Read their advertisements and save yourself money and beside get satisfaction out of what you do buy. An article that is advertised is guaranteed to be and do what it is represented and the home merchant is always here to make it good.

Something else to tax is the frantic effort of our Lansing statesmen. Where oh where can we raise something more, our treasury is empty, our debts piling up and the Gang is getting dam sore. Quick you statesmen man the pumps and work for dear life, you must find something else whereby we can extract a new source of revenue or our hides are on the fence. But for the love of home and country, who ever heard them say lets cut out expenses.

When two neighbors get in a row and shoot across the street at each other much to the danger and inconvience of the public, the law quickly steps in and puts an end to it. Why not use the same method on the strike situation which threatens millions of homes with loss of employment, victuals to eat and coal to keep warm with? It doesn't take a an with a pedigree like a holstein bull or who wears a number 10 hat to understand that. It takes the nerve of a Teddy Roosevelt thats all..

Michigan is noted for being almost surrounded by beautiful lakes and has the highest tax rate in the whole U. S. About one-half of its land is very productive and the rest was given to the railroads and lumber men to become millionaires over. 83% of our extortionate taxes are paid by poor men on their homes and equally poor farmers on their farms while 60% of the wealth pays the other 17%. Its speed limit for autos is 35 miles per hour but statesmen looking for something more to tax have the right of way at over 100. It holds primaries in September at which about ¼ of the people vote and the other ¾ do all the kicking. The state officers consist of the Governor who wants still more power. Our glorious U. of M. is the seat of learning where students from all over the world come to be educated at the expense of the poor home owners and farmers who pay 83% of the taxes and don't know enough to stop it. Michigan is a wonderful state and becoming more noted each year.

Ice And Milk Are Free From Germs

State Analysis Of Ice and Milk Shows Both Absolutely Free From Typhoid Or Other Germs. Dr. Hammel Took Immediate Action When Typhoid Was Reported.

Considerable credit belongs to our active Health Officer, Dr. H. H. Hammel in having the milk from the W. L. Fair farm tested for typhoid as soon as Johnny Hamilton came down with it. The test was made by the state under direction of a state health officer and the analysis showed that the milk was absolutely free from any harmful germs whatever.

An analysis of the ice was also made at the same time and it too was found absolutely free from any germs so that our people may feel absolutely sure that no disease can come from the use of either of these products.

This was reported by Dr. Hammel who received the state report.

UP THEY GO AGAIN.

The state equalization board has come to the rescue of the gang that must have more money to spend and they did so gallantly.

They boosted the valuation of the state a BILLION FIVE HUNDRED MILLION of which Lenawee County is raised TWENTY MILLION.

How do you like it Mr. Home Owner and Farmer? You are the ones that pay 83% of the taxes, the rest of course don't care what they do. Are you going to be too busy to come out to the primary and vote on September 12th? The same crowd thats in office wants to stay in. Are you willing to help them stay? Its up to you to do the voting and make the decision.

THE MINE STEP.

Up in some of the mines the engineers have arranged an ingenius piece of apparatus to hoist the men out of the mine. It consists of two uprights placed parallel and about six inches apart. Each one of these uprights have steps fastened to them about ten inches apart, the steps alternating with the one on the other upright.

Now these uprights are fixed on machinery so that each one raises and lowers about six inches alternately. A man standing on one simply steps across to the other as its step is raised to his level and is hoisted six inches when he steps across to the other and goes up six inches more and so on until he comes clear out of the mine by simply stepping across a short six inch space but never steps upward.

This ingenius device was probably taken as the scheme for raising more money for the political gang at Lansing to spend. First they came around and raised the valuation on the pretense of getting our tax rate lowered, etc, etc, etc. Then after the valuation was as high as possible, they stepped across to the levy and raised the percent of taxation and up shot the taxes again. And so on they have raised the percent and then the valuation until they have extracted every penny of money that real estate can beg, borrow or earn for these legalized spenders to scatter.

And now cometh the state board of equalization with a plan to raise the valuation of the state one BILLION SIX HUNDRED MILLION more. Lenawee County to have a TWENTY MILLION raise as our share of the extortion, and you farmers and home owners will have to bear 83 percent of this for that is exactly the percent of all our taxes you now pay.

GUY E. BELDING

TECUMSEH, MICH.

Ten years ago the State of Michigan did not owe a cent. Today it owes 250 million and not one cent in the sinking fund to pay it off with. Ten years ago it cost only ten million dollars to run every state expense that we had. Today the U. of M. gets more than that to run its existence with and educate everybody from Timbuctoo to the Fiji Islands while the patient farmer and home owner pays 83 percent of it.

The state of Ohio with twice our assessed valuation has but three men (the tax commission) to look after their tax business. Michigan has over sixty useless relatives and friends of the administration who don't earn a good living without state aid running around the state looking after taxes.

Are you coming out to vote at the primaries September 12th? If you don't, you have no license to kick about anything that the gang of home wreckers put over you. You should just quietly submit to their bleeding tactics until the constabs come down and take your furniture to help pay the taxes and kick you out into the cold world to start anew.

The extortionate tax system in Michigan is one of the worst forms of legalized robbery ever practiced upon a race of people and yet you will find the politicians come right back and ask you to send them back to Lansing to finish their work. God pity us if they ever get it worked to their idea of a finish.

Remember the ballot is the only way we have to settle this thing and if you continue to vote for the gang that has put us where we are, you must take the consequences without a murmur. We just wonder how long the people will shut their eyes to the extortion practiced upon them and rely on God instead of their own activity to correct it. Yea, verily, how long?

STATESMANSHIP OR DAMFOOLERY.

Down south they make the criminal niggers and whites as well earn their keep by building roads. Everyone of them is out doing an honest days work under the eye of guards who know how to keep them at it. The result is a fine state road system that doesn't cost the honest decent people a red cent.

Up here we keep about three thoussand of them lolling around in ease and luxury plotting on how to get some political pull to get out soon and they usually do it. The common decent people have to work their daylites out earning enough to pay taxes to build roads and keep the criminals well fed, clothed and entertained while serving their sentences. Statesmanship or damfoolery which?

$100,000 PRIZES OFFERED BY FAIR

INCREASE OF $30,000 OVER 1921 ANNOUNCED BY G. W. DICKINSON; LIST READY SOON.

PREMIUMS SHOULD BRING MORE, BETTER EXHIBITS

Realizing the incentive for the farmer to improve his exhibitions at the Michigan State Fair must become greater as the quality of the exhibits improve, more than $100,000 will be offered in premiums this year, as compared to $70,000 paid in 1921.

This increase in premiums will have a tendency, not only to improve the quality of the exhibitions themselves but also to increase the number of displays from the rural districts of the state, in the opinion of George W. Dickinson, secretary and manager of the fair.

Ten years ago, the premium list amounted to $22,000. It gradually grew to the $70,000 high mark established in 1921. The Michigan State Fair of 1921 was conceded to be one of the four greatest in the United States; and, with the offer of larger premiums for the seventy-third annual exposition in Detroit, September 1-10 the administration hopes to put the fair out in front of all others.

Another reason for the increase in premiums is, the fair administration desires to keep close to its policy of broadening the interest in educational exhibits.

Among the important premium offers this year are approximately $20,000 for horses, $16,000 for cattle $6,000 for sheep and $6,000 for swine The premiums offered in the sheep and swine departments are greater than those offered by any other fair in America.

All entries for the Michigan State Fair must be made in the name of the owner, or the names of joint owners actual growers, producers, collectors inventors or manufacturers. Entries made in violation of this rule will be barred.

The premium list for the state fair this year is now in course of preparation and will be ready for distribution very soon. Copies of the premium list and blank forms for entries will be furnished upon application to G. W. Dickinson, 502 Bowles building Detroit.

The large increase in premiums promises one thing for fair visitors it is sure. That is more exhibits and better exhibits. Careful preparations are being made so that horses, cattle sheep, swine and all other exhibitions will be presented in the most attractive manner.

BIG WILD LIFE SHOW TO BE FEATURE OF FAI

Perhaps the most elaborate wild life show ever attempted by a state fair will be presented at the Seventy third annual Michigan State Fair, Detroit, September 1-10, this year. The show is to be put on under the auspices of the state conservation department.

Birds in the air, fish, fox, deer wolves, bears and every other imaginable wild animal known to Michigan will be on display. The exhibition is being organized with the thought of educating fair visitors on wild animals they never have seen but have heard mentioned oftentimes and, have read about in books.

A park adjoining the fair now is being prepared for this show.

G. W. Dickinson Acts to Prevent Disease Infecting Livestock

Farmers planning to exhibit horses, cattle, sheep, swine or livestock of any nature at the Michigan State Fair, Detroit, September 1-10, need not worry about danger of contagious diseases.

George W. Dickinson, secretary and manager, has arranged for every possible prevention of disease infecting any of the livestock on exhibition. Arrangements have been made with the state veterinary for thorough disinfection of every building prior to and during the fair.

Many fly-traps will be placed in each building where livestock is on exhibition. Millions of flies were caught last year, which prevented their interfering with the comfort of any of the horses or cattle.

No livestock will be allowed to be exhibited until thoroughly examined for disease. Every precaution will be taken to prevent horses or cattle coming into contact with disease, once they have been admitted to exhibition.

The health department of the City of Detroit will maintain careful supervision of the food supply at the State Fair. Not only will careful inspection of the food given livestock for disease or poisonous traces be made, but preparation of foods for fair visitors also will be supervised. Sanitary drinking fountains will be erected everywhere on the grounds.

Fur Trimming in High Favor.

Fur, of course, is the most accepted trimming, for a winter street suit of any sort needs that to make it possible. It must be warm, and extra warm about the throat and the hands, at least. And, where once we bore

Obituary.

Adolphen Cook, former resident of this vicinity was killed Tuesday August 8 near Manton. He was driving from a neighbors yard to the highway, when one of the front wheels of the wagon dropped into a rut with such force as to throw him from the spring seat to the ground, where he struck on his head, breaking his neck, causing instant death.

Adolphen Cook was born March 11, 1859 in Pennsylvania and at the time of his death was 63 years, 4 months and 29 days old. He was one of seven children and is survived by three brothers, Wallace Cook of Durand, John Cook of this place, Albert Cook of Tecumseh, and one sister, Mrs. Jane Pitcher of Douglas. A niece, Mrs. Lenard Beasley and family of this place, with whom he often visited, also survives and these together with other relatives and friends deeply mourn their loss.

The remains arrived here Friday evening and were taken to the home of his brother, John Cook, where the funeral services were held Sunday at 12:30, Rev. J. C. DeRemer of the Christian church officiating. The pall bearers who carried the remains to their last resting place in Ridgeway cemetery were B. J. Beasley, C. D. Zeluff, A. W. Lee, C. A resolution authorizing the issuance of special assessment bonds of the Village of Tecumseh, in the sum of Six Thousand Dollars, to cover the deferred payments in special assessment district No. 1:

Whereas, the Common Council of the Village of Tecumseh, Michigan did on the 20th day of June 1921, declare and determine it was expedient and necessary that a portion of Chicago Street, in said village, be paved from the east line of Pearl Street to the west line of Ottawa Street;

And whereas, said council did on the first day of May, 1922, designate the special assessment district which should bear a portion of expense of said paving, which should be known as special assessment district No. 1, and that there should be raised by special assessment in said district for said purpose the sum of Seven Thousand Five Hundred ($7500.00) Dollars;

And whereas, the assessment roll for the collection of said special assessment in said district, has, by due authority, been prepared, reported, reviewed, confirmed, and is now in the hands of the treasurer of said village for collection, and said sum has been duly levied upon said district;

And whereas, Fifteen Hundred ($1500.00) Dollars of said special assessment is now due and will be paid forthwith, leaving in deferred installments to be collected in the four successive years subsequent to the present date, Six Thousand ($6000.00) Dollars;

COMMUNITY SERVICE AT THE FRIENDS CHURCH.

The service opened by song after which Rev. Escolme read the scripture lesson and Rev. Gregory gave the invocation.

Rev. Escolme took as his subject, "Lessons from the Tabernacle."

The tabernacle held an important place in the lives of the children of Israel. Moses was given the instructions as how to build the tabernacle and what it should contain, each article being typical of something in the Christian life. The people were better able to understand the truths taught by having a concrete example and so it is easier today to teach by examples.

The first piece of furniture to be seen on entering was the Brazen Altar, typifying the way to approach God is by the way of sacrifice. If this was neglected the people were made to suffer. Just so today men cannot disobey God's laws and not be punished. We can put our lives in harmony with God and go to everlasting bliss, or refuse and meet with everlasting disaster. It is only by the shedding of blood that there is remission. The sacrifices offered on the altar were to be beasts without a blemish, or the very best. God demands our very best.

Between the ark and the tent was the laver or place of cleaning. God demands clean people, without and within.

Inside the tent was a room brightly lighted by a candlestick containing seven candles. There was no natural light but the candles made sufficient. Christ is the light of the world by which we may fashion our lives. We should not think what would Christ do if He were in our place, but what would He have me do.

There was a table of shew bread which only the priests were allowed to eat. Jesus Christ is the bread of life. We believe in the individual priesthood of believers, each being able to go to God, for himself, through Jesus Christ.

There was also the Golden Altar of incense which continually sent sweet perfumes upward. Our prayers and our lives should continually be ascending upward, giving sweet perfume to those near us.

The meeting was very well attended and will be held next week at St. Peter's Episcopal with Rev. J. J. Preston as speaker.

Tecumseh Trims Clinton Again

Local Baseball Tossers Take Long End Of Four Game Series. Except For One Inning Clinton Is Not In It. Locals Played Steady Game.

Clinton came down last Sunday for the fourth game of the series and lost to Tecumseh 7 to 6. The game was void of thrillers except in the sixth inning when Clinton jumped on the pill and swatted it right and left and assisted by some loose playing, the woolen makers sent five men across the rubber before the local braves could get their second wind and stop the rush.

Leonardson pitched a good game and the locals batted well having a lead of 5 scores at the end of the fifth but went to a tie in the sixth. It looked as if Clinton was going to forge ahead but at the last moment were stopped in time for the Indians to get a new hold and put an end to the pyrotechnics.

A good sized crowd saw the game and enjoyed every minute of it. Next Sunday the fast Milan team will be here and the locals will have to play good ball or the lowlanders will take home a new scalp for they are rated a fast team.

JOHN HAMILTON, AGED FOURTEEN YEARS DIES OF TYPHOID.

John Hamilton, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hamilton Sr., who reside on W. Pottawatamie St. died last Friday after a short illness with that dreaded disease, typhoid fever.

No better or more ambitious boy could be found than Johnny Hamilton. He was friendly and manly, always courteous and loved by everyone who knew him for his bright energetic and happy ways of doing his work. As a newsboy he made a host of friends and while working on the milk wagon, he did likewise. It is indeed sad that such a splendid young life must go out, but doubtless the great Creator knew best and His will be done.

A very large concourse of friends were present at the funeral held Monday afternoon to pay their last respects to this brave and gallant young lad who has crossed the great divide.

John Hamilton Jr. was born in County Antrim, Ireland, February 14th, 1898 and passed away on August 18th, 1922 at his home in Tecumseh. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hamilton and by four brothers, William, Thomas, Robert and Henry and by one sister, Anna, who are left to mourn their loss. Burial was made in Brookside.

Their funeral stock will be of the very best and they will carry an extensive display of the newest designs.

We are glad to welcome the new firm and feel sure they will find this a splendid community in which to live and work.

Also we feel that when the plans of this firm are completed, Tecumseh will be proud of their coming.

Trap Shooters Burn Much Powder

Local Shooters Hold Another Bang At The Park. Blue Rocks Soar High, Low and Fast And Prove Very Elusive To Break. Many Local Fans Are Becoming Quite Proficient, Everyone Invited.

Everyone is invited to come up to the Park on Friday afternoon between five and eight to see the trap shooting. The ladies are as welcome as the men and many are enjoying seeing the sterner sex miss 'em as well as break a few.

If you enjoy seeing the rocks fly and sometimes break, come up and enjoy the fun. Its all free.

Last week the shooters wer not in quite such good form as usual and not many high scores were run but at that most of them need not be ashamed of their scores as it is quite a trick to run much over the 80% mark in a long shoot. The blamed things don't seem to stay in any one place very long and they get away fast so that but a fraction of a second is given to draw a bead hence the number unbroken is large.

Come up tomorrow night and see the fun and shoot if you desire. The following is the score for last week; the first number being the targets and the second the number broken.

Aldrich 45-33, D. Wright 35-30, Damon 65-46, Linton 45-30, L. Harris 55-45, Armstrong 60-47, Taylor 10-6, Swick 20-17, Dr. Hammel 20-19, Alderdyce 50-26, Spitler 35-27, Van Tyne 10-5.

MATTIS-LANNING REUNION.

Thursday, August 17th, 1922 was held the 16th annual reunion of the Mattis-Lanning family at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Brown at North Adrian.

The forenoon was spent in visiting and renewing old acquaintance. At noon a bounteous potluck dinner was served of which fifty guests partook.

After dinner the company was called to order for a business meeting. That being finished a quoit game was held, and the way those women threw those horseshoes, most likely they will be trying for championship soon. All expressed themselves as having a fine time and that Mr. and Mrs. Brown are royal entertainers.

The next reunion will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Smith in Adrian. Guests were present from Detroit, Ann Arbor, Adrian, Onsted, Tecumseh and Britton.

RECEIVES SECOND PLACE.

A state wide contest was launched last school year by the K. of P. lodge for the best essay written by any high school pupil on the subject, "American Citizenship."

Several in our high school entered the contest and Miss Bernice Austin has this week received a letter from Will E. Hampton, G. K. R. & S. at Ann Arbor that she has been awarded second place in the state. This entitles her to visit the annual convention at Charlevoix, all expenses paid.

The essays will be read there in on of the churches and prizes awarded.

COLLINS FAMILY REUNION.

The eighth annual reunion of the Collins family was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Collins in Macon, Thursday, August 10th.

It was an ideal summer day and about 80 relatives gathered to shake hands with each other and talk over their past life. At 1 o'clock a bountiful dinner was served on the beautiful lawn. After which a few remarks were made by Rev. W. C. Burns of Weston, Ohio, Guernsey Collins of Ann Arbor, and John Martin of Indianapolis, Ind.

Mrs. Maude Day gave an account of her father's and mothers' courtship which took place at the old "Homestead" where the reunion was held.

Following this a business meeting was held and it was decided to meet with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gove, Adrian, for next year. Much credit is due to Mr. and Mrs. Collins as royal entertainers.

Progress Is Made On Paving Job

Contractors Are Doing All Possible To Get Business Section Laid At Least With Twenty Foot Strip Through The Middle. Lack Of Cement Is Holding Up Job, Contractor Thinks It Will All Be Laid Before Winter.

Our paving job is progressing as fast as cement can be had to put it down with and already the curb and gutter is laid for three blocks on the south side of the street.

The business block to the east is graded for a twenty foot strip of roadway through the center and this will be extended through the west block by the end of this week. Everything is in readiness to pour cement as soon as any shows up and it is reported that the state has taken over the Cement City Plant so as to rush the necessary supply here and elsewhere needed for urgent work.

Five cars of cement were received this week and more is loked for so that it now looks as if we would get a part if not all of the pavement laid soon in the city. Just what will be done outside will depend entirely on the cement situation.

The storm sewer ditch is dug from the river up to Maiden Lane where it ends, the blocks west of Union Street will go west into another system and the tile will be laid as soon as received. The streets are somewhat torn up but dont forget that Tecumseh is still on the map and that you can get in and out with perfect ease in any direction. Perfect detours are arranged over excellent roads and no one need stay away on account of the main street being torn up.

Summer Savings

Even if we didn't know that there is no school just now, we have some pretty good evidence to that effect in our savings department.

The accounts of many boys and girls who are depositors here have already shown a fine increase through vacation earnings.

We are proud of the number of boys and girls of Tecumseh and vicinity who have savings accounts here. Have you one?

PRIMARIES AND TAXES.

On September 12th or in about three weeks the primaries in this state will be held to nominate candidates to run the affairs of the state and county for the next two years.

The state has just given out the very interesting fact that the total amount of money actually spent from July 1st, 1921 to July 1st, 1922 for state purposes only amounted to over $35,693,000 and as the population given for Michigan in 1920 was 3,668,000 souls it makes the state expenses only average just a little less than $10 per capita for every man, woman and child in the state.

Will you be too busy to come out and vote at the primaries? Do you approve of such an expenditure? If so send the same crowd back. Our taxes have increased from 1910 to 1920 just 298%.

In 1910 the total tax including county, town, school and state levied in Michigan was $35,710,000. The total tax levied in 1920 for exactly the same purposes was $140,439,000 or exactly the same as a tax of$38 on every man, woman and child in the state.

That's what it cost to have such a grand administration of affairs as grips the state of Michigan at the present time.

If you have four in the family you can easily see what it means to you to vote at the Primaries, September 12th. Will you be too busy to do so?

"It is hard to give away a million," says John D. It sure is. You have to get one first.—Newspaper Enterprise Association.

SOME APPLE WE SAY.

Dr. H. H. Hammel just received a consignment of apples from his home town in the western part of Michigan and very generously dropped one on the Editor's desk.

It was a small affair only weighing a pound and six ounces and of the richest color and sound as a rock. They do grow apples out there and no mistake about it.

After baking it was of excellent quality and furnished the whole family with apple "sass" for three meals. Anyone else who has apples or other edible fruit of such proportions are always welcome at the editorial office.

Covering the Subject

Old Si Chestnut says: "An advertisement should be like a woman's dress—long enough to cover the subject, but short enough to be interesting."

All right. Here goes. Our subject: A check on our Bank is better than a U. S. Treasury Note. Why? Because if you lose your Treasury Note by fire, theft, hold-up or accident, it is gone for good, that's all. But if the same accident should happen to a check on our Bank, you can stop payment and have a new check issued. Is that short enough to be interesting?

RENEWED TESTIMONY

No one in Tecumseh who suffers backache, headaches, or distressing urinary ills can afford to ignore this Tecumseh woman's twice-told story. It is confirmed testimony that no Tecumseh resident can doubt.

Mrs. Alice Burroughs, Pottawatamie St., says: "Less than a year ago I began to feel badly. I sometimes ached all over and had such tired feelings, my energy seemed all gone. My kidneys didn't act naturally and at times my back ached dreadfully. I had known of others in our town who had been helped by using Doan's Kidney Pills for the same trouble, so I went to Wright & Son's Drug Store for a supply. I began taking Doan's and in a few weeks was feeling much better. Now I am free from the aches and pains and feel better in every way. I know simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Burroughs had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y. —Advertisement. that Doan's gave me this benefit and am glad to say that I heartily recommend them, as I know them to be reliable." (Statement given December 3, 1908.)

On May 3, 1920, Mrs. Burroughs said: "The cure Doan's Kidney Pills gave me has proven permanent. I willingly confirm my former statement."

Every Business In Michigan Should Be Using This Michigan Built Cash Register

You should be using the American Cash Register in your business, not only because it is a Michigan-made product but first of all because it will best meet your particular needs. Thousands of American users in Michigan say it is a register without an equal for obtaining facts and figures.

The American is destined to make the great Wolverine state the center of the cash register industry as your state is the center of the automobile, the drug, the stove and many other industries.

For a quarter of a century the American has been the trusted, the dependable co-worker of thousands of business men throughout this and other countries. For 25 years this sturdy register has given unfailing, reliable service.

But the makers of this register were not satisfied to manufacture just a good register. It had to be the best that brains and mechanical skill could produce. Six years of scientific experimentation has enabled the management of the American Cash Register Company to produce a register that is practically automatic, a machine so standardized that now 1000 fewer parts are required in its construction.

And while skilled inventors were perfecting the American, vast improvements were under way to facilitate its production. In the modern factory manufacturing facilities were increased by the installation of high-speed automatic machinery, and workmen were trained.

Now, with many exclusive patented features, the American is meeting a nation wide demand for this Michigan product. Additional branch offices are being opened in many principal cities to meet the ever increasing demand for this register.

The American is designed and built to give you more and better service than you ever believed it possible for a cash register to give. It will tell you each night just what your business is doing—it will give you, your clerks and customers the fullest protection unfailingly and continuously.

It will help you to keep your business on the profit side of the ledger, for it will furnish you with the accurate, unassailable figures you must have. And the American "Block System" positively will prevent accidental or intentional mistakes. The American will safeguard your interests day-in and day-out.

The "Block System" of the American, a feature found on no other register, makes it absolutely imperative that every transaction be completed. This means that you are furnished a complete report daily or at any time of the day, a report so concise that errors in an American guarded store are at a premium.

You owe it to yourself to have the best cash register it is possible to obtain. Certainly you should buy on merit alone. There is one way to tell that the American will meet your needs better than any other register. Have an American demonstrated to you. Notice its many features which are protected by basic patents and which can be found on no other machine. Then have any other register demonstrated and compare it feature by feature with the American.

After such a demonstration and comparison we know you will buy an American made in Michigan by Michigan Men.

Smiles and Tears for Twenty Years!

Over all that time, the best beloved romance in the world has been "The Little Minister."

A novel enshrined in the hearts of millions. The greatest stage success Maude Adams ever played.

Now its love, its charm and its thrilling events are a new delight on the screen. And Betty Compson—the ideal gypsy Babbie!

If you want an hour and a half of perfect entertainment, see Betty Compson in "The Little Minister" at the Bradley Opera House, Sunday, August 27th.

Tom Moore in "From the Ground Up," comes to the Bradley Theatre, for Wednesday. August 30. This is the best type of Tom Moore comedy—with a little drama mixed in. While playing in it, the Irish star amused the company by several new jokes. Here is one:

American youth and French miss conversing. Said the French miss: "Well—au revoir!"

American youth: "What's that?"

French miss: "That's good bye in France."

American youth: "Well, then—B. V. D.!"

French miss: "What's that?"

American youth: "That's a good buy in America!"

AT THE BRADLEY.

Smiles and Tears for Twenty Years!

Over all that time, the best beloved romance in the world has been "The Little Minister."

A novel enshrined in the hearts of millions. The greatest stage success Maude Adams ever played.

Now its love, its charm and its thrilling events are a new delight on the screen. And Betty Compson—the ideal gypsy Babbie!

If you want an hour and a half of perfect entertainment, see Betty Compson in "The Little Minister" at the Bradley Opera House, Sunday, August 27th.

Tom Moore in "From the Ground Up," comes to the Bradley Theatre, for Wednesday. August 30. This is the best type of Tom Moore comedy—with a little drama mixed in. While playing in it, the Irish star amused the company by several new jokes. Here is one:

American youth and French miss conversing. Said the French miss: "Well—au revoir!"

American youth: "What's that?"

French miss: "That's good bye in France."

American youth: "Well, then—B. V. D.!"

French miss: "What's that?"

Independents Trim Milan Beautifully

Big Crowd Last Sunday Sees One Of The Best Games Of The Season. Tecumseh Beats Milan 3 To 2. Rynerson Struck Out 12 Men.

One of the best games of baseball ever seen on the local field was played last Sunday between Milan and Tecumseh with the locals taking the long end of a 3 to 2 score.

It was an ideal day and a big crowd was on hand to see the fun as Milan is counted as one of the best independent teams in these parts which proved to be true, but Rynerson was too much for them and they had to take the count in the ninth inning.

Rynerson had a fast breaking ball which dodged like a clay pigeon in a high wind and the Milan tossers could not locate it safely with the result that 12 men faced him and sat down after viciously fanning the air without any injury to the ball.

The local team gave the pitcher good support and hit often enough to nose out a victory although it was no man's game until the ninth inning had been played when Tecumseh came arcoss the rubber a winner.

Rynerson has signed up to finish the season with the Milan team who evidently have a very high opinion of his work after last Sunday's exhibition.

Almost Half Block Of Paving Now In

After Five Weeks Work Contractors Have Finally Got Twenty Foot Strip Of Paving Done For Half Block. At This Rate When Will We Have Our Main Street Finished.

One thing after another has conspired to hold up our paving job until now after the fifth week, we have about a block of concrete laid to a width of twenty feet.

Our main street has been torn up in every rough manner so that crossing the street is a task especially when wet but at the present time not much progress is being made to complete the job.

First, the strikes made it impossible to get cement and then the tile for the storm sewers were delayed and when those difficulties seemed in a fair way to be overcome, the state officials decided the gravel was wrong, although it had come out of the same pit to build both strips of road east and west of us, and after that was ironed out and another start made, the truck drivers struck Wednesday morning because they claim that they cannot make fair wages the way they are compelled to haul.

And so we are down again. At this rate when will our pavement get finished? It is also reported that an injunction is threatened if it is not laid according to certain tax payers idea of it.

Its a rocky road to build a concrete pavement in Tecumseh and it doesn't seem likely that it will get much better until someone with a bit of authority gets his Irish up and does something.

The leader of the band is a composer and several numbers on the program were of his own composing. The ukalele solo he played showed great talent.

The lady in the company is a soloist and reader and everyone enjoyed her part on the program, especially the solo in their language.

This was their second appearance in this town and everyone present was very much pleased with their program.

COMMUNITY SERVICE AT ST. PETER'S.

The community service Sunday evening was held at St. Peter's Episcopal church. After the service of song and the reading of the lesson by Rev. Gregory, Rev. Preston delivered the sermon taking as his text, Matthew 5:13-14. He stated that this week this Parish commemorates their ninetieth anniversary and when the corner stone of St. Peters was laid the speaker used the second verse of the same text, the fourteenth verse of Matthew five, comparing the location of the church to the "city set on a hill."

The Jews were a chosen people and this was an appeal to them to take the position they had been chosen for, as lights and leaders. They were to have a purifying influence in this world of sin as Salt purifies. If they failed in their mission they would be destroyed as salt that has lost its savour would be cast away.

All God's gift to us are conditional; are given to us for a specific purpose. We cannot refuse them but must use them..

The west is first today in industry, government, education and even dress. The east has accepted the west in everything but the religion it represents. As our influence is great so is our responsibility correspondingly great. We are as a city set on a hill, looked upon by all men. We are the salt of the earth, have we lost our savour?

Our position as the youngest nation of the western world demands that our lives should be noble ones and other people following our example should be helped.

The western nation has Christianity as its foundation, are we true to the trust we have been given? We must trust in God, rather than our own strength, and we cannot fail. A thought we should often think is, "how are we using the gifts we have been given? Are we developing them and making our lives a blessing to this world?"

The meeting was very well attended and everyone enjoyed the splendid address.

Next week the meeting will be held at the Baptist church and Rev. Curtis will be the speaker.

NOTICE.

Boys and girls caught riding bicycles on the sidewalk will be promptly arrested. Parents should take notice and advise their children accordingly.

Tecumseh Team Beats Adrian

Local Shooters Visit County Seat And Wins Trap Shoot. D. F. Wright High Man With Team Mates Close By. Adrian Bunch Are Fine Fellows.

The local trap shooters journeyed to Adrian last Thursday to try titles with the Adrian five at a trap shooting contest and came home with a clean victory.

The Adrian bunch are a fine lot of fellows and extended every courtesy to the local shooters by way of making the trip a very pleasant one and it is hoped that several more shoots may be arranged.

The score was as follows, and the number after each name is the number of targets broken out of 25 thrown.

D. F. Wright 23, Elmer Harris 21, E. T. Armstrong 20, Cap Horn 19, W. Damon 17. Total of 100 targets broken out of 125 thrown. For Adrian, L. Harris 23, Hanover 18, C. Harris 18, L. Marlatt 17, G. Harris 15. Total of 91 targets broken out of 125 thrown.

Some shooting we say and congratulate our brother from our next town east, for putting us on the Ohio map for Britton is a member of the Tecumseh Gun Club.

Time to "Cut the Melon."

When a corporation declares a dividend it is often referred to as "Cutting the Melon".

Depositors who have savings accounts at this bank will cut their melon on September first. In other words, this is the day on which interest is paid.

The wise saver instructs us to credit the interest and has the satisfaction of knowing that it, in turn, is earning interest.

How much interest will YOU have credited to YOUR account on September first?

If you have no savings account at present, start one now. We will welcome your account, will pay interest at the rate of 4 per cent compounded quarterly. To go blindly into the future without saving a thing is poor business.

All deposits made on or before September 10th draw interest from the first.

SOME DIFFERENCE.

Last Sunday in conversing with a gentleman from Toledo, Ohio, he was asked what the taxes are in Toledo. He replied that everything included, it cost him $108 on a $4700 valuation.

Can you imagine that? What would the taxes be in Tecumseh on a $4700 valuation? Just $206.80. Some difference and we don't have all of a city's advantages either.

Why is there such a vast difference between Ohio and Michigan? The difference is that in Ohio the two great parties are about evenly divided and each one dares not rob the people or out they go at the next election. At least that is one explanation why taxes are almost twice as high in Tecumseh as they are in Toledo, and Ohio does just as much for its institutions and for the plain people as Michigan does.

It would almost seem that the people would open their eyes pretty soon and realize that they have been given some costly bunk on the necessity of raising more money by taxation.

Before you vote this coming Primary, think it over and decide who you ought to vote for and then VOTE.

Firestone
Most Miles per Dollar

A Triumph for Value

IN the past two months Firestone has built and marketed more tires than in any similar period in its history.

This steadily increasing public preference is proof of the recognition by car owners of the greater values offered by Firestone. It is a tribute to Firestone men—all stockholders in the company—all actuated by the operating principle of Most Miles per Dollar.

The high average performance of Firestone Cords is without equal in the annals of tire making and is reflected by the general tendency to specify Firestone for hard service. Taxicab and bus lines, buying tires by the mile, are universally equipping with Firestone Cords.

There are many reasons for the high quality of Firestone tires but chief among the special manufacturing processes are double gum-dipping, thus eliminating internal friction by insulating each cord strand, and air-bag cure, insuring a well-balanced and perfectly shaped product.

Don't speculate in tires—you will find the right combination of price and quality in Firestone. Come in and let us tell you about the service these Cords are giving other car-owners whom you know.

BAD BUSINESS.

Henry Ford has ordered every one of his vast plants shut down completely on Sept. 16th. This will throw upwards of a million men throughout Michigan out of employment. Over 85,000 in Detroit alone.

Mr. Ford gives as his reason that he will not pay graft to mine operators or anyone else to get coal. He gives the whole story in one sentence. He believes that the whole coal strike is a conspiracy to rob the people by a lot of gouging coal sharks.

There is plenty of coal if you want to pay their price of extortion. The question is who is running affairs in this country? Can a few men take the whole people by the throat and choke them senseless while they take away all their earnings by such operations?

It seems they are doing it and we are helpless to do anything thus far except hold conferences and more conferences and then start over again and hold some more conferences. Where is the man big enough to take hold of this nest of robbers and choke the life out of their (deleted by the censor) but you know what we mean.

Have we come to a point where greed for votes overshadows everything else and that fear of political consequences seems to govern our official's actions while the majority of the people face freezing and actual want for food and fuel?

This conference business and dillying around while the people freeze is going to lead rapidly to serious consequences unless definite quick action is taken to produce coal and plenty of it at a decent price.

It will be "open season" for coal robbers soon unless prompt action is taken to settle the matter.

And remember this, your local dealer is just as helpless as you are. If he gets any coal at all he has to take it at the price they name and he certainly can't sell it to you for less than it costs him. No, the local dealer is in the same boat with everyone of us, the robber and gouger is the coal operator and brokers who are holding up the public just like Jesse James used to in Missouri, except that Jesse had the nerve to do it and take shooting chances with the other fellow while the coal robbers hide behind the law and take no chances unless the people take things in their own hands which is not improbable if conditions are not changed pretty soon.

All right. Here goes. Our subject: A check on our Bank is better than a U. S. Treasury Note. Why? Because if you lose your Treasury Note by fire, theft, hold-up or accident, it is gone for good, that's all. But if the same accident should happen to a check on our Bank, you can stop payment and have a new check issued. Is that short enough to be interesting?

Is Your Kitchen Infested With Evil Spirits?

If so, a Monarch Range will clear them out.

And what's more, they will stay away, for a Monarch is not subject to the many ailments most ranges suffer when they get to be a few years old.

The way to prevent trouble in future years is to build a range RIGHT to start with,—so it will stay tight.

We sell the Monarch because we know it is built right. If you will come in, we will be glad to show you exactly what we mean. We will show you why the only way to build a range for permanent satisfaction is with unbreakable malleable iron and hand riveting at every joint. There is only one right way to do anything — and that is the right way to build a range.

You will be delighted at the handsome apperance of the Monarch—and also to know how easy it is to keep it clean and looking like new. The moderate price will surprise you.

AT THE BRADLEY THEATRE.

Do You Want To Travel

The management of this theatre offers a trip to the moon to any one who will bring to this theatre next Saturday, September 2, a "sour" face, retain that "sour" face during the showing of "Chasing the Moon," and leave the theatre still looking sour. If you laugh you lose. "Chasing the Moon," with Tom Mix, is the funniest picture in which this daring William Fox star has appeared. The offer, despite the great expense of sending any one on a trip to the moon is an easy one for us, because we do not believe even a Chinaman could see this picture without rolling in laughter. Remember the date, and bring your troubles along. You'll lose 'em "Chasing the Moon."

"Tell It In Props"

Gloria Swanson's Picture "Under the "Lash" Proves Saying Means Much

One of the best rules for the scenario writer is to "tell it in props." And in "Under the Lash" which comes to the Bradley theatre next Sunday and Monday, Sept. 3 and 4, there is a fine example of what the expression means, Russell Simpson, as the fanatical Boer husband of Gloria Swanson, the star, carries a bull whip and a Bible most of the time. The significance is so marked that anyone could grasp the essentials of his character and the theme of the story by seeing this combination He means to enforce the letter of the Scriptures by brute force if necessary. Every time the whip appears, we know and are brought face to face with the theme of the picture. Sam Wood directed the production which is an adaption by J. E. Nash from the play "The Shulamite" by Edward Knoblock and Claude Askew.

CHEAPER COAL.

I believe like Henry Ford that coal prices at present are too high and will be lower.

Last week prices dropped from $1.50 to $2.00 in all coal fields and believe coal will still be cheaper.

Public Utilities and Lake Shipments should have the coal for 30 days then we believe the domestic coal will be reasonable in price.

Not cheap by any means, still no $15.00 coal as at present in some cities.

We are offered the best of lump coal if we want to pay the price. We don't as we know it will be cheaper. Place your orders now we are satisfied they will soon be delivered.

IN APPRECIATION.

W. R. Curtis and family.

REV. CURTIS PREACHES FAREWELL SERMON.

A large crowd was in attendance at the service Sunday evening at the Baptist church to hear Rev. Curtis's farewell address.

A fine service of the McComb-Clase songs opened the meeting. Rev. and Mrs. Curtis sang a duet with Mrs. Ted McConnell at the piano.

Rev. Curtis took as his text, Matthew 11:22-23. Each individual is brought into the world for a specific purpose. Preachers, or messengers, each have an individuality and each have a special message. The ministry is a gift, given for a purpose and each minister is chosen for some special reason, no two being alike.

We sometimes think of a town as an individual with a soul, especially Tecumseh where there is such unity among the townspeople.

There are some things in the town worthy of mention, the Library, the school house, the Herald, the churches and the beautiful streets we are soon to have. These things have co-operated in meeting the taxes and in boosting whatever way they could, which shows the soul of the town.

You cannot separate a man and his message. Jesus brought a message that influenced everyone who heard it. He spoke on things the people had a special interest in, things they did every day and drew a lesson from it. Give a man a vision of the cross and his whole message will be changed. Each life that comes in contact with Christ will be changed so that it will bless the world.

Rev. Curtis then spoke of how enjoyable it had been to work with the business men, of how willing they had been to help any cause along, both by money and by work. The members of the other churches for their encouraging words and their help in all worthy causes, were appeciated.

He spoke of what a geat work the Scout work is and hopes someone will be willing to carry it on. Much good can be done among the boys and some may go wrong unless someone takes an interest in them.

Rev. Curtis and family will be at 626 Scott Street, Monroe, and will always welcome any Tecumseh callers.

The people of the town have a large place in their hearts for Rev. Curtis and family and are sorry to have them leave, but good wishes and prayers go with them to their new field and we will expect to hear great things from them.

Mrs. C. N. Graebner motored to Montpelier, O., yesterday to visit her mother, Mrs. F. H. Fulton.

GIVES BRIEF ACCOUNT OF TAXATION QUESTION.

As a member of the Michigan Commission of Inquiry into Taxation, I thought it might be of interest and possibly of some value to the readers of the Herald to state to them in a brief way the result of our investigation and study of this vital problem.

This article is a plain statement of facts and figures in relation to our present conditions with such observations as my year and a half of careful study of the problem as a member of this Commission suggest. To inform the people and to follow their will is the chief duty of a public official. The voters of Michigan can be trusted to make a wise decision when they understand the various methods of solution proposed.

We had hoped that in our study of laws of other States we might discover what Michigan sought—a satisfactory system of taxation. Our search was not successful; we found that no State had tax laws that were entirely satisfactory, and that painless taxation is yet to be discovered.

The first work of this Commission was to secure and compile data relative to the expense of all units of Governments in the State for the last ten years. We found that the enormous increase in government expenditures was not confined to any one particular unit but to all units with the smaller units as a general rule showing the greater increase as the following table will show:

Taxes Levied

	1911	1921
State Tax	$ 6,523,013	$20,452,380
County Tax	4,717,881	16,909,979
Twp. Tax	1,191,003	2,512,082
School Tax	8,532,423	45,633,329
High'y Tax	3,471,432	10,872,836
General City Tax	12,344,156	49,206,468
County Road Tax	815,227	6,981,797
Drain Tax	216,060	541,808
General Village Tax	490,848	5,363,268
Rejected Tax	13,656	114,592
Total Taxes	$39,315,699	$158,388.566

Assessed Valuation

	1911	1921

Personal Property—	416,268,603	1,188,786,545
Total	$1,898,057,358	$5,483,535,114

Note:—The tax levy per capita in 1911 was $13,99 and in 1921 it was $43,63 an increase for the ten year period of 212 per cent, of every dollar raised by general taxation last year thirteen cents were used for State Gofernment purposes and eighty-seven cents for local government purposes, these figures disprove the popular belief that the State Government is the chiefspender of public funds and therefore responsible for the large tax levies.

The following table will show what the thirteen per cent levied for State purposes was used for and the percentage of tax for each Department per $1000, valuation:

Agricultural purposes	$ 555,409.00
Care of the Insane	2,980.764.50
Charitable Institutions	739,302.50
Civil War Bounties	50,000.00

Penal Institutions	1,135,330.00
Public Health	463,813.00
Soldiers Bonus (Int on Bond)	2,456,250.00
State Board, limited to fees	67,361.80
State Boards & Commissions	755,112.50
State Departments	1,709,531.00
War Loan Fund	250,000.00
Miscellaneous	160,634.45
Total	$20,441.333.79

The total of direct State taxes for 1920 was $17,378,228.00. The total of appropriations made by the legislature for State purposes for the year 1921 was $16,785,083-.79, showing a decrease of $593,-144.21, but to that years total was added:

(1) To pay highway bonds and interest	$1,200,000.00
(2) Interest on soldiers Bonus Bonds	$2,456, 250.00
Total	$3,656,250.00

This brought the total for 1921 to $20,441,333.79.

FAREWELL FOR REV. CURTIS.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted McConnell entertained Rev. and Mrs. Curtis and family at dinner Friday evening, after which a party of the Baptist folks came in as a surprise and a farewell for their pastor and family.

The evening was spent in visiting, games and stunts, and then how fast the mellons disappeared.

The Curtises were presented with a large leather rocker and some table linen as an appreciation of their work. They have made many friends among the people outside of the church as well as in, during the past four years they have been here, who are sorry to see them leave, but wish them the greatest success possible in their new fields of labor.

BIG CHIEF GARAGE BUSINESS IS SOLD.

Last week a business deal was made whereby Harley F. Ladd and A. J. Weir became the owners of the Big Chief Garage business formerly owned by the Williamson Bros and of which L. P. Williamson was the manager.

Williamson Bros. built the building about two years ago and it stands as a distinct ornament to the city on its main street at the western limits of the business section and is undoubtedly one of the finest buildings to be found in any town of many times our size.

Mr. Ladd has been the Ford dealer at Brooklyn, Mich., for the past ten years and is considered one of the very best Ford mechanics in southern Michigan. He is perfectly familiar with every detail of Ford policy and Ford construction which will insure patrons of the garage the very best of service.

Mr. Weir has also been a Ford dealer at Concord, Mich. and is an experienced, capable man who knows the Ford business and also all other makes of cars so that this combination should give their patrons the service they require.

Elsewhere in this paper is found their fomal announcement and we welcome these new-comers into our midst with every wish for their success and enjoyment. Mr. Weir will move his family here as soon as a suitable house can be found and Mr. Ladd plans to move here in the spring.

SCHOOL OPENED TUESDAY.

The Tecumseh High School opened Tuesday morning with a large enrollment in the High School and grades. At this time no definite figures could be given for the H. S. but the grade enrollment is as follows: Kindergarten, 36, First Grade 55, Second Grade 49, Third Grade 54, Fourth Grade 45, Fifth Grade 47, Sixth Grade 48, making a total of 334.

The teachers were all on hand for the opening Tuesday, and the organization has been rapidly completed, beginning real work yesterday morning.

The number of non-resident pupils for the coming year is also large.

NOTICE.

Dr. Hardy will leave for a few days rest on September 12th and will be ready for business on Monday, Sept 18th. (adv)

Primaries Held Next Tuesday

It Is The Imperative Duty Of Every Voter To Vote. If We Can't Take Enough Interest To Vote, We Must Not Complain About Political Abuses, Candidates Are Plentiful.

Next Tuesday, Sept. 12th will occur the Primaries in Michigan at which candidates for the various state and county offices are to be nominated. In fact YOUR representatives are to be selected, one on each ticket, and it is up to the voters to do the selecting.

The Primary is one of the greatest steps forward toward cleaning up corrupt political practices that was ever given the people and unless the people take advantage of it and come out and vote, the politicians will have a good argument that the Primary is a failure and set about taking it away from the people and returning to the old corrupt political convention. This movement has already gained headway in Michigan and it was reported that two years ago Chas. Evans declared in a public meeting in answer to a question, that he would introduce a bill in the legislature to have the primary abolished if he were elected.

Elsewhere in this paper is printed an article by Rep. Evans showing his views on the tax question. We print it gladly because we want the people to have all the light possible on this growing burden, and we wish to say that as far as Rep. Evan's theory goes we believe he is right in principle, that the tax question must be more equitably spread around or the farm and home owners are going to be taxed out of existence. Personally we have the highest regard for Mr. Evans in every way, but there is one very vital and all important defect in his representation of this district in our opinion.

First, we are unalterably opposed to having the Primary taken away from the people and return to the old corrupt political convention where a few ring leaders in some back room nominates the candidate, in fact whether the people are supposed to do so or not. The Primary must be kept or the people are lost. It was reported through the Telegram that Mr. Evans would endeavor to destroy the Primary and for that reason also we are opposed to his renomination or election.

Second, Mr. Evans as chairman of the Roads Committee in the last

ENTERTAINS FOR GUEST.

Mrs. A. S. Cummins was hostess to a number of friends Tuesday afternoon at her home on S. Union street in honor of her daughter, Mrs. Thomas Jardine, of Glen Ridge, New Jersey.

Asters and other garden flowers added to the attractiveness of the rooms.

The afternoon was spent in playing bridge for which five tables were filled, high and low scores being held by Mrs. Floyd Heesen and Mrs. Dunn, respectively.

At the close of the games a delicious lunch was served.

Out of town guests beside the guest of honor were Mrs. Dunn of Detroit and Ms. Hicks.

PAVING GOING ALONG SLOWLY BUT RIGHT.

The paving of Chicago Street through the business district is going along slowly but be it said to the credit of the contractor that he is pushing matters as fast as circumstances will permit.

And above everything he is putting down one of the best strips of pavement that we have ever seen. They are using cement of the best quality and putting in ample amounts which with the excellent grade of gravel and stone, is making a road that will last a thousand years under ordinary wear and conditions.

We may have to be patient with unavoidable delays but in the end we will have a road and a street that will be the admiration of the entire community and the tourists as well. Let the mixer roll.

TEAM GOES TO MILAN.

Next Sunday the Independents go to Milan to try titles with that fast aggregation and as Lenardson is again in trim, he will pitch for Tecumseh.

A hot game is expected and it is hoped that a large crowd of rooters will accompany the team and help win a victory. Last Sunday Tecumseh beat Sand Lake to the tune of 8 to 3 and the team will be made extra strong for the big Milan game.

Come on tune up old Betsy and lets go to Milan and help the locals grab another fast one.

NOTICE.

The Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church will hold a Bake sale at Wright's Drug store, Saturday morning beginning at 10:00 o'clock.

DRAIN TAX LIGHT NEXT YEAR

The county drain tax will be the lightest next year that it has been in many years being only $41,800. This is due to the holding back as much of the work as can be done without injuring any property.

Last year it was heavy on account of the big swamp Raisin drain which was 19 miles long and cost the county $95,000 and also the Little Swamp Raisin drain was 13 miles long and cost $75,000 but these two drains have repaid for themselves many times in the land reclaimed.

And it must be understood that the drain commissioner does not determine the necessity for a drain. That belongs absolutely to the township board and therefore the drain commissioner cannot be charged with instigating costly drains. In fairness to all it must be understood that the drain commissioner is simply the executive officer to see that drains are constructed in accordance with the wishes of the petitioners and in the best and most approved manner.

The work of the drain commissioner demands much skill and hard work giving personal supervision to the actual work as it progresses. It requires much knowledge of drain laws and drain construction and experience is a very valuable asset in this particular work.

Lenawee County has an excellent system of drains and some of the most valuable land we have is the direct result of correct drainage which when carefully and scientifically built is a great asset to the farms of the county. But they must be built RIGHT or they are a useless expense.

SEES FAMOUS PLAY.

Miss Mildred Boyce has just returned from a trip to Europe during which she enjoyed the rare privilege of witnessing the world's famous Passion Play at Oberammergau.

This was indeed an opportunity seldom had by most of us and Miss Boyce has consented to give a description of this most wonderful play during the opening exercises of the Presbyterian Sunday-school next Sunday at 10 a. m. Everyone is invited to come.

NOTICE.

The next regular meeting of the Maccabees will be held September 18th. The transfer deputy will be present. All are urged to attend.

levied for local taxes, sixty per cent of this levy last year was for City Government and school purposes.

We note that while out tax levy increased 303 per cent during the ten year period our taxable property valuation increased only 189 per cent. These figures prove conclusively that while our laws have required that all intangbile property be listed for taxation a very small per cent of this class of property is on the tax duplicate. It is quite obvious that herein lies one of the reasons that the real property representing approximately 35% of the State's wealth is now paying approximately 79% of its taxes. With the strictest economy practiced and government expenses reduced to the minimum, will not in the least reduce this unjust and ruinious ratio that is now resting on the real property of this State.

A remedy for this condition must be found as this class of property can no longer stand up under this unfair and unjust necessary burden. We have received many valuable suggestions at our public hearings from representatives of practically all the industrial and agricultural interests as well as from many interested individuals, Their views shows a divergence of opinion as to what should be done to remedy this condition. We have familiarized ourselves with experiences of other States; through this mass of information we are led to the conclusion that Michigan has an old wornout system of taxation that needs some radical changes before we can get the desired relief.

I believe every one who has given the subject any serious consideration has come to the conclusion that while Tax exemption is as old as taxation itself, it has increased with such alarming rapidity that it has become a public menace, and, if continued will undermine any plan of taxation be it ever so well devised, because the form of property subject to taxation will be narrowed down until the whole burden will rest on real estate.

Tax exemptions of all kinds should be prohibited both by State and Nation; personally I believe that no property should be exempt from taxation except the Church and the School. They are the builders of Character into the life of a Nation and are in a class by themselves.

The sentiment expressed at all of our public hearings has been practically unanimous in favor of amending our Mortgage Tax law; the existing law of half of one per cent without any regard as to the life of the mortgage is in itself unjust. This half of one per cent annually would reduce a revenue of 8½ millions based on the average life of mortgages and land contracts, which is about four years.

Bonds if taxed annually as well as the time of issuance would show a greater increase as a revenue producer than mortgages because their average life is a great deal longer.

A revision of the tax on Car Companies patterned after the Laws of Ohio would bring into the State Treasury at least a million dollars more than they are now receiving from this source.

I know that the opinion is somewhat prevalent that this Special Commission is looking for new sources of revenue, and is paying little attention to cutting down expenses of government. This charge has no foundation as we have devoted a great deal of study to this important side of the question and will recommend the cutting down of every force in the employ of our State Government consistent with efficiency, as we fully realize governments are just like individuals. if we have plenty of money to spend we are not apt to be as econmical as we would if the money was harder to secure, therefore, I am in favor of submitting a Constitutional Amendment embodying in proper language the following suggestions:

All property may be taxed by such rules and methods and in such classes as shall be provided by law, but [illegible] outside municipalities shall never be taxed in excess of one and one quarter per cent of its real value, and real estate in municipalities shall never be taxed in excess of one and three-quarters of its real value. The legislature may authorize additional levies to be made in any taxing district for emergency or other purposes when such levies, or the issuance of bonds for the principal and interest of which such levies are required are approved by sixty per cent of the electors of such taxing district voting at a general election. Such tax levies or bond issues, when submitted to the voters, shall specfically state the purpose for which they are required and the proceeds arising from such authorization shall never be used for any other purpose.

The adoption of this Amendment would reduce the present tax rates on practically every farm and home in Michigan. Under our present high rates existing, intangible property is practically exempt although supposed to be included. With lower rates I believe personal property revenues will be materially increased.

I believe the time has come for Michigan to adopt the fundamental principal that each and every person having taxing ability shall pay some sort of tax to the government under which he is domiciled and from which he receives the personal benefits which government confers. This would do away with minority rule as we now have in both taxation and debt.

In the foregoing article I have attempted to plainly state the facts and in a brief way present the arguments as they have been presented to us for and against both the present and the proposed system of taxation.

There are many other phases of taxation to which I might allude if space would permit, but these will suffice us to take a glance at our inequitable system.

In conclusion let me urge upon all the people to take a more active interest in the affairs of government, to the necessity of all giving more seriously thought to the problems that confront us; to analyze the character and qualifications of all candidates for [illegible]lic office, for our laws will be on a par with the character of the men that make them.

Discharge your duty by going to the polls on Primary and Election Day; herein lies the solution of all of our governmental problems. We have the best government in the world, much as we are prone to find fault with it. If anything is radically wrong the remedy is at the ballot box. We have been left a splendid heritage, it is not only ours to enjoy, but to [illegible] and [illegible] to future posterity. Let us all ask ourselves if we are going to be equal to the responsibility.

Will discuss our Highway problem in next week's issue.

CHARLES EVANS.

legislature pushed through the law that cut the people of Lenawee Co. off from voting on the question of whether we would stay under the present county road system or return to the old system after our expensive experience with the aforesaid county system. At a mass meeting held right here in Tecumseh he was unanimously asked by a house full of his constituents to go back to Lansing and undo what he was trying then to do, viz, rush this legislation through before the county board of supervisors could submit the question to the people, but he went back to Lansing and pushed the law through which absolutely cut off the people from the right to vote on this question after a petition had been handed to the board of supervisors from every township and village in the county except three which showed that the people with one accord wanted to vote upon the question.

Does Mr. Evans believe his judgment is better than all the people of the county he serves? Wasn't it misrepresentation to deny the people of his district the right to vote upon a question that would cost these same people thousands of dollars? Do you [illegible] the people cannot be trusted to vote upon such a question and that Mr. Evans did right in helping to rush a law through that would cut you off from so voting upon the question? If so, you should vote for Mr. Evans to return to Lansing.

Third, a most unfortunate part (for him) of Mr. Evan's article lies in the awful increase in taxes shown in the ten years from 1911 to 1921. By refering to his own figures he shows that our taxes went from 39 MILLION in 1911 to 158 MILLION in 1921, an increase of 303 PERCENT in that short period of ten years. And from 1916 to 1922 Mr. Evans has been our representative right up there at Lansing where part of this awful growth in taxes took place. Regardless of figures and theories, our taxes went up by leaps and bounds to the most awful increase of 303 percent in ten years or to a total of 158 MILLION dollars. What did Mr. Evans do to stop it? You tell.

Mr. and Mrs. Voter if it suits you to have your taxes go up 303 percent in ten years most of which occurred right while Mr. Evans was in the legislature, then you should vote for Mr. Evans by all means. If it does not suit you, you should vote for his opponent Mr. Jas Jacklin of Palmyra and at least try a change of servants to see what results will be.

We believe that Mr. Evans is too closely linked up with the crowd who want millions more to spend instead of trying to reduce expenses, to ever give the people any relief, and it will be interesting to us to see just what the people will say at the Primaries. It is up to you voters to say what you think and the rest of us will most cheerfully abide by your decision, but come out and vote or you are a slacker sure enough.

Another contest of vital interest to us, is Governor. We believe every Republican and every Democrat as well, should vote for T. M. Joslin for governor and we will pledge our honest belief in the fact that if elected he will clean house of fifty percent of the horde of salaried employees of the state who are merely leeches on the public treasury and of no use except to help the present machine get elected again. If you don't care about extortionate taxation, vote any old way or not at all, but if you believe that the farm and home owner is being badly hurt by a system of taxation that extorts more from him than he can reasonably earn, then it is your patriotic duty to try to correct it by the ballot before it breaks out in trouble other ways. You have just as much duty to protect and preserve equality and right in our state government as ever did those who fought in battle to protect the flag from destruction. You must come out and vote as you think best, and we believe every voter in Lenawee Co. regardless of party should vote for Mr. Joslin for governor, and if he is elected you can depend that he will as certainly clean house as that the sun will shine. At any rate try it and see.

For state senator an office that is of even more importance than our representative, Norman Horton is running against E. J. Bryant, we do not think he will be the least improvement over Mr. Bryant in any way and would rather trust Mr. Bryant again, as he has made a record for cutting down some expenses, than we would Mr. Horton.

Mr. Horton is the son of a former wealthy man and has had no legislation experience whatsoever and but very little experience in any office. He was evidetly put in the race by such political geniuses as Stanley Stone of the Hudson Post-Gazette (who at least claims that distinction) and not from any genuine demand of the people for a man capable and anxious to work for the best interests of the people.

We believe it would be an utter mistake to send Mr. Horton to the state senate and that it is far better to send Mr. Bryant back again until a man can be found who will better fill the position.

For county offices we haven't a word to say. All the candidates as far as we know are clean capable men whose records are well known and save from the fact that as a principles we are against third and fourth terms for officers as looking too much like grabbing it all, we haven't a choice to recommend. Study the men and vote for the one you think will best serve your interests, that is the safest way to keep efficient men in office.

Cut out the party slavery and vote for Men or Women who can and will serve your interests if you would be a patriot and best serve your own, your family's and your country's interests. Do your duty by voting next Tuesday, Sept. 12.

THE COAL SITUATION

As Stated Last Week Coal Will Lower in Price

Due to our mining stock purchase in 1918, we are able to buy the same grades of desirable lump and egg coals that we have sold for years, not the cheap grade of coal that is being offered and many dealers are buying, and better still we are buying coal at reasonable prices and as heretofore will give the trade the benefit of the same.

Last year good soft coal was selling at $9.00 per ton and pocahontas at $10. It is beyond hope that we can get coal for some time at these prices as you are aware that no coal has been shipped in for five months. You realize there is a great shortage of railroad engines and cars. This situation as cold weather starts will be much worse.

Coal prices may be lower but that don't mean anything if we cannot get the coal due to transportation being limited.

The town is nearly out of coal and when cold weather comes the situation is going to be worse. Place your orders NOW and we will fill the same. If you wait it is up to you.

We have to pay SPOT CASH for coal. We have to sell it the same way. Be prepared to pay cash for your coal as soon as delivered.

AT THE BRADLEY.

Wonderful Drama Basis ofTheodora.

Most of the great spectacles that have been given to the screen have been, after all, mainly a series of episodes, the picturization of great events that call for massive effects and great numbers of people. In this particular "Theodora," the Italian production which Samuel Goldwyn brought to this country and which will be seen at the Bradley theatre Sunday and Monday, Sept. 10-11 is an exception.

Not only has the production been hailed by the motion picture press as by far the most stupendous of all cinema creations, but there is a real story—probably one of the greatest dramas that the speaking stage has known, for the screen creation follows to the last detail Victorian Sardou's play which was first produced by Sarah Bernhardt and in which many of the world's most famous actresses have been seen.

Mabel Normand In "Head Over Heels."

In the scenario for "Head Over Heels" which comes to the Bradley Theatre for Wednesday, Sept. 13, are the names of Hugh Thompson, her leading man, who wrote, "My third picture with the greatest little comedienne on earth. May it not break the charm." Raymond Hatton who plays the press agent, wrote, "Press agenting for you in real life would be a cinch."

"The Law and the Woman."

A cast of rare excellence was chosen for the principal roles of Betty Compson's latest Paramount starring vehicle, "The Law and the Woman," which will be the big feature attraction at the Bradley Theatre next Saturday, Sept. 9. As Margaret Rolfe, a suffering wife, Miss Compson has one of the finest roles of her screen career.

Casson Ferguson, who was in the cast of Miss Compson's former picture, "At the End of the World" and who is regarded as one of the most popular leading juvenile actors, is seen as Phil Long. Henry Barrows, Helen Dunbar, Clarence Burton and others also are in the cast.

WATCH YOUR STEP KIDDIES.

Tecumseh has an ordinance against riding bicycles on the sidewalk but the kiddies thought is was a joke and became regular riders on the walk.

Last week Marshall Mominee put a notice in the Herald that those found riding bicycles on the sidewalk would be "pinched." Friday night he spied a boy riding along as usual and hailed him before the Judge who assessed a fine and costs amounting to $6.50. Wow, but that is a lot of money these times and it certainly will pay to keep those bikes off the walk. Better watch your step and bikes as well.

PIONEER CAMPERS.

On Monday a party composed of Dr. and Mrs. Hardy, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Graebner, Mrs. John Shull, Miss Edith Shull, Mrs. Fay Anderson and Miss Nellie Wilson enjoyed a picnic dinner at Prospect Hill.

So great was the charm of the place that four of the ladies decided to stay over night, so with a tent erected and camping outfit guarded by the German police dog loaned by the genial Dr. for the occasion, the night was spent fearlessly.

The ladies claim they are the first pioneers to spend the night on this famous spot and will gladly give particulars if you can find out which ones of the party remained over night.

UNCOVERS OLD ROAD BED.

The workmen on the new pavement have excavated the first rail road tracks laid in Tecumseh. They were about four feet under ground and it is reported they have been there seventy years. If so, they are very well preserved. Many people were taking pieces of the rail for souvenirs.

HOLLOWAY.

J. L. Calhoun and niece, Kathryn Calhoun, attended the farmers picnic at Devils Lake on Thursday.

A large crowd from Holloway attended opening services at the remodeled church in Deerfield on Sunday evening. The Holloway choir assisted the Deerfield choir in giving an excellent song service. Mr. Kesler from Detroit sang two beautiful solos. Rev. Prestage preached a fine sermon and all enjoyed the services in spite of the heat of the evening.

School started in District No. 2 on Monday with Donald Chandler, teacher.

COMMUNITY SERVICE HELD AT METHODIST CHURCH.

At the opening of the service, Miss Hazel Keeley of Toledo spoke a few words. She told of her conversion in the tent meeting held by Carl Wittman and of her call to service. She is making her home with the Wittmans in Toledo.

Rev. Gregory commended the crowd present, but he had hoped for more to hear his last sermon, since people will come to "see a man die quick."

He took as his text, Acts 26:10, "I gave my vote against them." These were the words of Paul before Agrippa. "Next week Tuesday the Detroit Conference assembles at Pontiac, it is also the day the Primaries are held. In a recent circular letter from the bishop to the pastors, he urged them to lay stress on the importance of each Christian citizen casting their vote for the men whom, in their opinion will render the most efficient service for the people.

We are in the midst of an insidious campaign to tamper with, or do away with the 18th amendment, and on practically every ticket there is one or more who will carry the wet flag in the campaign. A little inquiry on our part will show where a man stands. When the moral attitude of a nation is right we need have little fear as to its politics. For, after all, unless the people back whom they send, their representatives will be unable to accomplish a thing.

The churches stand in the forefront of the fight for the better government and better conditions for the great mass of toilers and the voice of the United Churches must not allow itself to be silenced.

The greatest menace in the American life today is the insolent atmosphere of so many of the well to do and the coal and railroad strikes are largely a product of this atmosphere, and unless we change speedily, something more ruthless and bloody than the French Revolution will come from it.

The atmosphere of indifference is prevalent in Tecumseh, indifference to law, order, morality, decency, religion, church and humanity.

We can fight the enemy who will fight, but the atmosphere of indifference kills many of the great ideals of mankind.

It is very important the home and school be linked together in the matter of religious training of the young. We are created not for time, but for eternity."

He spkoe of how he had tried to be consistent in his stand for that which he believed to be right during his two years as pastor here; of the many in his church and outside who had been a help to him; of the possibilities of the church council. He hopes it may be able to put across some definite plans in the near future.

The union meetings have been a help in becoming acquainted and there are great possibilities ahead of the churches.

The meeting next week will be at the Baptist Church.

Finds The Street Is Narrowed Up

State Highway Commissioner Called To Tecumseh To Decide Where New Paving Will Go. Finds Chicago Street Has Been Narrowed By Encroachment Of South Side Sidewalks.

Last Wednesday night the Council received a petition from about twenty-five citizens that the new paving to be put down on Chicago Street "be placed exactly 25 feet on each side of the center line of the street." The council referred the petition to the district engineer with the recommendation that it be granted.

The cause of this petition was the fact that the survey had been made with a set off of about [illegible] toward the south side at Union Street in order to save a row of trees on the north side that were close to the outside curb and which if no set off were made would be taken out entirely.

Evidently the petitioners took it for granted that the center of the street was the center between the sidewalks, but as this is an old territorial road and was established by survey to be 99 feet wide which it is at Evans Street, it was suggested that the center of the surveyed street must be found and that centered.

By running lines parallel with the front of the business buildings which by measurements appear to be on the street line, it was found that the sidewalk on the north side of Chicago Street runs straight or bears a little to the north on the property owners if anything; while on the south side the sidewalk encroaches on the street at Union Street over seven feet and at Adrian Street the western terminus of the city limits the encroachment is 22 feet. All this judged by the building lines in the business section.

Evidently when the sidewalk was laid on the south side of the street, it was run by convenience instead of by a surveyed line with the result that it encroached on the street as above stated.

If the center line of the surveyed street is taken as the center of the proposed pavement, it is very evident that the street will be swung sharply to the south and the row of trees on the north side about which the dispute occurred will be saved with some to spare; but it will shorten up the front yards of some of the citizens so that they will have but very little lawn left to mow next summer.

It has not been officially settled at this writing but it is gossiped that the road will be put where the original survey for the new pavement was put and thus save both the row of trees on the north side and the front lawn of the southsiders. This would seem a very wise settlement and no one would ever have cause to regret it.

The paving has been again delayed by wet weather and is going along very slowly but it is expected that it will be rushed along now that things are cleared away for faster action. Let the good work go on.

CELEBRATES SEVENTY-FIFTH BIRTHDAY.

Mrs. Katheryn Clark reached the seventy-fifth milestone in her life Sunday. Covers were laid for twenty-one at the birthday dinner which her daughter, Mrs. Carl Glancy served at her home on Oneida street.

In the afternoon she was at home to her friends and relatives who called and wished her many happy returns of the day, and she was very much pleased to know that forty-five were able to shake hands with her and wish her good luck.

She recieved many loving tokens and was tired but very happy at the close of the day.

Among the guests were Arthur Wood, son Frank and daughter Zoie of Addison, Hattie Pratt of Adrian, Mrs. Bertha Tryon and son Charles Francis of Jerome, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Roberts and family of Britton, Steven, Nancy and Celia Bowerman and Merrit Chase of Raisin Center and Mr. and Mrs. Emery Haviland of Ridgeway.

VISITED BANNER COUNTY.

Hon. Daniel W. Slayton of Lavina, Montana, spent a few days the first of the week with his niece, Mrs. Everett Collins and family, of Macon. As this was Mr. Slayton's first visit to Lenawee County he was very much interested in the rich farming country and the good stock raised by most farmers, for he is a large ranch owner in Montana.

He greatly admired the scenery in the Irish Hills and the excellent means for recreation afforder by the unmerous lake resorts and good roads.

Mr. Slayton has represented his district in the House and Senate for two terms, and last year was a candidate for governor of his state but was defeated by the wet element.

The bride's table [illegible] crystal basket of purple asters and straw flowers, which were also used in profusion throughout the house. A large birthday cake with fifty-nine candles on it was another feature of the bride's table.

After everyone had finished the fine potluck supper, the crowd retired to the porch and lawn where the bridal couple were presented with a gift by Donald Wright in behalf of the company. Mr. Hines making some very pleasing remarks in response.

KNOCKS MILAN COLD.

The Tecumseh Indians put on their war paint last Sunday and went after the scalps of the tribe of Milan in their own home town and they came home with heap big scalp hanging at their belts.

It was a real game and at no time was the local bunch in any danger as the lone man who found refuge across the rubber for Milan came home in the ninth inning while the Indians sent three men across and nailed up the game in its early stages.

Lenardson pitched a strong heady game and he was assisted by some artistic ball playing seldom seen on a local field. It was said to be one of the best games of the season. Next Sunday the local team goes to Adrian to do the same thing and of course they want the bunch to all go along. Come on lets finish strong.

NOTICE.

There will be a business meeting of the Wit and Wisdom Club at the home of Mrs. Ellen Bowen, Monday evening at 7:45.

Machine Rolls Up A Big Majority

Farmers Stay At Home As Usual While Towns Nominate Candidates. Evans And Horton Both Nominated. Sharp Contest On Sheriff. Townsend Sweeps State.

Another Primary has gone into history and the farmers true to tradition was too busy to come out and vote and the towns nominated the candidates.

The politicians are right. The farmers will groan about taxes but stay at home when it comes to voting. The machine candidates went through with a whoop and the people seemed to fall over themselves to vote as directed by the job holders and professional politicians. E. J. Bryant dared to vote against the raise in the supreme court judge's salary from $7500 to $10,000 and the Lansing bunch sent down word to defeat him and the good people did just as they were told, defeating him by the biggest majority ever given a senatorial candidate.

Evans who stands for destroying the Primary and during three terms of representation the taxes have ariser nearly 300 percent was again nominated by the people with a very comfortable majority. His administration was stamped with the seal of approval of the Republican party who evidently believe that everything is O. K. and that during his fourth term he will fix the taxes about where they should be. They are only 4¼% right here in Tecumseh but we notice some people don't seem to mind that as long as the machine tells them it's O. K.

Clinton the home of Herman Halladay, the $6,000 a year Secy of Agricultural College, gave Evans a splendid majority it being the biggest received in any precinct in the county. Evidently Herman apreciates what Mr. Evans has done for the People (?), and told them what to do with the result that the People did what Herman told them to.

If you want to be re-elected, raise every job holder's salary and never mind the people for they won't vote anyway, has again been demonstrated thoroughly. Hurrah for the machine.

Joslin polled a large vote in the county but was swamped in other parts of the state where the Groesbeck machine had everything their own way.

Michener was renominated by a very large majority. In fact he had about the biggest vote ever polled in a primary which speaks mighty well for our young congressman who has made good with a big G.

From all accounts nearly everyone of the old stand patters have been returned to Lansing to further strengthen the old machine and the people have had the glorious prvilege of hurrahing for them and voting as they were told. Tax time will soon be along and then the farmers wont be too busy to come down and borrow enough to keep the "constabs" from selling him out, but then we sure had the privilege of shaking hands with the annointed and telling them we voted for them, that will cure the cramps occasioned by putting a mortgage on the farm to pay for the fun we had and some to spare.

Lets see what election does.

The followng is the vote for each candidate given after his name. For U. S. Senator, Townsend 2742; Baker 1230, Kelley 868, Emery 785. For Governor, Joslin 3275, Groesbeck 1664, Fletcher 635. For Congress, Michener 4782, Crawford 858. For State Senator Horton 3670, Bryant 1797. For Representative, Evans 1029, Jacklin 988. Second District, Freese 1389, Vine 1285. Sheriff, VanDusen 2971, Cooke 2626. Register Smith, 2633, Armstrong 1221, Bovee 966, Breese 742. Prosecutor, Russell 2062, Westerman 1696, Cornelius 1543. Drain Commissioner, Conlin 2950, Ottgen 2379.

Evans carried his district according to unofficial returns by 41.

C. E. SOCIAL

The Friends C. E. enjoyed a social Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Anna Satterthwaite.

At the short business session which was held first, Rev. Escolme gave a report of the Yearly Meeting he has just returned from, which was very much enjoyed. The announcement was made of a district convention to be held in October on the 27th, 28th and 29th. The present plans are to hold it at Addison, but fuller announcement will be made later.

Games and stunts helped to make the hours pass and the watermelon feed was no small item of the evening's entertainment.

MRS. WM. SMALLIDGE PASSED AWAY FRIDAY.

Miss Caroline Bennett was born in the state of Illinois, September 16, 1848 and died at Tecumseh, Michigan, Friday, September 8th, 1922.

She came to Michigan when a very young girl and lived the most of her life here. She was married to John Sisson and to this union two sons were born. Mr. Sisson died when both children were very small and one son, Melvin, died about two months ago in Jackson.

After the children were grown, she became the bride of Wm. Smallidge, who has also preceded her to the better land.

Mrs. Smallidge had been in failing health for years but died very suddenly about 11:30 Friday night, death being caused by appoplexy. She was in her seventy-fourth year.

She leaves to mourn her loss, one son, Tead Sisson who lives at Adrian.

She was a good, kind, loving mother and wife; a good citizen and was a member of the Women's Auxiliary for years. All who knew her will miss her greatly.

The funeral was held at the home at 2:30 Monday afternoon, Rev. Kiskaddon officiating. Burial was made at Brookside.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to thank all of our friends who so generously assisted us during the sickness and death of our mother. Also the donors of flowers, the singers and the Rev. Kiskaddon for his comforting words.

F. T. Sisson and family.

SOME "DORG" IN TOWN.

Dr. and Mrs. Hardy have purchased through the Royal Kennels a thoroughbred German Shepherd Police puppy, Sherlock Holmes of Rydal.

His Sire, Nores von der Kriminalpolizei the most famous living sire in either Germany or the United States, being the sire of more winners both abroad and in the U. S., than any other living Shepherd. The Shepherd Dog Club of America presented him with a medal as the best stud dog in America, his offspring having won more prizes than that of any other sire. Nores is the son of Horst von Boll P. H., and Gisa von der Kriminalpolizei, Champion of Austria in 1914. She was the offspring of the Champion of Holland in 1913, and a German Champion of 1910.

Sherlock Holmes dam is Virgie of Rolling Road, who is one of 3 full litter sisters, who are all champions in the U. S.

Sherlock is also a half-brother of the Shepherd Police dog starring in the movie play, "The Silent Call," as Strongheart, and a half-brother of the 1921 German Grand Champion, and to the 1921 American Grand Champion.

Dr. and Mrs. Hardy think he is the only dog living.

WEEK-END PARTY.

The Uniform Rank, K. of P. No. 6 of Tecumseh were entertained by the Uniform Rank, K. of P. No. 44 of Pontiac at a week-end party at Tommy's Lake.

There were thirty present from here and would have been one more car load if the driver had been able to find the lake.

A barbecue was one of the stunts enjoyed and the entertainment by the vaudeville company was fine.

AT THE BRADLEY.

Each year in the theatrical world one play invariably stands out head and shoulders above all the other attractions. The past two years that distinction fell to "The Bat," the dramatic triumph, written by Mary Roberts Rinehart and Avery Hapgood. Not only did "The Bat" run for more than two years in New York, but it played over one year in Chicago, a new record and something never before heard of in theatrical annals of Chicago.

"The Bat" will be seen at the Bradley Theatre on Monday, Sept. 18th and theatrical goers who have long been hearing of the success of this play will undoubtedly welcome the announcement. Assuredly a play that has received such universal praise from both critics and public alike, will be worth the seeing.

"The Bat" is presented by Lagenhals and Kemper. They have an enviable reputation in the theatrical world as producers of successes. With "The Bat," they have brought all their skill to play and the result is, as one critic put it, "a production that will keep you talking for months after it has been here and gone."

"The Bat" is a super mystery play. But it is something else as well. Running through it is one of the funniest and altogether delightfully humorous characters ever depicted on the stage. Thanks to this element in "The Bat," while it will thrill you through and through, it will, at the same time, keep you in almost constant laughter.

The production of "The Bat" to be seen here is exactly the same as that in New York and Chicago. The Company is an excellent one.

ELECTED THIRD VICE-COMMANDER.

One of our progressive young business men received signal honors at the state convention of the American Legion held last week. R. K. Anderson was elected third vice-commander of the state, an honor very worthily placed as Mr. Anderson has always been an active worker in the Legion and has never let an opportunity go by to help that organization or anyone connected with it.

R. K. as he is familiarly known by his friends, is a young man of decidedly progressive tendencies, a keen business man and a good mixer all of which speak for him still greater honors as a recognition of his splendid efforts not only in the Legion but along all lines where real ability counts. He will doubtless be heard from in higher positions of trust and honor before many years.

COUNTY FAIR IS NEXT WEEK.

The big Lenawee Co. Fair will be held at the county fair grounds in Adrian next week from Wednesday to Friday inclusive.

In all probability this will be one of the biggest fairs ever held in this county and everything is all set for four days of the biggest exhibits, best races and largest crowds of people ever assembled on these celebrated fair grounds.

Splendid premiums are offered this year in every department and it is attracting a large number of exhibitors which will make an unusually good showing while the races are said to eclipse anything ever seen on the grounds. Don't fail to go to the fair several days if you would see everybody and everything worth seeing in good old Lenawee.

THE COAL SITUATION.

If anyone knew exactly what the present coal situatior was going to be two months hence, he could reap a fortune or do the people an enormous amount of good which ever he elected to do.

But no one can tell exactly what it will be. However, our best judgment tells us that the people are going to have a hard time getting coal in sufficient quantities for their needs no matter what the price.

To be sure there will be coal but this is a mighty big country and a lot of people use coal. The exact amount would stagger belief if you could see it piled up in one place. We believe that those who are going to need coal and find the chance to get it at anywhere ne[illegible] fair price, had better lay in a moderatesupply —at least enough to carry them through the first few months of cold weather which is not far away.

We have no coal to sell but on the contrary will buy a small amount at the first opportunity as we fully believe there will be a serious shortage of domestic coal and that a large majority of people are going to find it very difficult to get their needs filled.

No dealer is going to stock up and pay cash for coal at the present price, hence when the demand comes for coal and the people must have it, there will be mighty little to be had and the same is true all over the country, hence someone will have to go short.

If you are awake to the situation and find your coal bin empty it would be a very wise proceedure to order a sufficient amount put in td take care of your immediate needs when the first blasts ofwinter drive down upon us. Winter is surely coming and coal you must have so you better look the situation squarely in the face and act accordingly to your best judgment, as cussing the coal situation won't bring coal when we must have it or go cold.

Making 20 Years of Racing Serve Car Owners Today

IN the early days of automobile contests, Barney Oldfield—out to win every race—studied tires. His consistent success led other drivers to ask for tires constructed to his specifications.

Twenty years of road and track victories—with a steady and increasing demand for tires as he built them—convinced Barney Oldfield that these speed tests pointed the way to a better tire for everyday use.

The enthusiastic reception of Oldfield Cords by the public proved he was right. Scores of the most prominent dealers in the country—and many thousands of car owners, experienced in the use of tires—bear witness by their decided preference that Oldfield is doing a bigger and better job of tire making.

This volume, handled in an effective way in every phase of manufacture and distribution, has resulted in price quotations far below what you'd expect on tires known to be better built and more enduring.

Practically every important race event for three years has been won on Oldfields. The Wichita Test Run in which an entire set of Oldfield Cords covered 34,525 miles on rough roads proves the mettle of the Most Trustworthy Tires Built in everyday driving.

The Master Driver and Tire Builder has given the public a new standard of tire wear and tire cost—a true economy that every car owner should know about.

Your Oldfield dealer has these facts—talk to him.

Fashion Authorities Disclose the New Ideas
Early Fall showings of Ladies' Apparel, give some insight into the season' styles

All makers are stressing the new silhouette, which is essentially straight. This new silhouette is really a modification of the outline of recent seasons—a still further development of the straight line idea. The coats are large at the top and roomy through the shoulders but are straight from the waist down. They do not "taper in" as did the dolmans of several seasons ago. In other words, they are practical garments developed in an entirely new style.

Sleeves are still the important feature of the coats and wraps. The new sleeves are set in extremely deep armholes, some of them extending below the waist line. Voluminous cuffs in many fancy styles are liked, and the need of something warm and practical has not been overlooked, for many of the cuffs are gathered rather snugly at the wrists to keep out wintry breezes.

With the simplicity of the straight lines of the rest of the coat, it looks as if the designers had given most of their attention to the sleeves. Sometimes tight bands of fur at the wrist merely accentuate the distending sleeves, which, in their size and shape, are at once beautiful as well as ornamental.

There will be an immediate demand for the new "top coats" or "ulsters," which are made on swagger lines of men's wear, heavy materials. These models are reproductions of real mannish overcoats. Double-faced stuffs are very smart for street wear as well as for sports and motor coats. Mixtures and plain-faced cloths with plaid backs are made on these mannish lines with odd patch pockets, belts, and inverted as well as box plaits. Very often collars of some durable fur are added, making these coats suitable for wear all through the winter season. Breast pockets cut in sailor fashion are seen on many models. The average woman can wear this coat and its usefulness will instantly appeal to the fair sex.

For dressy coats the designers have combined wonderful furs with exquisite new weaves in cloths, and by following the new silhouette, have created coats that are far more attractive than have yet been produced.

Come over to Adrian and see these garments on our racks. Correct styles at moderate prices.

"I knew him when he was a boy"

What one is there of us that has not felt the glow of satisfaction over the outstanding success of a life-long friend! Often a surprise—seemingly "all of a sudden." Yet neither surprising nor sudden, when you stop to think back over each step of his progress.

THE United States Rubber Company—makers of U. S. Royal Cords—were first to conceive, make and announce the balanced tire. A tire in which there is such complete unity of action in tread and carcass that neither will give way before the other.

First to conceive, make and announce a complete line of tires—a tire for every need of price and use under one standard of quality.

First to tell the public about the good and bad in tire-retailing. (You remember the phrase "Go to a legitimate dealer and get a legitimate tire.")

First also to arouse industrial and trade minds to the need of a new kind of tire competition. (Competition for better and better values. Greater and greater public confidence.)

* * *

THESE high spots along the U. S. road to leadership indicate the intent—the will to win by the quality route in a price market.

Now that so many car-owners have given their verdict for quality tires in general, and U. S. Tires in particular—a number of dealers and car-owners whose vision has been clouded by "discounts," "sales" and what not, are beginning to remember that they "knew him when he was a boy."

We are all interested in farm lands in the Province of Saskatchewan, Mr. Holloway and I owning a section of land jointly, while Rainey's and Wonderly's farms are some 80 or 90 miles still further west.

WATCH FOR YOUR NAME.

Manager Guy of the Bradley Opera House has inaugurated a very novel scheme for attracting attention to his advertising and for the further puprose of doing the kiddies a favor.

It consists of printing the names of one or more people in his ads and if your name is printed there all you have to do is clip it out and present it to the box office for a free ticket to the show. Better watch these ads and see if your name is there and if so just clip it out and attend the show as the guest of the management. This should be very popular with the folks and surely those whose names are lucky enough to be drawn will be given a distinct favor.

WIT AND WISDOM CLUB.

The business meeting of the Wit and Wisdom Club was held with Mrs. J. F. N. Bowen on Monday evening.

Three vacancies occurred in the membership which were filled by the election of Mrs. Franc Gillespie and Mr. and Mrs. S. Wyman.

The first program meeting will be held on Oct. 2nd with Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Waldron.

NOTICE.

Eight white Wyandottes were taken from Mrs. James Day. The party who took them is known and if they are returned at once trouble will be avoided.

TEACHERS WELCOMED BY THE EPWORTH LEAGUE.

The young people of the Methodist Church gave a very pleasant reception to the new teachers Friday evening in the church parlors. The garlands of asters festooned from the lights and the color scheme of pink and white carried out by strands of crepe, made a very pleasing background.

Maxine Wyrill played a very pretty piano solo as the opening number on the program after after which Miss Vie Snedicor in her own pleasing way, welcomed the teachers to our town and to our churches, saying "The church needs you, and you need the church." Mrs. Fred Sheldon, who is becoming so popular with her readings, gave "Mandy and the Automobile" and then responded to an encore with one of Edgar A. Guests poems, "Something Job Missed."

Perry Hayden was then called upon for a speach, but by the time his seven watches were wound, his five minutes was gone.

Harold Lowry, accompanied by Mrs. Ella Hodges, gave a vocal solo and very pleasingly responded to an encore.

Games and stunts helped to pass the remainder of the evening and dainty refreshments were served.

ENJOYS EXCELLENT PROGRAM.

The G. A. R.'s and T. B. A.'s enjoyed a fine program at their hall in Co-ops building last Monday night when about fifty people gathered to listen to a short program.

Mrs. Billings and W. B. Dickinson both sang a very beautiful selection after which E. T. Armstrong gave a short talk which was followed by Miss Mildred Boyce who gave a description of the Passion Play which she saw at Oberamergau last summer.

Miss Boyce certainly gave a wonderful description of this world classic, her manner and language both being most fitting to the subject while her portrayal of the scenes from the Master's life were indeed most realistic. The audience listened intently during her recital and enjoyed every minute of the address.

Henry Stevens presided and after each speaker had concluded he presented them with a huge bouquet of flowers as a token of appreciation by the G. A. R. and T. B. A. societies.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE.

In last week's Herald we made two mistakes in Avery & Kenyon's ad and in less than one hour after the papers were in the P. O. some of the good people were calling up the firm to let them know there was a mistake in the ad.

Everyone has learned that it pays to watch the ads and take advantage of what the merchants are offering, this is the most convincing proof that the ads are watched as closely as any of the other parts of the paper. We'll try not to make the same mistake again but it pays to watch the ads for we might make one and then someone would not have the great pleasure of discovering it.

FALSE ALARM.

The fire department was called out Saturday afternoon to the home of John Hamilton on Pottawatamie street to what might have been a serious fire if the neighbors had not discovered it and turned in the alarm.

Sparks from the chimney fell on the roof of the kitchen and the shingles at once began to burn. Water was thrown on and the fire was soon put out, but if it had had ten minutes more start it would have meant a fight to save the home.

Senior Class Puts On Lecture Course

Five Big Numbers Arranged For This Year. Course Commences In October. People Should Patronize It Liberally. Everyone Should Assist This Worthy Enterprise.

The lecture course this year will be put on by the high school senior class and it will consist of five most excellent numbers.

This is the first time the seniors have had entire control of the winter's entertainments and it is a most worthy enterprise which the people will doubtless encourage by patronizing it liberally. Every person who desires to get full value for their money and enjoy a course of this kind will get behind the movement [illegible] boost with all their might. It is a most worthy undertaking and the seniors deserve great credit for their ambition and desire to assist the community by furnishing the people with a most excellent winter's entertainment, so lets all do our part by buying season tickets and otherwise assisting to make it a success.

The numbers will be Lockhart and his Scotch Lassies; The Southern Musical Company; Joseph Crowell, humorist; Chicago Lyceum Players and Webster Davis lecturer. Mr. Davis was formerly a member of Pres. McKinley's cabinet and is a man of wide attainments.

The above numbers will give the people a most wholesome and enjoyable course of entertainments and everyone should get in line for a season ticket. Come on lets help make the old town a success from every angle.

GIVES EXCELLENT DESCRIPTION OF WESTERN CANADA FARMS.

Editor of the Herald:-

Having just returned from a trip through Northwestern Canada where farming is on a much larger and different scale than in this section, it occurred to me that possibly some of my farmer friends might be interested in knowing about the conditions there.

Messrs George Holloway and William P. Rainey of Holloway, Henry Wonderly of Britton and the writer made up the party. We are all interested in farm lands in the Province of Saskatchewan, Mr. Holloway and I owning a section of land jointly, while Rainey's and Wonderly's farms are some 80 or 90 miles still further west.

It was a great sight at this time of the year with thousands of acres of wheat, oats and flax on all sides as far as the eye could carry. Three or four 8 ft. cut binders, one after the other, each drawn by four heavy draft horses abreast. This was a common thing on most every farm where the grain had not been cut. The use of tractors there is almost prohibitive as gasoline costs 50c per gallon, but you get 5 quarts to the gallon.

Half of the grain is lying in the fields unshocked. Help is scarce and high, harvest men getting $4 and $5 per day with board, but they work from daylight until dark. Threshing machines were following up on all sides. They charge 15c per bushel but furnish all the help, the farmer taking care of the grain. West of Moose Jaw, wheat went 54 bu. per acre, and in some places it tested 65 lb. and 66 lb. to the bushel.

We saw them plowing with gang plows, four horses abreast and three ahead (seven on one plow) which was very common. While our farms are a comparatively short distance from the railroads, it requires considerable work to get this vast amount of grain to the elevators as the bulk of it has to be hauled long distances which we hardly appreciate here at home. Big crops but they get nothing for them on account of the heavy carrying charges and middlemen's profits before they get to the consumer. 100 miles west of Moose Jaw, wheat sells at the elevator at 75c while at Winnipeg it is $1.02 per bushel.

The government builds and takes care of their highways as well as the telephone lines. The railroad companies build two or three grain elevators at every little town, and sometimes between. Farmers pay no ditch tax. On the land which Holloway and I own are 350 acres of wheat. The whole section is improved except about 30 or 40 acres near the home buildings which is used for pasture, etc. 140 acres of this land cost $800.00 to plow and break it up. The taxes on this 640 acres last year were $350.00, but we are told they will not be as high this year.

On account of time and the long distance, Mr. Holloway and I did not go up to the Rainey and Wonderly farms, but they report good land and big crops; in fact it is mostly all good land throughout that territory. We saw some fine homes and farms up there, but some of the neighbors were very far between and it seemed lonely. There were many men from other states looking after their wheat crop and we all agreed, though a little lonesome in some places, that it will be a grand country some day.

Thanking you for the space allowed me, I am

Yours very truly,
Thomas Murphy, Sr.

DR. FORD GIVES AN INTERESTING ADDRESS.

The opening services of the Community meeting which were held at the Baptist church were conducted by Rev. Edward Escolme, who was the only minister of the town present.

Dr. Ford of Hillsdale College gave a very interesting address, taking for a foundation the second Song of Solomon, verses ten to thirteen. This is usually interpreted as the relation between Christ and the Church, but the speaker believed it was a pure, oriental love story. "Love is something that lives on forever, death may interrupt it but it never dies."

Dr. Ford spoke of the glorious summer we have just passed thru, and the lessons it should teach us. It should, first of all, make a religious impression upon us when we see all the beauties of nature and think of the God who created them. His smile is all through nature and we need to look for it.

This summer should impress us with the dependability of our Heavenly Father. Have we ever missel a summer? God has a wonderful and simple plan whereby the seasons come and go with very little change, and always on time. Since He has always been dependable in the past, He will be in the future.

The lavishness of God is another lesson of the summer. He has created so much more than we need. He did not stop with a few stars, but studded the heavens, why did He not place a few hundred apple blossoms on a tree, instead He made millions; He made the apple, what is more perfect than a good apple? Not satisfied with that, He made pears, peaches, apricots and strawberries and then He made cream. Surely we have a wonderful God.

God loves beautiful things as is demonstrated by His creations. What will the next world be? We can only imagine when we think of the beauties of this world. It behooves us, each one to live lives that will give us an abundant entrance in.

The meeting was very well attended and the address very much appreciated.

ROGERS ORDERS TREES CUT DOWN.

State Highway Com. Frank A. Rogers in a letter to the village attorney ordered the road west on Chicago St. to be put in such a place as to cut down about twenty trees from ten inches to 18 inches in diameter standing in the block between Union St. and Van Buren Sts. on the north side of the street and which trees probably are fully fifty years old.

He states he ordered this upon the recommendation of his landscape gardner, a Mr. Boehler, who came here and afterward recommended the trees be removed largely because a petition had been signed by a large number of residents of Chicago St. asking it and it was further recommended by the council that the petition be granted.

Some of those who signed the petition now state they were misinformed when they signed it or they would not have done so. It is also understood that legal action has already been started to compel the highway department to put the street where it was originally surveyed and belongs which it is claimed will be from seven to twenty feet to the south of where it now runs, in which case it would not take the trees but would take a big slice of lawns that it is claimed have been pushed out into the street without authority.

It will be interesting to see how the matter finally turns out.

PUT ON A GREAT PLAY.

Manager Guy of the Bradley Theatre certainly gave the people of this community a great treat when he brought the company of players here that has been giving that wonderful play, "The Bat," in the big cities.

The play is the sensation of the theatre world at the present time and correctly so far it is a magnificent production and those who saw it were simply astonished at its brilliance and magnitude.

Manager Guy has set out to give the people here the very best plays that can be obtained both in pictures and in the speaking plays and the people should rally to his support liberally if they expect to enjoy the best the boards afford. It is very commendable for the Management to put on the best and give his patrons the benefit thereof.

ENTERTAINS "500" CLUB.

Mrs. R. A. Heesen was hostess last Friday afternoon to her "500" club and a few invited guests, at her home on Chicago street.

Asters and other garden flowers were artistically grouped throughout the rooms. Six tables were formed for the games and the usual number played.

At six o'clock a delicious lunch was served at the small tables, each of which was centered with a bud vase holding a single marigold.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Frank Osborn of Columbus, Ohio, and Mrs. Will Meyers of Detroit.

Mrs. Thos McCann and sister, Mrs. Katheryn Harrison of Jackson were in Detroit, Friday.

Held Reception For Teachers

Citizens Turn Out To Welcome Those Who Will Have Charge Of School This Year. Enjoyable Program Given. Officers Elected For Parent-Teacher's Association.

One of the most pleasant sessions of the Parent-Teachers Association yet held in Tecumseh was that of Thursday evening when they held a public reception for the teachers. The affair was held in the high school gym which had been beautifully decorated by Lester Heesen and his committee, with fall flowers and foliage. Great baskets of flowers centered groups of settees through the center of the room and at either end of the [illegible] ladies of Mrs. L. C. Hayden's committee served punch and wafers.

One invocation which proved most welcome was an escort for each teacher whose duty it was to introduce her particular teacher to the company and see that she was properly entertained. In thsi manner no teacher was slighted and many expressed themselves as greatly delighted with Tecumseh's reception for them.

Later the following program was given, announced by Supt. E. E. Crampton, at the invitation of Mrs. W. D. Reed, the association's president:

Piano duet, "Martha"—Mrs. F. B. Wood and Mrs. Ella Hodges.

Address of Welcome, in behalf of the school board—J. H. Smith.

Vocal solos (a) "In Blossom Time," (b) "The Serenade"—Mrs. J. M. Mulvaney.

Address of Welcome, in behalf of the churches—Rev. J. J. Preston.

Vocal solos, (a) "Who Knows," (b) "Give a Man a Horse He Can Ride"—Lester Waring.

Vocal solos, (a) "The Boat Song," (b) "Love's Rhapsody"—Mrs. E. C. Heilman.

Shopping Experiences in Europe—Miss Mildred Boyce.

Piano duet, "The Beautiful Blue Danube"—Mesdames Wood and Hodges.

The music was exceptionally good, Mrs. F. B. Wood acting as the accompanist. The addresses were jolly and helped all the more to make the teachers appreciate their warm welcome. But it is to the president, Mrs. Reed that goes the most credit for the success of the evening for she it was who did the real work of the affair, apparently not forgetting a single thing but attending to all the small details so that the evening's program was a decided success.

At the close of the program the officers were re-elected for the coming year as follows:

President—Mrs. W. D. Reed.
1st Vice President — E. E. Crampton.
2nd Vice President—Mrs. John McIntyre.
Secretary — Miss Bertha LaPointe.
Treasurer—Frank S. Turner.

Further announcements in the local paper will give the date of the next meeting of the association.

FORD CLOSES DOWN PLANT.

Henry Ford will not be gouged nor brow beaten by the coal barons, coal brokers or any of the rest of the gang who are out to hold up the people and extract every cent from them possible during the coal crisis that now stares us in the face.

He closed down every one of his plants last Saturday and they will stay closed until the coal profiteers are either in jail, dead or beaten at their own game.

Henry Ford is the only man in the U. S. not at the mercy of Wall Street or in the hands of the gang of thieves and pirates that are robbing the public mercilessly through every possible pretense and situation possible for them to make, and we only wish he was at the head of the U. S. instead of merely the Ford industries. We honestly believe the people would get relief from the nest of robbers that now seem to control most of the essential commodities which the people must have.

We are coming to a showdown this country soon and what the result will be cannot be foretold. We hope that peaceful methods will prevail and our glorious traditions preserved and the people reinvested with what the politicians have robbed them of, but as long as the people vote the party ticket blindly without regard to men, so long must they suffer for their blind allegiance.

The sooner the people are totally robbed the sooner the thing will come to a close so we are for letting it come fast.

SCHOOL OF INSTRUCTION.

A school of instruction is called for Tuesday, Sept. 26th, at Manchester for Royal and Select Master Masons. The Royal degree by Clinton Council; Select Masters by Manchester; Super-excellent degree by Tecumseh Council.

Companions of Tecumseh are requested to meet at Tecumseh Temple on Monday evening for practice.

Friends have received the announcement of the birth of a nine pound son, James Bayard, to Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Boyd of Lansing.

REV. GREGORY GOES TO WILLIAMSTON.

Rev. W. A. Gregory of the M. E. Church goes to Williamston next year to take charge of that church. Rev. Gregory has been here two years and is a man of very active and positive attainments. He is a brilliant pulpit orator, unafraid and stands squarely for what he believes to be for the best interests of the church and the community.

In the two years Rev. Gregory has been in charge of the work here, he has built up the church and cemented its units into a strong working organization which commands the respect and admiration of the church workers throughout the community.

Rev. Gregory and his family will be greatly missed and the best wishes of the community go with him to his new field of labor.

The Tecumseh pulpit will be filled by Rev. H. [illegible] Marsh, a brother of whom formerly preached at Tipton. Rev Marsh is a high-up Mason and a man with a record for activity and power. He will receive a warm welcome in this community and find a field for his labors that will give his attainments room for full operation.

SUFFERS SEVERE CUTS.

Monday morning when Dewey Hiser, one of the gravel truck drivers, was driving out of Williamson's garage, the truck struck an uneven place in the road with such force the steering-wheel was jerked out of his hands and one hand thrown through the windshield, cutting several severe gashes.

He was taken to Dr. Hammel who found it necessary to take twenty-five stitches.

NEEDLE CLUB.

Mrs. Karl Braman was hostess to a party of friends Friday evening at her home on Oneida street. The evening was spent in needle work and a social time. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

The Coal Outlook Is Not Assuring

Four Local Dealers Have Very Little Coal In Stock. Shipments Ordered Are Slow In Coming. Some Are Not Buying Except Car At A Time Fearing The High Prices.

The coal outlook for Tecumseh as far as the local dealers are concerned is not very assuring. There are four dealers in town and part of them have a very little coal on hand of the soft kind and none of them are getting much.

One dealer said today they would probably have a car of soft coal in today but they were not buying more than a car to a time as the price and quality was so uncertain it did not pay to take more chances.

Another dealer said he had plenty of coal ordered but it was very slow getting here and he doubted if the situation would improve much for some little time.

Other dealers are watching the markets closely and trying to get coal as rapidly as possible but no dealer can be expected to load up on this high priced coal much of which is not of the best quality and then take a chance on selling it to his customers who of course want good coal as cheaply as possible.

If the people want coal of any kind, they better leave their order with the dealers and in that way assure them of its sale when it does arive. At best it looks much like a game of chance and that many homes will go cold this winter.

ANNIVERSARIES WERE CELEBRATED.

The farm home of Alton Whelan at Tipton was the scene of a pleasant party Monday evening in honor of the twentieth wedding anniversary of Mr. ad Mrs. Whelan and the fifteenth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reed. The local pedro club and a few outside friends were entertained.

At seven o'clock a three-course supper was served. The fifty guests present were seated at small tables centered wth baskets of asters, each cover being marked by a sprig of holly. The color scheme of pink and white was carried out by asters and other flowers grouped in profusion throughout the rooms and a pink and white cream and cake were served.

After supper the tables were cleared and progressive pedro was played, high and low scores being won by Miss Alma Rudiceler and Miss Alice Wilnow respectively.

The couples were each presented with a set of silver teaspoons by the club and they received many other beautiful gifts.

SPAULDING REUNION.

The Spaulding family held a reunion at the country home of Clyde Mangus, Sunday. The table just groaned with good things, forty-five being present.

After dinner, stunts and games and a general good time was enjoyed, the older members enjoying talking over old times.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Gillett of Dundee and Mrs. Peck of Denver were the out of town guests.

NOTICE.

Dr. Beardsley will be in his office afternoons beginning Sept. 23rd. S*21

Making 20 Years of Racing Serve Car Owners Today

IN the early days of automobile contests, Barney Oldfield—out to win every race—studied tires. His consistent success led other drivers to ask for tires constructed to his specifications.

Twenty years of road and track victories—with a steady and increasing demand for tires as he built them—convinced Barney Oldfield that these speed tests pointed the way to a better tire for everyday use.

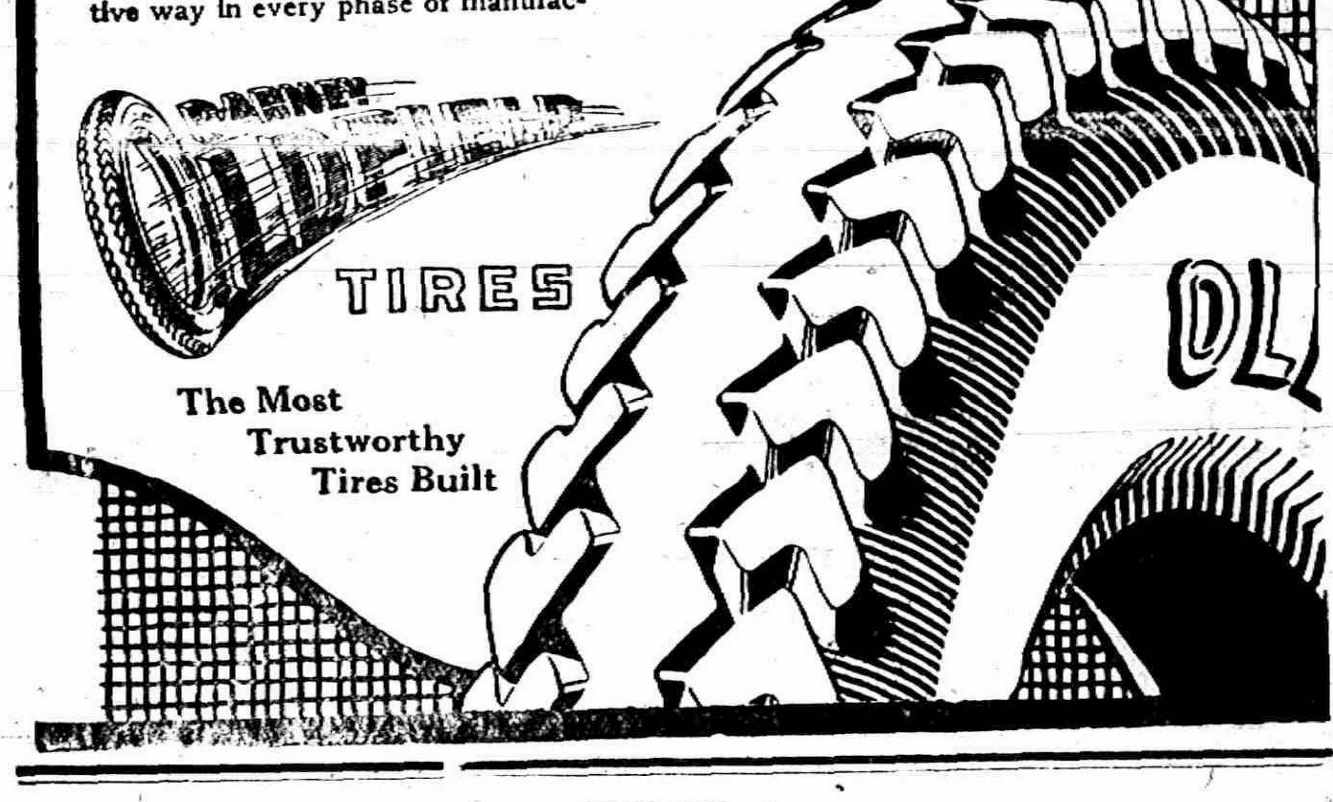
The enthusiastic reception of Oldfield Cords by the public proved he was right. Scores of the most prominent dealers in the country—and many thousands of car owners, experienced in the use of tires—bear witness by their decided preference that Oldfield is doing a bigger and better job of tire making.

This volume, handled in an effective way in every phase of manufacture and distribution, has resulted in price quotations far below what you'd expect on tires known to be better built and more enduring.

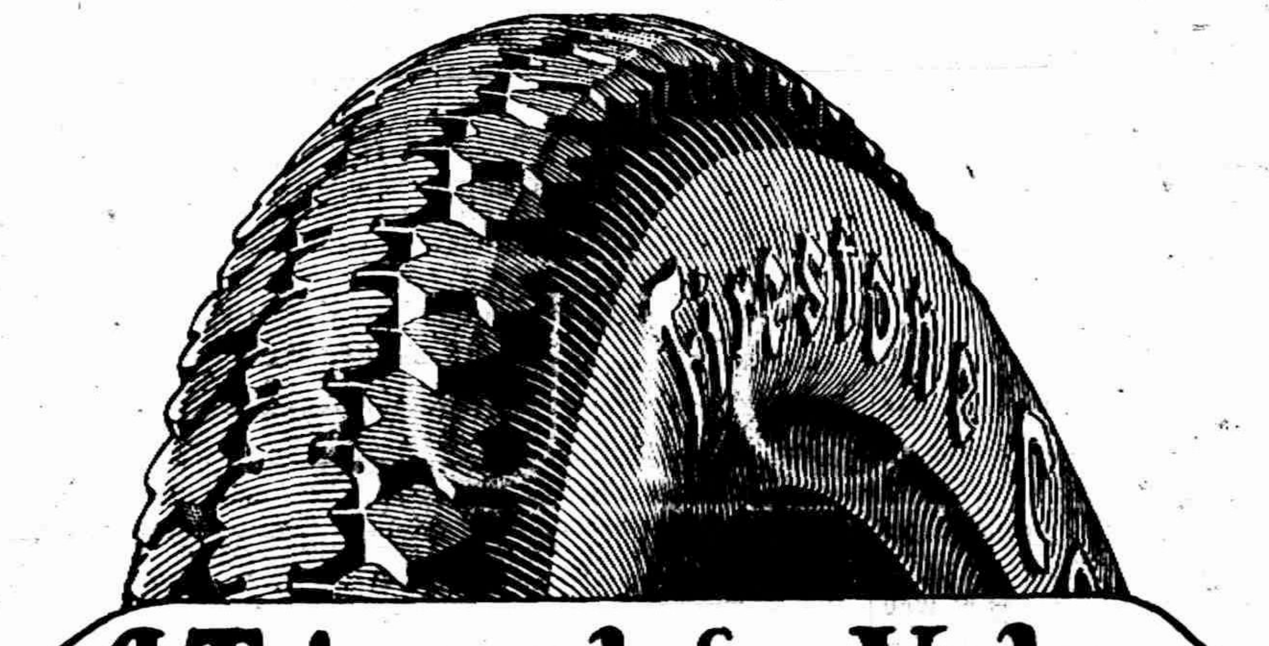
Practically every important race event for three years has been won on Oldfields. The Wichita Test Run in which an entire set of Oldfield Cords covered 34,525 miles on rough roads proves the mettle of the Most Trustworthy Tires Built in everyday driving.

The Master Driver and Tire Builder has given the public a new standard of tire wear and tire cost—a true economy that every car owner should know about.

Your Oldfield dealer has these facts—talk to him.



The Most Trustworthy Tires Built



A Triumph for Value

IN the past two months Firestone has built and marketed more tires than in any similar period in its history.

This steadily increasing public preference is proof of the recognition by car owners of the greater values offered by Firestone. It is a tribute to Firestone men—all stockholders in the company—all actuated by the operating principle of Most Miles per Dollar.

The high average performance of Firestone Cords is without equal in the annals of tire making and is reflected by the general tendency to specify Firestone for hard service. Taxicab and bus lines, buying tires by the mile, are universally equipping with Firestone Cords.

There are many reasons for the high quality of Firestone tires but chief among the special manufacturing processes are double gum-dipping, thus eliminating internal friction by insulating each cord strand, and air-bag cure, insuring a well-balanced and perfectly shaped product.

Don't speculate in tires—you will find the right combination of price and quality in Firestone. Come in and let us tell you about the service these Cords are giving other car-owners whom you know.

DIFFERENT VIEWS.

It is very interesting to see the different views concerning the recent election as expressed in the editorials of the big and small papers.

The Detroit News speaks highly of the number of votes cast against Townsend as indicative of the temper of the people in repudiating Newberry and the old machine methods of electing their candidate.

The Free Press writes a scathing editorial against Kelley and Baker calling them about everything but men because of their attempt to defeat Townsend. It seems to be more the fact that the News hates the Free Press and the Press hates the News so they each taking a fling at the other's candidate in revenge. It looks like a hot fight this fall and if the Free Press keeps on calling Baker and Kelley names it probably mean Townsend's defeat as he will need all the support he can get according to present indications.

The people seem eminently satisfied with whatever is done and take little or no interest in who represents them yet they complain bitterly about taxes being so high, but it seems that they are not yet high enough to set them in motion to stop it.

Election may hold some surprise for the machine candidates and it may be the people will do as they are told and return them with big majorities.

The Democrates have started telling the people some of the reasons why their taxes both county and state are so high and it remains to be seen whether the people will believe them or not. Probably not though the facts are easily shown.

When the time comes that the people would rather save money for themselves rather than shake hands with the annointed politicians and do their bidding, it won't take long to stop the reign of outrageous spending and grafting that now grips the country. But that time is not yet and it is doubtful if it will come soon unless the people get hit harder than they have been but they won't have to wait long until they get a knockout blow the way they are playing the game now.

It costs the taxpayers of the state $45,000 to catch 85 wolves and a few coyotes the first six months of this year under the Groesbeck machine, but that is nothing compared with what it cost for a hundred other things, yet the people vote for Groesbeck and his wolf department with the regularity of trained soldiers. Let the good work go on.

THE STAY AT HOMES.

We are sincerely delighted that the machine candidates for office won out easily at the recent Primary. We are glad for the reason that the majority of the farmers staid at home and let the office holders and non-taxpayers nominate their slate from top to bottom.

It will not evoke a single ripple of sympathy from us if half of the farmers loose their farms for they are perfectly willing to stay at home and let the machine candidates that have piled up the taxes sky high on them do the same thing again.

We believe the gang is right. The primary ought to be taken away from the pepole and placed in the hands of the old time convention which is simply easier for the machine to handle and less expense to the politician.

The man who tries to do something for the people is a mut for the people won't have it although they will sob their bitterest about tax time when they have to borrow money to pay the bill. However, it don't teach them a thing. They simply are the willing tools of the politician who is in the game to get his and take care of his friends. There is no hope for them and the sooner they loose what little holdings they have and get down to serfdom, the quicker the matter will reach a climax.

Do as the high salaried officials tells you or the want-to-be elected say and you can soon have the pleasure of taking off your hat when the royal car goes by. Just stay at home a few more times and you can kneel in abject submission when the chief dictators pass along.

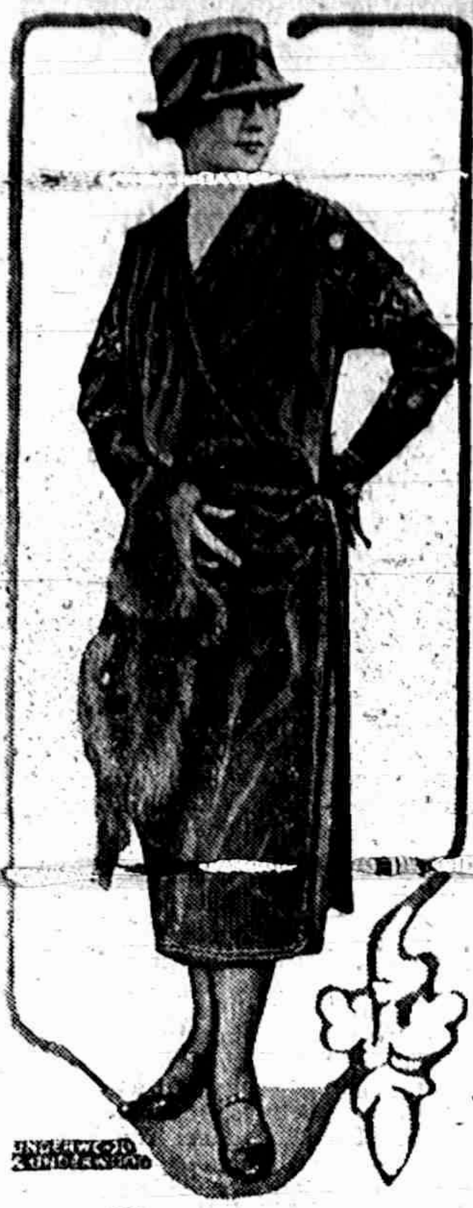
WITH SEMI-BELTED EFFECT



This is a striking redingote model of French serge banded with Hungarian embroidery. One large button serves to give the dress a semi-belted effect.

FASHION NOTES

Velvet still is good for entire costumes, but it is considered smarter this season when used in combination with soft wool fabric or with silk or satin.

Bengaline weaves are appearing in the shops—another old-fashioned fabric come back in new color tones.

Nightgowns made of silk, similar to that used for men's shirts, are shown, made on very simple lines and finished with a double row of machine hemstitching.

All shimmering fabrics are not all silk, though they are known by names that convey the silk idea. Bengaline is a worsted-filled silk that has good wearing qualities and is of attrac-

Deep-piled woolens for coats have such a soft and close texture that they resemble fur. Chemire resembles beaver in its deep, lustrous pile. Arrilda conveys a good idea of Persian lamb fur. Panvelaine is a close suggestion of otter. Wool canton has a pebbly surface, and is shown in all the new color tones.

Camisoles made with lace and embroidery trimming at the front to show in the cloth suits and dresses instead of vests are being shown in great numbers. The camisole itself is made of net, satin, crepe, edged about the top with lace and strapped over the shoulder with ribbon. The vest front in some of them is loose and long enough to hang down over the skirt.

Sets comprised of hats and scarfs are being developed by the different designers as accessories to the winter outfit. Some of them are made of fur and silk and metal fabric combinations, others are of flowers, and include muffs for evening wear. Still others are of paisley effects, or Roman striped material combined into many different and clever shapes and sizes.

NOW COMES THE VEIL RING

Two Bands May Be Used If Popular Two-Sided Drape Is Milady's Preference.

The ring is rendering first aid to a veil in holding it to a chic line.

A simple, dainty ring of galalith may be used to transform regular square and rectangular veils into the semblance of the newer and more unusual shapes in veils.

By its use the regular square and oblong effects can be adjusted easily over the turban or sailor and draped portion held snugly to one side of the hat. If the popular two-sided drape is preferred, it may be attained by the use of two rings.

Among the newer ideas in veils are the boat-shape styles, decorated at either end with huge chenille dots arranged in various odd patterns. In these newest chenille dot interpretations, soft furry balls of chenille are used in three colors, harmoniously blended. One style, called the Cleopatra, has an earring motif in gorgeous jade color surrounded with brown and henna dots.

The Jenny Sleeve Is for the Slender.

The newest note in blouses is the wide armhole. Unfortunately this style is not becoming to every figure. The slender woman wears it well, but the woman who has permitted herself to put on flesh and who has "curve" rather than "line" must close her eyes to this new sleeve style, as it will have a tendency to decidedly accentuate her size.

Colored Linens.

Flat colors in table linens are found in some of the smart shops. One particularly good-looking luncheon set was of vivid pink with hemstitched ends.

TRACE TROUBLE TO FENCE WEEDS

Noxious Plants as Rule Are Result of Neglect Because of Other Pressing Work.

RIGHT METHODS OF CONTROL

Biennials May Be Destroyed by Plowing Twice a Year—Perennials Can Be Killed by Applying Waste Oil.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

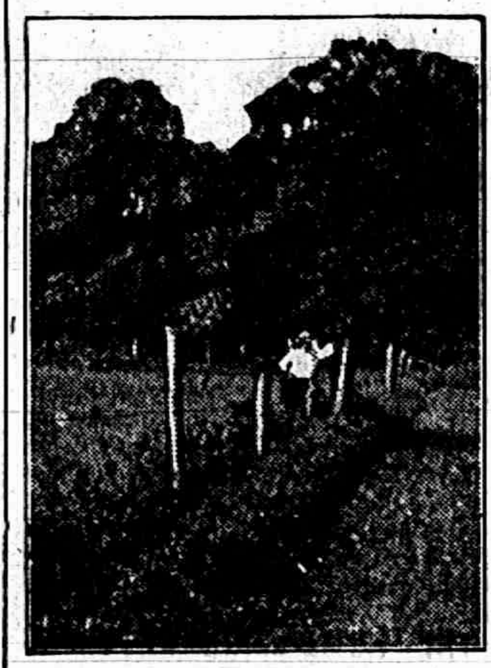
"I've too much work to spend time cleaning fence corners," declared a farmer when his neighbor asked why he allowed weeds to grow on line fences and the roadside.

"For instance?" observed his caller who had the New England habit of answering one question by asking another.

"For instance, there's weeds all through my corn and potatoes, and they've been getting into the oats till this year's thrashing will be half Canadian thistles. And, for instance, the hired man's been laid up with ivy poisoning he took fixing up the pasture fence where some rails had rotted out. And, for instance, just now there's some city acquaintances of my daughter coming out, and they might possibly buy the place if we could get it tidied up—and there's a big crop of fall weeds in the front lot. I guess that's enough, for instance, to keep me from puttering around the fence corners with a grass-hook after weeds."

How the Weeds Spread.

"Yes, maybe, looking at it from one angle," persisted the neighbor. "But, then, consider. With balloon-seeds like Canada thistle, dandelions, wild lettuce and milkweed; bur-seeds like burdock and beggar's lice, sticking to every passing man and animal; the scatter-seeds like tumble; and seeds that are scattered by birds—do you suppose those fence-corner weeds will remain in the fence corners? Don't you imagine that they have something to do with the fouling of your crop fields, and of that front lot that you are so anxious to have look neat for prospective purchasers? And don't you imagine that they foul my fields as well as yours? I noticed a little clump of wild lettuce in one angle of the fence; and do you know that one wild lettuce stalk yields from 8,000 to 240,000 seeds in one season—enough to infest several acres of land?



Weeds Along Fence Rows Spread Seed to Land Adjoining.

"Your hired man's case of poisoning is costing you practically a week's time, just when you can't afford it. And that was another case of line fence weeds.

"The importance of cleaning out weeds growing in waste places around the farm is not generally realized. They are frequently neglected under pressure of other work; but there is little work around a farm that pays better than keeping the weeds out of farmyards, barnyards and fence rows, and I am selfish and I can't keep my fields clean as long as you leave your side of the line fence foul."

Many common fence-row weeds are annuals and biennials, and, the United States Department of Agriculture points out, they can be killed by mowing twice a year, but the location is one that might better be kept clear of all vegetation than grown up to weeds; and perennials, like Canada thistles, can be killed out in these spots.

How to Deal With Weeds.

An economical way of dealing with perennials is to saturate them with waste oils from automobiles and tractors. The disposal of this oil is in itself often a problem. It is well to cut the weeds first, apply the oil and cover the ground with clean dirt for appearance's sake. Oil will make the ground sterile and bare for several years. It is less drastic to cover the ground with tar paper; old tin, or loose boards, or to apply dry agricultural salt at the rate of one pound per square foot.

On the whole, fence row and waste place weeds are the result of neglect. A little well-directed energy will keep them under control. A common saying is that a weed-free farm is the sign of a good farmer. It is a mark of distinction that can only be attained by keeping constantly at the waste places.

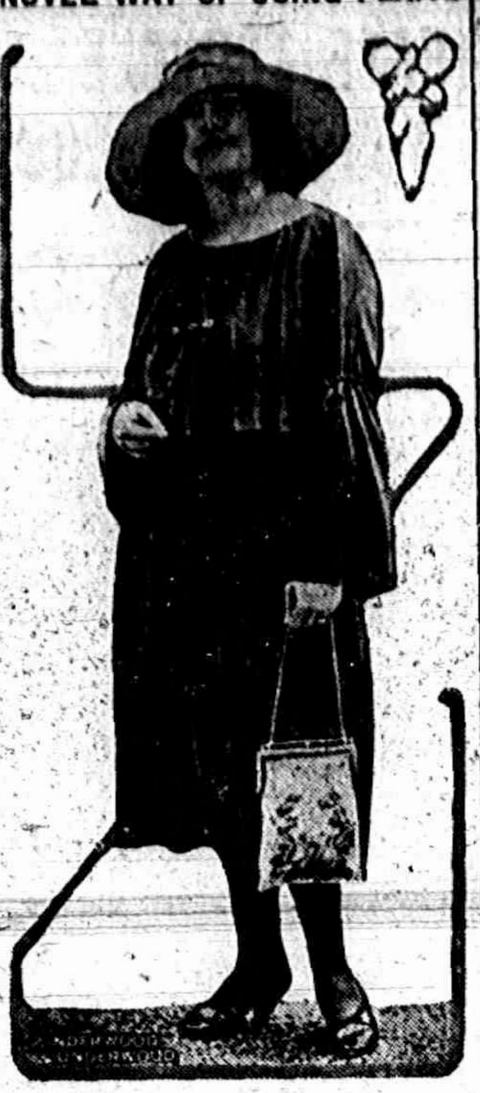
NOVEL WAY OF USING PLAITS



Spaced plaits on bodice, sleeves and skirt give a touch of distinction to this otherwise simple and conservative street frock. The band above the elbow is quite the vogue.

COMMON SENSE IN CLOTHES

Wise Women Will Hold Fast to Better Judgment and Sense of Fitness of Things.

When fashion shows a decided revolutionary tendency and nothing seems to be quite as it was before, the wise woman holds fast to her common sense and her sense of the fitness of things, and makes long and careful surveys of herself in the mirror, seeing not the lithe beautiful mannequin in the hat or frock, but herself. It is painfully easy to idealize one's own figure or face, and to get into the frame of mind that, because a fashion is smart on these beautiful creatures who are selected for just that purpose, they are going to be smart on Mrs. Smith, Jones or Brown.

Errors of judgment, as applied to the selection of one's clothes are costly, for no sensible woman can be expected to wear with pleasure a model which has turned out to be a sartorial error. It being part of every woman's duty at all times to appear at her best, she may be excused if she balks at wearing what she has purchased in the blind belief that because it was good on some other woman it would be good on her. Even if the money-bag has a very tight string round its opening, it is often possible to remodel these errors if one cannot discard them.

If the color is at fault, there are, fortunately, excellent dyers who can remedy that defect, and since it is prophesied by some wiseacres that 60 per cent of the women of America will wear black this winter, and since black, fortunately, is possible for most types, the question of color need not raise any problem. But it is so much easier to guard against mistakes than rectify them afterward.

THE HOME-MADE PETTICOAT

Garment May Be Easily Developed by the Family Dressmaker—Many Ways to Finish.

One of the easiest tasks to which the home dressmaker can turn her hand is the making of petticoats. "Roughly estimated," as builders say, two widths of 31-inch silk joined together at each side and narrowed off a little toward the waist make an excellent little petticoat for ordinary purposes and, to insure perfect fitting, the front should be slightly scooped out at the waist, and then the whole thing run onto an elastic band. There are many ways in which these petticoats may be finished; an accordion-plaited frill from twelve to fourteen inches deep gives freedom for walking, or three small kilted frills make a very good finish, and there are many shops today which do kilting, accordion plaiting, picot edging and hem-stitching. Another pretty way of making a petticoat is to cut the hem into large scallops and edge them round with a narrow kilting; this gives the uneven hem which is rather popular just now.

For an entirely accordion or sun-ray plaited petticoat one requires three times as much material as the intended width of the petticoat; for instance, the Christian Science Monitor directs, if the petticoat is to measure one and one-half yards at the hem, it would require the material to be four and one-half yards wide; this would probably mean about five widths joined together into a quite straight piece. The hem could be tacked up and sent to the shop to be hemstitched and then accordion-plaited; when it returned nothing would remain to be done but to join up the last seam and sew an elastic at the waist.

A crepe de chine petticoat, made in this style, is most successful; it takes the plaiting so well and is light and dainty to wear.

Sec. 2: Before granting such permission the Village Street Commissioner shall first ascertain whether such proposed digging or excavating will interfere with any underground pipes, cables or conducts, and, if such proposed work would likely interfere with any pipes, cables or conducts, all persons interested therein shall be given timely notice thereof so that they may supervise such work.

Sec. 3: Any person violating any provision of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof before any Justice of the Peace of Tecumseh Township, may be punished by fine not exceeding Fifty (50) Dollars or imprisonment in the County Jail not exceeding thirty (30) days, or both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the Court.

PAVING GOING ALONG NICELY.

The paving is now going along at a merry clip and about one-half of the business section has been laid. Although everything has worked against the process of getting the work done, it now seems assured that the business section will be paved by the end of next week.

Mr. Freisinger, the contractor, has left and does not plan to put in any more except the twenty foot strip from Ottawa St. to the Hayden Mill. It is hoped that enough cement may be had to complete the road to the top of the hill across the river because this is a very bad hill in wet weather since it has been cut down.

The three mile strip east of town will not be touched this year as it is not possible to get the cement to do the work. The detour north is a fine road and even better than the old road so it will not hidner traffic in the least.

HAVE A FINE EXHIBIT.

The Universal Radio Corp. of Tecumseh have one of the best radio exhibits at the fair that has ever been shown in these parts not excepting the state fair.

A neat pamphlet is being distributed to the people giving them full information about this important and highly interesting subject. The exhibit is crowded all the time by those who are becoming interested in getting the music out of the air and doubtless this will receive a great stimulus from the exhibit.

Why be bothered with these troubles. They are caused by poor lubricating oil—cheap oil—or running your car for thousands of miles without draining the crank case.

The answer is on the walls

When finished with the soft mellow tints of Devoe Velour Finish (a flat oil paint) walls not only help to make the things in front of them beautiful, but become beautiful themselves.

And because such walls are washable, their cleanliness and fresh beauty are easily preserved by the occasional use of soap, water and a rag.

What He Needed

A stump speaker shouted: "I want tax reform, I want land reform, I want dress reform—" and then some fellow in the crowd retorted; "Yes, and what you really need is chloroform."

That's what the man got for talking too much. Possibly some one will yet suggest chloroform for us because we keep telling about the advantages of our Bank, but we have such a good bank we can't help talking about it. We are not trying to reform anyone. WE ARE trying to be of service to everyone by offering the facilities of a strong, reliable, accommodating bank. If you are not already a patron, we invite you now. You'll be welcomed.

CHIROPRACTIC

(Section of spinal column showing pinched nerve the cause of disease.)

"What can Chiropractic do for me?" is a question asked us daily. We never attempt to give an answer without first making a careful examination of the spine to determine whether nerve pressure is causing the sickness.....If we find this nerve pressure—the CAUSE of the trouble—then we advise Chiropractic Adjustments.

"Do you think you can get me well?" is the next question asked. We say there is within the body, when supplied with food, everything necessary to enable the body to maintain perfect health. The trouble is that some part of the human machine is not working as it should, because it is not receiving its share of operative power. This power is NERVE FORCE, and it should be delivered to all parts of the body by the nerves.

Chiropractic adjustments get sick people well by making it possible for the nerves to do their share of work imposed upon them. We simply release the pressure which is shutting off the full flow of nerve current to the part of your body effected. This removes the CAUSE of your trouble, and everyone knows that once the cause of sickness is corrected, health will follow.

We want the opportunity of answering YOUR questions, that you may understand WHY Chiropractic is the better way to health. Consultation is free.

While the two services will be kept distinct, a well-attended regular evening service will be essential to the success of the young people's work. The spirit of the evening service will be felt in their meetings and will give them special opportunities of service. There are no better young people than those coming from our church homes. They are living in an age that is severely criticized—which causes deep concern. But let us not condemn the young people; let us help them.

AT THE BRADLEY.

"Boomerang Bill"

"Boomerang Bill" with Lionel Barrymore, will be seen at the Bradley Theatre, Sunday, Sept. 24. It is based on the story of the same name written by Jack Boyle for the Cosmopolitan Magazine.

Mr. Barrymore has the role of a Chicago gunman who meets the girl of his heart in New York and decides for her sake to go straight. But to save the life of her invalid mother, he commits his "last crooked job," is caught at it and goes to prison. What follows his great sacrifice constitutes one of the most dramatic stories ever told on the screen.

"Yellow Men And Gold."

Those who look back with undimmed delight to the first adventure story of youth will recognize an ancient thrill when "Yellow Men and Gold" by Gouveneur Morris, is shown at the Bradley Theatre, Saturday, Sept. 23. All the color, action and romance that made Robert Louis Stevenson's adventure stories the joy of our childhood are present in Goldwyn's fascinating picture-play of buried treasure on a volcanic island of the south seas.

EARLY ROADS IN MICHIGAN.

The first United States military road west from Detroit, was the Detroit and Chicago turnpike, passing through the north part of Cambridge, laid out in the year 1825. This road was a great benefit to Michigan. The next U. S. military road was from Monroe to intersect the Chicago road at Cambridge, laid out in 1832.

The Erie and Kalamazoo railroad, built from Toledo to Adrian, and in running order the year of 1837. —From Tecumseh Herald, Oct. 2, 1879.

SET YOUR CLOCK BACK SATURDAY.

Don't fail to wind the clock and put the cat out as usual next Saturday night and also do not forget that this is the night when we again change time.

Just set the old ticker back one hour and you can rest in the arms of Morpheous sixty minutes longer and still be at church on time the next morning. O, boy, on these nice cool mornings, won't it be nice to know that breakfast will be one hour later and that the whistle won't blow as early as usual.

Just don't forget to set the clock back and then John can spark Liza one hour longer and still go home at the regular hour. Much gain in some quarters at least.

WESTMINSTER GUILD ENTERTAINED.

The officers of the Westminster Guild, Miss Grace Gillespie, Mrs. Fred Dickinson, Mrs. E. C. Heilman and Mrs. Floyd Russell entertained thirty members of the Guild, Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Grace Gillespie on Pearl street.

A social evening was spent, the games and stunts being especially enjoyed. The clothespin dolls which were made were real works of art, in some cases. Dainty refreshments were served.

The next meeting will be October 10th at the home of Mrs. Earl Lindsley on West Shawnee street, at which time they will begin their study for the year with the book, "The Hope of India."

LAST COMMUNITY SERVICE OF THE SEASON WAS HELD.

The community service Sunday evening was held at the Presbyterian church, and was the last of the services planned for the summer months.

At the opening of the service, Lester Waring played a solo on the saxaphone, which was very much enjoyed. Rev. Kiskaddon preached the sermon of the evening, using as his text the story of Ruth and Naomi. Even though we may read this story many times, there comes to us each time, some special truth or lesson. The spirit of Ruth should be emphasized and cultivated in this age, the spirit of loyalty.

In the history of the middle ages we read much about the loyalty of the people to each other. This was very necessary for protection, since it was impossible for one alone to keep back the many enemies they had in that time. Their loyalty was more to clans and tribes than to the individual.

The home has a great influence in keeping alive this spirit. Ruth and Naomi made their home together and all through their trials, and in spite of the fact that they had to work very hard for a living, they were faithful to each other. Wherein is the strength of our nation? Not in the great industries or society but in the homes of the common people. While the home stands, the nation will stand.

Having a definite purpose will promote this spirit. It is our duty to have some aim, to form some definite purpose and then to carry it out. We will meet many obstacles and there will be many things to discourage us, but if we will "stick" we can succeed. We must make the best of our opportunities as they come, for we may never have a second.

Ruth was loyal to the God she chose to serve. When tests come to us, are we loyal to our God? It is easy to work and to help in the church when things move along smoothly, but let's be faithful when the tests come.

The services was well attended and the other ministers of the town were present and had a part on the program.

RETURN MISSIONARY TELLS INTERESTING FACTS.

Mrs. Helen Billings, a return missionary from Korea was in town Thursday and Mr. and Mrs. Newton Satterthwaite entertained a party of eighteen relatives and friends at a pot-luck dinner in her honor, at their home on North Union street.

After dinner Mrs. Billings told some very interesting stories of their work in Korea. There are many pitiful conditions there and some of her stories arouse great sympathy.

Her mother, Mrs. Ida Taylor was also present. They are relatives of the Satterthwaites.

GAVE STAG PARTY.

K. A. Braman gave a very delightful stag party to fourteen of hhis friends last Friday evening at his home on Oneida st.

A very delicious six o'clock dinner was served after which the "fellows" enjoyed themselves at a smoker in which Ralph Hunt took the prize by smoking his pipe longer than any other man could do, while Paul Hunt couldn't keep his going long enough to beat any other and had to accept the consolation.

It was a very merry party and greatly enjoyed by all.

ARM WAS BADLY CRUSHED.

While working on the concrete mixer on East Chicago Street, Tuesday, Irving Rudiceler's arm was caught between the skip and the dump and badly crushed. Dr. H. R. Conklin rendered the necessary aid. He will have a sore arm but no bones were crushed .

Advocate Big Time When Streets Open

Tecumseh Will Soon Be Fully Paved In Business Section. Many Advocate Holding Old Fashioned Harvest Festival With Barbecue And Free Entertainments.

Tecumseh will soon have the business section fully paved and everything set for picking up the reins of business and driving full tilt again.

During the past few weeks, things have been torn up a bit but that is always necessary when real good things are to follow. We have to undergo a few inconveniences in order to get the better things and this is especially true in paving.

But we are on the last lap right now and in just a few days the finest paved [illegible] ever saw will be open to everyone and then is the time that the good people here plan on bringing all their friends to town to show them our new paving 'neverything.

It will be fine and also we are going to celebrate it in regular old time style. What's the matter of just sprinkling on the wax and start the fiddles and let 'em dance on the new pavement to their hearts content. Also have a big barbecue, regular southern style, and games, etc. to fill up an afternoon and evening that will long be remembered in Tecumseh?

If you are for it just someone call a meeting and lets go. It will be just the right thing to do and we believe it will meet with ready response. We have been pretty good and quiet all this summer and we should be allowed to have just one grand good time before the high cost of coal gets us shut in for the winter. All in favor say Aye. Those against, same thing. The Ayes have it by a unanimous majority and Wade Jones will proceed to start the ball a rolling and the rest of us will keep it in the air till after the ball. "Hey Skinnay, c'mon over to our house and help celebrate the big event. It'll be a big time and all free." What say?

A jolly bunch of about fifty sophomores of the T. H. S. were entertained by Miss Frances Talman, Friday evening at the pleasant farm home of her parents west of town. A pot-luck supper was served out under the trees.

During the evening Miss Mildred Boyce gave a pleasing description of Holland and Switzerland which she recently visited. Her description of the customs and the people was amusing as well as instructive.

Games and singing with Miss Madeline Boyce at the piano, helped to pass away the remainder of the evening, which went all too rapidly.

The crowd was chaperoned by Miss Boyce and Miss Marjorie Dean.

WILL HAVE GOOD COURSE.

Elsewhere in this paper will be found the first number of the high school lecture course given under the auspices of the senior class.

The course will be a very complete one and will give the good people of this community a splendid winter's entertainment for a very small price compared with what they are really worth.

Beside it is our own senior class that is putting it on and of course every true and loyal Tecumsehite will get behind so worthy a cause and do his share at boosting it along. That's the Tecumseh spirit every time so go to it you seniors, the town is with you.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS.

Camp Fire Girls is an organization of girls and women to develop the home spirit.

It is an army of girls rather than a mission to them.

It shows that romance, beauty and adventure are to be found on every hand and in wholesome ways, that the daily drudgery may be made to contribute to the beauty of living.

It uses beautiful ceremonies, has an appealing ritual and bases rank and honors upon personal attainment. There are attractive daily things in terms of poetry, symbolism, color and imagination.

The Camp Fire Girls is a self-governing organzation.

They also aim to support as well as control their own local and national work.

The parents should co-operate actively in bringing the work about and carrying it on. Mothers are often group guardians.

Miss Marie Gategar came to Tecumseh, Monday, to organize the Camp Fire Girls. She does not ask any other organization to back her in the work she expects to do. But Miss Gategar states that without the co-operation of the community her time spent in Tecumseh shall be a loss.

Miss Gategar has been in the Camp Fire work for nearly three years and has met with great success. She has been and is still the Chief Guardian over one hundred and fifty samp fire girls fourteen group Guardians and fifty-six blue birds at Freemont, Ohio.

Miss Gategar managed a camp at Sandy Beach, Lake Side, Ohio, for two weeks this past summer with ninty-one girls. Not one of these girls had to pay a cent when they left for camp. For, thanks be to their Chief Guardian, they had earned eight hundred dollars together during their school months.

On Friday or Saturday evening Miss Gategar expects to have the Tecumseh Camp Fires so well organized that she can introduce them to the community as such through a stunt program which is bound to please both young and old. Such stunts as a Dentist, a Day in Camp, etc. Now Tecumseh boost the Camp Fire Girls and they will boost you.

TOLEDO TO HAVE BIG CONCERT EVENTS.

The Civic Music League in Toledo is announcing a list of unusual Musical Attractions for the series of concerts promoted by this organization this season under its auspices. Some of the most distinguished of the world's Stars are included in the series of six attractions.

For the past six years the Civic Music League has brought to Toledo a brilliant array of big artists which have attracted many people from this vicinity to the city. Among the artists to be heard in Toledo this year will be such names as Giovanni Martinelli the famous Metropolitan tenor who is said to be Caruso's successor, Rose Ponselle, another equally famous Metropolitan Star, Erika Morini the child wonder violinist, the Ukarian National Chorus, an organization of Russian Singers which are being brought to this country for the first time.

Chief among the attractions to be heard are two of the most sensational of the more recent popular idols of the hour, Maria Jeritza, the Viennese prima donna, who startled all New York last season, and Feodor Chaliapin the great Russian Basso who will be heard for the first time in a concert tour in America.

The Toledo concerts are under the management of Bradford Mills, of the Toledo Conservatory of Music, to whom all inquiry for tickets can be made by those interested in attending any or all of these great events. The concerts are held in the Coliseum, the largest auditorium in Toledo, and the first one will be given by Martinelli on October 12th.

MYRON CONKLIN HAS PASSED AWAY.

Myron Conklin who had made it his home with his son, Dr. H. R. Conklin, on East Chicago St. for some time, passed away last Thursday, aged 79 years.

Mr. Conklin was born in New York but came to Michigan at quite an early date and here was married to Miss Virginia Webster and to the union were born two sons, Dr. H. R. Conklin now of this city and Erwin Conklin of Detroit. His good wife and the two sons remain to mourn the loss of a good husband and father while his many friends and neighbors will not soon forget this kindly man of sterling character and upright dealings. He will be greatly missed by all.

Mr. Conklin was a splendid type of good citizen who devoted himself to his family and his avocation, with a good word for all and ever ready to do his share to help make the world a little better. Burial was in Brookside

Selections were sung by Mrs. E. C. Heilman and Mrs. Ella Hodges. Among the floral offerings was a piece from the employees of the Henry Ford office at Detroit. Fred Rosacrans, R. J. W. Bowen, B. J. Pulver, Perry Satterthwaite, A. W. Stahler and Leon Rosacrans were the bearers. Those from away attending the service were Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Conklin and daughter Miss Irene, Morris Conklin of Elmwood, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Elsworth Collins, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Day of Macon, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Conklin of South Adrian and Mr. and Mrs. Clare Schlosser of Adrian.

DR. B. F. SNYDER TAKEN IN DEATH.

This community was greatly shocked to learn last Thursday that Dr. B. F. Snyder who had made his home with his niece in Hillsdale for some time past had been taken by death.

Dr. Snyder was a former resident of Tecumseh and was one of the heaviest stock holders in the Lilley Bank. He was a dentist by profession although he had retired from business about sixteen years ago.

The Doctor had been in failing health for some time and this coupled with worry had temporarily unbalanced his mind so that he committed suicide by slashing his throat with a pen knife.

It was a great shock to his old friends and acquaintances and all are sad to know that ill health had so caused his breakdown. The funeral was held at Hillsdale with burial in our own Brookside.

USE YOUR HOME PAPER.

If you are going to have an auction within ten miles of Tecumseh, you can get the very best of service by doing your advertising in the Tecumseh Herald which covers this field like the dew.

And it does not cost you the price of a cow to advertise here. Our rates are very reasonable and we guarantee that you will have a good crowd if advertised in the Herald or we will advertise it again free should inclement weather keep the crowd away.

We have never failed yet to have the crowd to every auction advertised in the Herald. Never mind what any auctioneer who is working for high priced advertising may tell you. You can get just as good a crowd by using the Herald and you don't have to fork up the price of a cow for getting it.

People don't go across the county to buy a second hand fork, your buying crowd comes from near your home, you know that, so use your home paper whether it be the Herald or other paper and you will get genuine service that will give you complete satisfaction for one-third the money. CAMBRIDGE FARMER SHOOTS HUNTER, KILLING HIM.

Frank Fellers, aged 63 years, a farmer of Cambridge township, is at the county jail on a charge of murder for the death of Cecil P. Jones, 28 of Toledo, who died at Bixby hospital early on Monday, from the effects of a gunshot wound said to have been inflicted by Fellers, Sunday.

Jones and Claude Applegate, also of Toledo, were spending the week-end at Applegate's cottage at Wolf Lake, 18 miles northwest of Adrian, and had rowed through an adjoining lake adjacent to Feller's farm in search of wild ducks.

According to an ante mortem statement dictated by Jones and according to the story told officers by Applegate, Fellers ordered the two men from the lake They refused, saying they had a hunting license and were within their rights so long as they did [illegible] land on Fellers' property. Fellers, it is alleged, then went to his farm home, procured a rifle and came back to the water's edge where he took aim and fired, the bullet striking Jones in the back. Fellers signed a statement at the jail Sunday night in which the shooting was admitted.

Mr. Fellers has three sons, Harry Fred and Charles. A fourth son, Ernest, was killed in the war with Germany. Mr. Fellers has lived in Cambridge for many years and is known by hundreds of resorters in the county lake district as an expert boat builder and stone mason. Twenty years ago he was sentenced to serve a term of five years in the state reformatory at Ionia for burglary.

Mr. Jones is survived by his wife and three children, a daughter aged five years, and twin boys, aged one year. He was employed as traffic manager of the LaSalle & Koch Company, a Toledo department store.

A post-mortem examination of the body made today revealed that the bullet perforated the two walls of the stomach and severed a large artery. The physicians who conducted the autopsy said death was caused by internal hemorrhages.

HOW DO THEY GET THAT WAY?

At the county fair two ba[illegible] teams were given a chance [illegible] county championship and [illegible] of them had as much rig[illegible] in the race as Tecumseh.

Clinton who was given the county championship has been beaten three times by Tecumseh and showed up as a decidedly inferior team to the local bunch. Tecumseh beat Adrian the other contender three out of five games and thus put her out of the running.

And the guy who arranged the county championship gave both Adrian and Clinton a chance to play for the championship (?) while Tecumseh which had trimmed both of them decisively was not called on to try out for the championship which she already holds by virtue of licking those who are proclaimed champions.

Its a typical Adrian trick that speaks for itself and we care little about such lack of sportmanship but just call the honorable's attention to what everyone knows is the same rotten deal usually pulled by those in charge of county athletics at the fair.

When you want a championship just eliminate those who can play and put yourself up against those who can't and then call it a county championship. Some class to that for real sportsmen.

A GREAT DIFFERENCE.

The point of view one takes makes a wonderful difference as to the judgment he forms.

We must all give great credit to the Christian Science Religion for one thing at least. The people who follow the teachings of this faith are continually looking for the good and not the evil. The result is they find almost 100% of life is truly good.

Too many have the habit of looking for the evil instead of the good hence they and a very large per cent of life is evil. It just depends upon what we are looking for as to what our judgment is.

One instrument out of tune in a band can turn entrancing music into horrible discord and make the whole a blatant noise which grates on the ears and disturbs everyone within earshot. Just another example of being right, in order to fit in with the condition at hand and be helpful instead of destructive.

Perhaps there is no one perfect when judged by imperial man made standards, but so large a per cent of us are doing the best we can that we deserve commendation instead of censure, and hearty support instead of criticism.

Communities move forward by straining on the tugs not on the breeching, but somehow nature planted in the human breast a desire to show how smart we are by pointing out the mistakes of others. Instead of doing things ourselves to help move the load of progress, we take delight in showing how much better it would be to follow our plans and avoid the mistakes we fancy we see.

Gossips and scandal mongers take delight in assassinating reputation of someone in order to experience the excitement of peddling the news and seeing the effect it produces on others. Its a mania just the same as any other vicious habit, and the longest tongues always assure their hearers that they wouldn't hurt the feelings or reputation of the one they are about to assault for anything, and then proceed to drive the poison arrows of vicious scandal as deeply into their victim as possible. It is just the result of a perverted mind that is centering its attention upon the evil instead of the good. It's a dread disease the victim of which should be quarantined just as certainly as those infected with small pox for it causes much more affliction and is absolutely defenseless.

The self appointed critic who sees nothing but faults and enlarges upon them usually is the one least fitted to pass a good judgment and yet criticism is most necessary, but it should not fail to credit all the good possible and point out constructively how the mistakes could have been avoided. It takes much experience and considerable mental capability coupled with a very clever ability to put into execution well-made plans in order to be able to judge with any degree of efficiency, that is why most capable persons are seldom fault finders.

To be a really good fault finder it takes a large amount of consumate ignorance seasoned with a very strong concoction of self-esteem and served with an exceedingly long tongue whose source of propulsion is water on the brain. That will properly fit one to point out all the scandal and defect in a whole neighborhood without tiring the dispenser in the least.

Just why or what is the germ that breeds the disease of indiscriminating criticism has not been yet found out and doubtless it never will for it has been in the world many years. However, it is very refreshing to meet and associate with those who through true culture are safely past the knocker stage and are helping along every worthy enterprise by strongly supporting the good and are straining on the tugs instead of setting the brakes. That is what real culture is and what every organization worth while is trying to inculcate into its members. Its the worth-while part of life.

DAIRY FACTS

SAFE MILK SUPPLY INSURED

Suggested That Two or More Small Towns Hire Inspector and Maintain Laboratory.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Milk inspection is of prime necessity. In most of the larger cities laboratories are maintained where bacteria counts and chemical analyses are frequently made on samples collected from retail delivery-wagons, stores and restaurants. But the small cities and towns that cannot afford the expense of a tester and laboratory find it hard to give proper supervision to their milk supplies.

Cleanliness Is Essential to the Production of Milk of Low Bacterial Count.

The United States Department of Agriculture suggests that a practical way for such cities and towns to insure a safe milk supply is through the co-operation of two or more adjacent towns in hiring a milk inspector and maintaining a laboratory. The cost of supervising such a plan may be prorated among the different towns on the basis of population without the expense being burdensome to any one of them. State and federal authorities are always willing to co-operate in work of this sort.

This plan of town co-operation in milk and dairy inspection has been carried out in different parts of the country, probably the most conspicuous example being the group of towns in northern New Jersey known as "The Oranges." In these towns the plan has been in use for a number of years with results that have been very satisfactory to all concerned.

MARKS OF GOOD DAIRY COW

Angularity and Leanness Should Be Apparent When in Milk—Mammary System Important.

A good dairy cow should show angularity and leanness in appearance when in milk. A feminine head; a bright, full eye; a wide muzzle and large open nostrils indicate dairy temperament. The chest should be full and deep, giving ample room for large heart and lung development. A long, deep, wide body with well-arched ribs gives room for handling large amounts of feed. And of extreme importance is a well-developed mammary system made up of long, branching milk veins entering large milk wells; teats of convenient and uniform size, good shape and well placed in the udder and an udder that is large, well shaped and has a mellow, flexible handling quality.

DAIRY COWS WORK HARDEST

Animals Give From Five to Ten Times Their Weight in Milk—Need Best of Feed.

People seldom think of the dairy cow as a hard working animal, yet it is a fact that she works harder than other domestic animals. Every year she gives from five to ten times her weight in milk, containing as much actual dry matter as do the bodies of two or three steers. It requires approximately the same amount of energy to produce 20 pounds of milk as it does to plow an acre of land. This gives us some conception of the enormous amount of work the cow does and shows why she should be well fed and cared for.—Utah

THE DAIRY

BIG COWS GIVE MOST PROFIT

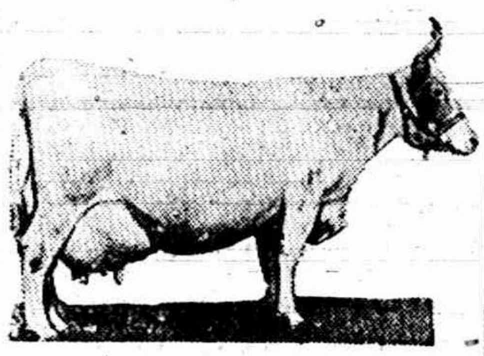
Records Show That Large Animals Are Biggest Producers of Milk and Butterfat.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Figures collected from various cow-testing associations throughout the country and compiled by the United States Department of Agriculture tend to confirm the previous conclusions of the department that within the breeds, so far as they were represented by these animals, which were mostly grades, the large cows are the biggest producers of dairy products and are also the most profitable. The evidence seems to point to the fact that in the individual farmer's herd it will be found that on the average the larger cows are more profitable than the smaller ones, although there are some indications that this may not hold true in the case of herds of native cattle containing much beef blood.

The cows whose records have been used by the department have been sorted out so that only mature animals were used for these comparisons, thus eliminating any differences that might have been caused by the immaturity of some cows.

In one group for which figures have been prepared there were 160 cows classified as small, 201 as medium, and 129 as large. The small cows averaged 243 pounds of butterfat a year and made an income over the cost of feed of $77.39. Those of medium size made 289 pounds of butterfat and an income over feed cost of $88.91. The large cows produced 345 pounds of butterfat and a return above feed cost of $105.74.



A High Producing Cow—The Result of Good Breeding.

In another group there were 461 small cows, 483 classed as medium, and 326 large. Those in the first classification made 240 pounds of butterfat on an average and an income over cost of feed of $89.11. The mediums made 278 pounds of butterfat and 106.09 over feed cost. The large ones produced 299 pounds of butterfat and an income over feed cost of $108.29.

These tables were based mostly on figures for the years 1916 to 1919, inclusive, which accounts for the high average income over cost of feed.

CARING FOR SPRING CALVES

Young Animals Should Be Quartered in Clean Shed or Lot and Given Proper Feed.

Dairy calves should be kept in a clean shed or lot and fed regularly, according to A. C. Baer, professor of dairy husbandry at Oklahoma A. and M. college. He suggests the following feeding schedule:

First week—Feed three times a day of mother's milk.

Second week—Feed three times a day of whole milk.

Third week—Feed three times a day but substitute one-third skim milk.

Fourth week—Feed two or three times a day; one-half skim milk. Regulate the amount of milk to the size and vigor of the calf.

"After the fourth or fifth week all skim milk can be fed and a little grain, ground oats, corn, barley, and a little bran," Baer says. "Let them eat some good hay, as much as they can eat.

"Calves can be kept on pasture, but should receive some grain and hay in addition. To prevent scours, all buckets and cans must be kept clean. The shed or lot should also be cleaned regularly."

ECONOMICAL FEED FOR COWS

Quantity of Grain Required by Animal Depends on Her Size and Milk Capacity.

Silage, fodder, shredded stover or sudan and millet hay may be depended upon for supplying carbohydrate roughness. The quantity of grain the cow requires depends upon her size and capacity as a milk producer. The most economical feeding results when cows are fed as individuals. It isn't always possible to do this on the busy farm; but sufficient attention may be given each animal to see that she receives the right proportion of feed for maintaining her milk flow.

FALL FRESHENING IN FAVOR

Cow Will Produce 10 to 15 Per Cent More Milk and at Time When Prices Are High.

The fall-freshened cow produces 10 to 15 per cent more milk than the spring-freshened cow, according to the dairy department of the North Dakota Agricultural college, while the large production of the fall-freshened cow comes at a time when dairy products are highest in price.

MARK TWAIN ON ADULATION

"Never Earned and Never Due to Any Human Being" Was Humorist's Conception of It.

I am built just as other people are built, so far as I can discover, and therefore I do prize a good hearty compliment above rubies; and am grateful for it, and as glad as you are yourself when I can in sincerity return the mate to it.

But when a man goes beyond compliment, it does not give me pleasur, it makes me ashamed. It makes me ashamed; I am not thinking about him; I am thinking about myself; he may humiliate himself if he likes, it is his privilege, but I do not want to be humiliated.

Adulation. Adulation—spoken or hinted. And never earned; never due, to any human being. What a king must suffer! For he knows, deep down in his heart, that he is a poor, cheap, wormy thing like the rest of us, a sarcasm, the Creator's prime miscarriage in inventions, the moral inferior of all the animals, the superior of each one of them all in one gift only, and that one not up to his estimation of it—intellect. —From "Unpublished Chapters From the Autobiography of Mark Twain," in Harper's Magazine.

DANGEROUS SYMPTOMS

Ma—I think we'd better call Doctor Jones. Freddy has a severe pain in the head.

Pa—Oh, pshaw! He's had that so often before.

Mr—Yes, but never on a day when he's free from school.

NEW CHINAWARE MATERIAL

A process has been newly discovered whereby artificial ultramarine can be made from china clay, from which all chinaware is made, including the most beautiful porcelains.

The main source of supply of the finest china clay is the county of Cornwall, in England. The stuff is not clay, properly speaking. It is an earth, which, when dug out of the ground, is found mixed with coarse white sand. From the latter it is separated by floating it off in tanks of water, the heavy particles of sand falling quickly to the bottom. Then it is spread on pans and put into kilns to bake. When partly dried in the kilns it is cut into blocks suitable for handling. The blocks thus prepared, being very friable, are readily pulverized to a sort of mineral flour, which is the raw material for chinaware.

SATAN

The Black Mass—devil worship—is revived on a big scale by a cult of decadents in Paris.

This turns the clock back a good many centuries, to the superstitious days when the evil reasoned that they might escape punishment by becoming worshiping henchmen of Satan, the punisher.

Somewhere on earth you can find the spirit of every preceding century, at work among the gullible and ignorant. In some places it still is the year 4000 B. C.

AT THE SEASHORE

Father—That child of ours is altogether too annoying with his toy boat.

Mother—What does he want now?

"He wants to have it fitted out with a wireless."—Le Journal Amusant (Paris).

SUSPICIOUS

Dry Agent—I'll bet my pile that Deacon Jones has a stock of home brew in his cellar.

"Deacon Jones? Impossible!"

"Well, then, tell me why the flies are buzzin' out of his cellar windows backward and in circles?"—Life.

DOMINANT CONSIDERATIONS

"Do you think skirts will be much longer?"

AT THE BRADLEY

"White Oak"

Why "White Oak?" This is why: The chief character in this new Paramount Picture produced by William S. Hart which will be seen next Saturday night at the Bradley theatre, is Oak Miller, a gambler, and a man with a heart of gold. He is white by nature, in the colloquial sense. White as the Oak whose name he bears—what better sobriquet than "White" Oak? Thus the reason for the title of one of the most vivid pictures of pioneer days that has ever been produced. It is by Mr. Hart, Bennet Musson wrote the scenario and Lambert Hillyer was director. Viola Vale makes a very sympathetic heroine.

"Three Live Ghosts"

A wave of excitement recently agitated the busiest thoroughfare of London when a burley policeman held up the traffic to allow the passage of an aristrocratic-looking gentleman, immaculately tailored wheeling the latest thing in expensive baby-carriages, to which was attached a sheep which showed an obvious disinclination to cross the road.

The episode showed Cyril Chadwick in his impersonation of "Spoofy" in "Three Live Ghosts," a Paramount Picture which will be shown at the Bradley Opera House next Sunday, October 1. Anna Q. Nilsson and Norman Kerry are the featured players.

Mae Murray In Her Latest, "Peacock Alley"

With Mae Murray in the stellar role of "Peacock Alley" which comes to the Bradley Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday, October 4th and 5th, motion picture fans will have the opportunity to see this beautiful star of stage and screen in one of the most elaborate of productions.

"Peacock Alley" presented by Robert Z. Leonard, is by Edmund Goulding based on a story by Ouida Bergere and is released by Metro Pictures Corporation for Tiffany Productions, Inc. The story of a Parisian dancer who falls in love with a small town American youth and finds her husband's people scandalized when she goes back to his home, resulting in the couple seeking fortunes in New York, is one which gives Miss Murray unusual opportunity to appear in many gorgeous and artistic costumes among elaborate settings.

HELD POSITION BY FORCE

Aryans in Greece Maintained Themselves Only by Making Their Cities Armed Camps.

Aryan people in Greece even in the most populous places, and at the height of their power were amazingly few. The aboriginal people of the country then as now, were Pelasgian Mediterraneans of the Semitic race. In Sparta, at the peak of Spartan ability, there were perhaps 3,000 Spartan men. This handful of Nordics ruled and held in subjection 2,500,000 helots, or natives. All the ancient Greek cities and states were, in fact, armed camps, and their citizenships for a long time were strictly limited to blondes. Athens enfranchised her Semitic population at the height of her glory, and dropped to the station of a provincial town within the space of memory of one man.

Very little of the blood of ancient Greece is to be found in the Greece of today. Only on a few islands that are remote from the traffic of the world has the strain been preserved. But Greek types are fairly common in northern Germany and in England. They stand midway between Celts and Nordics in evolution. They have long faces and long heads, like Nordics, but their teeth, their bones, and their minds are unmistakably Celtic.—Chicago Tribune.

BANKER HAD LITERAL MIND

Undoubtedly Spinster's Statement Was Wrong, and He Felt Justified in Correcting It.

An amusing incident occurred at a railway station in Switzerland just before the great war broke out, when the Swiss were beginning to refuse to accept foreign money or to make exchange for Swiss, or to cash letters of credit or bank checks. Two elderly English spinsters were excitedly discussing the currency trouble. One of them smoothed out a Bank of England note and said to her sister:

"There, Sarah, is a Bank of England note, which has been as good as gold all over the world since Christ came to earth, and these plaguey Swiss won't take it."

Some one told this incident afterward to a banker in London. He said they were very ignorant women; "there were no Bank of England notes in Christ's time!"

NO BAN ON HIM

Assistant Secretary of the Navy Theodore Roosevelt visited the civil service commission the other day to select a photograph of his father to hang on the commission walls.

Officials there are securing photographs of all the men who held the post of civil service commissioner, in each case allowing relatives to pass upon the photograph selected.

Secretary Roosevelt made his choice from several photos of his father, and then looked around the room.

"Why, I used to play in that basket over there," he said, pointing to a capacious basket in the office left vacant by the resignation of Governor Bartlett, president of the commission, to become first assistant postmaster general of the United States.

"You can come up and play in it any time you want to," smiled Commissioner Gardener.—Washington Star.

MASK OF MERRIMENT

"I understand that you are inclined to be facetious concerning prohibition," remarked the severe stranger.

"Maybe I have been," replied Uncle Bill Bottletop. "But it's not because I don't take the subject seriously. I must have gone too far in trying to disguise my real feelings."

CAUSE

Mrs. Nolittlee—Can I sue Mr. Nolittlee for breach of promise?

Lawyer—Why, he married you, did he not?

Mrs. Nolittlee—Yes, but he promised me an automobile before we were married and now he refuses to get it for me.—Judge.

A MODERN NOTE

"Now, this is what I call a realistic movie."

"Looking at that picture, you'd think you were in ancient Rome."

"Perhaps, but the conversation of a pair of flappers immediately behind us rather spoils the illusion."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

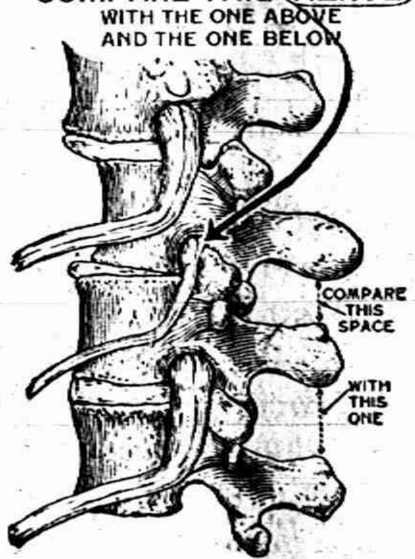
HEALTH

Nature's Way
CHIROPRACTIC

COMPARE THIS NERVE WITH THE ONE ABOVE AND THE ONE BELOW



(Section of spinal column showing pinched nerve the cause of disease.)

When your watch goes wrong do you attempt to dope it with oil or drugs to correct the trouble? NO, you immediately take it to a jeweler—a watch mechanic, because you know the CAUSE of your watch going wrong is purely mechanical, therefore the correction must be mechanical.

Do you exercise the same common sense when you are sick? Or do you dope yourself with drugs, forgetful of the fact that modern science has established indisputable proof that the CAUSE of sickness is mechanical interference with NERVE FORCE, and that mechanical correction of the cause always results in HEALTH.

We say the CAUSE of sickness is mechanical pressure on spinal nerves. Can there be better proof that we are right, than the fact that sick folks get well after this pressure has been removed?

If you are sick, an examination of your spine will reveal nerve pressure. The results you will experience from Chiropractic Adjustments will convince you that the law of mechanics is always positive—never negative. Consultation with spinal analysis is free and places you under no obligation.

Feed Yellow Corn!

Did you know that yellow corn makes better feed, especially for hogs, than white corn? Well, it's a fact, as I'm prepared to prove—but you can read the whole amazing story for yourself in next week's issue of

The COUNTRY GENTLEMAN

Of course, white corn still has its place; but for real, downright, money-saving facts you should know just what the color of the corn has to do with your feeding costs.

But this new discovery is only one of many up-to-the-minute subjects discussed in this issue alone: Some disgruntled folks, speculators especially, have said that the Farm Bureau hurts business. They should read what A. B. Macdonald has to say about it.

James Dryden offers another of his much-liked practical poultry articles; this one is devoted to a timely discussion of poultry houses.

As for fiction! There's a crackajack of an eight-part serial—"A Daughter of Adam," by Corra Harris—just starting. You'll have time to begin it, and read all the other good things coming in the next 52 issues, if you will just send me your name and only one dollar—today.

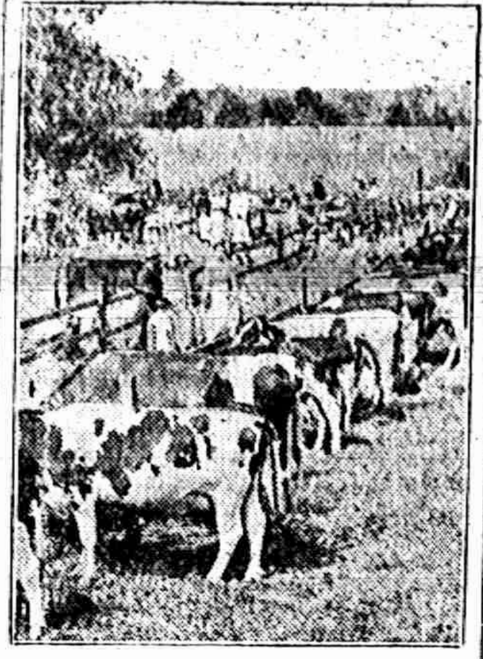
DAIRY POINTS

GIVE PUREBREDS MORE CARE

Dairymen Often Takes More Interest in High Class Stock Because of Possibilities.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

There is no good reason why it should cost more to care for a good herd of purebred dairy cows than it costs to care for the same number of good grades, although farmers sometimes believe that the purebreds are more expensive to keep. However, says the United States Department of Agriculture, the dairyman often does spend more on purebreds because he sees greater possibilities in them, and consequently takes more interest in them, feeding them better and building better barns to house them. He does not need to do this, but usually he finds that it pays him in gross returns and in net returns.



Purebred and Tuberculin-Tested Dairy Cows.

The results would have been the same, though possibly not in the same degree, if better care and feed had been given to a good grade herd. But it sometimes takes the stimulation supplied by the ownership of a few purebreds to induce a man to improve his practices.

TREATING STERILITY IN COW

Most Cases Become Chronic or Permanent Unless Properly Handled by Veterinarian.

In many herds where abortion disease is present, from five to ten per cent of the cows become sterile or barren, and most cases become chronic or permanent unless they are treated by a qualified veterinarian. Dr. W. L. Williams of the New York State Veterinary college is to be given credit for the plan of procedure in handling these cows. The treatment should not be neglected too long after the cows manifest this symptom.

A thorough examination of the patient is necessary to locate the trouble either in the uterus, ovaries or fallopian tubes, and treated accordingly. It is not uncommon for a skilled operator to restore five out of six cases to a reproductive state under favorable conditions.

Cases of long standing should be sold to the butcher, as the treatment fails to help them. A case of more than eight months' to one year's standing is very discouraging to the operator, for he realizes that functional changes have taken place in the reproductive organs that will be difficult to correct by treatment. Therefore do not delay having an animal examined and treated in the beginning of the trouble instead of waiting until it is too late. The annual loss caused by sterility would be surprisingly high if survey could be made and accurate data obtained from the cattle breeders.

RATION MUST BE ATTRACTIVE

Dairy Cow to Do Well Requires Feed Containing Proper Elements for Milk Flow.

Cows won't do well on food that isn't palatable, say the feeding men at the New York College of Agriculture at Ithaca. Not only must the dairy cow's ration contain the proper elements if she is to be "worth her keep," but it must be so attractive to her that she will eat plenty and keep up a good flow of milk.

On the other hand, say the dairymen, it isn't wise to change a ration suddenly even to make it better. A cow is a delicate milk-producing machine, and sudden changes in her food are quite likely to upset some part of the machinery, with a resulting loss of milk.

The condition of the food probably has most to do with its palatability; moldy grains or roughage don't appeal to any self-respecting cow.

COWS ON PASTURE TOO SOON

Many Owners Expect Animals to Thrive on Thin Grass—Grain Must Be Supplied.

Owners of cows usually put them out on pasture too soon, expecting the cows to get all feed necessary from scant early pastures. Until the pastures have made a good growth, cows will need about a pound of grain for every six pounds of milk as well as some dry hay.

When the kidneys are weak, Nature tells you about it.

The urine is nature's index.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for disordered kidneys.

Tecumseh people testify to their worth. Ask your neighbor.

Thomas Langton, retired farmer, W. Chicago St., Tecumseh, says "I had kidney complaint awfully bad and suffered with my back. My kidneys acted irregularly and were unnatural. I used Doan's Kidney Pills purchased at Wright & Son's Drug Store and they strengthened my back and regulated the action of my kidneys."

The above statement was given July 27, 1916 and on May 3, 1920, Mr. Langton said: "Since endorsing Doan's Kidney Pills I have used them several times. If thru taking cold, I have noticed a return of the trouble, Doan's have never failed to give me relief."

Council Orders Twenty Trees Cut Boulevard Sunk 3 Feet At Union St.

McINTYRE AND HENDERSHOT VIGOROUSLY OPPOSE SAVING TREES

Anderson Tries To Save Them And Keep Faith With People On Pre-election Promises. Satterthwaite, Pulver and Lidke, Vote To Kill Trees, But Favored Saving Light Poles. Evans Street Narrowed Two Feet to Save Four Poles.

Over $15,000 Paid Out On Paving Now. Council Must Arrange To Borrow more Immediately. Hendershot in Charge Of Finance Committee. After Twelve Weeks Three Blocks Of Pavement Are Nearly Finished.

The Council by a vote to table a petition handed in by taxpayers and residents doomed over twenty trees on W. Chicago St. to destruction. Boulevard to have dirt center 14 feet wide which was not considered possible to narrow two feet to save trees but Council energetically acted to narrow up Evans St. two feet although it is already a very narrow street less than thirty feet wide, to save four light poles, which will hereafter remain with us.

No action was taken about placing ornamental lamps on outside of sidewalk extension. Pres. McIntyre laughs at hitching ring idea.

At a meeting of the council held at the council building last Monday night quite a large attendance was present as the State Highway Department had sent word that it would be up to the Council to say whether about twenty trees in the blocks west of Union St. should be cut down or not.

After the usual routine business a petition was read from property owners and others asking that the Council take such steps as necessary to save the trees in question.

Trustee Anderson spoke first on the question and called the attention of the Council to the fact that the entire project of putting in a boulevard was for the purpose of beautifying the city and not because of its utility value as a twenty foot strip of road would do as well from a utility point of view as a boulevard system. He also called attention to the fact that from the very first the plans were made to save these trees and for that purpose the center of the boulevard had been cut from 18 ft. as originally suggested to 14 ft. He also called attention to the fact that Mr. Rogers had said it was the intention of the state department to save the trees which was supported by the fact that the first survey was made to save the trees. However, when it was discovered by property owners on the south side of the street that the survey would take about two feet more off their side than off the north side, a petition was circulated and the Council immediately recommended that the road be put in the exact center of the existing street which would destroy the trees as called for in the said petition.

Trustee Anderson also called attention to the fact that when the proposed boulevard was put before the people, that a member of the council and others promised in a public meeting that no trees would be cut and he thought that faith should be kept with the people and the trees saved.

R. A. Heesen was present and spoke at first in favor of retaining the trees but later said he hoped the trees would be cut down and that he did not believe Mr. Fitzsimmons would care much if they were.

Dr. E. E. Hendershott vigorously opposed doing anything that would save the trees and very strenuously objected to granting the petition. He gave no particular reason for such vigorous opposition other than he didn't want to be bothered any further with petitions and that a landscape gardener recommended it.

He was especially vehement in his opposition and when questioned as to whether the telephone poles which are in line with the trees would be removed also, he remarked very sarcastically that he supposed they would be kept for an ornament. However, the question was politely answered by other members of the council to the effect that they supposed that the poles would have to come out immediately as well as the trees. Dr. North who was present assented to this.

Pres. McIntyre took an early part in the argument and was vigorously opposed to granting the petition on the grounds that the trees were not of much consequence and that it would be better if they were taken out. Pres. McIntyre was asked if the council did not readily agree to setting the pavement on Evans St. over about two feet to save four light poles belonging to the Electric Co. and admitted that it did but grew quite peppery when he thought that any criticism was being suggested because the Council saw fit to narrow up Evans St. which was already very narrow compared to what a street should be to save the said poles. The President maintained his stubborn objection to granting the petition to the last and entirely ignored the argument called to his attention.

Trustee Lidke the newly elected member was also vigorously opposed to granting the petition and seemed very glad that the trees were to be cut out. He made the motion to table the petition and was promptly seconded by Dr. E. E. Hendershott.

No attention seemed to be paid to the fact that the good people had been promised by those who originally spoke for the boulevard system that "no trees would be cut" and it seemed to count for nothing in the minds of the city fathers with the exception of Trustee Anderson who was in favor of keeping faith with the people throughout the entire meeting.

J. R. Nyland spoke in favor of having the trees taken out and presented the argument that the street should not be deflected in order to save them. He also said the original plans called for going straight down the center of the road and he wanted it that way and that unless it was granted (the rest of the sentence was lost in a free for all talk fest). Mr. Nyland is a good speaker and his arguments were about all that was presented by the side favoring having the trees cut.

The south side residents admitted that their sidewalk according to a building line survey was out in the street from seven feet at Union St. to twenty feet at Adrian St. but as long as it was there they thought it right they should not be disturbed and that the north side be further shaved to make room for the boulevard.

Trustee Saterthwaite did not say a word except to inform the

MONDAY CLUB MEETS.

The first meeting of the Monday Club was held in the club rooms which had been beautifully decorated for the occasion, on Monday afternoon.

After a short welcome address by the President, the program was given entirely by out of town guests. Two solos, "The South Wind" and "I Passed By Your Window," by Miss Minota Lancaster of Clinton who has an unusually sweet soprano voice were very much enjoyed.

This was followed by an address by Mrs. F. E. Osgood, President of the Adrian Woman's Club who gave "Echoes of the Biennial Convention." Mrs. Osgood has both a pleasing personality and delivery and touched upon all sides of the great convention bringing to us both the humour and the seriousness of the matters under discussion.

Miss Lancaster again gave two lovely solos, "My Birthday" and "The Morning Wind" accompanied by Miss Kennedy also of Clinton.

At the close of the meeting a committee in charge of Miss Marion Bills served refreshments and a social hour was enjoyed.

The next meeting will be Monday afternoon when an address will be given by a young woman missionary to Chili. The same evening the Hon. Wm. G. Griffith, counsul for Columbia and Gautemala will speak at the High School auditorium. A special invitation is extended to the American Legion and to the Commerce Club to be present.

OLD RESIDENT PASSES ON.

Joseph Tilden, aged 93 years, Tecumseh's oldest pioneer resident, died Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at his home here after a long period of failing health. Mr. Tilden was born in Hanover, Mass., and came to Michigan with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Tilden, when he was five years of age. The family first located in Raisin moving to Tecumseh shortly afterwards.

Mr. Tilden had occupied the house where his death occurred for the last 75 years. The house was used in pioneer stage coach days as a tavern and was operated for many years by Isaac Ketcham.

The deceased leaves two daughters, Mrs. Clarence Conklin of Jasper and Mrs. Alice Bennett of Lansing. The funeral service was held at the home last Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock and was private. The burial was made in Brookside cemetery.

ENJOYED A FINE TIME.

Last Tuesday, Mrs. Milburn Keyser was hostess to Miss Nannie Kyle's Sunday School Class to the number of 41.

It was the annual meeting and election of officers. A bountiful pot-luck dinner was served at noon after which the business meeting was held and the reports for the various committees were read.

New officers were elected as follows: Pres. Mrs H. S. Waring; Vice Pres., Mrs. J. J. Orr; Sec'y., Miss N. E. Whitelock; Assistant Mrs. F. E. Snedicor; Treas., Mrs. J. W. Cupples; Assistant, Mrs. Sanford Cutting; Sec'y Flower Com., Mrs. R. J. W. Bowen.

Mrs. Orr and her committee served the refreshments. The next meeting will be November 7th with Mrs. John Snow.

GIANTS BEAT YANKEES.

In the first game of the world's series the New York Giants beat the Yankees by a score of 3 to 2. It took four umpires, two from each of the leagues to run the game.

The reports are received inning by inning at the Boston Lunch room and many local fans are right on hand to get the latest news. It comes in by radio which is just another illustration of the wonderful progress made in annihilating space.

HIGH SCHOOL LECTURE COURSE.

Get ready for the purchase of that ticket to the High School lecture course for our good seniors will be around and of course you will want to hear this splendid series of entertainments.

This is a very worthy enterprise on the part of the seniors and every loyal Tecumseh booster will turn in and assist them to make a success of the work. Everyone must do his share of the boosting and that means buying tickets if it is to be a success so put on your cheerful countenance and give the worthy young folks a real helping hand.

Community Club Meets Tuesday

Big Banquet At High School At Six-thirty. Good Speaking, Good Music, Good Time. Important Business To Come Up. Everyone Come.

The first meeting of the Community Banquets will be held next Tuesday evening at the high school at six-thirty as usual and a bountiful dinner will be served by the ladies of one of our local organizations.

These meetings are certainly the finest thing that has ever been pulled off in Tecumseh for the purpose of community uplift and a general good time so prepare to come Tuesday night and bring your friends. The price of the dinner will please you.

Very important business is to be taken up and it is of the utmost concern to everyone so that a full attendance is very much desired. We have been torn up with the paving for some time and now we are about ready to reap the benefit of this splendid work, so come along and be ready to boost.

Good speaking is scheduled by a real live wire whose flash of wit and wisdom is proverbial, beside the officers of the club have a most important message to deliver and you will shed briny tears if you are not in on all the good things that are about to come to pass. If you are not there you will surely regret it and you can't blame anyone but yourself. Come early and stay late.

WED AT WILLIS, MICHIGAN.

Willis, Sept. 27—A quiet wedding took place at the Methodist Episcopal Parsonage, when Elizabeth Belle Gordon of Burnips, Michigan and Walter A. Harper of Jackson, Michigan were united in marriage by Rev. W. D. Willett.

After refreshments were served the bridal party left for an overland trip to Niagara Falls, N. Y. On their return they will reside at 918 Backus St., Jackson.

These young people are well known in Tecumseh, the bride having taught in the Public School there last year. She is held in very high esteem by those who know her. The groom has lived in Tecumseh the greater part of his life and is the son of Chas. J. Harper of Mill St. He is now in the garage business in Jackson.

MONDAY CLUB GENTLEMEN'S EVENING.

The Hon. Wm. G. Griffiths, Consul for Columbia and Guatemala will give an address at 8 p. m. in the High School Auditorium, Tecumseh, under the auspices of the Monday Club.

Having been fortunate enough to secure so eminent an authority on South America, the Club wishes to give everybody an opportunity to hear him. The meeting is therefore open to the public, which is cordially invited.

A special invitation is extended to the Commerce Club, the American Legion, and the High School pupils.

The Monday Club program this year has been planned to promote friendship between the two Americas, and the Hon. Wm. G. Griffiths has generously consented to assist the club in this endeavour.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

A party of friends of Miss Marion Jones pleasantly surprised her Friday evening, coming to assist her in celebrating her thirteenth birthday.

A dainty luncheon was served carrying out the pink and white color scheme. Rosebuds, lighted candles, dainty place cards and nut cups added to the attractiveness of the table.

The evening was pleasantly spent with games, music and dancing. A contest to see who could make the best looking clothespin doll caused much laughter, Miss Teresa Deery winning first prize.

Those present were Marion Jones, Florence Jones, Alice Beasley, Teresa Deery, Majil Jones, Josephine Daisher, Merideth Jones, Cora Collins and Rogena Bell.

RALLY DAY PROGRAM.

Rally Day was observed Sunday at the Presbyterian church by appropriate exercises. There was an unusually large attendance present and Superintendent John. T. Boyce conducted the program.

The first number was a song by the school followed by the promotion exercises. Twelve members of the Primary Department were given certificates of promotion to the Junior. Songs and recitations were given by members of the Beginners, Juniors and Cradle Roll departments.

Miss Margaret Kidman gave a very pleasing solo after which the school joined in a closing song.

500 CLUB.

Mrs. Frank Snedicor was hostess to the 500 club Thursday afternoon at her home on North Union St.

The decorations of fall flowers and autumn leaves made the rooms very attractive and the six tables of players spent a very enjoyable afternoon.

Among the guests was Mrs. Snedicor's daughter, Mrs. Fay Youngs of Sylvania.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS GIVE PROGRAM.

Miss Marie Gategar has been in town this week to organize the Camp Fire Girls. Monday evening the new organization put on a stunt program at the High School Auditorium, which was largely attended by the town people.

Act one was a "Human Ford." Each girls represented a part of the machine and Farmer and Mrs. Jones were the proud owners. Much amusement was caused by the many blow outs.

Act two was a "Dentist." Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Hayseed brot their son to have a tooth pulled and he was so unruly the dentist found it necessary to hold him by main force in order to get the ice tongs on the tooth.

The last act was a "Day in Camp." Nothing but blankets were in sight when the curtain arose, but when the revellie blew, all hands were ready for the morning dip. The regular routine camp work followed which showed what good can be accomplished by a summer camp.

The program was very much enjoyed and a neat little sum was realized by the Camp Fire Girls which will aid them materially in their work.

Mrs. G. L. Tansley, Miss Gladys Brainard and Miss Dean will be the guardians of the Camp Fire Girls and the Presidents of the clans are Pearl Starkey, Christine Wilson and Billy Anderson. They will have many a good time in this association and it will doubtless be of much usefulness.

B. Y. P. U. ENTERTAINED.

A jolly crowd of Baptist young people, numbering forty, were entertained at the farm home of David Berry at Ridgeway, Friday evening.

A business session was held at which it was decided to accept the invitation of the Monroe B. Y. P. U. to visit them next Friday evening when they will give a banquet with the Tecumseh B. Y. P. U. furnishing a short program. Mrs. Ted McConnell and Mrs. Mina Lamkin were appointed transportation committee.

The society also decided to have a contest to raise money. Three leaders, David Berry, Helen Sheldon and Gordon Johnson were appointed to draw up rules for the contest and to choose sides.

After the business meeting, games were enjoyed, both indoors and out and a watermelon feed followed, to which everyone did justice.

MRS. MARY FROST PASSES AWAY.

Mrs. Mary Frost died Saturday morning at the home of her son, Charles Frost at Ridgeway. She was seventy years old and had been in failing health for several weeks, having suffered a stroke of paralysis six weeks ago. The funeral was held Monday afternoon at the home, burial being made at Macon.

She leaves three sons, John Frost, Chas. Frost and Ollie Frost and two daughters, Mrs. Downing of Britton and Mr. Andrew Murphy of Clinton.

She was always a kind, loving mother and will be greatly missed by her loved ones and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Mize and son Elwood and H. B. Rosenberry of Toledo were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Montgomery.

ENTERTAINS FOR MRS. W. D. PERKINS.

Mrs. K. A. Braman was hostess to a party of twenty ladies Wednesday afternoon at her home on South Oneida street, honoring Mrs. W. D. Perkins who will soon leave for their new home in Adrian.

The rooms were pretty with bouquets of asters and zenias and dainty bud vases of marigolds, centered each table at which the guests played 500. High and low scores were won by Mrs. Norman Taylor and Mrs. Maynard Mulvaney respectively, who presented the prizes to Mrs. Perkins for souvenirs, she also received a beautiful winter bouquet from the hostess.

The color scheme of pink and white was very cleverly carried out in the two course luncheon which was served after the games.

GUNNERS MAKE GOOD SCORES.

The following scores of the local shooters shows that a steady improvement is beng made and a good time enjoyed by all participants. The first number is the number of targets thrown and the second the number broken: Wm. Damon 55-44; E. T. Armstrong 45-37; W. Hagodorn 20-10; M. B. Mills 45-38; Alderdyce 30-19; D. Wright 50-43; Dr. Allen 75-66; Wheeler 55-37; W. W. Whiting 10-4; L. F. Rosacrans 20-12; Dr. Hammell 25-19; C. Horn 25-16; I. Spitler 25-12; Brown 10-3; Wilson Aldrich 50-43.

E. T. Armstrong and Dr. D. A. Allen of Toledo made two straight runs of ten birds.

Straight runs of ten were made by Damon, Wright and Aldrich.

Come on up and shoot next Friday and see how well you can do just before the rabbit season opens.

HIGH SCHOOL TRIMS DUNDEE

Last Friday afternoon the local high school foot ball team played Dundee at the Park. Owing to the fact that the game had been poorly advertised but a small crowd of mostly students was present to see the game.

Tecumseh made a touchdown in the first quarter and after a ragged contest void of any exciting features, the game ended 7 to 0 in favor of Tecumseh. The line-up for Tecumseh was Collins, Hendershot, McLain, Sager, Marks, Pennington, McClue, Gray, Sisson, Anderson and Duncan.

Tecumseh made a deplorable showing at the annual county field meet last spring when not a single Tecumseh boy won a point while towns the size of Britton run away with honors. Lets hope Tecumseh will get back and do something that will enable them to get the backing of the people as the school is expensively equipped to produce real athletics and the people naturally expect better results.

"SUNBEAM" CLASS ENTERTAINED.

Miss Geraldine Gillespie who is teacher of the "Sunbeam" class of the Presbyterian Church, was hostess to the class Friday evening at her home on West Pottawatamie street.

A pot luck supper was served after which a business meeting was held.

Games and a social time made the rest of the evening an enjoyable one.

A CORRECTION.

In last week's issue we printed an ad for plain sewing or work by the day wanted and it said to enquire of Mrs. Harry Lee. This ad was put in by another party who was staying at Mrs. Lee's and does not refer to Mrs. Lee as some might infer. We are glad to make this correction.

NOT REAL LOVERS OF PEACE

Orientals Class Christians as Hypocrites Because of Many Bloody Wars They Have Waged.

The attitude of the Orient toward Christianity is one of the things that surprises travelers in the Far East who are not familiar with the aversion the people of these countries have for the Western religion. Fred B. Smith, who toured the world as a messenger of the churches to promote international friendship, in telling of their prejudices, said that the average Mohammedan regards Christianity as a religion of war and bloodshed, while the Moslems, who freely advocate the sword, accuse Christians of insincerity in professing a love of peace and waging the bloodiest wars.

"In India," said Mr. Smith, "a distinguished native Christian advised me not to use the word 'Christianity' in my addresses in that country. 'You can preach Christ, but you cannot preach Christianity, as it is regarded here as the name of a Western religion that has failed,' said the oriental.

"I could multiply similar illustrations in China and Japan. Hindus, Mohammedans and Buddhists are filling the Far East with descriptions of Western Christianity as a war-loving, war-promoting organization."

KNOW GEOGRAPHY OF MOON

Sphere Has Been So Mapped and Photographed That Astronomers Are Conversant With It.

So carefully has the visible moon been mapped and photographed that Sir Robert Ball has said, "Astronomers know the surface of the moon better than geographers know the interior of Africa." Every spot on the face of the moon which is as large as an English parish has been mapped, and all the more important objects have been named." This applies to only one-half of the moon's surface. Of the other we know nothing. The moon's surface is richly covered with markings, the largest of which are great dark spaces which may be seen with the naked eye. The shadows thrown by the mountains of the moon are very dense and sharp because the moon has no air. By means of the shadows thrown the height of the peaks on the moon have been measured. Some of the craters are more than 60 miles wide; some have walls 10,000 feet high.

DESCRIBING IT

Little Jack had just seen and heard a goat for the first time. The next day in school when the teacher asked for a composition describing some animal, Jack decided to write about the goat. This is the composition he wrote:

"The goat is a animal about the same size as a big dog. It has a hatrack on his head and a auto horn somewhere inside. He had whiskers like Uncle William and his ears wiggle when he chews, just like my cousin."

TO GET RESULTS

Father flung down his book with a bang and glared round at his offending offspring:

"I have been trying to get the room quiet so that I could hear a pin drop," he roared, "but you make so much noise that it's been impossible to hear it. How do you think I can do it while you children are romping about?"

Tommy put his head from under the sofa and piped: "Tie a dumbbell to it, father."—Los Angeles Times.

Father—Don't you remember that ice cream soda I bought you last week?

WILL AVOID RUSSIA'S ERROR

Japanese Statesmen Have Definite Object in View in Encouraging Education of Women.

Another university for women is to be founded in Japan. It is proposed for this purpose to expand the Jissen Girls' school, the principal of which is Madame Shimoda, a famous educationalist. Viscount Shibusawa, who is devoting his time and labor to the advancement of his country, has been asked to become chairman of the establishment committee.

"There has been felt a great need for such a university," said the director of the Jissen Girls' school. "The fall of Russia as an empire was due in large part to the lack of educational institutions for women. Before the Russian revolution girls of well-to-do families were compelled to complete their education by studying abroad. The result was the growth of alien thought in the upper-class families.

"Japan resembles imperial Russia in the lack of higher schools for girls. If unchecked, the present tendency of Japanese women to seek advanced education in foreign countries will result in the creation of a serious situation."

Japan already has one university for women, the Joshi Daigaku.

NO TRACE OF DELPHIC ORACLE

Place of Prophecy, in Which the Ancients Had Full Faith, Has Been Completely Lost.

The Delphic Oracle was a celebrated oracle of Apollo, at Delphi in Phocis. It was situated in the center of the temple of Apollo, and consisted of a small opening in the ground, from which arose from time to time intoxicating vapors, believed to come from the well of Casotis. A three-legged stool, or tripod, was placed over the opening, and upon this the pythia or priestess took her seat when the oracle was to be consulted. The words uttered were supposed to be the revelations of Apollo, and were carefully received by the priests. They were afterward communicated in hexameter verse to those that had come to consult the oracle. If the priestess spoke in prose, her words were immediately turned into poetry by a poet employed for the purpose.

It is said that the oracle was discovered through the actions of some goats that were thrown into convulsions on breathing this vapor. No traces of the chasm nor the exhalations are to be found anywhere at present.

SEEK GOLD IN SIBERIA

When the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Asia sailed from Vancouver for the Orient she carried among her passengers a band of hardy adventurers, who plan to seek gold in Siberia. Four in number, they returned last spring from Alaska, each man with a considerable stake. While on a motor tour of California they heard of friends who had done well at mining in Siberia, and decided to try it also. They plan to start placer mining on a small scale and later to go into it thoroughly if their preliminary efforts are successful. The party is well equipped to spend the winter season in Siberia, if it should prove necessary.

SCOTTISH COVENANT

The Scotch covenant denoted association of bands of Scotch people who undertook to support each other in times of danger or to maintain some principle. As lately as 1912 a covenant was drawn up. This one was a protest of the Scotch Presbyterians of Ulster against the Irish home rule bill introduced by the liberal government under Mr. Asquith.

"How is Mr. Jagsby?"

"In what particular?" asked Mr. Bibbles.

"Would you call him a Good Samaritan?"

"No, I don't believe he'd produce his pocket flask if you showed him the snake that bit you."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

NOT TO BE TOLERATED

"What would you do with a campaign assistant who was caught using money?"

"I should dismiss him immediately," replied Senator Sorghum. "A man who gets caught using money is not only reprehensible, but careless."

DAIRY HINTS

SECRETS OF DAIRY SUCCESS

Two Big Things Are Proper Care and Feed, Says Specialist of Oklahoma College.

"Two great secrets in dairying which have been the reason for the success of thousands of dairymen are proper feeding and proper care of cows," says A. C. Baer, head of the Dairy Husbandry department of Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical college.

"Thousands of cows would be profitable and good cows if they were given a chance; if they were properly fed, housed, and cared for.

"Good feeding means to give cows enough feed to produce milk and the right kind of feed to produce milk. Most of the feed for cows ought to be grown on Oklahoma farms. Alfalfa hay is the best dairy cow feed which can be grown. Corn and sorghums, such as kafir and darso, can be grown for the silo. Ensilage on a dairy farm or any farm where dairy cows are kept provides succulent feed and is indispensable.

"Most of the grain for cow feeding can be grown on the average Oklahoma farm. A good grain mixture for milk cows is as follows: 4 parts ground oats, 3 parts bran or alfalfa meal, 3 parts ground kafir, 1 part cottonseed meal.

"A dairy cow needs about one pound of grain for three or four pounds of milk produced. Dairy cows should be fed grain individually according to the amount of milk for growth if immature, and at times to produce gain in weight.

"Dairy cattle will respond to good care. Every Oklahoma farm where cows are kept should have at least a good shed to protect the cows from bad weather and cold winds. A blanket in very cold weather will pay for itself in a very short time. Every dairy cow should be cleaned and brushed regularly. It helps to keep her in better health."

DAIRY COWS RETURN PROFIT

High-Producing Animals Are Usually Most Economical in Matter of Food Consumed.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

High-producing dairy cows are nearly always economical producers, says the United States Department of Agriculture in replying to an inquirer who asked for a comparison of purebred and grade cows as to economy of production. If a herd of purebred cows has greater ability to produce milk and butter fat than a herd of grades, it will return more milk and butter fat for the feed consumed. As a rule purebreds are bred for high production, and just to the extent that they are higher producers than the grades they may be expected to return more for the feed they use. But purebreds are not always high producers.

Scrub Cows Are Not Worth Their Keep.

The ratio is not constant between the quantity of feed consumed and the quantity of milk produced. The records of cow-testing associations show that the cows that produced 10,000 pounds of milk a year ate only 55 per cent more feed than those that produced 5,000 pounds of milk a year. The cows that made 7,500 pounds of milk a year ate only 21 per cent more than those that made 5,000 pounds of milk a year. These figures are based on thousands of records.

GRAIN BOOSTED MILK FLOW

Large Increase Obtained by Minnesota Community by Feeding While on Pasture.

Twenty-one dairy herds in the Blue Earth County Cow Testing association averaged 7,120 pounds of milk and 285 pounds of butterfat per cow in 1920. Nineteen herds in the same association averaged 8,500 pounds of milk and 345 pounds of butterfat per cow in 1921. The percentage of gain in milk in 1921 over 1920 was 19.3; in butterfat, 21. The tester in charge in his annual report to University farm says:

"I attribute this gain to better care and feeding. The cows were fed a grain ration the year round, thus keeping up the production during the late summer months when it usually drops because of short pastures."

Value of Boarder Cow.

Saving $55 or $60 worth of feed for a boarder cow added to what she'll bring as dressed meat means maybe a hundred dollars in the pocket, which isn't a bad price for a cow that's no good anyhow.

Get Cow Into Shape.

In order to get the cow into the best physical shape for the calving time, it is advisable to feed her some linseed oil, a quart of the raw product per dose, as this will clean out her digestive tract.

THE WEBSTER ANDERSON CO.

COUNCIL ORDERS TWENTY TREES CUT DOWN.

council that the matter was left to them by the highway department and that he thought that an action should be taken. He also said that he was in favor of having the trees cut and so voted when the motion to table the resolution was made.

Trustee Pulver did not take part in the discussion but at the conclusion favored having the trees cut and so voted on the resolution.

The people can easily judge for themselves as to how much faith to put in pre-election promises hereafter if the present Council is to carry them out.

The council was also asked why the paving was being put down only seven inches thick on the Main St. instead of eight inches as it is in the rest of the road. President McIntyre seemed surprised to know that is was only seven inches thick and asked Trustee Satterthwaite why it was if it was. The reply was that it did not need to be so thick where the travel was spread out as on the Main St. and that was the reason why it was only seven inches thick. He did not mention Evans St.

Attorney Bert Alexander of Adrian was presnt and held whispered consultations with J. R. Nyland but he did not make any public remarks evidently feeling that the case was going their way and like the brilliant attorney that he is, he just let it go.

Mr. Nyland also offered the use of a lot back of the fire station for a free hitching place for teams and it was very readily accepted. The lot is owned by R. K. Anderson, J. R. Nyland, C. A. Wright Est. and one other party. The offer was made of course conditional that the other parties were agreeable to it, which it seemed they were.

E. T. Armstrong spoke in favor of keeping the trees and was listened to closely but his arguments seemed o make no impression on the members of the council at least as far as saving the trees was concerned.

Quite a bunch of listeners was present and occasionally interjected a question or answered one and it was an interesting meeting.

By the time this is in print the trees to the number of about twenty will probably be ruthlessly destroyed. It took old mother nature fifty years to grow them and their beauty has been a source of much pride to thousands who have passed beneath their sheltering boughs. The residents who put the vote over the top were solemnly promised the trees would be preserved for all time, but alas like many another promise which gets what it wants for the immediate time, it was ironically thrown aside by the four Trustees of the village who sealed their doom last Monday night without a word of apology.

TREES.

I think that I shall never see
A poem lovely as a tree.

A tree whose hungry mouth is pressed
Against the earth's sweet flowing breast;

A tree that looks at God all day
And lifts her leafy arms to pray:

A tree that may in summer wear
A nest of robins in her hair;

Upon whose bosom snow has lain;
Who intimately lives with rain.

Poems are made by folks like me,
But only God can make a tree.

Joyce Kilmer.

We still have faith in men and trust that other trees will rear their heads to replace those which were cut down asd we believe that this community will have the greatest respect for the courage of Trustee Anderson who alone stood out for keeping faith with the people and so voted at the very end. It takes courage to stand out alone against one's fellow members and Trustee Anderson advanced logical and unanswerable argument for keeping these trees, but they fell on deaf ears and it was easy to see from the very first that Pres. McIntyre was bitterly opposed to it and that he doubtless knew he would be supported by Trustee Pulver a fellow director in the same bank who went over the ground early in the evening and doubtless made known their ideas on the matter to each other. Pres. McIntyre also laughed at the hitching ring idea and Hendershot moved to lay it on the table.

According to the present state of affairs, it seems that the new boulevard will be sunk nearly three feet below the present street level at Union St. and that this will according to the Engineer in charge necessitate the removal of 3300 yards of gravel and when through we will have a sunken boulevard at this point which in the opinion of many residents will defeat the very purpose for which the boulevard was put in, viz: to beautify the town.

It will cost over two thousand dollars to take out this dirt and leave the sidewalks and cross street nearly three feet above the boulevard, a condition being severely criticised by many residents in this and other parts of the city. The council pleads the usual lack of authority to correct it.

We have attempted to give a good account of the meeting as it was of much interest to everyone as well as to those present and for the further reason that the only way the people have of getting this information is through the paper and they not only have a right to know the attitude of their representatives on all questions but it is the duty of the paper to give it to them. That is what they take the paper for. Thus far we have been possibly a bit negligent in not giving a more extended account of the work and official record of the village fathers and we will try to do better in the future.

ALMOST WIPED OUT CAPITAL

Great Fire of London in 1666 Was the Greatest Conflagration Known to History.

The greatest fire in history was the fire of London, which began in the early morning of September 2, 1666, and continued until it had destroyed 13,200 dwellings and had left more than 100,000 persons homeless.

It originated, apparently, in the house of a baker named Farynor, whose house and shop stood in Pudding lane, not far from Thames street. Farynor was a person of some distinction, since he served the king.

On this historic Sunday morning, when it was the custom of tradesmen to sleep late, Farynor was awakened at about two o'clock to find his room and, in fact, the whole house, filled with smoke. The brushwood in the yard outside had not yet ignited, but fire was making rapid work of the house, and the baker, with his wife, daughter and a man servant, escaped through a garret window. A maid servant was unable to escape and became the first victim of the fire.

Jenny—Well, do you think they'd be able to take my dollies along, too?

CAMPAIGN HINT

Why do not candidates for high public office hire wholesale florists as their campaign managers? The trouble with most political booms is that they reach their peak too soon and peter out sadly by primary or convention day. A florist in control would prevent that. Used to forcing Easter lilies so that they will bloom at Easter, or holding them back so that they will not bloom before, raising "a favorite son" under glass so that he blossomed at just the right moment in the year would be a cinch for him. Congressmen up for reelection this fall will do well to give this their attention.—Arthur Folwell, in Judge.

BIBLICAL SITES

Forty historical sites, of which 17 were previously unrecorded, have now been examined in the valley of the Jordan, near Beisan. Some of them have given evidence of great antiquity. The site of the Biblical Ibleam (Bileam), on the Canaanitish frontier, has also been determined, and the Roman cities at Amman Jerash, and Umm Keis, east of the Jordan, have been inspected. These cities are believed to be among the finest monuments of antiquity in either area with which Samaria alone is comparable. Jerash (ancient Gerasa) is unique in respect of both the extent and the beauty of its classical remains.

CARRIED OFF POST OFFICE

An enterprising thief stole the entire post office of the little village of Slapton, Bucks, England, the other night. This sounds a rather "tall order," but the explanation is quite simple. All the stamps, books of postal and pension orders, and other documents are kept in a desk affixed to the counter of the general store. The thief, who entered by a window, carried it bodily into an adjoining orchard, where he forced the lid. His haul, however, did not amount to more than a few stamps and some blank orders, which, without the post-office stamp, which was left behind, cannot be dealt with.

DODGE BROTHERS
BUSINESS COUPE

With this coupe Dodge Brothers have proved once for all that a closed car can be as sturdy and practically as inexpensive as an open roadster.

This is largely due to the all-steel body—the first ever marketed—which admits of lower cost of manufacture through standardized machine production. Unlike wood, the steel surface will take a finish of enamel, baked on at high temperature. This process results in a permanent lustre, and eliminates the trouble and expense of repainting.

The wide straight seat is upholstered in genuine Spanish blue leather, durable and readily cleaned.

ALL RIGHT BUT WHAT'S WRONG.

Last Sunday's Times carried an account of the alleged hardships the village is going through with the paving and one might think we were actually suffering to read the Times account in keeping with the stuff Willie Hearst usually prints in his sheets.

One statement was that the people had secured an injunction against the Construction Company to speed up the work. No such action has ever been taken and everyone knows who knows anything about it, that the work has been delayed by causes that were entirely beyond the Contractor's power to overcome.

The fault, if there is any, is too much state bossing with a lot of young fellows who have so much to learn about paving that no ordinary book would hold it. Its typical of a job bossed to death and bound around with red tape that holds up the work when it should be going forward. The Contractor is doing his best and no one of god judgment doubts that.

Whether the work is being done right or not is another question but that was not mentioned in the Times article.

FARM SHORT COURSES AT M. A. C.

That special winter short courses in agricultural will be in greater demand than ever before at the Michigan Agricultural College this year, because of the fact that financial conditions have made it possible for many of the young men of the state to start regular four-year college courses, is the opinion of Dean R. S. Shaw, of the M. A. C. agricultural division.

The short courses, which run for periods not exceeding sixteen weeks for each of 2 winters, combine a thorough practical education in different phases of agriculture with the advantages of minimum expense and short time of residence study.

The special courses are designed especially for men who are unable to take the four-year courses, and are said, to provide an unusually fortunate educational opportunity for those who are held back from regular college work by present industrial conditions. They are open to all men and women of the state over sixteen years of age, whether or not they have completed high school training. At least a grammar school education is considered advisable, however, in order that the training may be most effective.

The sixteen weeks course in general agriculture opens Oct. 30 this year. Another course in general agriculture, covering a two year period also, but running for only eight weeks each year, will open on January 1. Other special courses include a twelve week's course in Dairy Production and a similar course in Dairy Manufactures, each starting January 1; three eight weeks courses in Horticulture, Poultry, and Farm Engineering, respectively, opening January 1; a two weeks Market Milk course opening Feb. 26; a two weeks Ice Cream Making course, March 11; and four one month courses in Truck and Tractor work, the first of which starts on Nov. 27 this year. Information regarding the courses may be had by writing E. B. Hill, director M. A. C. Winter Courses in Agriculture, East Lansing, Mich.

SENIORS ENTERTAINED.

Miss Alice Hellman was hostess to thirty members of the Senior Class at her home on South Pearl street.

A bountiful pot-luck supper was served at 6:00 and the happy crowd soon cleared the tables. The remainder of the evening was spent with games and a social time. Everyone reports their hostess a fine entertainer.

The crowd was chaperoned by Miss Gribbin and Mr. McNeil.

SURPRISE IN HONOR OF ANNIVERSARY.

When Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Field arrived home Friday evening they found a party of forty neighbors, relatives and friends ready to help them celebrate their twentieth wedding anniversary.

A bountiful pot-luck supper was prepared and the merry crowd had a very pleasant time at the tables. The honored couple were presented with a beautiful set of dishes as a remembrance of the happy occasion.

CANNED FRUIT WANTED.

The local chapter of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Amercan Legion is making plans for soliciting canned fruit, jellies, jams and pickles for the invalid soldiers at Roosevelt Hospital at Battle Creek.

With the canning season about closed it is hoped by the members of the Auxiliary that the housewives of Tecumseh will be willing to gve one can of their supply for that purpose. It will be collected by the members of the Auxiliary some time in the next three weeks and sent to the hospital where it will be gratefully received by the patients, who have to depend in a great measure upon the generosity of the people of the state for such delicacies.

HAS INTERESTING PAPER.

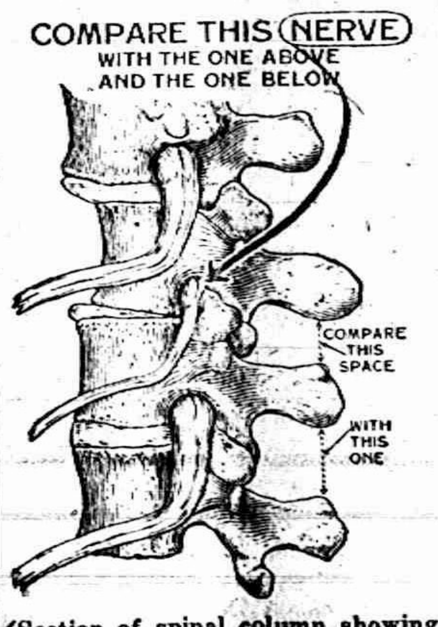
John J. Orr brought to the Herald office a very interesting paper called the Students Gazette and it was published by the students of the high school way back in 1851.

The paper was put out by the Herald and was a small four page affair filled with interesting information that shows the young folks at that time were also very enterprizing and full of "pep."

Though yellow with age there was nothing yellow about the makeup or the information it contained. It was a newsy sheet for its time and as it was all hand set it must have taken considerable hard work to get it out.

HEALTH

Nature's Way CHIROPRACTIC



(Section of spinal column showing pinched nerve the cause of disease.)

Did you ever stop to consider the cost of doing without HEALTH?

We all admit the necessity of good health, but how many of us give the matter sufficient thought to realize the cost of poor health? ..Frankly, we should be just as much concerned about keeping our bodies in perfect running order as we are about looking to the welfare of our automobiles. If we neglect them, they soon become big troubles, and then we begin to pay. Most of us have our cars looked over occasionally to prevent that very thing.

How many of us show the same consideration for our bodies? Do we care for the little troubles as they arise, or do we wait until they become serious? Strange, isn't it, that we seldom count the cost of neglected HEALTH?

We must absolutely get away from the idea that we cannot afford to care for our health. Let us rather be convinced that the cost of ill health is far more expensive than going to the Chiropractor to get well and keep well. The one incomparable gift you possess is your health. You cannot afford to do without it. Let us explain more fully why Chiropractic is the better way to health. Consultation is free.

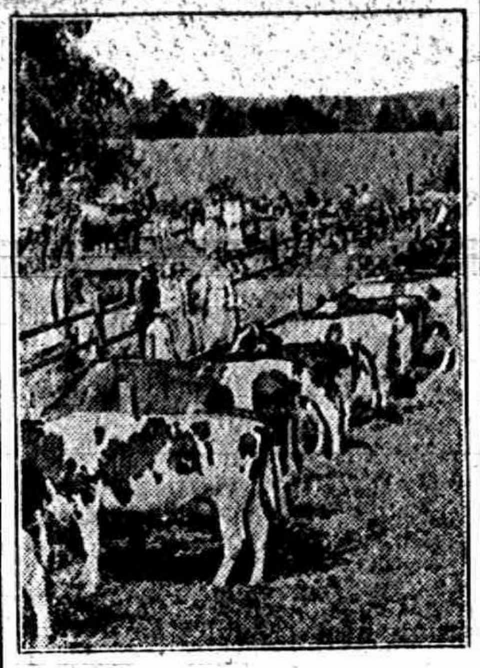
DAIRY POINTS

GIVE PUREBREDS MORE CARE

Dairyman Often Takes More Interest in High Class Stock Because of Possibilities.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

There is no good reason why it should cost more to care for a good herd of purebred dairy cows than it costs to care for the same number of good grades, although farmers sometimes believe that the purebreds are more expensive to keep. However, says the United States Department of Agriculture, the dairyman often does spend more on purebreds because he sees greater possibilities in them, and consequently takes more interest in them, feeding them better and building better barns to house them. He does not need to do this, but usually he finds that it pays him in gross returns and in net returns.



Purebred and Tuberculin-Tested Dairy Cows.

The results would have been the same, though possibly not in the same degree, if better care and feed had been given to a good grade herd. But it sometimes takes the stimulation supplied by the ownership of a few purebreds to induce a man to improve his practices.

TREATING STERILITY IN COW

Most Cases Become Chronic or Permanent Unless Properly Handled by Veterinarian.

In many herds where abortion disease is present, from five to ten per cent of the cows become sterile or barren, and most cases become chronic or permanent unless they are treated by a qualified veterinarian. Dr. W. L. Williams of the New York State Veterinary college is to be given credit for the plan of procedure in handling these cows. The treatment should not be neglected too long after the cows manifest this symptom.

A thorough examination of the patient is necessary to locate the trouble either in the uterus, ovaries or fallopian tubes, and treated accordingly. It is not uncommon for a skilled operator to restore five out of six cases to a reproductive state under favorable conditions.

Cases of long standing should be sold to the butcher, as the treatment fails to help them. A case of more than eight months' to one year's standing is very discouraging to the operator, for he realizes that functional changes have taken place in the reproductive organs that will be difficult to correct by treatment. Therefore do not delay having an animal examined and treated in the beginning of the trouble instead of waiting until it is too late. The annual loss caused by sterility would be surprisingly high if survey could be made and accurate data obtained from the cattle breeders.

RATION MUST BE ATTRACTIVE

Dairy Cow to Do Well Requires Feed Containing Proper Elements for Milk Flow.

Cows won't do well on food that isn't palatable, say the feeding men at the New York College of Agriculture at Ithaca. Not only must the dairy cow's ration contain the proper elements if she is to be "worth her keep," but it must be so attractive to her that she will eat plenty and keep up a good flow of milk.

On the other hand, say the dairymen, it isn't wise to change a ration suddenly even to make it better. A cow is a delicate milk-producing machine, and sudden changes in her food are quite likely to upset some part of the machinery, with a resulting loss of milk.

The condition of the food probably has most to do with its palatability; moldy grains or roughage don't appeal to any self-respecting cow.

COWS ON PASTURE TOO SOON

Many Owners Expect Animals to Thrive on Thin Grass—Grain Must Be Supplied.

Owners of cows usually put them out on pasture too soon, expecting the cows to get all feed necessary from scant early pastures. Until the pastures have made a good growth, cows will need about a pound of grain for every six pounds of milk as well as some dry hay.

Mary Pickford To Arouse New Interest in Films.

Will Produce Plays that Will Avoid the Conventional Forms of Photodramas

The announcement that Mary Pickford will be seen at the Bradley Theatre, Sunday and Monday, October 8th and 9th, in "The Love Light," a gripping emotional drama, is one that is bound to prove of great interest to her thousands of admirers, since the "World's Sweetheart" announced her policy of avoiding the conventional and hackneyed forms of photoplay, and try not only to advance herself but the mtion picture industry as well, her productions have aroused new and unusual interest among the fans.

Chares Rosher whose splendid photography will be remembered in all Miss Pickford's recent productions, is said in this picture, to have devised new lighting and photographic effects.

Stephen Gooson is responsible for the settings, many of which were reproduced from actual photographs taken by Miss Pickford and Miss Marion in Italy.

WEIGHING MILK FOR MARKET

Less Trouble Between Producers and Dealers If Records Are Kept at Both Ends of Line.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Producers who ship milk to city distributors have voiced frequent complaints because of the disparity between their figures on the quantity of milk shipped and those of the dealers on the quantity received. In order to locate the cause of complaint by studying the actual loss between the country shipping point and the city plant the United States Department of Agriculture made an investigation on the Baltimore market. Records kept on more than 1,100 cans showed that the loss between the country station and the city plant was less than 1 per cent. The loss on trains, probably due to spilling, was only 0.19 per cent; and from the city railroad platform to the plant it was 0.55 per cent.

However, it was found that when the milk was weighed in the city plant there was a shortage of 2.56 per cent on the amount shipped according to can measure in the country. Of this shortage, 0.74 per cent was due to actual losses, while 1.82 per cent was the difference between can measure and weight. This is easily accounted for by the fact that cans become dented and battered, which decreases their holding capacity.

What Part of Your Milk Check Represents Profit.

In a former investigation by the department an even greater discrepancy was found between can measure and weight, the difference being over 3 per cent. It would seem that there would be less trouble between producers and dealers if the milk were weighed at both ends of the line.

PROVIDE PLENTY OF WATER

Cows Must Have Abundant Supply in Summer and Winter for Profitable Milk Production.

Successful dairy farmers find that it pays to provide plenty of good, clean, cool water for milk cows. Eighty-seven per cent of milk is water, as is nearly three-fourths of a cow's body. Experimental data show that the amount of water required by cows is in direct proportion to the amount of milk produced. In the summer, the average cow will require nearly three pounds of water for every pound of milk she produces. In one experiment a cow giving 27 pounds of milk drank 77 pounds of water daily. The same cow drank less than half as much when giving no milk. In all cases, it is decidedly good practice to provide an abundance of clean, fresh water, cool in the summer and warm in the winter.

KEEP MILK AND CREAM COOL

Product Will Soon Sour on Warm Spring Days Unless Promptly Placed in Tank.

As warm weather approaches, better care must be taken of the milk and cream. The can of cream must be put into a cooling tank into as cold water as possible to keep the cream cold. Unless milk and cream is cooled promptly and well it will sour during the warm spring days.

PLANT CROPS FOR COW FEED

Animals Will Not Prove Profitable Unless Properly Fed—Ensilage and Alfalfa Urged.

Dairy cows are not profitable unless fed properly. Ensilage and alfalfa hay are the best cow feeds. The canes, kaffirs, darso, feterita and corn are good row crops for the silo. If alfalfa cannot be grown, cow peas, soy beans or peanuts are leguminous crops to plant for dairy cow feeds.

Dirty Milk Dangerous.

Dirty milk is much more dangerous than dirty water, because disease germs that would starve in water multiply rapidly in milk.

Quality Counts Most.

It is not half as important how many cows you keep as what kind and how.

Feeding for Milk.

Good feeding is necessary for milk production. The Scotch say "It is by the head that the cow gives milk."

HOMER'S HEROES FAIR-HAIRED

Greeks of His Time Apparently Emerging From the Bronze Into the Iron Age.

Homer, the great Greek poet, is thought to have lived about 1000 B. C. The Iliad and Odyssey are the first authentic historical records we have of this gifted people. That the poems are essentially historical has been abundantly proved by the excavations of Schliemann. This enthusiastic Homeric student not only uncovered the Troy of Homer's time; he found the tomb of Agamemnon, and what is believed to be the latter's drinking cup.

The Homeric poems reveal a people just emerging from the Bronze age into the Iron age. Cremation of the dead, a practically universal custom of the Bronze age, is still practiced but beside it is the mausoleum fashion of burial of the Iron age, a custom that is largely followed to this day.

The people Homer mentions are invariably fair. Ulysses himself is described as having wavy yellow hair and of a short stature. Such paintings from these periods as have come down to us depict a people among whom red hair was common, if not the rule.—Exchange.

NEW BIRD SANCTUARY

A bird sanctuary, extending from the head of the lake northward to Winnipeg beach, and a mile westward from the water, will be established if the efforts of the residents in the summer resorts along Lake Winnipeg succeed. Lake Winnipeg South is one of the journey ends of tens of thousands of the smaller birds. It is also noted as a partridge-breeding ground. The question will be taken up with the municipal authorities and the Department of Agriculture. It is hoped the sanctuary will be established in time to protect birds from the ravages of October shooters.

ARTIFICIAL SILK WASTE

A new use for artificial silk waste, previously employed to some extent for mixing with wool to impart finish, has been found by Herr W. Rexroth, a well-known fiber and dyestuffs expert of Fuerstenberg, Mecklenburg, Germany. The new Rexroth process involves the breaking up of the waste, chemically treating it to resist water, spinning it on the worsted system and then weaving it into cloth. The process is said to have brought forth a fabric which can be washed and boiled with soap without harm.

ANOTHER TECUMSEH CASE

It Proves That There's A Way Out for Many Suffering Tecumseh Folks.

Just another report of a case in Tecumseh. Another typical case. Kidney ailments relieved in Tecumseh with Doan's Kidney Pills. Hiram Cahill, locomotive engineer, 409 Evans St., Tecumseh, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills certainly do just as represented and I can recommend them highly. Three years ago I was laid up for eleven weeks in a terrible bad shape with kidney trouble. My back nearly had me wild with pain; every time I moved, sharp pains would catch me right across the kidneys. I had no control over the kidney secretions and many nights was obliged to get up as many as six times to pass the kidney secretions. They were highly colored and otherwise unnatural. I doctored, but got no relief until I bought three boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills from Wright & Son's Drug Store. This remedy reached my case at once and these three boxes cured me."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Cahill had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

DAIRY FACTS

FEEDING COWS ON ROUGHAGE

Interesting Test Made With Mature Holstein Cow on Government Farm in Montana.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

What will a dairy cow do in the way of milk and butterfat production when fed on roughage exclusively? Perhaps the consensus of opinion is that she will not do very well, but the United States Department of Agriculture has some figures that show what a few cows did that were fed on alfalfa hay and corn silage, without grain.

A mature Holstein cow was pastured on irrigated, tame grass at the department farm at Huntley, Mont. During the winter months she received nothing but corn silage and alfalfa hay. She was under test and was milked three times a day. For 140.5 days and 98 nights she was on pasture. During the rest of the year she consumed 9,014 pounds of alfalfa hay and 8,985 pounds of corn silage, a rather large amount of bulky feed. While this ration was fed the cow maintained her weight at practically what it was at the beginning of the test, and produced 14,210.1 pounds of milk and 470.24 pounds of butterfat.

For the 12 months following the next freshening this same cow was milked three times a day and given, in addition to roughage, all the grain she would eat. The surprising fact is that she ate 7,056 pounds of grain and practically the same amount of roughage as before. The actual quantities of roughage were 10,093 pounds of alfalfa hay, 8,325 pounds of silage and 4,230 pounds of beets. She was on pasture 130 days and no nights. The milk production for the year was 25,499.4 pounds, and butterfat 823.11 pounds, and the gain in weight 200 pounds.

But notice the difference in the nutrients required to produce the product the first year and the second year, when 75 per cent more butterfat was produced. The first year, over and above maintenance and in addition to pasture, the cow consumed for each 100 pounds of butterfat 156.37 pounds of digestible protein and 558.69 pounds of total digestible nutrients, and for each 1,000 pounds of milk yielded she used 51.7 pounds of digestible protein and 184.8 pounds of total digestible nutrients.

The second year, when she received all the grain she would eat, she received above maintenance and in addition to pasture, in the production of 100 pounds of butterfat, 218.7 pounds of digestible protein and 1074.4 pounds of total digestible nutrients; and in the production of 1,000 pounds of milk she used 70.43 pounds of digestible protein and 345.9 pounds of total digestible nutrients.

A Record-Breaking Holstein Cow.

From a nutrition standpoint the cow made a more economical use of the roughage ration than of the roughage plus heavy grain ration. No attempt was made to compare the relative economy of the two systems of feeding on a dollars-and-cents basis, as the relation between prices of roughage, grain, milk, and butterfat, which vary by localities and seasons, would be a large factor in determining this question.

There are now several cows on this farm that have records made on roughage alone. One made 477 pounds of butterfat in 350 days, and promises to have a record of 490 pounds at the end of her year, which will be within 45 pounds of the record made the year before when grain was fed. Another cow in the herd made 345 pounds of butterfat in 245 days without grain, and still another 195 pounds in 120 days. It is now planned to try some of them on moderate grain rations to make comparisons of the amounts of nutrients required to make butterfat and milk under all conditions.

Later and more complete figures on additional cows will show the effect on production of three plans of nutrition—no grain ration, light grain ration, and heavy grain ration. The relative prices of milk, butterfat, and feed will then determine the method of feeding most profitable for a given section.

Benefits of Limestone.

Place a shallow box of ground limestone where the cows will have to walk through it when entering the barn. This will clean their feet, keep them from slipping, and add to the value of the manure.

Increasing Milk Production.

In working for an increased milk production the cow has to be taken into consideration as well as the feed. Some cows are not capable of good production no matter how well they are fed.

There is a great deal of talk about getting back to normal conditions these days. We have had our fling at inflation and easy money —and its all over. How to get back?

In our judgment there is only one way. We must SAVE. We must spend LESS than we EARN. Industry and Economy point the way and the sooner we face the issue squarely the sooner our feet will be on solid ground.

PUBLIC HEALTH NOTICE.

About sixteen days ago, a child who was attending the West Branch school, was taken ill. His disease was diagnosed as Diptheria by the Michigan Department of Health laboratory. A few days later, within 48 hours, four children who were pupils in this same school room, developed diptheria. The Health officer immediately administered diptheria antitoxin to those attending the West Branch school, and all those who desired it. This was done at the command of the Commissioner of the Michigan Department of Health, who considered the situation here of enough importance, so that he sent a member of the state police here by fast automobile with a large supply of antitoxin, arriving five hours after receiving the request for the same.

Since administration of the antitoxin, there have been on new cases in this village or township, which shows the importance of early treatment. There has been one death in Raisin Township, due to the fact that Antitoxin was not given early in the disease.

There has been considerable criticism of the undersigned for administering Antitoxin to all the school children as mentioned above. This work was done at the direction of the State Department of Health, as mentioned above.

Prompt action has, in this case, averted an epidemic of this dread disease.

All those who have had antitoxin should advise their physician if it should ever be necessary to take it again, so that proper caution be exercised.

Dr. H. H. Hammel,
Health Officer of Tecumseh Village and Township.

Streets Opened, Pavement Cleared

Unlimited Joy Was Started Up and Down Chicago Street Tuesday When Scraper Cleaned Off Dirt On Pavement. Street Opened To Traffic. Rain Assists Work.

The smile of complete satisfaction was seen creeping over the faces of the business men last Tuesday when in the midst of a pouring rain the street scraper was started to work cleaning off the dirt on the new pavement.

We have cetainly waited patiently, and toiled hard against many obstacles but we are now to reap the reward for a new shining pavement is showing through and everything is in readiness for the thousands who visit our city weekly to drive right down to the store fronts once more and load up on the big bargains th[illegible]ays await the buyer in Tecumseh.

"Ain't we got fun" seemed to be the expression on everyone's face as the dirt ran toward the gutter and the new pavement showed in its place. Well, come on you good folks just drive in and inspect us and see if we are not all dolled up and whats more its here to stay for all time.

CONSUL APPEARS.

About three hundred people gathered at the high school last Monday night to hear the Consul from Guatemala deliver an address.

Dr. Pauline Bredow made the opening remarks and paid a glowing tribute to Mrs. Jennie C. Law Hardy for securing the services of the Consul after which Mrs. Hardy introduced Consul Griffith in a very brilliant manner fitting to the high station he occupies.

After the several introductions, Consul Griffith made the address of the evening which was greatly enjoyed by the large crowd present.

A piano duet played by Mesdames Wood and Hodges was highly pleasing to everyone for these good ladies certainly are genuine musical artists and the good people were thoroughly entertained by their presentation.

Mrs. Grace Moore also sang a Spanish song which was beautifully rendered with great expression.

Miss Frances Dakin who spoke at the afternoon club meeting was called upon for a short talk and most graciously complied.

MONDAY CLUB.

The second meeting of the Monday Club was held in the club rooms which were decorated with large baskets of asters, on Monday afternoon.

A short business session was held at which the following were elected to membership: Mesdames John Schreder, W. S. Dickinson, Ted McConnell, Bertha Hoag, Edward Harper, Andrew Wilson, H. H. Hammel, James Artman, Floyd Williamson, Albert Van Doren, Lloyd Sager and Miss Ruby Reckner.

Singing was enjoyed by the club with Mrs. Billings as leader, and Miss Edna Taylor at the piano.

This was followed by a very interesting talk by Miss Frances Daykin of Pittsford, Mich. who has spent the past five years in South America teaching school, most of the time in Chili.

She spoke of the beauty of the homes [illegible] rich and of the customs in the home. We are apt to look down on the people of this country but we should look at a level or a little above. The poor live in mere hovels and have much sadness in their lives.

Miss Daykin told of marketing, of the carrying out of the law, the street cars, fire departments, churches and many other interesting things.

Harold Lowry accompanied by Miss Edna Taylor sang a very pleasing solo and responded to an enchore.

ROBBERS GET $400 HAUL.

Last Thursday night robbers broke into the R. S. Moore Lumber : Coal office and took away material and cash amounting to about $400.

Three strange men were seen about the office early in the night and the next morning when workmen went to the office, they discovered it had been broken into and a Burroughs Adding Machine, an L. C. Smith typewriter and an Egry Sales Slip writer together with a check protector had been taken.

They also went through an old safe and extracted $14 therefrom beside pounding up a new safe which withstood their efforts to open it. Although badly pounded with a heavy wrench, the safe continues to work and is in daily use.

Evidently robbers find it easy to do these jobs and get away as no clue has yet been found which can locate them. Finger prints were taken by photograph and a close examination made of the work. The robbers evidently came by auto and went the same way so that tracing them after an all night start is very difficult.

Contractor Says Cement Is Coming

Enough In Sight To Lay A Mile Of Road. Bad Weather May Hold Up Work For Some Time, But All Is Ready To Go Ahead As Soon As Favorable Weather Starts.

Mr. Freisinger of the Rockford Construction Co. was in the city last Tuesday and said he had enough cement in sight to lay a mile of road if the weather was favorable.

If anyone has any influence with the weather man just please use it right now to get another run of that fine weather we have had up until this week and the new concrete road will soon be over the hill east of the river.

The work is being pushed as fast as possible on the boulevard section east of Ottawa St. and if the weather will permit it will soon be in on the north side to the top of of the Hayden Mill hill.

It does not seem to be a question now so much of cement as of the weather and its only too bad that we could not get the cement when we had the weather but perhaps we will have both soon.

The curb and gutter is all in place on the south side of Chicago St. west to Van Buren and will soon be clear through to Adrian St. Just what plans will be made to replace the walks torn out along the cross streets is not announced but this will be taken care of properly as soon as the cement work on the curb is finished.

It's a damn lie.

The Junior Class gave a reception Thursday evening for the high school teachers. A chicken-pie supper was served at seven o'clock in the domestic science rooms at the tables which were placed to form a large T. Covers were laid for forty.

After supper Dale Mominee, as president of the class had charge of the program and slips with topics for extemporaneous speeches were handed out and some of the responses showed great talent, causing much laughter at least.

Miss Mildred Boyce gave a very interesting description of her recent European trip.

IRWIN STARR PASSED AWAY SUNDAY.

A sad death occured last Sunday morning when little Irwin Starr, the eight year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Irwin passed away at his home two miles southwest of Tecumseh from the dread disease, diphtheria.

The funeral services were held last Tuesday with burial in Zion cemetery. The little fellow had attended the brick school located in Raisin Twp. about two and one-half miles southwest of Tecumseh until taken sick with what proved to be a fatal illness.

It is thought that he might have contracted the disease at the county fair as it is reported that several cases had made its appearance in Adrian before Fair time.

The boy has never attended school in Tecumseh but went to the country school near his home in Raisin Twp.

C. E. ORGANIZED.

The young people of the Presbyterian church met in the church parlors Thursday evening for the purpose of organizing a C. E. society.

A fine pot luck supper was first enjoyed by the young people, after which a business meeting was held and the following elected:

Big Attendance At Commerce Club

John Coombs Is Principal Speaker. Pythian Sisters Served Elegant Dinner. Over One Hundred Sat Down To Tables. Council And Contractors Given Place Of Honor.

Over one hundred men sat down to an elegant dinner at the high school last Tuesday evening when the first of the winter meetings of the community club was held.

The dinner was served by the Pythian Sisters and they certainly are entitled to great credit for the sumptuous and elegant dinner which they provided and the splendid service with which it was served. It was one of the best banquets that has ever been held by the club and many words of commendation were heard for this part of the program.

At the speaker's table was the executive committee, the speaker, the council and the engineers and contractors who are putting in the new pavement..

After a short business session at which it was decided to put on a celebration on Wednesday, October 25th and the committees were appointed to look after the matter, the speaker of the evening was introduced and spoke for about one hour and a half. His talk was of a general nature covering a wide number of topics interspersed with many stories of the Coombs type.

The banquet closed at ten twenty and as it was scheduled to start at 6:30 it made the affair nearly four hours long. One of the special efforts last year was to make these banquets short and snappy and thus draw the crowds but this one seemed to be quite extended.

Hereafter, there will be a banquet each month as last year and able speakers and an elegant dinner will be the special features. Tecumseh certainly has a live and large community club which speaks well for us from every angle.

OUR SPECIAL SESSION.

Gov. Groesbeck has summoned a special session of the legislature to enact some kind of a law which will compel coal dealers to take out a state license for the stated purpose of stopping any profiteering that might be indulged in.

We presume the legislature will do the bidding of the Governor but we very seriously doubt the wisdom of it and we further believe it will simply act to stop the influx of coal into this state.

What we are mostly interested in, is getting the coal to keep us from freezing. If coal is legislated down to $5 per ton and we can't get any we will freeze a darned sight quicker than we will with it up to $10 pr ton and plenty to be had.

We do not believe for one minute that any local dealer is or has tried to profiteer. We know that one dealer received a car of hard coal which sold out at $15 per ton which is but 50c per ton more than was paid last year for the same article.

It is not the local dealer who is profiteering but the jobber and coal operator over whom the state has no control except for the mines in this state and not much over them. If we don't pay the price that other states do, we will get no coal and that is exactly what happened when Gov. Groesbeck tried to dictate to Mr. Hoover some time ago.

What the people in this town and vicinity want is coal at just as reasonable a price as we can get it, but we want the coal and must have it or suffer. We just wonder what the legislature will do but hope they don't legislate the coal all out of [illegible] state until next spring.

Trying to legislate a price on any commodity has proved a flat failure about every time it has been tried so the wise solons better think carefully and count the cost as well before experimenting in the face of empty coal bins and a hard winter.

RESPONSIBILITY.

We Americans like to swell up with pride because our constituents have placed the "mantle of responsibility on our shoulders," etc. It's a wonderful thing to be so highly respected by our fellow men that they place the "responsibility of affairs" upon our shoulders and it is probably true that most of the office holders honestly believe they have the courage to act upon that responsibilty when they are seeking the election.

However, the true test comes when those aforesaid office holders are asked to do or not to do something which good judgment says is not for the best interests of the many but are for the special interests of a few.

All sorts of pressure is brought to bear to urge the office holders to forget his duty to the many and serve the special interests of the few. And he must indeed be a man capable of bearing true responsibility if he does not weaken and become the tool of selfish interests. The pressure used on him is terrific and most people who have never had to shoulder responsibility have no idea of what it means to be subjected to the pressrue that is brought to bear by special interests to compel those in authority to do their bidding. No wonder the plain people get the crumbs while the special interests take the rest.

And it is largely the plain people's fault for they are prone to let just a few politicians nominate and elect whomsoever they wish to office while they content themselves with kicking and squirming at the bad treatment they receive. It will be always thus until the plain people take an active part in electing and retiring office holders who do not live up to their responsibilities to the plain people.

Most office holders serve the people who elect them and so long as a few do the electing, the few will be valiantly served.

Respossibility is no more incumbent upon the office holder than it is upon the voter who elects him, Charity begins at home and so does responsibility. If the voter is not living up to his responsibility as far as the ballot is concerned, he must not expect his faithful servants to do more. Test your own responsibility by voting for the man whom you believe is best fitted and will make the best public servant regardless of party and see if there is not a quick response from the office holder.

Compulsory Divorce Advocated by Prof. Barnes

By International News Service!

BOSTON, Oct. 30.—Compulsory divorce if the husband and wife do not love each other was recommended by Professor Earl Barnes, formerly of Leland Stanford University, speaking here at a State social work conference.

"It is a monstrous thing," he said "for any man and woman to live in the close intimacy of marital life if they do not love each other ardently."

Is it a fact that every Married Woman at some time thinks she is unloved?

The Suit That Water Can't Harm!

Clothcraft "5130" Serge

America's Standard Suit for Men and Young Men

WERE you ever soaked to the skin? Then you know how water can ruin a suit. But HERE'S a suit that a rainstorm can't injure! The famous water-test proved that.

A standard Clothcraft Coat—right from the rack—was thoroughly soaked in water, dried and repressed. And at the end of the test it was as good as new—the water had not harmed it.

Now a coat is made up of many little parts—fabric, hair-cloth, lining, canvas, thread, etc.—and unless these parts are carefully put together, unless the material and workmanship are the best obtainable, the suit cannot survive the water test unharmed.

The fact that Clothcraft Coats will pass this severe test proves the superior quality of materials and workmanship that go into the making of Clothcraft Clothes.

And the fact that you can buy a suit of Clothcraft "5130" Serge for $27—proves VALUE that is apparent in the entire Clothcraft line.

DODGE BROTHERS
BUSINESS SEDAN

With this car, Dodge Brothers have literally created a new type of sedan.

They have combined open car ruggedness with closed car protection and smartness.

They have demonstrated, once for all, that a sedan can be as practical and almost as inexpensive as an open touring car.

The body is built of hand-welded steel because steel is sturdy, and will take a permanent, oven-baked finish, eliminating forever the cost of repainting.

The seats are upholstered in attractive, genuine Spanish blue leather, because leather will wash and wear.

To further enlarge the car's usefulness, the rear seat, back and side cushions, seat frame and foot rest are quickly removable, giving sixty-four cubic feet of flat loading space in the rear compartment. The manifold uses made possible by this unique feature are readily imagined.

The top and rear quarters are of non-rumble, fabric construction, conforming with the present attractive vogue. From cord tires to curtain cords, the fittings, inside and out, are distinctive and complete.

In fact, every detail of the car emphasizes its striking adaptability to business as well as social use.

THEY ALL DEMAND IT

Tecumseh, Like Every City and Town in the Union, Receives It.

People with kidney ills want to be cured. When one suffers the tortures of an aching back, relief is eagerly sought for. There are many remedies today that relieve, but do not cure. Doan's Kidney Pills have brought lasting results to thousands. Here is Tecumseh evidence of their merit.

Miss Rhoba Arner, 108 Oneida St., Tecumseh, says: "We have often used Doan's Kidney Pills in our home and so far as my own experience goes, I can recommend them. I had been feeling run down and my head was just a steady, dull pain. I was dizzy by spells and my kidneys didn't act regularly, either. I knew that Doan's Kidney Pills were good for these troubles, so I sent to Pulver's drug store and got a box. After using them, my troubles left me. My kidneys have never bothered me since and it's a pleasure for me to endorse Doan's Kidney Pills."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills— the same that Miss Arner had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y. (Adv.)

Did you know that yellow corn makes better feed, especially for hogs, than white corn? Well, it's a fact, as I'm prepared to prove—but you can read the whole amazing story for yourself in next week's issue of

The* COUNTRY GENTLEMAN

Of course, white corn still has its place; but for real, downright, money-saving facts you should know just what the color of the corn has to do with your feeding costs.

But this new discovery is only one of many up-to-the-minute subjects discussed in this issue alone: Some disgruntled folks, speculators especially, have said that the Farm Bureau hurts business. They should read what A. B. Macdonald has to say about it.

James Dryden offers another of his much-liked practical poultry articles; this one is devoted to a timely discussion of poultry houses.

As for fiction! There's a crackajack of an eight-part serial—"A Daughter of Adam," by Corra Harris—just starting. You'll have time to begin it, and read all the other good things coming in the next 52 issues, if you will just send me your name and only one dollar—today.

The Cost is Only One Dollar

"THE UNLOVED WIFE."

Do mothers of pretty daughters instinctively take a dislike to handsome young men? Generally it works out that way in real life. But in "The Unloved Wife," a new play in three acts, which comes to the Bradley Opera House, Tecumseh, matinee and night, Tuesday, October 17th with matinee for ladies only, the authoress, Miss Florence Edna May, does not agree with that thought.

Money covers a multitude of sins, but Miss May declares money should not react against God's fairest flower—American Womanhood, and in her play she placed before her audiences the vital truths of married life. The authoress boldly declares that it is possible for a woman to neglect her own proper development when obsessed by a too worshipful love of her "lord and master," and that such love may, in time have effect in turning the object of her devotion away from her.

For ages and ages the all absorbing question, "He was so good before we were married, what could have changed him (or her as the case may be." Three salient points are discussed in the new play: "The Unloved Wife," which comes here with a distinguished cast and New York production.

The evening performance is for everybody over sixteen years of age.

RECEPTION GIVEN FOR NEW MINISTER.

About one hundred members and friends of the Methodist Congregation met at the church parlors Friday evening, for a reception to Rev. and Mrs. J. B. H. Marsh, the new minister and wife.

The following program was given with Mrs. Guy E. Belding as chairman.

Trombone solo by Wilfred Waldron, accompanied by Mrs. Ella Hodges.

Welcome by Rev. Kiskaddon.

Vocal solo by Mrs. S. Wyman.

Remarks by Rev. Escolme.

Violin solo by Raymond Austin, who responded to an enchore.

Vocal duet by Mrs. Braun and Miss Bertha La Pointe.

Rev. Marsh then spoke in behalf of his wife and himself, saying he appreciated the kind welcome and hoped for a good year in Tecumseh. The program was concluded by a piano solo by Miss Florine Linn.

A social hour was spent in visiting and getting acquainted after which refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Armbuster were guests of Detroit friends, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Pruyne were guests of their daughter, Mrs. Forrest Mossing and family at Metamora, Ohio, Sunday.

Mrs. Claud Underwood, Mrs. Wm Cummings, Mrs. Carl Glancy, Mrs. John Sherman and Mrs. Chas. McDermott of Adrian spent Friday in Jackson as guests of Claud Jordon and Mrs. E. H. Henderson.

Road Building Started Wednesday

Contractor Started Big Cement Mixer One Mile East Of Evans Street And Will Come Toward Town Rapidly. This will Give Good Road Over River Hill.

It was good news again to learn that the big cement mixer started operations Wednesday morning at the corner east of the river and will come toward the city completing the bad stretch of road over the hill and across the river at an early date.

The work on the boulevard from Ottawa St. east to the Hayden Mill hill is progressing nicely and this will meet the road coming in from the east so that unless extremely bad weather sets in or other causes of which there seems to be a multitude hinders it, we will soon have a cement road from the business section to the corner east of the city.

Mr. Friesinger, the contractor, is doing all he can to get as much done as possible and everyone here appreciates his efforts to get us as nearly finished up as possible before the winter weather sets in. We hope that things will break his way for a spell and see how it would seem.

SIDEWALK EXTENSION GOING DOWN.

Floyd Carpenter who has the contract for putting in the curb and gutter has been awarded a contract for putting down the five foot extension to the sidewalks in the business section.

The contractor is doing the work for 16c per square foot and out of this the city pays 25 per cent and the property owners 75 per cent. When completed it will make a decided improvement to our new pavement and make the business section look like a full grown city.

The business section is now open to traffic and when the streets are washed down after the sidewalks are in, we will shine like a new dollar and Tecumseh will have as fine a pavement in the business section as one cares to drive over.

For the present at least the ornamental lamp posts will remain where they are. Some have argued that now is the time to put them on the outside of the walks while the walk is torn up, but it seems that this will not be done on account of the expense. It would be a wonderful improvement if they could be moved to the outside of the walk as it will look somewhat out of place to see them set nearly in the middle of the sidewalk.

GRATZ—TeWELDTER.

Last Thursday afternoon occurred the marriage of Mr. Pliny Gratz to Mrs. Rose TeWeldter at Adrian. The ceremony was solemnized by Rev. F. L. Taylor of the Church of Christ. They were unattended.

Mr. Gratz has long been one of Tecumseh's prominent young busiess men engaged i the millig business in which he has made a splendid success. He is widely known throughout this section and enjoys a host of friends and acquaintances who will wish him the best in life.

The bride is a young lady of many accomplishments and although not widely acquainted here, she has many friends who also wish her much happiness.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER.

A party of the employers' and employees of the Quaker Oats Co. gave Mr. and Mrs. Irving Shaw a pleasant surprise Thursday evening at their home on South Ottawa street.

A pleasant social evening was spent and Mr. and Mrs. Shaw were presented with many beautiful and useful gifts. Refreshments were served.

SUPERINTENDENT ENTERTAINS SUNDAY SCHOOL.

John T. Boyce, superintendent of the Presbyterian Sunday school gave a very pleasant reception for the Adult, Senior and Intermediate departments of the school, Thursday evening in the church parlors.

There were about one hundred who responded to his invitation, and after a social hour of visiting the following program was given.

Welcome by Mr. Boyce.

Selection by the Orchestra.

Community singing, led by Mrs. Billings with Mrs. Kiskaddon at the piano.

Song, "The Good Old World," by Mrs. S. W. Boyce's class of girls, led by Mrs. Billings.

"Our Sunday School" by Mrs. F. B. Rector who played a glowing tribute to the superintendent, officers, teachers and pupils.

Selection by the orchestra.

"Our Young People" by Rev. J. F. Kiskaddon, who complimented the young people on their share of the work of the church.

Community singing was again enjoyed after which Miss Mildred Boyce gave an illustrated talk of her recent European trip. She spoke especially of the days spent in Germany and of the courteous treatment they received. There were a few slides of the Passion Play which were very interesting.

Refreshments were served by the intermediate girls.

Everyone present enjoyed the evening greatly and are deeply indebted to Mr. Boyce for the good time he provided.

ATTEMPTS SUICIDE.

Al Vanderwalker, who lives on N. Pearl St. next to Mulvaney's Lumber Yard, attempted suicide sometime early this (Thursday) morning by slashing his throat with a razor.

He went to the rear of the house to his barn to commit the deed and was found in the barn, very weak from the loss of blood, by Jay St. John, who went to the barn to get the horse for work in the lumber yard. He immediately called help and Maynard Mulvaney and others responded and hastily summoned Dr. Hendershot while they carried Mr. Vanderwalker into the house.

Mr. Vanderwalker is a highly respected man about 70 years old and an old soldier but he has been in very poor health for some time and it is thought despondency on account of this caused him to make an attempt upon his life. He may recover.

MONDAY CLUB MEETS.

The Monday Club met in regular session on Monday afternoon. At the business meeting three new names were presented for membership and duly elected, namely, Mrs. Kenneth Wise, Mrs. Edward Braun, and Miss Veva Hardcastle.

Mrs. Ernest Howard acted as leader for the afternoon. Community singing was led by Mrs. E. N. Billings and Mrs. S. W. Boyce read an exceedingly interesting paper on "Prehistoric Cities of Peru."

The next meeting will be held October 23 and will be Americanization Day, the speaker for the afternoon being Mrs. Mary L. Veenfliet of Alpena, Mich. Please note that this meeting has been advanced from Nov. 20 to Oct. 23. A good attendance is desired as Mrs. Veenfliet will have a worthwhile message. Each member may bring a guest.

WORTHY OF EMULATION.

Elsewhere in this paper is an advertisement of the Lilley State Bank that challenges the attention of every person who lives in his home town.

It expresses exactly what home town loyalty actually is and it must be noted that it applies to every WORTHY feature of the home town. It does not mean BOOST a few or a certain business but it does say boost every worthy enterprise in the home town.

Those who would have everyone boost just their particular business while they go outside and boost foreign business should read this particularly and then act accordingly.

HUDSON BEATS TECUMSEH.

In the football contest played at Hudson between the Hudson high school and the Tecumseh high school, the former won the game by a score of 19 to 0.

There were no particular features to the game except that the local boys were not as experienced as the Hudson team which counts for most everything in the game of football and for that reason alone the home boys lost.

Tecumseh played a hard game and with plenty of experience will develop a fast team which will give a good account of itself.

Opening Festival Wednesday, Oct 25

Big Celebration On Main Street. Masquerade Dance In The Evening. Prizes For Best Costumes. Foot Ball Game In Afternoon. Merchants Offering Special Bargains.

Arrangements have been made for a street opening celebration to be given on Wednesday, October 25th in Tecumseh.

After a long period of exclusion of the autos from the business section on account of putting down the pavement, the business men thought it would be eminently fitting to give a street celebration in honor of opening up the streets to traffic again, consequently they have put on a Bargain Day and Celebration combined on the date named.

Band concerts all day and a masquerade dance in the evening will be given on the main street and prizes will be offered for the best costumes. In the afternoon, a foot ball game between Eaton Rapids and the Tecumseh High Schools will be played at 2:30 at the Park.

It will certainly pay every reader of this paper to look over very carefully the advertisements of the local merchants who are offering extra special bargains on that day to help make the celebration a success and you can rest assured that every bargain advertised in this paper is a real bona fide affair as the merchants of Tecumseh keep trade coming here by giving big values that will not be duplicated elsewhere and for that reason it will pay you to read and take advantage of our offerings.

Come one, come all, you are certainly welcome.

LUNCHEON WAS GIVEN FRIDAY.

Mrs. Ida Spencer was hostess to a party of friends Friday afternoon, at a one o'clock luncheon, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Hoyt Whelan on West Chicago street. Beautiful bouquets of fall flowers were used in profusion to make the rooms pleasant.

A social time was enjoyed during the afternoon, a series of contests being given. In the guessing contest, first place was awarded to Mrs. Hugh McElroy and the second was given Miss McElroy of Detroit. A very pleasant afternoon was enjoyed by all present.

Miss Marjorie Smith, daughter of Deputy Sheriff, John B. Smith and Cloyd Richards, nephew of Mr. and Mrs. C .C. Richards were married Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock at Adrian, by Rev. Earl R. Rice.

They were attended by Mrs. C. C. Richards and Mrs. Ernest Topps and returned to Tecumseh immediately after the ceremony, where they will make their home.

The bride was born and raised here and has many friends. The groom came here from Lima, O., a year and a half ago and has made his home with his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Richards, working at Fisher's gravel pit.

TAKE NOTICE.

May Get Factory Here In Tecumseh

Arrangements Being Made For Location In Temple Building. Options Asked On Other Property In Same Block. Business Men Endeavoring To Bring It Here.

What may prove to be the addition of a new factory that will employ from thirty to fifty men is now nearly assured.

During the week Detroit parties have been on the ground looking over the sight including the warehouse owned by L. E. Temple; the building just north of it owned by M. G. Spitler and options have been secured on considerable other property in this same block.

The plant manufactures pressed iron ware and should it finally locate here will be considerable addition to the city. L. E. Temple, R. J. McCoy, H. S. Temple and Wade Jones have been working with the gentlemen trying to assist them in getting what their needs require and the report is that part of the papers have been signed and it is expected that the deal will be closed up this week.

It looks very much as though Tecumseh was to have another good factory and if so it will necessitate the building of more houses to accomodate the workmen as the town is pretty well filled up at the present time. However, if new houses could be built that too would prove a great benefit to our growing little city.

SENATOR TOWNSEND HERE MONDAY.

The people of this vicinity will have the pleasure of hearing Senator Charles Townsend and Rep. Earl Michener here at the Bradley Opera House next Monday night when a big Republican Rally will be held.

Both of these men are able speakers and Senator Townsend will give an extended address on the issues of the day while our own Earl Michener will also explain to the people what has been done in their interests by the party now in power.

The ladies Band will play and noted singers will sing. There will be something to interest everyone and a big crowd is expected.

NOTICE.

All those who will give for the Rummage Sale please send articles to store or call Geo. Hines who will call for them. (adv)

High School Seniors Doing Fine Work

Have Charge Of Lecture Course This Year. Will Give Excellent Course. Town Must Back Them Up Loyally. It's A Splendid Effort, Buy Your Ticket Today.

Tecumseh is noted for its booster spirit and that is exactly what makes it a splendid town. Every worthy enterprise is given a loyal lift to help make it a grand success.

And there is no more worthy cause right now than the lecture course the Senior Class is offering to the people. It is most commendable for these young folks, the best we have, to offer the people of this community a high class lecture course consisting of musical numbers, entertainments and lectures of high order.

There is nothing that deserves more loyal support and nothing whereby you get more for your money as the course is offered at the very low price, only $1.75 for the entire five numbers.

Buy your ticket today and show your appreciation of our Seniors and the course they have offered. Let's put over the 1922-23 lecture course with a vim and keep our record for loyal boosting going at top speed. Thank you we knew you would.

To date the seniors have sold only 115 tickets and must sell at least 75 more to insure the success of the venture. Are we going to see such a splendid movement and such a fine course of entertainments be a financial failure when it should be a glorious success? We believe the people will come forward and buy their season tickets NOW when they understand the situation. Isn't it worth more than many another thing for which we spend an equal amount of money?

Buy that ticket today and join the booster club.

WHAT IS COMMUNITY LOYALTY?

Community loyalty is first of all pride in one's home town, readiness to praise it on all occasions, to defend it against disparagement or Criticism.

Deeper still--it is the willingness to help create and maintain a community WORTHY of praise.

Loyalty to home enterprise, buying at home, and banking-at-home form the practical side of civic pride. Upon these must depend Tecumseh's progress, always.

EDUCATION.

Education is simply another word for understanding and that means comprehension of the truth, that's all.

Man has progressed from his primitive state by slow degrees and only as fast as he has comprehended the natural laws of the world in which he lives. Law is simply stating a rule of action in an understandable way so we realize what effects unerringly follow a certain cause.

A Prof. of Philosophy once stated that a cause always went before the effect and cautioned his class to remember it. A greeny when asked to repeat the law said the reverse and when asked to illustrate an effect going before the cause, cited a man wheeling a wheelbarrow. All laws are not positive under all conditions.

Educaton has made it possible for man to take conditions and adapt himself to them favorably. Education has banished the three S's—superstition, suspicion and selfishness to a large degree, and it is these three elements that cause most of the trouble in the land.

Superstition is nearly erased from the minds of Americans, but suspicion and selfishness are yet abundantly in evidence. If everyone would act squarely and truthfully, there would be little cause for suspicion and often suspicion causes one to act unfairly when there were no grounds for the suspicion except an over development of that nature. It is but another way of expressng the lack of education.

Selfishness seems to vary with the individual. No doubt all of us have it, but like many other characteristics it is more prominent in some than in others. It may be another word for self-preservation and if so, some people ought to be well preserved at ninety. However, education curbs selfishness and for that reason is highly commendable.

Modern education has gone off at a tangent from the old style of seeking the truth. Now it is more devoted to the art of cooking, fancy steps and various fads introduced to provide positions for the graduates of our great universities, than it is to develop the minds of the youth to think and season with due respect and understanding of our country's problems and history.

Too much cannot be said in favor of real education and healthful physical development for they are surely the safeguards of a great people, therefore our schools are charged with a great responsibility.

Our civic problems are daily becoming more complex with our rapid growth and better thinkers are in great demand to establish a truthful basis upon which law makers, capital and labor, and every form of occupation shall be treated fairly and each become a contented member of society, working for a still greater and better nation. That means long national life and a higher development of our civilization.

"Seek Ye the truth" must be the motto of all to deal fairly and promote community and national prosperity.

"UNLOVED WIFE" GREAT SUCCESS.

Manager Guy of the Bradley Theatre is to be greatly congratulated for bringing such a splendid play to Tecumseh as "The Unloved Wife."

The players were all high class and the play itself was one that everyone with a touch of humanity in his make-up would thoroughhly enjoy. The house was comfortably filled and the audience seemed to enjoy every minute of the play. It is hoped that the people will turn out to these plays as they can not be booked unless they receive a liberal patronage.

When Mae Murray in "Fascination," presented by Robert Z. Leonard, comes to the Bradley Theatre on Sunday, Oct. 22, the popular Metro star will be supported by a company of players, several of whom have themselves starred on Broadway. It is without doubt one of the strongest casts that has ever been assembled in motion pictures.

Among this distinguished company is Helen Ware, Vincent Coleman, Courtenay Foote, Creighton Hale, Charles Lane and Robert Frazer.

Miss Murray herself plays a girl who revolts against the rigidity of her home life, runs off to a bull fight, becomes fascinated by a handsome toreador and is involved in a series of stirring adventures.

"Fascination" is presented by Robert Z. Leonard, who also directed the production. The story was written by Edmund Goulding.

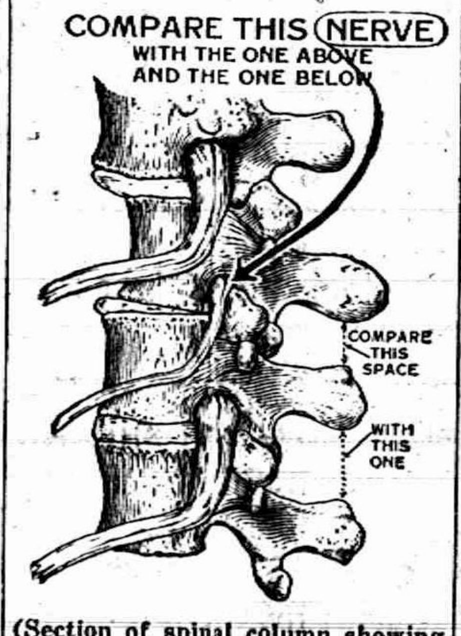
COMPARE THIS NERVE WITH THE ONE ABOVE AND THE ONE BELOW



(Section of spinal column showing pinched nerve the cause of disease.)

The human body is often compared to an electrical machine, its many parts receiving the "power" to do their work from the "dynamo" in the brain.

As in all electrical machines, there must be two wires, one conveying power to the parts, and one completing the circuit; so in the human machine there are two kinds of nerves, one carrying mental impulses (power) to the parts, the other carrying vibrations to the brain, and completing the circuit.

Break the circuit in the electric machine, and the machinery stops. Decrease the amount of power passing over the circuit, and the work is lessened. Break the circuit in the human machine, and the organ stops work—becomes dead; decrease the amount of power passing over the circuit, and the organ itself becomes diseased.

As Chiropractors we are concerned with keeping all parts of the human machine supplied with full power to do their work. If you are sick in any way let us examine your spine and explain to you just how the "power" may be shut off or decreased by misaligned vertebrae. Consultation and spinal analysis free.

SECOND ANNUAL MEETING OF W. F. M. S. HELD AT M. E. CHURCH.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of Ann Arbor District held their second annual meeting at the local M. E. church, Tuesday and Wednesday. The convention opened with a large numberof registered delegates present.

Miss Anna M. Cody, president of the district, presided over the following program. An impressive devotional hour was conducted by Mrs. Dorr, after which Mrs. J. O. Eaton, president of the local society, with well chosen words, welcomed the convention to "Our Auxiliary, our church, our homes and our town." This was responded to by Miss Cody. The appointment of committees by the president followed, after which a very well prepared report was given by the district treasurer, Mrs. E. F. Gee.

The report of the corresponding secretary was then given by Mrs. E. M. Calkins who reported a gain of eleven new auxiliaries this year.

The roll call followed and was responded to by "Three things our auxiliary has accomplished this year." This part of the program was very interesting and many fine things have been accomplished.

A vocal duet was given by Mrs. Braun and Miss Lillian Kennedy accompanied by Mrs. Ella Hodges.

Mrs. Roy Smith then gave a very interesting report on "Our Young People's Work." To hear her was to become at once an enthusiastic worker among the young people.

The secretary came in at this time and the minutes of last year were read.

Mrs. A. McCrory was absent because of illness, so her report on the children's branch of the work was read by Mrs. E. M. Calkins. Miss Edna Bacon, a return missionary from India, who is supported by the children of the district, conducted the children's hour. She had on display dolls and dresses that [illegible] by the children.

At six o'clock, eighty sat down to a delicious banquet which was served by the ladies of the church. Miss Anna Cady, as toastmistress introduced the speakers. Three King's Herald girls of Tecumseh sang, and a Standard Bearer girl of Clinton gave a fine toast on an "Ideal S. B." Dr. Leesen of Ann Arbor then made a few remarks.

The evening meeting was well attended. Rev. T. J. B. Marsh conducted the devotionals after which a demonstration was given by the Ridgeway Standard Bearers, and a song by Katherine and Virginia Whaley.

A very splendid address was given by Miss Bacon, telling of her work in India. During the service, solos were given by Mrs. Eugene Rosacrans and Mrs. Maynard Mulvaney.

STATE HOUSE MEMBERS PASS LAW AGAINST PROFITEERS, THEN GRAB 10 DAYS' FOR 4 DAYS' WORK.

Lansing, Oct. 14.—While members of the Senate, during the closing hours of the special session of the Legislature voted themselves only four days' pay, $20, as provided by the constitution, the House, by a vote of 53 to 18, grabbed into the State Treasury to the extent of 10 days' pay for four days' work, or about $3,000 in excess of that to which they are entitled.

The action of the House members is the second in which they have grabbed more salary than they have been entitled to during their special session, for a few days' work, they voted themselves 20 days' pay, and on this occasion cut the number of days in half. As a result each representative, in addition to his mileage, will receive $50 pay for the four days' work.

The members of the House voting against the salary grab were: Reps. Braman, Brown, Byrum, Case, Curtis, Evans, Fuller, Holland, Leedy, Miles, W. F. Miller, Nevins, Osborn, Rasmussen, Row, Smith, Strauch, Vine and Wade.

A roll call on the pay measure was demanded in the House by Rep. A. W. Miles, of Big Rapids. He declared that he wanted to be able to go back home and look at the coal dealers without blushing. He also asserted that a lot of the House members appear to be far-sighted in money matters, "if nothing else.

"I never met so many high priced men in my life," he said. "To hear them talk one would think they all habitually made $25 an hour, but when they are home they probably live on skimmed milk and pancakes, like I do."

He voted no.

The law provides that members of the Legislature shall be compensated at the regular rate, $5 a day, for the actual number of days in special session, not to exceed 20 days. —Jackson Patriot.

Big Crowds Jam Streets Saturday

Business Section Takes On Old Time Appearance Saturday Night When Autos Are Parked In Solid Rows From Ottawa St. To Maiden Lane. Side Streets Full For Blocks.

If you happened to be down town last Saturday night you no doubt noticed that Tecumseh Streets had the old time appearance of animated life and that the sidewalks were taxed to capacity with the moving masses of people who were shopping from store to store.

The autos were parked in solid rows on both sides of the streets and for blocks on the side streets which shows that the good people have not forgotten the way to town since the business section has been opened up to traffic for the first time in fifteen weeks.

And when the new paving gets finished east of town from the corners across the river to join with the city paving, another stretch of road will be available for use which will make it still easier to get into town from the south and east.

The new sidewalks look fine since they have been extended out five feet and there seems to be plenty of room for pedestrains and also for talk fests which have heretofore often impeded traffic along the walks. If the slow moving traffic will just keep close to the curb now those who are in a hurry will find a clear path to sail right along from one end of town to the other. At any rate no one can complain that our sidewalks are narrow in the business section.

Also when the heavy snow falls, it will give some of our business men plenty of good exercise cleaning their walks, so perhaps it will prove of hygienic value also if not a blessing to our feelings when the thermometer goes down into the bulb.

Of course the steps at the corners will prove something of an irritant to those who wheel perambulators but possibly the jar of going down and up the steps may be helpful to babies liver and set him on the royal road to health so that there is really nothing but that may have its great benefits if it is a bit hard on the nerves.

ENTERAINS MERRY-GO-ROUND.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Wade L. Jones entertained the Merryy-Go-Round Club at the home of the former last Tuesday evening.

This was the first party of the year and after enjoying a very sumptuous six o'clock dinner, the guests were entertained at "500" for the remainder of the evening.

Of course the gentlemen enjoyed the customary smoker while the tables were being cleared after dinner and a genuine social good time alwayys accompanies these events.

The home was very tastefully decorated for the occasion in hallowe'en style and it presented a most cheerful and inviting appearance to the guests assembled. First places were won by Mrs. Thos. McCann and B. J. Pulver, the consolations going to Mrs. R. S. Moore and John Heesen.

JOLLY SIXTEEN CLUB.

Mrs. Fred Aldrich was hostess to the Jolly Sixteen Club Friday evening at her home on North Oneida street.

Progresive pedro was the diversion of the evening, ten games being played. Mrs. George Church winning first place, Mrs. George Ziehr second and Mrs. Guy Belding the consolation. Refreshments were served by the hostess at the close of the games.

The club will meet in two weeks with Mrs. George Church.

MRS. CLARA KENDRICK PASSES AWAY.

Mrs. Clara Kendrick was born March 28, 1835, at Lyons, New York, and died October 23 1922 at Tecumseh, Michigan at the age of eighty-seven years and seven months.

Mrs. Kendrick was a daughter of the late Morris Hyde and came to Michigan with her parents from New York when she was one year old, settling on a farm in Franklin. When she was nine years old, her parents moved to Tecumseh, living in the Morris Hyde house on the corner of Pottawatamie and Union streets, and she has lived in Tecumseh ever since.

Mrs. Kendrick had been very active, going about her work in all kinds of weather, until the past two months she has been confined to her home, which has been with Miss Harriett Whittier for the past eleven years. She was always kind and cheerful and to know her was to love her.

She leaves four nieces, Miss Edith Ingersol and Miss Harriett Whittier of this place, Mrs. Ella Russell and Mrs. Burt Blood of Detroit, and three nephews, Harry Munger of this place Wm. Ingersol of Chicago and Chas. Whittier of Detroit.

The funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. J. F. Kiskaddon officiating. Burial will be made at Brookside.

BURNED TO DEATH AT EVANS LAKE.

A very sad accident occurred at Evans Lake last week Thursday, when Daniel Carney, a former Tecumseh man and his grandson were burned to death and five cottages destroyed by fire during the night.

Mr. Carney was in the employ of the Smith Paper Mill here about twenty-eight years ago and married a Tecumseh lady, Miss Lois Howe, whose brother, Chas. Howe lives souheast of town.

Mr. Carney was a resident of Maumee, Ohio, and had gone to the lake for a short trip. His car was found in the garage which was also burned. How the fire started is a mystery which will probably never be known. Mr. Carney's grandson, a boy of eight years, also burned to death. The charred bodies of both being found in the cellar of the cottage.

The body was brought here for burial.

TECUMSEH HIGH TRIMS ADDISON.

Last Friday the Addison football team journeyed here to try titles with our high school boys and received a sound beating to the extent of 19 to 0.

The game was played at the Park before a rather small crowd but nevertheless enthusiastic for the home team and the local boys seemed to have learned more about the game and went at it in regular style showing their opponents up nicely.

There was no particular starring but good team work is accountable for the score. The Tecumseh boys are evidently gaining more experience and confidence and consequently play a much better game than when first they started the season.

REPORT A FINE TIME.

Drs. Hammel and Hardy, R. A. Heesen and Clarence Alderdyce returned last Sunday from Hubbard Lake where they went on a fishing and hunting trip.

They report a fine time with plenty of game but R. A. says more things can happen to an auto in the short space of one day than he ever thought could take place, but he says that the learned Doctors have auto troubles also.

R. A. also says that those pesky birds get away too fast for him to draw a bead on but that he enjoyed seeing the others get 'em if he didn't.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER.

Mr. and Mrs. Cloyd Richards were given a pleasant surprise, Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Richards, on West Cummings street, when thirty friends came in, bringing many beautiful and useful gifts for the newly married couple.

Dancing and cards were enjoyed during the evening. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

SOME APPLES.

A small spray 24 inches long from an apple tree, bearing eleven large apples was brought to the Herald office this week, having been gathered near Dr. Hammel's cottage at Hubbard Lake. The trees there are abundantly loaded the apples selling for as little as 10c a bushel or take all you can carry away.

Senator Townsend Spoke Here Monday

Big Republican Rally Held At Bradley Theatre. House Packed To Hear Issues Discussed. Ladies' Band Played. Local Speakers Take Active Part.

The big Republican Rally held at the Bradley last Monday night drew a packed house to hear Senator Townsend discuss the issues of the day. H. H. Hanna introduced Mrs. Jenny C. Law Hardy who in turn introduced the Senator.

Clarke Baldwin of Adrian made a short address in the place of Congressman Michener who was obliged to be elsewhere and he gave one of his usual pleasing introductions which was enjoyed by the big crowd.

Mrs. Robert Moore sang, "The Story of Old Glory," in a most beautiful manner. Mrs. Mary Veen Fliet of Alpena spoke a few words and urged the people to return the Senator to Washington as he had proved one of the most valuable men to this state that has ever represented us at the capital.

Senator Townsend then made a very forceful and eloquent address reviewing the conditions which confronted the Republicans after eight years of Democratic control. He stated that the Republicans inherited a 26 million debt in bonds and a 30 billion debt from other sources so that it was incumbent upon them to pay off a large part of these before attention could be given to other things.

He sailed into the League of Nations and said that if it had prevailed millions of our young men would now be stationed in Turkey or in the warring countries of Europe. Now we are sending aid to these stricken people but we are not over there fighting them. He stated that Congress had endeavored to reduce the army and navy so as to cut down every possible expense of the government.

The Senator touched upon the large constructive program of the party now in control and his audience listened intently to what has actually been accomplished for the welfare of the people at home as well as to his discussion of our foreign affairs.

It was a masterly address and the people present were very enthusiastic in their applause. The Senator did not mention the Newberry question so often raised by his opponents evidently thinking his opponents evidently thinking the people here had heard enough of that issue.

All the local candidates for offices were present on the platform and they are a mighty fine looking lot of fellows and formed a very intelligent and interesting background for the Senator. Several ladies graced the platform and it certainly was a most successful meeting.

ENTERTAINS GUESTS.

Senator and Mrs. Townsend were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Hardy while in Tecumseh on Monday. Dr. and Mrs. Hardy entertained at a game dinner in honor of the Senator and Mrs. Townsend.

The following were present: Judge Burton L. Hart, the Hon. Chas. E. Evans of Tipton, Mr. Norman Horton of Fruit Ridge, Mr. O. B. Lenardson of Britton, Mr. Clarke Baldwin of Adrian, Mr. L. B. Hittle of Clinton, Mr. Ralph Tew of Medina, Mr. Hugh Hanna of Tecumseh, Mr. Stephens and Mrs. Mary L. Veenfliet of Alpena, who addressed the Monday Club in the afternoon.

Miss Nellie Wilson drove Senator and Mrs. Townsend to Monroe Tuesday a. m. where the Senator is due to speak Tuesday evening.

ENTERTAINS FOR MRS. ALVA WARING.

Mrs. P. C. Snell was hostess to Mrs. Hurry's Sunday-school class Tuesday noon at her home on West Logan street in honor of Mrs. Alva Waring, who left Tuesday for Fresno, California.

Mrs. Waring was presented with a box of stationery and stamps and warned that the ladies would expect a letter at least once a month.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE.

When Jacob Rentschler came in to dinner Saturday noon, he was agreeably surprised to find a party of relatives to help him celebrate his sixtieth birthday. A bountiful three course dinner was served, covers being laid for fourteen.

The afternoon was spent in visiting and music. Mr. Rentschler received many gifts and many happy birthday wishes.

A social time was enjoyed and refreshments were served. The couple received many useful gifts.

MONDAY CLUB.

The Monday Club met as usual in their regular club rooms with an attendance of nearly two hundred. Mrs. James Kent was voted in as a new member during the business meeting.

Community singing, led by Mrs. Robt. Moore with Miss Edna Taylor at the piano was enjoyed after which the speaker of the afternoon was introduced, Mrs. Mary L. Veenfliet of Alpena, Mich., who spoke on "Obligations of Citizenship—from a woman's standpoint," which was of especial interest at this time.

Mrs. Veenfliet is a native daughter of Michigan, though she has lived in both Florida and California where she took an active interest in state affairs.

At present Mrs. Veenfliet is director of Organization of the Townsend State Committee, owner and principal of Alpena Business College, president Alpena County Woman's Republican League, presidental elector at large, 1920, speaker and club organizer of Michigan State Central Committee.

Mrs. Chas. Townsend was also present and the ladies enjoyed the privilege of meeting her.

MRS. PAUL HUNT ENTERTAINS.

Mrs. Paul Hunt was hostess to the daughters of St. Peters, Thursday evening, at her home on North Oneida street.

There was a large attendance present and during the business meeting the following officers were elected:

President—Mrs. Culver D. Wilcox.

Vice President—Mrs. Paul Hunt
Secretary—Mrs. Lyman Curtis,
Treasurer—Mrs. Glenn Tansley.

A social time was enjoyed and during the evening refreshments were served. They will meet in two weeks with Mrs. Louis Schneider.

LIVE WIRE CLASS HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING.

The Live Wire Class held their annual meeting at the home of their teacher, Mrs. Hobart Mitchell, Tuesday evening. After the reports for the past year were read, the following officers were elected:

Pres.—Mrs. Paul Bowen,
Vice Pres.—Mrs. Raynor Benedict,
Sec.—Miss Bess Spayde,
Treas.—Mrs. Puffer.

The balance of the evening was spent in plans for the coming year, and visiting. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mrs. Puffer will entertain the class in November.

SHOWER.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Harper and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Harper were given a miscellaneous shower Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Harper on North Maumee street.

Music and games helped to make the evening one to be remembered, for the twenty friends and relatives who were present. The two couples received many pretty and useful gifts and scores of congratulations.

The best part of the program was the ride on Kozel's truck thru town with a party of friends, who helped to make the ride a pleasant one.

THAT INCOME TAX AMENDMENT.

The people of Michigan are going to be asked to vote on an amendment to our constitution on Nov. 7th which if passed will give the Legislature authority to pass an income tax law up to four percent.

Prof. David Friday the spokesman for Groesbeck, is advocating it very strongly saying that it will raise 20 million dollars in the state if passed. He further states you should vote for it because it will reduce taxes on real estate, etc.

Ever hear those promises before? We believe that every person should vote NO on this amendment for in our opinion it will just furnish the public spenders another big haul to get rid of and that you will not only pay just as high taxes as you have but that they will have an extra 20 million to spend along with it.

If you trust the crowd that is putting the taxes across right now and want to give them 20 million more to spend, vote yes. If you would like to see these in control keep some of their former promises before granting them more millions to spend, then you better vote NO.

Its up to you to say. If you can rely on pre-election promises of lower taxes and political economy, vote as they wish. If you believe the old constitution is your safeguard right now, you better think long before you give the present crowd 20 million more to spend which will come right out of the pockets of wage earner and every business in the state.

Our advice is vote NO emphatically until we see some sort of sane economy setting in at Lansing that looks as if the politicians know the meaning of the word.

Just remember that the last house of representatives called together to curb the coal profiteers voted themselves 10 days pay for 4 days work. Looks like economy doesn't it?

U. of M. DOWNS OHIO STATE.

The football fans who went to Columbus to see the famous U. of M. team try titles with Ohio State were well repaid by the work of the Michiganders who defeated Ohio by the score of 19 to 0.

This is the first time in four years that Michigan has defeated Ohio and it very naturally brought great elation to the followers of the Maize and Blue.

Kipke, Michigan's brilliant luminary, was the whole show as far as stellar work was concerned and proved that he is the equal of the famous galaxy of stars which Hurry-up Yost has turned out at Ann Arbor in the last twenty years.

The new million dollar stadium erected at Columbus was dedicated by this game and Michigan certainly gave the Ohioans a great disappointment by running over their prize team to the tune of 19 to 0. But its all in the game and only one can win.

BOOSTING THAT COUNTS.

A short time ago we read an advertisement inserted by a bank in Adrian very highly praising the Adrian Telegram for being an excellent paper. This certainly was very commendable in this bank to boost the home paper.

We do not believe this advertisement was inserted solely because they wanted to boost the Telegram but more because they wanted to boost their own business by helping that paper to get a larger circulation in order to have a greater drawing power for Adrian business.

It was a far sighted effort to boost their own business by speaking a good word for the home paper and it attracted much attention especially in the small towns having papers of their own. It shows a true booster spirit of the variety that counts.

We have yet to see any of the smaller towns running such advertisements which spoke highly of the small town paper which is just as essential to the welfare of that town as the Telegram is to Adrian. Perhaps it is because no one has thought of it and it may be for other reasons, but whatever the reason is we have not seen it elsewhere.

A few weeks ago a merchant from Deerfield was in the Herald office and remarked that it was certainly a great blow to their town not to have a newspaper published there, and he further said that every town owed much more to their newspaper than they ever thought of, but like many another good thing it was missed only when it was gone.

Everyone of the larger country towns in Lenawee Co. has a most excellent country paper which makes every possible effort to boost that town. Much of their work and no inconsiderable expense is gone to in order to extend their usefulness to the town and the people they serve and they are doing their work in a highly commendable manner. We often wondedr if the people of the community they serve are boosting for the home paper as much as the paper boosts for them.

Of course the paper hears from everything that someone does not happen to agree with, but they scarcely ever hear words of encouragement. Editors often wonder if the merchants of the country towns take pains to boost THEIR home paper to the people in order to extend its usefulness or do they more frequently criticise it for not doing just what they would individually have it do?

The Adrian Telegram keeps highly paid representatives in every one of these country towns soliciting business for the Telegram. We sometimes wonder how the merchants in these country towns would feel about having the merchants of Adrian keep a paid solicitor in each of these town pulling business for the Adrian stores? Would they expect the home paper to do what it could to assist them and help make their business profitable and successful? They would not.

It is a grand thing to be a booster and there is no business on earth that is expected to do so much of it as the home town paper. People ask the paper for publicity favors who would not think of asking the merchant for a donation of merchandise, and never think anything about it. Formerly newspapers were simply a town convenience to be used by everyone and Dammed by those who did not agree with it. Being the town editor was a job about the least to be desired in the world. But this has gradually changed and it has finally seeped into the heads of the editors that the old adage, "that every tub must set on its own bottom" is literally true and that the way to run a country paper is just the same as every other business is run, viz.: be fair, charitable and honest but not a reed shaken by every breeze that blows,

He who works long hours for the benefit of the public with the expectation that he will be appreciated, will go down to his tomb unheralded and unsung while the man who "Steals a State" will be called a "Captain of Industry" and have built to his memory large and costly monuments. Therefore it behooves every man to work strenuously for his own interests and use every weapon at his command to protect the same and get his share of the business regardless of sentiment or honors that others would invoke to secure his assistance while they get away with the money.

Its a wonderful thing to be a booster for everyone and a great mistake to boost solely for ourselves and often learned at no inconsiderable cost. Newspapers must make enemies by publishing the news. Whenever the newspaper uncovers graft or other wrongs and tells the people about the action of their servants, of course someone gets mad and sets out to injure the paper if he can. However, he generally gets too fast and brings things out into the open that might have remained unknown if he had said less and not interfered too much with the other fellow's affairs.

To be a reol newspaper giving its readers the full news and standing for the square deal to the poor as well as the rich in all things is certain to make enemies. That is as necessary as the sun that shines but no person outside of one who would cover up wrongs and try to hide lawbreakers, grafters and profiteers would run a paper on any such plan, and if he did, he would be guilty of betraying the people for a few pieces of silver. Judas would have nothing on him.

This is a big world and the "square deal" applied to EVERY PERSON AND EVERY BUSINESS EXACTLY THE SAME should rule if we are to grow and prosper. We believe that boosting for one is just as good as boosting for another and that no one person is called on to do it all; and experience shows that where the whole town boosts every worthy enterprise from a church social to the location of a new factory that town wins and grows, harmony and good will prevail, contentment reins supreme and business flourishes. But where a few demand all the boosting to the exclusion of others, the exact reverse usually results.

Boosting is not like a jug handle. It must be applied equally to ALL INTERESTS if it counts for anything worth while. There is no dodging that.

Red Crown begins to vaporize at about 95 degrees Fahrenheit. That's less than blood heat.

Step on the starter; you get instant action, summer or winter.

Red Crown is an all year gasoline. That's one reason for its wide popularity.

Use Red Crown and many of your motor troubles disappear; for Red Crown burns clean. It vaporizes to the last drop.

Sunday about two o'clock, just west of the home of Frank Pawson, occured an auto accident. The driver in some manner lost control in going down the hill, overturning on the side of the road, pining the occupants under the car. The screams attracted the attention of the neighbors who went to the rescue but the gentleman had managed to get out and lift the machine off the lady. They were Miss Laura Aten and her uncle, Walter Aten who reside one mile west of Tipton. They were taken to the D. J. VanValkenburg home and Dr. Tuttle called, who found the man injured his hips, being severely cut and bruised. The young lady was not hurt. Dr. Tuttle took the injured man to his home. The top and windshield of the car was demolished but when righted up was able to go on.

Next Sunday there will be special services at the Congregational Church, it being the 75th anniversary of the church.

CELEBRATION DREW BIG CROWD IN EVENVING.

Tecumseh's celebration drew a large crowd in the evening and a fair sized crowd in the afternoon. The day was ideal and the sun shone brightly all day as if to smile on the efforts of our townsmen to properly celebrate the opening of our streets

Roast Pig sandwiches and coffee was served free during the evening and everyone who partook said it certainly was fine. The Ladies' Band, the pride of Tecumseh, discoursed splendid music during the after noon and proved to be an attraction of real merit. This band certainly deserves the credit of doing a great work for Tecumseh on every occasion and many were the words of praise we heard in their behalf.

The street stunts though few were interesting and the foot ball game in the afternoon between Eaton Rapids and Tecumseh high drew a large crowd. The game was a one sided affair due to a heavy experienced team playing against a light inexperienced one. It ended 44 to 0 in favor of Eaton Rapids.

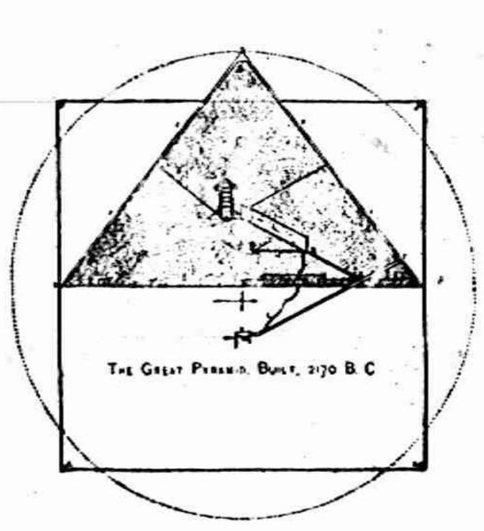
"The New World Begun
MILLIONS NOW LIVING WILL NEVER DIE"



The Great Pyramid, Built, 2170 B. C

Do You Know?
Witherell Hall
142 Chicago St.
Tecumseh, Mich.

PERHAPS YOU HAVE HEARD the statement already that millions now living will never die, but have you heeded? Have you obeyed God's injunction to search the scriptures, prove all things and hold fast that which is good?

NOAH, GOD'S MOUTHPIECE, preached for 120 years of a coming flood and the people scoffed, but it came to pass nevertheless. Jehovah has never been without his true prophets. And so His message intended for the present generation is that the old world (or order) has ended and the new order begun, therefore the scriptures [illegible] millions now living will never die.

ALSO THE BIBLE SHOWS that at this time the peoples of earth would be in great trouble, and it is a notable fact that the world's ablest statesmen have signally failed in their endeavors to bring peace and prosperity as evidenced by all the so-called peace conferences, from Paris to the Hague.

NEVERTHELESS THE SCRIPTURES HOLD out a wonderful hope for all those who love righteousness and hate iniquity and an opportunity is now opening to all such for boundless blessings including everlasting, perfect life amid like surroundings.

DO YOU WANT the scriptural proof for the above and also that NOW is the designated time? Then come and hear

JAMES E. GOWAN, of Detroit
Sunday, October 29th, at 3:00 P. M.

Ford Gives His Reasons

According to a statement just issued by Edsel B. Ford, President of the Ford Motor Company, Detroit, a general reduction of $50.00 a car has been made in the prices of Ford Model T Cars and the Ford 1 Ton Truck, effective October 17th.

"The revision in prices," said Mr. Ford, "is the result of the increased volume of business which our company has enjoyed during the present year, and also, to the fact that we now own and operate many of our own sources of raw material, which enables us to continue increasing the quality of our product and at the same time keep the price so low that Ford cars are in reach of everybody.

"Our production for 1922 is already in excess of a million, which has been an important factor in bringing down costs. Our present daily output is averaging better than 5,000 Cars and Trucks which means a complete Ford Car or Truck every 5½ seconds of each eight-hour working day. It is in anticipation of this continued demand that price adjustments are again being made in order to keep in effect the policy of selling Ford products at the lowest price consistent with quality.

"Quality, as usual," said Mr. Ford, "will continue to be a prime consideration in the building of Ford Cars. As our business has increased we have constantly increased our equipment and manufacturing facilities, so that this price reduction merely reflects the progressive methods which come as a result of increased volume.

"This reduction, which is the sixth since March 1920, brings the price of the Ford Touring Car from $575, the price in effect early in 1920, to the present extremely low level of $298, which is nearly 50% less. Corresponding reductions have been made on all other types.

The new prices by types follow:

Touring	$298
Chassis	235
Roadster	269
Coupe	530
Sedan	595
Truck	380

Rev. and Mrs. Purdy and Mrs. Cassedy of Dundee were callers in town, Friday.

Mrs. C. A. Slayton left Wednesday for Whittier, California, where she will spend the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Foster returned Thursday from a week's visit with friends in Jackson.

Mrs. A. J. Waters and Mrs. Jack Carthy and son of Manchester called on friends in town, Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Drake of Detroit called on Mr. and Mrs. Lester Rogers, Thursday evening.

Mrs. A. J. Montgomery has resigned her position at the Tribolet Co. store and Mrs. Burt Grabner has accepted the position.

Don Wallinger, Lee McAdams and Dr. Arthur Brown attended the Ohio State game at Columbus Saturday.

Mrs. M. H. Furgason returned Thursday from Jackson, where she had been a guest of her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Hay, for a few days.

BOTH GOING UP.

A special newspaper dispatch from New York says that the Standard Oil Co. has just declared a 400 per cent dividend. That is some dividend and the millionairs who are bleeding the common people whenever they buy gas should and probably do feel glorious about their achievement.

Taxes in Michigan have gone up about the same rate in the last few years so if the poor Michiganders are not between the "upper and nether millstone" then you can say that our think tank is full of holes. But we must keep careful conservative people in office until things take on a serious turn and then these "bleeders" will have very urgent business in Europe or the south sea islands while the poor people stay and fight it out.

ENJOYS THE HERALD IMMENSELY.

W. A. Gregg of Polsen, Mont. sends us his renewal for the Herald and states that he has taken the paper for over twenty-five years and enjoys it every week.

He is connected with the Great Western Land Co. and is doing all possible to save the timber which grows around Flat Head Lake for future use. He mentions the forest fires as the most destructive agent to timber and unless every effort is made to save it, the timber will soon be a thing of the past.

What 100% one party rule has done to the taxpayers in this State and County:

State tax levied ten years ago	$ 5,400,000
State tax levied in 1917	9,634,339
State tax levied in 1921	20,441,333

300 per cent increase in State employees in ten years; 9,140 persons on State payroll, August, 1922, who received $993,885 pay that month.

LENAWEE COUNTY

	In 1916	In 1921	In 1922
Total State tax levied in Lenawee County	$134,359	$ 299,269	$ 250,132
County tax	35,189	116,458	147,277
Total levy in County on all taxable property	647,975	1,775,696	1,746,582

Tax levied in Lenawee in 1921 totaled one-third the State tax ten years ago.

The supervisors allowed Sheriff, Deputy Sheriffs, Constable accounts as follows:

Highest year of Lafe Knowles, etc	$ 8,996
Highest year of Charles Henig, etc	9,087
March, 1919, to March 1920, Fred Nutten, etc	16,268
March, 1920, to March 1921, Fred Nutten, etc	13,410
March, 1921, to March 1922, Ford VanDusen, etc	16,341

Criminal costs paid by the County are larger under the VanDusen administration than under the Nutten administration; they are too high. Henry I. Bourns if elected Prosecutor, will cut down costs substantially; he will protect the county and the taxpayers; he was first to publicly advocate a reduction in salaries of the county officers, including prosecuting attorney; he started that movement and stands for further reductions.

The Board of Supervisors has ordered Ex-Sheriff Nutten to pay to the County $796 costs collected and retained by him, belonging to the county; if elected prosecutor Mr. Bourns will carry out the order of the Board and proceed to collect this money.

Mr. Bourns was born and raised on a farm in Dover township and is 45 years old; he has practiced law for 15 years; he knows how hard the farmer is hit by low prices and high taxes; you can depend on him to help cut expenses; he gives you facts and figures and tells you what he'll do and where he stands. He will make a dependable prosecutor in all things; if you think that high taxes and present conditions warrant a change, vote for Henry I. Bourns for prosecuting attorney.

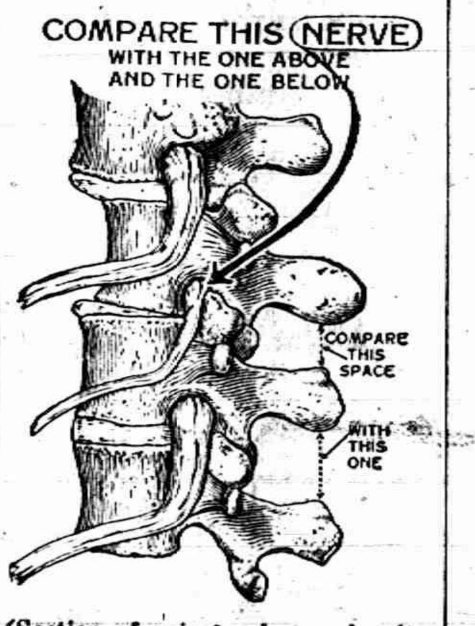
HEALTH

Nature's Way CHIROPRACTIC



(Section of spinal column showing pinched nerve the cause of disease.)

"Can Chiropractic get me well." This is the one question that interests every sick man, woman and child.

Modern Science offers indisputable proof that it makes no difference whether your sickness is one of the eye, ear, throat, nose, heart, lungs, stomach, liver, kidneys, or any other part of your human machine. The CAUSE of sickness is always the same, namely, interference with the full flow of NERVE CURRENT by pressure of bones of the spine on delicate nerves, as they leave the spinal column..

Since Chiropractic has established the fact that the CAUSE of disease is nerve pressure obstructing the flow of vital current, then there can be only one logical method to get rid of disease. THE REMOVAL OF THE CAUSE.

We give you no drugs to poison your body—use no surgery to deprive you of useful organs—no artificial stimulation to force your tired heart to greater work, and no deadening of nerves to temporarily deaden your pain. All we do is to adjust the slightly misplaced bones of the spine to remove the CAUSE of your trouble...Consultation is free.

A proposed Amendment to the Constitution providing that Article XIII be amended by adding a section to be known as section 5, to read as follows:

Sec. 5. Subject to this Constitution the legislature may authorize municipalities, subject to reasonable limitations, to condemn and to take the fee to more land and property than is needed in the acquiring, opening and widening of parks, boulevards, public places, streets, alleys, or for any public use. and after so much of the land and property has been appropriated for any such needed public purpose, the remainder may be sold or leased with or without such restrictions as may be appropriate to the improvement made. Bonds may be issued to supply the funds to pay in whole or in part for the excess property so appropriated, but such bonds shall be a lien only on the property so acquired and they shall not be included in any limitation of the bonded indebtedness of such municipality.

This proposed amendment, if adopted, will empower the legislature to authorize municipalities to acquire land and property in excess of that needed for parks, boulevards, streets, etc., and issue bonds for the payment of same.

A proposed amendment to section 3 of Article X to read as follows:

Sec. 3. The legislature shall provide by law a uniform rule of taxation, except on property paying specific taxes, and taxes shall be levied on such property as shall be prescribed by law. Provision may be made by law for a tax of not to exceed four per centum upon or with respect to the net gains, profits and incomes, from whatever source derived, which tax may be graduated and progressive and which may provide for reasonable exemptions. For the purpose of such tax, property and persons, firms and corporations, upon which such tax may operate may be classified: Provided, That the legislature shall provide by law a uniform rule of taxation for such property as shall be assessed by the state board of assessors and the rate of taxation on such property shall be the rate which the state board of assessors shall ascertain and determine is the average rate levied upon other property upon upon which ad valorem taxes are assessed for state, county, township, school and municipal purposes.

This proposed amendment, if adopted, will authorize the enactment of an income tax law providing for a tax of not to exceed four per centum upon net gains, profits and incomes, and providing for a classification of property and persons upon which such tax may operate.

A proposed amendment to Article VIII, by adding section 30, to read as follows:

Sec. 30. The legislature may provide for the incorporation of ports and port districts, and confer power and authority upon them to engage in work of internal improvements in connection therewith.

This proposed amendment, if adopted, will authorize the legislature to provide for the incorporation of ports and port districts with power to engage in work of internal improvements in connection therewih.

THE POLLS of said election will be open at 7 o'clock a. m. and will remain open until 5 o'clock p. m., of said day of election, unless the Board of Election Inspectors shall, in their discretion, adjourn the Polls at 12 o'clock, noon, for one hour.

WORTH READING MANY TIMES THEN SAVE IT.

The following editorial written by our great Washington in one of the greatest state papers ever set before a free people is worth your most careful and thoughtful consideration.

Coming as it does from the past so fraught with wisdom and so full of consecrated devotion to the cause of a new but destined to be a great people, it seems most opportune that it should again be read most carefully in the light of the intervening history and the development of this great people.

We very gladly submit it to our readers for their careful consideration. Could anything be more worthy of our thoughtful duty to ourselves, our homes and our country?

POLITICAL PARTIES.

An editorial by George Washington, President of the United States, 1789-1797:

I have already intimated to you the danger of Parties in the State, with particular reference to the founding of them on Geographical discriminations.—Let me now take a more comprehensive view, and warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the Spirit of Party, generally.

This spirit, unfortunately, is inseparable from our nature, having its root in the strongest passions of the human mind.—It exists under different shapes in all Governments, more or less stifled, controlled, or repressed; but, in those of the popular form, it is seen in its great rankness, and is truly their worst enemy.—

The alternate domination of one faction over another, sharpened by the spirit of revenge, natural to party dissension, which in different ages and countries has perpetrated the most horrid enormities, is itself a frightful despotism.—But this leads at length to a more formal and permanent despotism.—The disorders and miseries, which result, gradually incline the minds of men to seek security and repose in the absolute power of an Individual: and sooner or later the chief of some prevailing faction, more able or more fortunate than his competitors, turns this disposition to the purposes of his own elevation, on the ruins of Public Liberty.

Without looking forward to an extremity of this kind (which nevertheless ought not to be entirely out of sight), the common and continual mischiefs of the spirit of Party are sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise People to discourage and restrain it.—

It serves always to distract the Public Councils, and enfeeble the Public administration.—It agitates the community with ill-founded jealousies and false alarms, kindles the animosity of one party against another, foments occasionally riot and insurrection.—It opens the doors to foreign influence and corruption, which find a facilitated access to the Government itself through the channels of party passions. Thus the policy and the will of one country, are subjected to the policy and will of another.

There is an opinion that parties in Free Countries are useful checks upon the Administration of the Government, and serve to keep alive the Spirit of Liberty.—This within certain limits is probably true—and in Governments of a Monarchical cast, Patriotism may look with indulgence, if not with favor, upon the spirit of party.—But in those of the popular character, in Governments purely elective, it is a spirit not to be encouraged.—From their natural tendency, it is certain there will always be enough of that spirit for every salutary purpose,—and there being constant danger, of excess, the effort ought to be, by force of public opinion, to mitigate and assuage it.—A fire not to be quenched; it demands a uniform vigilance to prevent its bursting into a flame, lest, instead of warming, it should consume.—

(From Washington's Farewell Address.)

A VERY GOOD REASON.

It has been established that out of every dollar's worth of food bought by the laboring man, that the farmer who raised it got exactly 37c and out of every dollar's worth of material produced by the laboring man and bought by the farmer, the laboring man gets 35c. Someone else gets the rest both ways.

That's the reason why the rest are so very anxious to keep the farmer and laboring man from getting together and the very best of reason why the Farmer-Labor Bloc should be formed air tight for the purpose of eliminating this unfair drain on the labor of both. Its coming and the millionairs know it but they are fighting desperately to prevent it as long as possible.

Mrs. Chas McDermott of Adrian spent Wednesday with her sister, Mrs. Chas. Cummings.

Mrs. A. J. Montgomery left Wednesday for Toledo where she will spend the week with her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Mize.

ACT QUICKLY

Do the right thing at the right time.

Act quickly in time of danger.

In time of kidney danger, Doan's Kidney Pills are most effective.

Plenty of Tecumseh evidence of their worth.

Ask your neighbor!

A. C. Aylesworth, vice-president Tecumseh State Telephone Co., W. Chicago St., Tecumseh, says: "I had severe attacks of lumbago, which I felt sure were caused by my kidneys being disordered. I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and began taking them. After using Doan's for a month or more, I was relieved of the trouble and I have had no more recurrence of it. I gladly recommend Doan's."

On May 8, 1920, Mr. Aylesworth said: "I think more highly of Doan's Kidney Pills today than when I recommended them before as the cure they made for me has been permanent."

MONDAY CLUB OBSERVES HISTORICAL DAY.

The regular meeting of the Monday Club was held Monday afternoon in the club rooms. The usual business session was held at which Mrs. Brockway and Mrs. Otis Sisson were elected members of the club.

The remainder of the afternoon was devoted to a historical program in charge of a committee of which Mrs. J. D. Shull, was chairman.

The program opened with a song "Michigan, My Michigan" by Mrs. S. Wyman with Mrs. Ella Hodges accompanist. Mrs. Wyman also gave a short history of the song.

This was followed by the address of the afternoon by Rev. Hewitt, well-known to all Tecumseh people. Rev. Hewitt chose for his subject, "Early Pioneer Life." This he divided into three parts, The Old Chicago Turnpike, Tecumseh and the Walker Tavern.

So well versed and interested was he in his subject, that he could easily thrill his audience with stories of those early days.

He spoke of the early pioneers as men of culture and distiction, and we can hardly realize that Tecumseh, as early as 1832 had two school houses, a grist mill, a saw mill, and a furniture factory and that David VanTyne was spoken of then as a skillful workman and cabinet maker.

The history of the Chicago Turnpike and the Walker Tavern are so replete with incidents of unusual interest that one could spend much time in studying them. The old Tavern has sheltered such people as Daniel Webster, J. Fennimore Cooper and Harriet Martineau with hundreds of others.

A vocal solo, "Ben Bolt," by Rev. H. B. Marsh accompanied by Mrs. Ella Hodges was pleasingly rendered.

Mrs. Robt. McCoy and Mrs. Baron Pennington gave a vocal duet, "The Old Fashioned House." Miss Edna Taylor acted as accompanist.

The club then had the great pleasure of having Miss May Noble of Adrian present, who danced the Minuet. So much was this enjoyed that Miss Noble responded to several encores.

TECUMSEH BOY DOPED.

Wakes Up In Coach Minus Coat And Watch After Taking Drink.

Drugged, when he accepted a drink, out of a bottle from a stranger early Monday morning, Alton McIntyre, of Tecumseh, said to be a student at Ypsilanti, was relieved of his watch and overcoat after having been left in an empty coach in the M. C. yards. Police detectives are engaged now in an effort to apprehend the man who proffered the bottle.

McIntyre, in company with Dale Bowen, also of Tecumseh, were bound for Ann Arbor, according to the police report and arrived at the Michigan Central station early Monday morning, too late for the train which they had hoped to ride. Meeting two men, they inquired as to where they might secure a room for the night and the men immediately offered to aid them. One of the men took Bowen in charge and procured a room for him in a rooming house over a downton restaurant.

The other man accompanied McIntyre in search of a place and in the course of their search, gave him a drink. When McIntyre regained consciousness he had been relieved of his watch and overcoat and was in an empty coach in the railroad yards.

ARE YOU FOR IT?

Now that we are all dolled up down town with a new pavement and plenty of room to drive in the middle of the street why not PARK RIGHT and then everyone can get in and out with ease and give much more room for others to park.

Every car should be parked close to the car on your left at an ANGLE of 45 degrees. If every car driver would do this, it would give room for many more cars to park than can do so with cars parked every which way.

The Herald is making this suggestion as we believe our gracious people will gladly park right as soon as they think about it which is far better than having rules made, but unless they do park right rules will have to be made.

How about it? Are you for correct parking? If so, park right yourself and encourage others to do so.

TECUMSEH TRIMS CLINTON.

Last Sunday afternoon at the Park, Tecumseh trimmed Clinton at the regulation game of football to the tune of 20-to-0.

Both teams were of the independent variety and although they had not played together before, they did remarkably well and showed that we have some real football material right here at home.

For Tecumseh, Glen Crittenden, Roy VanWinkle, Fray Croll, Elmer Hooten, Clyde Drewyor Louie Howe, Lawrence Harrington, Wiley McCann, Chauncey Harrison, and Ted Walton, together with others did the work.

It is planned to have a series of games with various independent teams and the followers of football will doubtless have much pleasure in seeing a local team play for the love of it and the glory of our town.

ENTERTAINS SUNDAY SCHOOL.

About forty members of the Methodist Sunday School were entertained by Mrs. W. L. Coller, Tuesday evening at their home on West Pottawatamie street.

Orange and black was the color scheme of the decorations, and black cats and jack-o-lanterns were used in profusion.

Games, music and the radio helped to make the evening pleasant. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

SCHOOLS CLOSED MONDAY AND TUESDAY.

The local schools were closed last Monday and Tuesday to allow the teachers to attend the Teachers' Institute.

The state laws require that Boards of Education shall close the schools so as to allow the teachers to attend these institutions and the teachers draw full pay for the time the schools are so closed.

Pres. J. H. Smith of the local board, said this morning that it was his understanding that in Indiana the law required teachers to make a report of every session they attended so that it was incumbent upon them to actually attend the sessions provided or lose her pay for the time the schools were closed. He further said that he believed it was a good law and insured that the teachers actually attended and received the benefits of the institutions which are provided for their training, or lose their pay.

Michigan has no law except that the schools shall be closed and sometimes teachers attend only a small part of the sessions or none at all and yet they receive their pay for the time the schools are closed.

It costs over $225 per day to run the local schools and the taxpayers are glad to provide this so that no teacher could possibly object to showing the board that they actually attend the sessions of the institute and presumably received the benefits that are supposed to come from these affairs which actually do provide the teacher with a fund of very useful information which better equips them to discharge their duties as a teacher.

Supt. E. E. Crampton reports that every Tecumseh teacher was in attendance at the Institute held at Jackson last Monday and Tuesday.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY HELD FINE MEETING.

Last Friday afternoon the Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church held a very interesting session at the church parlors, with Miss Nannie Kyle as leader.

After the business session, the following program was given:

Devotionals by Mrs. F. D. Rector.

Vocal duet—Mrs. S. W. Boyce and Miss Marjorie Boyce.

Story—Mrs. C. H. Kemp.

Paper on Japan—Mrs. Milburn Keyser.

Instrumental solo—Mrs. J. F. Kiskaddon.

Report of the Synodical Meeting at Petoskey—Miss Ida Park of Adrian.

This was a very interesting and instructive paper and much enjoyed by everyone.

After the session a social hour was held and a pot luck dinner served at which the men were invited and over fifty sat down to the tables. It was a very enjoyable affair throughout.

PAVING GOING ALONG NICELY.

The road east of town from the corners to the big bridge is completed and looks very fine in every particular. The big mixer certainly walks right along when the trucks can get the material to it.

The boulevard in the east end from Ottawa St. east is also going down rapidly, the north side being completed to the hill and the south side is down for about a block and a half. This will be completed this week if everything works favorable.

The down town sidewalks have all been completed and a very neat job has been done which makes the business section look fine. The wide sidewalks really are a great improvement and on Saturday night people had none too much room to get along wide as they are. Everyone remarked on the splendid appearance of the new pavement and the sidewalks.

From every appearance the contractors have put down an excellent job of work and everyone seems well pleased with it.

"TEMPLE'S DEPENDABLES" ENTERTAINED.

Mrs. John McIntyre opened her home Friday evening to the ladies class of the M. E. church who call themselves "Temple's Dependables," twenty-four being present.

A business session was held and the following officers elected for the coming year:

President—Mrs. Bert Fox.

Vice President—Mrs. James Foster.

Secretary—Mrs. Mertie Waring.

Treasurer—Mrs. Claud Gray.

The class decided to hold meetings once a month, and at each meeting to do some definite, useful work.

Games and music were enjoyed during the evening and a pot-luck supper was served.

THE NEIGHBORHOOD CLUB.

Mr. and Mrs. Raynor Benedict entertained the Neighborhood Club Monday evening at their farm home, twenty-five being present.

The rooms were decorated with the usual Hallowe'en colors and pumpkins which helped to make the evening a pleasant one. Games and stunts were played and refreshments were served.

First Number Is Great Success

Lockhart And Scotch Lassies Prove Royal Entertainers, High School Auditorium Filled To Capacity. Everyone Speaks Highly Of First Number.

The first number of the season's lecture course provided the people of Tecumseh by the high school seniors occurred at the high school auditorium last Friday night when J. Coates Lockhart and his Scotch Lassies gave a brilliant performance that royally entertained the big crowd from first to last.

The seniors have worked hard to give our people an excellent course and everyone speaks very highly of the first number and the people certainly were given a high class entertainment by this celebrated troup of players.

Mr. Lockhart has won fame as a tenor in the United States, Canada and England, singing with the leading opera and concert companies. He also toured the world as soloist with the well-kown Kilties Band. He has sung several times before European royalty. He is a native Scot, and specializes in Scotch songs and stories. The entire company for a big part of the program dress in the beautiful and picturesque Highland costume.

Mr. Lockhart's Scottish songs and humorous stories have the Harry Lauder flavor at its best Miss Ilene Davidson on the saxophone, Miss Mabel Forrester on the violin, and Miss Irene Masters at the piano are a most capable instrumental combination. All have splendid voices and all-round entertainment ability and accord Mr. Lockhart the finest support.

The entertainment certainly was a great success.

HARLOW SMITH DIED FOLLOWING OPERATION.

Harlow Smith, aged 67 years, died last Thursday at Ann Arbor after an operation which was performed at the U. of M. hospital.

Mr. Smith was a life long resident of Tecumseh and was well-known here having been a faithful worker in the community for many years. At one time he had charge of the oil wagon and later years had cared for the Baptist Church and performed other duties all faithfully and well.

The funeral services were held last Sunday at the Baptist Church and were under the charge of the U. R. K. P. which gave their most impressive services. The members turned out in force and the last rites over their departed comrade were indeed solemnly impressive and most fitting to the high standard of brotherly love which this order exemplifies.

Rev. Edward Escolme of the Friends Church conducted the church services and pronounced the funeral oration in a most exemplary manner, while a quartette posed of Mrs. R. S. Moore, Mrs. Ernest VanVleet, Justine Camp and Ernest Harris sang beautiful selections.

Burial was made in Brookside.

TREAT—RICHARDSON.

Miss Audrey Richardson, daughter of Mrs. Electa Richardson of Tecumseh and Harold Treat, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Treat of North Adrian, were united in marriage, Saturday noon, at Adrian, by Rev. Eckhard, pastor of North Adrian Methodist church. They were attended by Miss Gladys Bailey and Leon Gove of Tecumseh.

The bride wore a beautiful gown of brown canton crepe and Miss Bailey also was dressed in brown silk. Immediately after the ceremony they left for Flint to visit relatives.

They plan to make their home with Mrs. Richardson until spring when they will move to Hudson.

Mrs. Treat has been in the employ of the Tecumseh Telephone Company for some time and has many friends who wish them all the happiness possible.

CELEBRATES GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

Honoring the Golden Wedding Anniversary of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. McNeil, which occurred Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Silvers motored over from Clinton after the honored guests and took them to their home where a delicious dinner was served, after which the party went to Sand Lake and spent the afternoon.

Miss Lydia Florette Pennock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Pennock and Friend Archabel McNeil were united in marriage by the Rev. O. A. Ebehard at the Universalist parsonage in Adrian on October 29, 1872.

Both Mr. and Mrs. McNeil were born in Tecumseh and have always made this place their home. On account of an auto accident in which his wife was injured, their son, Leon McNeil of Fostoria, O. was unable to be with them.

Card of Thanks.

DEMOCRATIC RALLY TONIGHT (THURSDAY)

A big Democratic Rally is scheduled for tonight, (Thursday) at the Grange Hall at 7:30. Edward Frensdorf, James Helme and Henry I. Bourns are to be the speakers and they promise to give the people an interesting account of the how and why of high taxes.

This subject is being given careful attention by the voters at the present time and there is a strong tendency for the people to seek all the light possible on the subject, so it is expected that a large crowd will be present to hear these issues discussed.

Jas. Helme is a candidate for Congress against Earl Michener and Henry Bourns is a candidate for Prosecuting Attorney against Franklin Russell so that the people will have a chance to hear what these candidates stand for anyway.

BAD AUTO ACCIDENT.

Another bad accident occurred near Onsted last week when a horse and buggy driven by Mrs. John Erlingbush was struck by a truck driven by Harold Smith of Onsted and Mrs. Erlingbush killed outright and her companion, Mrs. Burt Rogers was seriously injured.

The ladies were driving north from Onsted and were about to turn onto the Chicago Pike at White's corners when the truck came around the corner and struck them squarely, throwing Mrs. Erlingbush under the front wheel of the truck which crushed her instantly. Mrs. Rogers was thrown out and severely hurt.

Mrs. Rogers states they saw the truck and turned out as much as possible but Mr. Smith said the glare of the sun on the windshield kept him from seeing the rig. Mr. Smith was later arrested and held pending the result of the investigation. It was a deplorable accident as Mrs. Erlingbush not only lost her own life but she leaves a husband and four small children to mourn their loss.

Several bad accidents have occurred near the scene of the latest one and certainly severe measures should be enacted to protect people on the highway from either accidental or malicious destruction by rapidly moving trucks and autos.

ENTERTAINS AT BIRTHDAY DINNER.

Mrs. Baron Pennington entertained at a six o'clock birthday dinner, Thursday evening in honor of the sixteenth birthday of Miss Helen Wescott. Autumn leaves and other fall decorations made the dining room very pretty, a birthday cake with sixteen candles on was used for a centerpiece on the table which was very prettily decorated with autumn leaves.

A pleasant social evening was enjoyed and Miss Wescott received many nice gifts.

Covers were laid for Miss Helen Wescott, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Pennington and baby, Miss Julia Gilmore and Mr. and Mrs. Baron Pennington.

ELECTION.

On next Tuesday the people will go to the polls and vote again. For many this is just a mere duty to be performed on election day without regard for what it means. To others it is a responsibility which he owes to his family, his country and himself to elect to office the men best fitted to make the laws of the land in the interest of everyone, the common people included.

It is for every man and woman to say what they think is best and who is best to carry out a program that will provide just and equitable laws in the land that are for the good of the entire people and not in the special interest of a few who seek to control the country for their special benefit.

The right to vote is a sacred obligation on the part of every voter which he must perform as the dictates of his own conscience directs and therefore it should be one of careful thought and entirely free from either party or private dictation. If a voter cannot tell for himself what he believed to be best for his own and his country's good, then it is questionable whether he should vote or not.

By all means go and vote as you believe best and then study the result of your vote during the coming term of office of the ones you voted for and see if you voted right. As soon as the people do this and demand that their representatives put laws on the statute books that stand squarely for the common people, or promptly retire from office, then the common people will get a measure of relief. Until then, we must continue to serve the special interests like good and faithful servants bound to them by the laws made by representatives we helped elect. We have no kick coming as long as we have the ballot. Use it right or take the consequences without complaint.

SPEED LAWS.

First we build splendid stone roads and then the Legislature legalizes autos to run on them at 35 miles per hour, a speed like an express train, and then we read of terrific smashups with loss of life and property.

We believe that when the speed limit was raised to 35 miles per hour that it was simply inviting accidents of a most deplorable nature. There is no necessity for such terrific speed, it simply is fun for the speed bug to see how fast his car can go regardless of the danger to himself or others travelling the highways.

All it takes is a little loose sand, a break in a bolt, a steering gear goes wrong, or someone else does not do what the speed bug thought they were going to do and someone is sent home dead to his family.

At night it is positively dangerous for anyone to drive on the highway and especially so with a horse and buggy and it seems that good sense would prevail soon and make it just as dangerous for the speed-bug to whirl along at a dizzy pace as it is for those he encounters.

A short time ago the Editor of this paper was driving behind a car which deliberately turned out of the road as least five feet to kill a drove of ducks that were walking beside the road. It happened he did not get them but his intentions were there nevertheless and many another careful driver can relate similar instances.

It is nothing at all to see chickens run down and some times this is impossible to prevent as they jump directly in the path of the car and cannot be avoided, but where every possible precaution is not taken for the preservation of animal or human life, the stiffest kind of a penalty should be exacted until every driver of a car is expertly careful to observe every right of life and property.

Cut down the speed limit and send up the violators is what is needed right now.

What one party rule has done to the taxpayers in this County:

LENAWEE COUNTY

	In 1916	In 1921	In 1922
Total State tax levied in Lenawee County	$134,359	$ 299,269	$ 250,132
County tax	35,189	116,458	147,277
Total levy in County on all taxable property	647,975	1,775,696	1,746,582

Taxes levied in Lenawee in 1921 totaled one-third the State tax ten years ago.

The supervisors allowed Sheriff, Deputy Sheriffs, Constable accounts as follows:

Highest year of Lafe Knowles, etc	$ 8,996
Highest year of Charles Henig, etc	9,087
March, 1919, to March 1920, Fred Nutten	16,268
March 1920 to March 1921, Fred Nutten, etc	13,410
March 1921 to March 1922, Ford VanDusen,	16,341

ANOTHER BANNER YEAR

During the April session, 1922, of the Board of Supervisors, the Sheriff, Deputy Sheriffs, and Constable account were allowed to the extent of $1,671.89.

For the June session of the Boardthey allowed like accounts amounting to $4,159.96, and during the October session of the Board just held, they allowed like accounts in the sum of $5,722.35, making a total of $11,554.18.

SOME HIGH SPOTS

During said time the Sheriffs bills amounted to	$3,326.40
Under-Sheriff Weatherby	1,306.33
Deputy Pelham	856.68
Deputy Thurlby	614.25
Deputy Shaw	1,016.72
Deputy VanDusen	750.70
Deputy Keinath	468.67
Deputy Underwood	213.01
Deputy Tuggle	1,163,49

The above county figures are taken from the official proceedings of the Board of Supervisors.

The Sheriff and his Deputies have been very thrifty as the above figures will show and there are still five and one-half months left in the official year which began in March 1922; there are thirteen other deputies. The Prosecuting officers have permitted these costs to soar, and the future can be judged from the past.

Henry I. Bourns, if elected Prosecutor, will control the situation as the law requires and will cut out all excessive and unnecessary costs and will protect the county and the taxpayers. Mr. Bourns started this fight for you and every deputy is trying to defeat him. You can depend upon him to help cut expenses. Something has got to be done and you can depend upon Mr. Bourns to do it. He knows how hard the farmer is hit by lo wprices and high taxes. He gives you facts and figures and tells you what he will do and where he stands. He will enforce all laws honestly and impartially. If you are tired of high taxes and these conditions, vote for Henry I. Bourns, for Prosecuting Attorney on the Democratic Ticket.

Don't "Buy" Tires

Invest in them. Consider a tire as an investment from which you will receive returns in the form of long wear, cushioning and traction. Without anyone of these returns, your investment is not a good one.

When you buy bonds, what do you consider? The color of the paper or the gilt on the edge? No. Instead you consider the integrity and the resources of the firm behind it—also the firm you are buying from.

TEAM RUNS AWAY.

Chas Bennett was working with his team on the McCoy hill on North Maumee St. Wednesday morning about eight o'clock, when the back wheels of the wagon ran into a chuck hole and the horses ran away. Mr. Bennett was tangled in the lines and when the horses started, the seat was thrown off and he was dragged several feet, receiving a bad cut on the head and badly bruising the right arm and hand.

The team ran into town on the pavement before anyone could stop them, the gravel that was in the wagon being scattered along the road.

Mr. Bennett was taken to Dr. Conklin's office for treatment and was able to be on the street in the afternoon with his head and hand well banaged.

JEWETT SAYS REPUBLICANS WILL WIN.

According to Henry R. Jewett, chairman of the County Committee, the entire Republican ticket from United States Senator down to coroners, will receive very substantial pluralities in Lenawee Co. at the coming election.

Senator Townsend conceived the St. Lawrence waterway project. His influence and efforts have been directed towards establishing this waterway. The benefits to be derived by Michigan, in case of its successful completion, is incalculable. The Senator is Chairman of the committee on Post Offices and Post Roads and is ranking member of the committee on Interstate Commerce. The voters realize that if Mr. Ferris is elected, Michigan will lose this prestige, and will also lose the advantages derived from the influence acquired by the long and honorable service of Senator Townsend. The voters will re-elect the Senator.

Governor Groesbeck has reduced in this county the direct property State tax, $49,137.16, under that of last year, and promises further reduction, if he is re-elected. The voters will re-elect the Governor, thus giving him the full opportunity of carrying on the plans which he has formulated for the reduction of Michigan taxes.

Congressman Michener and the Republican Legislative, and County tickets will receive very large pluralities. Those who are running for re-election, have filled their respective positions with marked success. The candidates on the Republican ticket who are before the voters for the first time, are men of ability and deserve the hearty support of every voter. The entire ticket will receive the united support of Republicans, and also many of the opposite political faith.

I predict a Republican plurality in this County of from 3000 to 5000.

Have two berry farms for sale, inside corporation. Real money getters as they are all set out in small fruits, ready for the buyers to step in and reap the coin.

Brick cottage in best residence district. All modern. Double lot making a second splendid building site. Can buy whole for about half the cost of building a small home.

Double lot and old house just one block from center of town, only $550. Good lot for business house.

A farm of 100 A in Raisin township, to take Ann Arbor or Tecumseh property in exchange.

Farm of 80 A, 3 miles south of Saline, has new house, basement barn, silo, many other buildings, to go for $90 per A. Will take residence in Tecumseh in part payment.

Two Mull houses on West Kilbuck are now on my list. Have been marked way down. Both are never idle, but good investments. Have city water in kitchen, inside toilets and lights. In good residence district.

Also Lavern Austin's home only a block from business district. Splendid location and a pleasant home. This is also going cheap.

FOR RENT

Part of house on corner of Pearl and Shawnee. Partially modern.

Mrs. Snell's store building is being remodeled into a two-family dwelling. Full bath above, toilet below. One block from four corners.

Five rooms in best residence district. Garage.

Now comes another feature of this business—Insurance. Look over your policies (do it now) and see if you have the protection necessary to these hard times. Remember $800 or $1000 will not replace your home, neither will it furnish many rooms. Then, too, tornado insurance protects the chimney or corner of the roof or porch which the blasts of winter are liable to demolish.

Have connection with companies which will insure any line you desire. Call 33 and I'll look you up.

ADRIAN QUARTERLY MEETING HELD AT FRIENDS CHURCH.

Rev. F. H. Tormohlen and the Misses Sams and Shefmire began a series of meetings at the Friends Church, Wednesday. Much interest is being manifested in them.

The Quarterly Meeting was held Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Many ministers from away attended the Friday afternoon and evening sessions.

Delegates from all over the Quarter were present Saturday. Rev. Samuel Mosher of Cardington, Ohio, yearly meeting supt., gave a very impressive sermon Saturday morning on "Jesus Our Saviour from Sin."

Dinner was served at noon by the ladies after which the business session was held, nearly all delegates being present at roll call.

The evangelistic party held a street meeting on the four corners before the evening meeting. Rev. Tormohlen in the evening service preached one of his stirring sermons, urging the church people to live up to their privileges.

The three meetings on Sunday were very largely attended, the evangelist preaching at each one. Ministers present from out of town were: Rev. John Bartow of Rollin; Rev Chas. Bailey of Adrian; Rev. H. H. Green of Raisin Center; Rev. and Mrs. Howard Moore and Rev. Forrest Willis of Ypsilanti; singing evangelist Clarence Cosand of Damascus, Ohio; Rev. Thos. O. Wilcox of Milan, Ohio; Rev. Samuel Mosher of Cardington, Ohio; Rev. Chas. Haworth of VanWert, Ohio; Rev. Willis Cook of Raisin Valley and Rev. Frank Harris of Rollin.

Mrs. P. C. Snell returned Thursday from a week's visit in Detroit with her daughter, Mrs. J. A. Davis and family.

Tecumseh Polls 261 Democroeic Votes

Only 245 Straight Republican Votes Cast. Never Known Before. Groesbeck Loses Township and Village by 88. Townsend Won Here by 16.

One of the indications that the people are vigorously protesting against such high taxes is the fact the Democrats polled 261 straight votes in Tecumseh Township and village against 245 for the Republicans.

Only 837 ballots were cast which is barely a two-thirds vote and the rest of the vote was split all along the line, the principal split being on sheriff and prosecutor.

Beasley carried the precincts here by 18 majority and Russell received 40 majority over Bourns. The hot campaign made by Bourns [illegible] carried considerable weight throughout the county and his attack on the sheriff's expenses evidently appealed to the people who are demanding lower taxes and less expense. It will be up to the newly elected now to make good on their election promises.

Cummins beat Groesbeck in Tecumseh by 88 and Townsend only carried this town by 14 majority, another strong indication that the people are protesting vigorously against the party in power during the time that taxes have grown by leaps and bounds no matter whether they were responsible or not.

Michener carried this county by a very substantial majority considering how the others fared and it shows the people yet believe in the young attorney who has served two terms in Washington and he escaped the wrath of the people nicely.

The defeat of VanDusen and Russell was taken as a result of the Democratic slide throughout the county from the Governor down assisted by the vigorous campaign put on by the Democrats in their attacks on the sheriff's expenses together with the local conditions in various parts of the county, instead of any personal feelings against these two men.

The women vote is just as much an uncertainty as ever and those who essayed to analyze that were very much at sea.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MEETS.

The executive committee of the Parent-Teachers Association met at the home of Mrs. W. D. Reed, Tuesday evening to make plans for the year's work.

A lecture for High School girls will be given in the near future by Dr. Walker of the U. of M. Mother's Meetings in the grades will be a feature of the November work.

It was decided to give a Christmas entertainment by the pupils of all departments at which time a small admission fee would be charged, in order to have some funds in the treasury for the purpose of paying expenses of speakers, etc.

A membership drive will be made soon and membership cards will be circulated for signature by parents and all people interested in Tecumseh Schools.

GAVE CARD PARTY AND DANCE.

The Rebekah Lodge held a card party and dance in their hall Friday evening, with an attendance of about one hundred, many being present from Britton and Adrian lodges.

In the Pedro games first places were won by Mrs. John Jensen and B. W. Mominee and the consolations by Rollo Wilkins and Mrs. Ernest Topps.

An excellent lunch was served by Mrs. John Sherman and her committee, Mrs. Russell Thurlby, Mrs. Chas. Lowe, Geo. Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. George Cole and Mrs. Albert Foster, and $14 was cleared.

HOME RESTAURANT SOLD.

E. J. Updyke has sold the Home Restaurant to Roy Pritchard. Mr. and Mrs. Updyke have run this restaurant for the past year and a half, and have given excellent service to the public, making many friends who will miss them from our Main Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Prichard will be well able to carry on the business, having had considerable experience along this line. They will take possession the fifteenth and after doing some remodeling, plan to have an opening day, full announcement to be made later.

Mr. Updyke states that his future plans are indefinite.

Ferris Is Elected By 18,000 Majority

Cummins Wins Over Groesbeck In This County. Income Tax Amendment Lost By Big Majority. Michener Carries County By 1100. New York Goes Democrat. Complexion Of Congress In Doubt.

The Democrats came back last Tuesday by taking over New York and several congressmen from other Republican districts throughout the country enough to make the complexion of the next congress in doubt.

Lenawee County returned a majority for both Cummins and Ferris and the Democrats captured both the sheriff's office and that of prosecuting attorney. It was a big day for the Democrats in this county and gave them much encouragement as they had waxed a hot campaign and the people registered a protest vote against high taxes and high costs of everything that the Democrats could challenge.

Evans slid in by 364 majority while Tecumseh gave him only 55 majority all of which is very significant in this solid Republican stronghold and his home bailiwick. Frees beat his opponent by only 482 which is also a much closer margin than normal. Horton was unopposed and received a large vote.

The rest of the county ticket went through by liberal majorities and there seemed to be no concerted attack against any of the Republican candidates.

Although Groesbeck was elected he did not carry this county and the people throughout the state registered a heavy protest vote against him judging from normal Republican majorities. [illegible] was unexpected in some quarters but many knew that there was a great state of unrest and that the people have had their fill of extortionate taxes which are fast putting the farmers out of business.

The income tax amendment lost heavily as the people positively refuse to give the Lansing crowd in charge of affairs now any more money to spend on any pretext whatsoever, and if our worthy representatives do not take notice of it, they will find the skids under them properly at the next trial.

It also looks like a Democrat governor in Ohio although the Republicans doubtless captured the U. S. Senator. LaFollette was reelected in Wisconsin by over 200,000 while Edwards in N. J. beat his Republican opponent by a substantial majority. The Democrats gained 25 seats in Congress from New York alone.

M. E. LADIES HELD FAIR AND SUPPER.

The ladies of the M. E. Church held their annual fair and chicken-pie supper Thursday in the church parlors which were very attractive with the booths decorated with bright crepe paper and fall decorations.

The fancy work booth was taken care of by Mrs. F. E. Smalledge and Mrs. Oscar Lidke, the apron booth by Mrs. Claud Gray, Mrs. Arthur Harding and Mrs. Edward Everett, the confectionery booth by Mrs. Homer Whaley and Mrs. Mertie Waring, the notion booth by Mrs. S. Buler and Mrs. S. Wyman and the vegetable and fruit booth by Mrs. Lyman Howe and Mrs. Wm. Waldron.

The various booths contained many beautiful things which sold rapidly.

There were two hundred people served at the chicken-pie supper and when the receipts were counted the ladies were very pleased to learn they had cleared $200.

POT-LUCK DINNER.

A very pleasant afternoon and evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Murphy Sr. on Wednesday, Nov. 1st. when some of their old time neighbors of Macon township and a few other friends and relatives called to renew friendships established many years ago.

These included Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Gibson Sr., Mrs. William Gibson Jr. and children and Mrs. John Mooney of Lake Ridge; Mrs. Thomas Boyd, Mrs. David Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Younglove and children, Mrs. Louis Feldman and children, Mrs. Alex Gibson and family of Britton; Mrs. Nancy Boyd and Mrs. Louis Kehoe and son David of Tecumseh.

A bountiful pot-luck dinner was served. Many recollections of some of their experiences of the earlier days were recalled and the entire day was enjoyed by all.

Musical Program Is Greatly Enjoyed

Special Numbers Provided by Mrs. F. B. Wood and Mrs. R. S. Moore Highly Entertains Audience. Little Folks Are Charm of Afternoon.

The regular meeting of the Monday Club was held on Monday afternoon at the club rooms, with the president, Dr. Bredow presiding. The rooms were beautifully decorated with crysanthemums and a large number present.

At the business meeting five new members were added to the club roster, namely, Mrs. Claire Dickinson, Mrs. Amenzo VanValkenburg, Mrs. W. A. Raymond, Mrs. Fred Poucher and Mrs. Elmer Harris. The resignations of Mrs Karl Braman and Mrs. Alva Waring were accepted. Mrs. C. N. Graebner was appointed chairman of the Committee on Correction and Charities in place of Mrs. Vera Hodges who resigned her club membership last week.

The program for the afternoon was in charge of Mrs. F. B. Wood, chairman of the musical committee. Mrs. Wood presented a musical program of great charm to the crowded house acting as accompanist also to some of the numbers.

The first number, a piano duet, "LeHuguenots," by Mrs. C. H. Williamson and Mrs. F. S. Turner was much enjoyed. A vocal solo, "In the Chimney Corner," by Mrs. E. N. Billings with Mrs. F. B. Wood accompanist, was so well received that Mrs. Billings responded to repeated applause. The club then had the pleasure of hearing Mr. Wilbur Boyce sing the "Star Rosary," by DeKoven. Mr. Boyce was accompanied by his sister, Miss Marjorie Boyce and he also responded to an encore.

At this point in the program the little folks of the Kindergarten under the direction of Mrs. Ketcham, presented several numbers giving their little morning prayer, a song of "Leaves on the Tree," and several orchestra numbers that caused the greatest applause. The orchestra was conducted with Mrs. Ketcham at the piano, Billie Magley drummer, and Merval Mattis and Edna Breck leaders. The performance would have been a distinct credit to far older pupils and was one of the cleverest numbers ever presented to the club by such little people. Tecumseh is indeed fortunate in having such a teacher as Mrs. Ketcham to start our little folks in such a splendid manner.

Two numbers, "[illegible]" and "[illegible]" by Mrs. Eugene Rosacrans, accompanied by Mrs. Ella Hodges were beautifully rendered and Mrs. Rosacrans very graciously responded to an encore.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. DeWolfe of Detroit added greatly to the program, Mr. DeWolfe rendering, "The Old Refrain," by Kreisler, and by request, "I Hear You Calling Me." So much was Mr. DeWolfe appreciated that he too responded to an encore. Mrs. DeWolfe's piano numbers, "Chopin's Nocturne" and "The Russian Waltz" were very artistically rendered.

A vocal solo, "The Scarcecrow" by Mr. Fred Dickinson, accompanied by Mrs. Dickinson was given in his usual pleasing manner.

Tecumseh has an unusual array of musical talent, one that cannot be equalled in any city of our size and it is a great pleasure to find we have another singer of note in the Rev. H. J. B. Marsh, who sang, "Oh Genevieve" and "Little Gray Home in the West." Mrs. Hodges acted as accompanist.

BIG DANCE ARMISTICE NIGHT

The Ladies Band will give a big dance at Witherell Hall next Saturday night, Nov. 11th (Armistice Night) to which the general public is invited.

The Band Girls are certainly a bunch of live wires and when they give a dance you can be assured of a genuine good time. They have engaged first class music and the hall is one of the best around so that all you have to do is to put on your slickers and glide around in syncopated elegance.

Also the girls deserve the very best of support for the efforts they put forth in behalf of the town so come along and bring your friends. The next dance they will give will be on Thanksgiving night so you can lay your plans now for another elegant dance.

PRESBYTERIAN C. E. HOLDS SOCIAL.

The Christian Endeavor of the Presbyterian Church held a business meeting and social Tuesday evening at the church parlors. A constitution and pledge was adopted during the business meeting and Miss Madaline Boyce was elected Recording Secretary and Miss Marjorie Boyce, pianist.

There were about thirty in attendance and Miss Mildred Boyce and Rev. Kiskaddon were present. Games, stunts and music made the evening an enjoyable one and refreshments were served.

The house was very cleverly decorated in fall attire and the affair was most enjoyable to everyone. Covers were laid for thirty guests.

MISS KYLE'S SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS MEETING.

Mrs. John Snow was hostess to Miss Kyle's Sunday-school class of the Presbyterian Church, Tuesday evening, there was a good attendance and after a short business session the following program was given:

Singing by the class, an original poem written by Mrs. Willis Smith, entitled, "Our Annual Class Party" was read by Miss Kyle and caused quite a bit of amusement.

Vocal solo by Mrs. Billings.

Piano solo by Maxine Wyrill.

A Thanksgiving Story was read by Mrs. Milburn Keyser.

At the close of the program, a Thanksgiving contest was indulged in, followed by a social time, a very pleasant evening was spent and the class will meet Dec. 5 at the home of Mrs. James Cupples.

HIGH SCHOOL CLASS PARTIES

The Seniors, Juniors and Sophomores enjoyed class parties Friday evening.

A very interesting game of Indoor Baseball was played, beside other games and stunts. Refreshments were served.

A Peanut Contest and a Candy Contest were enjoyed, for which prizes were given. Miss Josephine Saums and Miss Eleanor Caldwell won first prizes and Miss Catherine [illegible]. Refreshments were served.

The Sophomores enjoyed a Hallowe'en Masquerade at the country home of Riley Wise, Teachers Misses Dean, Wolf, Griffin and Wimple.

Nearly all of the fifty-six present were masked in various costumes, and Floyd Ruesink won the prize for identifying the most.

The usual Hallowe'en games and stunts were enjoyed and refreshments appropriate to the occasion were served.

HESSELGRAVE—PRUYNE.

Miss Virginia Pruyne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Pruyne of this place and Virgil Hesselgrave, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hesselgrave of Brooklyn, were united in marriage Sunday morning at the M. E. parsonage by the Rev. H. J. B. Marsh, the ring service being used. They were attended by Edward Davis of Jackson and Miss Grace Hesselgrave of Brooklyn. The bride wore a traveling suit of blue.

Mrs. Hesselgrave graduated from the T. H. S. with the class of '22 and has since helped in the local telephone office of which her father is manager. She has a large circle of friends among the younger set of town.

Mr. Hesselgrave is a veteran of the late war and runs a garage at Jackson. They will be at home to their friends after November 10th at 1117 Frances St., Jackson, Mich.

BEECHER HOWELL ELECTED SENATOR.

Tecumseh people will be interested to learn that R. B. Howell, a former Lenawee County boy was elected to the U. S. Senate from Nebraska.

This is good news and everyone back home will be pleased to hear of his success. The Herald mentioned some time ago that this son of old Lenawee had a good chance to gather in a Senatorial Toga and we are pleased to learn that he has done so.

ACCEPTS NEW POSITION.

H. A. Perry who has been with the Puritan Sand & Gravel Co. for some time has resigned and accepted a position as Sec'y and Gen. Manager of the Pleasant Lake, Ind. Sand & Gravel Co.

Mr. Perry is an engineer of wide experience and has been very successful in his calling. He will make a very valuable man for the Company with which he has identified himself and it is a pleasure to know that for the present at least he will retain his residence here.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Goodrich of Jackson were guests Sunday of her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. E. Panchorn. Mrs. Goodrich remained for a longer visit.

Big Circus Coming Friday Night--Go

High School Athletic Association Will Put On Event Of Season. Biggest Collection of Star Performers, Wild Animals, Clowns, and World's Freaks Ever Seen Under One Top. Go.

Tecumsehites will have the pleasure of seeing a gigantic show that would make Barnum green with envy, next Friday night, Nov. 10, at the high school gymnasium.

It's the event of the season and you will see the greatest collection of acrobatic and other batic performers, together with aerial feats that eclipse the world's best all under one top and for one admission.

There will be funny clowns galore and wild animals from the lofty mountains down to the denizens of the jungles, all perfectly tamed and can be seen without fear of being eaten alive.

Freaks collected from the sands of Sahara and from the ice fields of Alaska will be on exhibition for the enlightenment of the people. Monkeys that would make an African Simean die of laughter will be there grinning at everyone while the White Elephant and the Red Zebra will astonish the people with the wonderful things nature has done to their coats.

The ant-eater will not bite your aunt and the horned toad will not chase your grandad, but the monkeys will catch every penny you throw to them.

If you miss this circus you will have lost a big part of your material existence and you are solemnly warned that you must not feed the laughing hyeans gold fish as the bones might stick in their throats and tickle them so they would laugh themselves to death.

Come one, come all, and see the biggest circus you ever attended and have one evening's solid enjoyment.

MERRY-GO-ROUND ENTERTAINED.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Heesen, Mrs. Ella Glover and Mr. and Mrs. John Heesen entertained the Merry-Go-Round Club, Tuesday evening at the R. A. Heesen home on West Chicago Street.

A delicious two-course dinner was served at six-thirty after which "500" was played by the ten tables of members present.

The rooms were very cheerful with their decorations of bitter-sweet and [illegible] vases of yellow crysanthemums [illegible] each table. The two head ladies winning places were Mrs. Thos. McCann and Mrs. E. E. Hendershot, the two head gentlemen, Herbert Temple and G. B. Garlinghouse.

The club will be entertained in two weeks at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Moore who will be assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Vern Russell.

Mrs. J. F. Kiskaddon conducted the devotionals and Mrs. H. S. Bredow led the discussion on the third chapter of the study book, "Lighted to Lighten." Many interesting points were brought up for discussion. Refreshments were served.

MRS. DANIEL CHASE PASSES AWAY.

Mrs. Daniel Chase died Tuesday morning at six-thirty at her home on East Chicago Street. She was eighty years old and had been a resident of Tecumseh for the last sixty-six years. Her husband died in 1910.

Miss Elizabeth Montague was born September 23, 1842 at Danville, Pa. She became the wife of Daniel Chase in September 1859, and to this union six children were born, Miss Ida Chase and Fred Chase of Tecumseh; Miss Myra Chase of Laurimer; Comfort Chase of Dowagiac; Mrs. Claud Wixom of Detroit, and Miss Elizabeth Chase of Hespenia, Mich.

Mrs. Chase had been in failing health for the past four years and her death was caused by paralysis. She was always a kind, patient mother and a faithful member of the Baptist church and the large circle of friends she has made will miss her.

The funeral will be held this afternon at the home at 2 o'clock, Rev. Curtis of Monroe officiating. Burial at Brookside.

The Westminster Guild of the Presbyterian Church held a Coffee Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. N. Graebner on West Chicago Street.

SHOOTERS MAKE HIGH SCORES.

Last Monday afternoon a trio of local shooters hied themselves to the park and did some fancy shooting that looks as if Tecumseh could put up a real team when it comes to breaking blue rocks except that these were pink rocks instead.

W. Aldrich, W. Damon and Cap Horn were the guilty parties and out of fifty birds, Aldrich broke 45, Damon broke 43 and Horn broke 45. This is a splendid record for this trio of shooters and it is hoped to pull off a handicap shoot in the near future.

BRIDGE CLUB HOLDS ANNUAL PICNIC.

The Bridge Club held their annual picnic Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frank Turner on West Chicago Street.

A chicken dinner was served at one o'clock, covers being laid for the sixteen members of the club. The tables were very prettily decorated with bittersweet and autumn leaves. During the afternoon the ladies enjoyed a social time.

SAFETY + SERVICE

Let There Be War Without Armistice!

November 11th we again commemorate the signing of the Armistice which closed the World War.

To make peace in the interest of humanity, to lay aside hatred and malice, is the part of great nations, of great people.

There are greater dangers, however, than war or invasion. One is a mode of living which inevitably turns life's freedom into a harrassed existence.

Against EXTRAVAGANCE, public and private, let there be war without armistice! Unchecked it can from within destroy a whole nation!

ALL OVER—BUT.

Now that election is over and the candidates safely elected for another two years, we can settle down to earning enough to pay our taxes and discharge our final duties to our government.

No doubt most of os thought that we were voting our choice, but the fact is that everyone who did not vote at the primaries had no choice for he had to vote for those candidates whom someone had nominated.

The real choice that can be expressed is at the primary where but a few of the tried and true come out and vote. The large number who stay at home for one reason or another, come out and vote at election time but when they vote for the other fellow's candidate.

They have passed by the one great opportunity to help nominate those of their individual choice. And better still if the people who pay the taxes would bestir themselves to circulate nomination papers and get men to run who would do something for the farmer and the home owner, then the voters would be discharging his real duty to himself and family.

Voting for the other fellow's candidate is far from discharging our duty. Its merely playing the game of politics as a filler-in while the ring leaders do the actual work.

Yes election is over, but the fiddler is not paid. That comes next and will begin about the first of the next month. Maybe after while the people will take a real interest and come out to the primaries.

Michael Blouch spent part of the week in Monroe.

Mr. and Mrs. John Mohr and daughter of Tipton spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gafner.

On Thursday evening friends completely surprised Mrs. Sylvia Hall and Frank Hoagland at the home of Mr. Hoagland. The evening was spent in visiting. Refreshments were served. Mrs. Hall left Friday for her home in Tecumseh, after a long stay at the home of Mr. Hoagland.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Calhoun and son Lyle, attended the funeral of an aunt, Mrs. Susan Linn, in Britton on Monday.

Relatives from Holloway attended the funeral of Herman Speller near Blissfield on Saturday. He was accidently killed when his car struck new gravel in the road and overturned near the Oliver Schneerer home.

DODGE BROTHERS
MOTOR CAR

The evenness of performance so often remarked in Dodge Brothers Motor Cars is due, in no small part, to the thoroughness with which each unit is inspected during the process of manufacture and assembly.

A trained staff of 800 experts is employed in this work alone, and approximately 5285 individual inspections are made on each car.

So exacting and rigid are the standards applied to these inspections that the slightest variation either in workmanship or material is instantly discovered and rejected.

Dodge Brothers are almost over-scrupulous in their constant aim to make each car as sound and perfect as is humanly possible.

AGE MATTER OF COMPARISON

Actual Passing of the Years Really Has Little to Do With Coming of Decrepitude.

John R. Voorhis, president of the board of commissioners of New York city, recently celebrated his ninety-third birthday by doing his usual day's work. He arose at 4:30, his usual time, and after his usual hearty breakfast walked as usual to his office more than a mile away.

Being ninety-three doesn't mean anything unusual to this man whose span of life has been two-thirds as long as that of the American republic.

Age is, after all, remarks Thrift, greatly a matter of comparison. A few days before Mr. Voorhis' birthday he said that, while walking briskly to his office one morning, he noticed a seventy-five-year-old man feebly hobbling along the street, tottering with every step and seeming to have a terrible time to navigate even at the slowest pace.

"It was a great pity," commented Mr. Voorhis, on this sad spectacle, "to see such a young man so nearly disabled by old age."

Yes, it's largely a matter of comparison.

At sixteen, forty is old age; at ninety-three, seventy-five is youth. The actual years count for naught. More and more we find this out.

CALLED ON FOR MUCH WORK

Amount of Labor Performed by the Human Heart Is Almost Beyond Power of Description.

The heart of one man in a lifetime pumps as much blood through the body as the blood weight of the 10,000,000 men killed during the war, according to Dr. J. Plesch, a professor in the Berlin Medical school, an authority on blood circulation and the first man to perfect a system for measuring the blood content of the human body.

"The heart of a man weighing 133 pounds and living sixty years," he said, "pumps during the course of his life 161,500,000 quarts of blood. The World war cost 10,000,000 lives. Estimating the average weight of a man's body at 133 pounds and the weight of the blood content at 5 per cent of the total, some 21,400,000 quarts of blood were shed during the war."

Professor Plesch used this illustration to show how much more powerful is this marvel of nature than the destruction which mankind with the most ingenious instruments of warfare was able to inflict upon itself in five years of despefate effort.

Ask Me Again.

A few days ago a friend called me up to ask how to make a mint julip, writes Russell Seeds, in the Indianapolis Star. On being assured that he was not joking, but really had the makings, I scented possibilities and sailed in with enthusiasm. I told him how to crush the ice fine and pour it into the tall glass, then put in a couple of sprigs of smashed mint and the granulated sugar and add a stiff thimble of genuine bourbon and shake it up, and then decorate the top with a bonquet of fresh mint and watch until the frost had formed on the glass.

"Thank you so much! Come down some time and we'll have one together."

But do you think I let him get away? On your life, no! They have slipped me that "some time" stuff for the last time. I have seen too many enchanting visions of house parties and week ends fade and die on the waiting list. I thanked him profusely and told him I'd be there in fifteen minutes. And I was!

Jap or Chinese.

The eldest son of the mayor of Jeffersonville, who is about nine years old, is a shrewd observer and no doubt marks what his elders say. He can, however, find his own way of expressing himself. He was in a newspaper office a few days ago when an eastern "drummer" came in, showed his wares, and said he would call again. A discussion ensued in the office whether the visitor was a Chinese or Japanese, when Hiram spoke up: "He said he would come back. If he does, he is a Chinese, but if he doesn't come back you can know he is a Japanese." Evidently the Chinese have an enviable reputation, in Hiram's judgment, for "truth and veracity."—Indianapolis News.

The Gambler's Paradise.

It looks as if half the population of New South Wales and Queensland will be getting its living presently by gambling in one way or another with the other half. Dr. Arthur, M.L.A., of the former state, remarked recently that "in spite of the financial depression and unprecedented unemployment, though all productive industry languished last year—factories closed, mines ceased working and land-settlement nearly came to a halt—the returns from the tax on admission to racecourses, from the totalizator and from bookmakers' tickets have all increased.—Sydney Bulletin.

Russian Atrocities.

The cheka, according to Bolshevik official figures, executed 1,760,118 persons before being renamed the supreme political administration last February. The total includes 6,775 professors and teachers; 8,800 doctors; 355,250 other intellectuals; 1,243 priests; 54,650 officers; 260,000 soldiers; 59,000 policemen; 12,950 landowners; 192,350 workmen; 815,100 peasants. During the civil war the Bolsheviki have had more killed than all Russia during the great war.

PREPARING FUEL FOR WINTER USE

Power Saws Enable Farmer to Utilize His Own Wood Lot With Very Little Expense.

GASOLINE ENGINE IS USEFUL

Coal Dealers Are Finding It Difficult to Obtain Sufficient Supply for All Their Customers—Skidway Saves Time.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

A man, by taking thought, can grow a good tree in a lifetime, but it required all the inscrutable forces in nature's laboratory, working for ages and ages, to make the coal which we now use so generously to run our mills and railroads, to heat our dwellings and drive our ships. By the exercise of care and foresight the farmer can assure himself of a supply of wood, but when the supply of coal is gone it will be gone forever.

Easier to Use Coal.

The large amount of labor required in preparing firewood for the stove has kept many farmers from using wood for fuel. It has been much easier to drive in to the nearest coal dealer and draw home a few tons of fuel already prepared for the stove. This winter, with coal touching top prices, the coal dealers are finding it difficult to obtain a supply sufficient for all their customers. Some of these customers must use coal, for the reason that wood is even harder for them to get; but the farmer with a wood lot is not in this class, and he will find it profitable to see how far modern machinery can replace the expensive hand labor in filling the shed with home-grown fuel.

A gasoline engine is a convenient farm-power unit. This machine will furnish the energy for operating the wood-sawing machines and will earn its original price long before it has been worn out. The greater the length in which the wood can be cut and handled the less will be the cost of getting up the fuel supply. A power saw will make a cut much more quickly and economically than a man can make it with an ax. If a good skidway is built so that heavy poles and logs can be rolled up to the table of the saw, it will save a good many minutes with a man-operated crosscut saw or the slower ax. When the wood is being cut for the market it is usually cut into four-foot lengths, but such lengths are not necessary when the object is to get a supply of split wood for the farm kitchen and "chunks" for the big stove or furnace.

There is always an element of danger about a saw table that cannot be entirely eliminated by any safety devices yet on the market. The careful farmer will have these devices put on his saw, but he will take the additional precaution of keeping his hands and loose pieces of wood away from the moving saw blade. It never pays the sawyer to be hurried or to shove a stick against the blade without knowing that it is firmly held.

Modern Machinery Reduces Hand Labor in Filling the Woodshed.

Requires Smaller Crew.

The drag-saw his its greatest efficiency when used upon wood over twelve inches in diameter. It does not require as much power to operate, does not cut as rapidly, and requires a smaller crew to manage than does the circular saw. One advantage possessed by the drag-saw is in the fact that its carriage rests nearly level with the ground, and there is less effort required to raise the wood to a position beneath the saw blade. One man can manage the drag-saw, but he will have to stop the saw while he is clearing away the blocks and getting the logs into position.

GIVE BEES CARE IN AUTUMN

After Extracting Honey Beekeeper Should Watch Closely and Replace Poor Queens.

The beekeeper often loses interest in his apiary as soon as the honey has been extracted in the fall. That's often the time bees should be watched carefully, for they frequently need a new queen in late summer and early fall. Now is the time to look after the queens. Poor queens are occasionally supplied during the active season and in such cases they must be replaced immediately after the honey crop is harvested.

THE HOOVER

Suction Cleaner

IT BEATS, AS IT SWEEPS, AS IT CLEANS

The culmination of fourteen years experience in building electric cleaners.

There is nothing that we might suggest to our patrons that would make a more practical or thoughtful Christmas gift than The Hoover. It efficiently combines the three essentials of thorough cleaning; it is sturdily built, yet light in weight; it is easy to operate, yet it cleans more thoroughly than any other electric cleaner; it is not injurious to even the most delicate rug. The Hoover has our unqualified endorsement—there are no others that equal it. Free home demonstrations gladly made.

ANNOUNCE DATES FOR M. A. C. FARMERS WEEK.

East Lansing, Nov. 9th—Farmers Week, the annual winter roundup at the Michigan Agricultural College which has grown during the recent years into the state's biggest agricultural conference, will be held from Jan. 29 until Feb. 2 this year, according to announcement made here this week by Ashley M. Berridge, chairman of the committee in charge.

That last year's record attendance of more than 5,000 for the week's meetings will be surpassed this winter, is the prediction of college authorities. More state agricultural associations and groups than ever before are scheduling their annual meetings for East Lansing during Farmers Week, and all signs point to a huge attendance.

New features in the way of entertainment and instruction are being planned, every effort being made to make the occasion one which will appeal as strongly to those who have attended the gatherings before as to those who are attending their first Farmers Week. The old standbys, such as the mile-long agricultural parade, the special farm exhibits, and a speaking program headlining some of the Country's leading agricultural authorities, will, of course, be found on the program again.

The Michigan State Farm Bureau will head the list of farm associations, which will meet during Farmers Week. A dozen other leading state groups have also scheduled their meetings for the same dates, with more expected to follow suit during the next two months.

Plenty More Like This in Tecumseh

Scores of Tecumseh people can tell you about Doan's Kidney Pills. Many a happy citizen makes a public statement of his experience. Here is a case of it. What better proof of merit can be had than such endorsement?

Thomas Russell, retired farmer, 209 Pearl St., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills on different occasions and always found them very beneficial. My back at times has given out, due to heavy lifting when working on the farm and my kidneys wouldn't act regularly. They showed signs of disorder in other ways. I suffered from rheumatic pains in my lower limbs, too. Whenever I have felt these symptoms coming on, I have gone to Pulver's Drug Store and gotten a box of Doan's Kidney Pills. It has never taken them long to relieve me of my trouble."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Russel had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

(Section of spinal column showing pinched nerve the cause of disease.)

While Chiropractic Adjustments are a most wonderful safeguard against sickness, and although the results we are getting in acute cases are remarkable, our success is largely due to the extraordinary results in long standing chronic cases.

So many of these chronic cases give just one reason for coming to us. They say they have spent so much money trying everything else that they "might just as well grab at the last straw." The irresistible longing for health and happiness impels them to try Chiropractic.

Can you realize the genuine enthusiasm of these sufferers when under our care they actually experience the results they have so long hoped and sought for?

Are YOU a sufferer with sickness? Have YOU tried the other ways of getting well? Then why not try our way—the Chiropractic way? Don't allow prejudice to keep you from getting back your health. Make up your mind today to investigate. Let us give you a full explanation of what Chiropractic will do for you, and why it is the better way to health.

Don't "Buy" Tires

Invest in them. Consider a tire as an investment from which you will receive returns in the form of long wear, cushioning and traction. Without anyone of these returns, your investment is not a good one.

When you buy bonds, what do you consider? The color of the paper or the gilt on the edge? No. Instead you consider the integrity and the resources of the firm behind it—also the firm you are buying from.

The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. recently (July) built its 45,000,000th tire.

They do not have to experiment on the public.

An investment in Goodyear Tires and our Service, no matter what its nature, will yield maximum returns.

AT THE BRADLEY.

Fire in Cabin Almost Costs Life Picture Star

A fire in the cabin of the Mississippi River keel boat, which is used in "The Prodigal Judge," which will be shown at the Bradley Theatre on Saturday, Nov. 11th, nearly cost the life of Jean Paige, who has the role of Betty Malroy, the heroine, and Charles Eaton, one of the cleverest child actors upon the stage or screen today.

The fire was used as one of the scenes, but it got beyond control, and the lives of the two players were in danger." A voluntary fire department, however, and the cool level-headedness of the charming Vitagraph star prevented a catastrophe. The scene was filmed and the pair were rescued without any mishaps.

"The Married Flapper"

In "The Married Flapper," Marie Prevost's latest starring Universal vehicle at the Bradley Theatre next Wednesday, Nov. 15th, she reaches the extreme of versatility in a role that calls for etiquette in the ballroom and nerve and daring in a racing car on the speedway. Miss Prevost ideally fits the part of the flapper wife who continues her flapping after marriage.

"The Married Flapper" was written by Bernard Hyman especially for the star and was directed by Stuart Paton.

Thrilling Western Picture

Jack Holt and Bebe Daniels are co-stars in "North of the Rio Grande," a thrilling western Paramount picture, which comes to the Bradley Theatre next Sunday, Nov. 12th. This is said to be a remarkable production in which the popular stars have roles of great force.

WOMEN DON'T USE VOTE PRIVILEGE.

Dr. Pauline Bredow gave us some very interesting data concerning the number of males and females who used their voting privilege at the last election.

It is rather disappointing to learn that less than one-third of our good women used their ballot privilege while the men did much better but far too many of them did not perform their duty.

The total number of registered women in Tecumseh is 896 and only 282 voted. The total number of registered men is 868 and 537 voted. Although the number of registered women exceeds the number of men, only a few more than half as many voted. Come on out ladies and exercise your great American privilege or you are not doing your duty.

NOTICE.

The Ladies' Aid of the Presbyterian Church will hold an apron and fancy-work sale in the study November 23rd at the time of the church supper. Ladies are asked to have prices marked plainly on articles they bring.

WIT AND WISDOM CLUB.

The members of the Wit and Wisdom Club spent a very profitable evening, Tuesday, at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Howard, with Mrs. Howard as leader, Mrs. Slayton assisted Mrs. Howard in entertaining. The subject considered was "Postal Service."

The first number on the program was a vocal solo by Mrs. S. Wyman. Mrs. E. D. Brown then gave a very interesting paper on "Mail Carrying from Cyrus to Uncle Sam." The story of the "Development of the Postal Service from Franklin to the Present Time" was told by Mrs. J. O. Eaton.

F. S. Dickinson, in his original way, talked on "Christmas Packages," using his text, "Christmas Parcels, Mail Early, Wrap Securly and Address Plainly." Some very interesting points were brought out on the subject.

The Roll Call was responded to by members presenting wrapped parcels to F. S. Dickinson who critisized them.

In one corner of the room a post office was arranged and each one called at the window, receiving their refreshments in packages.

The club will meet November 27 with Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Turner with Miss Mildred Boyce as leader.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Cole entertained at a 6 o'clock dinner Friday evening at their home on West Pottawatamie Street in celebration of the birthday of their eldest daughter, LuSeba. C. A. Reckner Dies Monday Morning

Had Been In Poor Health For Some Time. Was Taken Sick Sunday. Heart Disease Coupled With Other Complications Cause. Leaves Wife, One Daughter and Four Sisters.

C. A. Reckner passed away last Monday morning after a short illness with heart disease at his home on Maiden Lane.

Mr. Reckner was born in Fulton County, Ohio, Feb. 16th 1880 and was 42 years old at the time of his death. He was married Sept. 21, 1899 to Miss Plettner and to this union were born one son who has preceded his father to the better land and one daughter, Ruby, who with Mrs. Reckner are left to mourn their loss. Four sisters, Mrs. Hattie Heckman, Mrs. Rilla Kieblber, both of Wauseon, Ohio, Mrs. Bessie Walters of Toledo and Mrs. Carrie Hill of Adrian, also two brothers, are left yet a time.

Mr. Reckner has been in business in Tecumseh for the past seven years and has made many friends by his strict integrity and close attention to business. He was the type of home man who never courted honors in public life but was most contented to live the more simple life surrounded by his family in whom his thoughts were ever centered. He will be greatly missed by a wide circle of friends and acquaintances to whom he had become a very familiar figure on our Main Street.

The remains will be removed to the M. E. church at 11 o'clock (this) Thursday morning, where they may be viewed by friends, the funeral will be held at 12 o'clock, the Rev. H. J. B. Marsh conducting the services. The remains will then be taken to the Beulah Cemetery, five miles south of Lyons, Ohio.

DOING FINE WORK.

Manager Pruyne of the local Telephone Co. is to be congratulated upon having an enormous capacity for getting things done. He not only kows how and what is to be done but he is on the job every minute with the energy of a catapult driving things along.

Mr. Pruyne has done an enormous amount of hard work since he took over the management of the Telephone Co. and the public should and does appreciate that he is giving us the best service possible to extend to their subscribers. If there is any man in Tecumseh whose middle name is work, its Manager Pruyne, and shortly the local company will have a most excellent exchange due to his energy, knowledge and capacity for hard work. We extend congratulations knowing it is not misplaced in a single degree.

Paradise were married November 12, 1872 in Tecumseh by the Rev. L. H. Dean of the M. E. Church, and they have resided in the vicinity of Tecumseh practically ever since.

STARS VISIT ADRIAN LODGE.

Over one hundred and fifty Stars formed the constellation from the Tecumseh Chapter, O. E. S. who responded to an invitation from the Adrian chapter to be their guests Monday evening. Dinner was served to 250, most bountifully, and afterward the Tecumseh staff exemplified the degree with four candidates: Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Van Doren, Mrs. Remus and Mrs. Florence Cole, of Adrian. The Tecumseh staff, headed by Worthy Matron Snedicor and Worthy Patron Hines, never put on the work better and their Tecumseh friends were very proud of them.

At the close of the work Past Grand Matron, Mrs. Margaret T. Moore, now superintendent of the Villa in Adrian gave a fine address. She was followed by Mrs. Brinkman, Past Grand Warden. Remarks were also made by several members from both chapters.

Those fortunate enough to enjoy the event speak in hearty praise of their reception by the Adrianites and hope soon to return the compliment.

Indoor Circus Drew A Packed House

High School Students Give One Of Best Shows Ever Seen In Tecumseh. Every Number Drew Storm Of Applause. Some Of The Stunts Were A Scream.

One of the biggest crowds ever packed into the high school gymnasium was on hand last Friday night to see the big indoor circus which had been widely advertised for that evening. The crowd was jammed on the main floor and the galleries were packed to the limit so that the young folks certainly could feel proud of the way the people turned out.

And the people got their money's worth and much more judging by the terrific applause that greeted the efforts of the performers to live up to the announcers explanation of their prowess.

Sam Sisson acted as ring master and was ably assisted by Lawrence Harrington and Harry Duncan as clowns. These three did their bit in professional fashion and seemed to be naturally adapted to the work in hand.

The kiddies who did the bare back riding were fine and drew a generous applause while the kindergarten acts were a splendid exhibition of the most excellent training these little folks are receiving at the hands of their teacher, Mrs. Ketcham.

Wilmot Pruyne as the great American hypnotist, certainly is an adept in the black art judging by the very effective spell he cast over his subjects who performed most wonderful feats that nothing short of hypnotic influence of great proportions could possibly make a human do.

Richard Woodcox and Vaughn Pruyne, two of the cleverest actors presented that evening were the hypnotic subjects and if anyone missed seeing these well fed youngsters do their "stuff" they sure missed a whole circus in itself. The dancing of Woodcox and the work of Pruyne hunting for "Ma" simply threw the crowd into a roar of laughter and threatened to cause damage to some of the strait-laced folks, and they were acclaimed the hit of the evening.

Dwight Hodges showed that he can preach from the A B C's in a most forceful and enlightened manner and he entertained the crowd with his efforts immensely. Wilmot Pruyne also cast a spell over some small boys which caused them to sit [illegible] on a bench charged with electricity. It was fun for the crowd but slightly annoying to the kids who were very unsettled on their settee.

The French Dolls also attracted much attention and were a very entertaining part of the program. The four tableaux which they represented were very true to life and pleased the people greatly.

The Scotch dances by the lassies, Marian Jones, Sylvia Sanderson, Josephine Daisher and Teresa Deery consisted of the "hie land fling" and it was put on in such a clever manner that it entirely captured the big crowd who demanded an encore which was also cleverly given.

The Hickville cloggers showed that they could swing their feet in syncopated rhythm to the tune of the Arkansas Traveller and ye old time jigs much to the enjoyment of the audience many of whose feet were heard "pattin time" which said feet should have been better trained. We were much astonished to hear some most excellent time coming from the seats of those who are not supposed to be able to perform such stunts.

The side-shows were all strictly up to their wonderful advertising and many spent their money to see the freaks and wonders collected from all parts of the earth (and we guess some of them didn't come from the earth at all). They were good and pronounced strictly passed by the board of censors.

The Follies were the center of attraction and prettier girls never graced the boards than cavorted around for the entertainment of the good people. They were correctly named and their singing and dancing were loudly applauded by everyone. Their costumes, what there was of them, were very appropriate and strictly up to date and they were the envy of all the other maidens for the attention which they attracted. They certainly added much to the success of the evening's entertainment and were the most attractive feature of the entire show.

The orchestra contributed excellent music all the evening and without the splendid music they gave, the affair would have been tame indeed. In fact, these young folks have real musical ability and they gave as fine a musical entertainment as one cares to hear.

The whole affair was one of the biggest and best ever produced here and it well deserved the immense crowd that went to see it. Come again folks, and you will get another big one.

ENTERTAINS BRIDGE CLUB.

Mrs. A. D. Lawrence was hostess to her bridge club last Thursday afternoon at her home on West Chicago Street.

Bittersweet and chrysanthemums made the rooms very attractive in their autumn colorings.

Five tables were filled for the games and a delicious lunch was served at six o'clock.

GAVE VERY ENJOYABLE DANCE.

The Armistice Day dance given by the Ladies Band was a very enjoyable affair. About fifty couples attended and Coller's Orchestra furnished most delightful music.

Witherell Hall has one of the best dance floors in these parts and the crowd certainly enjoyed themselves gliding around to the rhythm of syncopated melodies.

The affair was not a money maker but the girls took in enough to make it pay out and they are certainly splendid hostesses. They will give another party Thanksgiving night.

Arthur Brazee Dies At Birmingham, Ala.

Was Lifelong Resident of Tecumseh. Fought Through Civil War And Was Well-Known In The Community. Went South For The Winter, Passed Away Suddenly.

This community was shocked last Sunday to hear that Arthur Brazee an old and very highly respected citizen had passed away at Birmingham, Ala., after a very brief illness.

The deceased had gone south to spend the winter and was in his usual good health when he left so that his many friends were entirely unexpectant of the sad news. He was a member of the G. A. R. and a man of sterling worth and splendid character.

The remains were brought here last Monday and the funeral occurred Monday afternoon at 2:30 at the home of his son, Alvin Brazee, the Rev. W. R. Curtis of Monroe, officiating.

The G. A. R. members attended in a body and had charge of the services. Hymns were sung by the Rev. and Mrs. Curtis. Leo Brazee, Ray Brazee, Bert Brazee, Alvin Brazee, Stuart Brazee and Clarance Gallup acted as bearers. The burial took place in Brookside cemetery. Those from away attending the service were Leo Brazee, Milwaukee; Mr. and Mrs. Bert Brazee, Grand Ledge; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Brazee, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Brazee of Hastings; Mrs. William Baldwin, Mrs. Nellie Hall of Toledo; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gallup of Pratville; Mr. and Mrs. John Waters, Onsted; Mr. and Mrs. Miles Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Martin, Manchester and Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Buckley of Holloway.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to thank our friends, the members of the G. A. R., Rev. and Mrs. W. R. Curtis, those who so kindly contributed cars and others for their kindness to us during our recent sorrow.

The Children of Arthur Brazee.

ODD FELLOWS GO TO BROOKLYN.

Last Friday night about twenty members of the local lodge of I. O. O. F. went to Brooklyn and put on the work.

These trips of visitation to the other lodges are very enjoyable affairs and this one was no exception. The work of the order is thus kept up to a high standard and the brothers are royally entertained always.

Last Tuesday night the Brooklyn lodge returned the visit and put on the work here. The work is most impressive and the work of the order is of a very high degree of excellence.

THE MONDAY CLUB.

The Monday Club met in regular session Monday afternoon, at the business meeting a number of worthy projects were considered, among them the parking ordinance and garbage collection for the village.

The program for the afternoon was one of unusual interest. Mrs. G. A. Rathbun acted as leader for the afternoon.

Community singing was led by Mrs. R. S. Moore with Mrs. W. G. Waldron at the piano. Two papers "The Upper Amazon," by Miss Alice Wimple and "The Lower Amazon" by Mrs. J. F. Rector were especially well prepared and delivered.

The next meeting will be a report of the State Federation held at Flint this fall and of the County Federation held at Clinton last spring.

ENTERTAINS AT LUNCHEON.

Mrs. R. S. Moore was hostess at a one o'clock luncheon Tuesday in honor of Miss Lyde Crowell of Cleveland and Mrs. John Buchsteiner of Washington, D. C.

Autumn flowers were attractively grouped throughout the rooms, while fall fruits and yellow candles in crystal holders made a charming table decoration. Covers were laid for eight.

A number of affairs have been given lately in honor of the same guests, who once made Tecumseh their home.

NOTICE.

The Baptist Ladies Union will hold a rummage sale beginning Saturday, November 18, in the store building formerly occupied by Guy E. Belding.

Terrible Accident Costs Young Life

Gas Tank On Car Explodes, Burning Six Year Old Girl To Death. Explosion Caused By Lantern Used To See While Filling Tank With Gas. Body Found With Arms And Legs Burned To A Crisp.

A terrible accident that cost the life of Gladys Irene Gibson, 6 years old, took place about 7 o'clock Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Gibson in Macon township, 6 miles north of Britton.

Mr. Gibson and his family were getting ready to go away to spend the evening. Mrs. Gibson and the children were already in the car when Mr. Gibson decided to put in some gasoline, using a lantern so that he might see, and in some manner the gasoline took fire and exploded. In an instant everything was ablaze. Mrs. Gibson with her son Harold escaped uninjured, and Mr. Gibson with burned hands and face, sought and grabbed for Gladys and got what he supposed was her form, which really was the robes. Another cask of oil in the garage (this all happened in the garage) exploded and this added new fuel to the flame and when the body of Gladys was found it was lying beside some bags where it is thought she realizing her danger, had crawled and where she died.

The alarm of fire was sent out and soon help from miles around were there doing all they could to relieve their suffering and save the other buildings. The funeral services were held Wednesday morning at 10:30 at the home with burial in Ridgeway cemetery.

HOLDS NOON MEETINGS AT FACTORIES.

The evangelistic party, F. H. Tormohlen, preacher, assisted by the Misses Ella Sams and Alice Shefmire, who are conducting a series of meetings at the Friends church, visited the various factories in town this week. Monday they visited Brewer's Foundry and a very profitable meeting was held at noon. Tuesday noon meetings were held at the Quaker Oats Co. and the American Steel & Wire Fence Factory and Wednesday at Heesen's Foundry.

The young ladies sang several songs, Miss Shefmire accompanying with the guitar, and evangelist Tormohlen gave some fine talks to the men.

The meetings have been very successful and much good has been done. Everybody is cordially invited to attend the remaining meetings of the campaign.

WILL INSTALL NEW FURNACE

The Board of Education has ordered a new ventillating and heating furnace installed in the West Branch school.

The Board has bought a Marshall Furace and as it will be put in a new place, the old furnace will be used to heat the rooms while the new one is being put in. The manufacturers of the furnace guarantee that it will completely change the air 6 times every hour and it should therefore provide excellent ventillation as well as the proper heat for the rooms. The old furnace has about given out and a new one was the only remedy.

The Red Cross campaign has started on its annual drive to raise funds for both the county and national chapters and everyone is asked to contribute one dollar to support this cause.

According to some of our business men, the Red Cross deserve the united support of everyone and these men believe that the work done by this organization is wrthy of the best support we can give them. They cite the splendid work done by the Red Cross all over the world and in our own locality as evidence that it deserves the best we can give them. This is one view of the matter.

Another view was given by one of the Legion boys this morning who said that in 1919 the County Red Cross had upwards of $15,000 in their treasury and that it was unknown to him how much they now had or how it had been spent. He said that the money was collected in the name of the Red Cross but was primarily intended for the benefit of the soldier boys and that right now it was impossible to get any assistance from the Red Cross for disabled soldiers. He also cited the useless expense in high salaried employees, the Red Cross had gone to until they were vigorously asked to cut it down which was done in a large part.

This Legion boy said the American Legion was not back of the Red Cross campaign and did not believe that Tecumseh should support it in view of the policy of that organization in not supporting recommendations of workers in regards to immediate relief of disabled soldiers and families in this county. He further said that if any report of the disbursements of the money donated in 1919 had been made he had not seen it and that it was almost impossible to find out for what it had been spent, although he made no charges against the organization other than it had not given proper support to the disabled veterans which was what he believed the people gave so freely for. He also cited the fact that Mrs. Pangborn had resigned as home secretary because she had not been given the proper support in her efforts to get relief for the disabled soldiers in this county.

It seems there is a diversity of opinion and the readers of this paper can use their own best judgment whether the organization should be given their support or not. Its a private affair with each giver and will doubtless be governed accordingly.

PROBABLY WHY.

The powerful revulsion of feeling against the republican party which has been spread over the country and which has sent nearly a hundred democrats to the national halls of law makers, is probably due to the do-nothing and dilly-dalling policy of the present administration which has culminated in the piratical robbing of the common people by the coal barons.

That the common people will not put up with such an extortionate system of robbery without kicking those responsible for it out of office, has been thoroughly demonstrated, and two years hence unless affairs are promptly remedied there will be the greatest land slide of democrats swept into office that the U. S. has ever seen.

The Fordney-McCumber tariff bill alone has sent the price of commodities used by the common people skywards while those special interests that secured the passage of the bill are reaping their millions extorted from the common folks on every necessity of life they have to use.

Its true Groesbeck was elected by a big majority but he lost fifteen counties that represent the bulk of the thinking people in this state. He got in by the grace of the Upper Peninsula where the voters go in droves and in Detroit where it is apparent to some that vote swapping to save Groesbeck while Townsend was thrown over, was the order of the day.

Why any enlightened voter would vote against Townsend and for Groesbeck is much beyond our small mind to comprehend. However, lets hope that Mr. Ferris will accomplish some of the things he promised and that the common people will get a little more consideration than they have in the past.

And it is very apparent that unless they do, there will be bigger doings two years hence than there was this year. The worm has begun to show signs of turning and those who essay to keep on plundering the common folks and laugh at them freezing while the rich sit in well warmed homes had better beware, lest an enraged populace takes matters still more in their own hands.

And taxes, well you will understand what a splendid efficient business administration Groesbeck has given you when you pay your taxes and every person who voted for him certainly has no complaint to make if they lose every dollar they have accumulated, by the tax route as long as they will return Evans and Groesbeck to office in this state. Just pay and call it good.

And the democrates need have nothing to crow over for their dictatorial leaders are just as bad or worse than the aforesaid republican leaders. Both parties have grown so bound around with standpatism that their usefulness to the common people is at an end. What the small home owners, the laboring man and the farmers need is a new virile party dedicated to and run by the common people who will see to it that the laws are made in the interests of the masses instead of for classes.

There is just as much pure Americanism in the country today as there ever was and just as much brains and good red blood. What it needs is crystalization into action in the form of a party made of, by and for the common people, and its coming fast.

SEEMED TO BE SUPERNATURAL

First Sight of Airplanes Caused Consternation Among the Natives of Philippine Islands.

When, in order to carry out a survey, airmen visited Joho, Sulu archipelago, Philippine Islands, it was the first time the natives had seen an airplane, and they were greatly terrified, according to a story in the Westminster Gazette.

Some of them were convinced that the machines were sent as emissaries from Allah, and others believed the occupants of the craft themselves—the pilots and the observers—were both all seeing and all powerful.

It was impossible to convince them otherwise, and the airplanes were viewed with dread and as supernatural things. Some of the natives even went so far as to declare the planes were dragons, flown out of the South seas, and destined to wreck vengeance on all bad Moros, according to an old Arabic legend.

There were thousands of Moros in the wilds of Mindanao who had never set eyes on a white man, and to whom the pilots, able to soar aloft like the birds, were altogether outside the sphere of ordinary mortals. The airmen were regarded as objects of great wonderment and to be held in the greatest awe.

ENGLISH LANGUAGE IN PERIL?

"Creeping Paralysis," According to Henry Van Dyke, Is Threatening the Speech of the Nation.

The real perils of the English language today, in my judgment, lie not in expansion or in contraction of vocabulary but much more in a certain noisy carelessness or sloppy indifference; a failure to recognize that thought is desirable not only before speech but also in speech; an apparent numbness to the finer sense of words, writes Henry van Dyke in the Yale Review. The effects of this creeping paralysis may be observed constantly in streets and shops and ballrooms, and frequently in books and newspapers. For example, a distinguished historian writes that he proposes to "assess" a certain character when he has no intention of taxing it, but simply means to estimate its worth. A popular novelist makes his hero leave a room "precipitously," yet without throwing him down the stairs or letting him lean from a window. An ardent advertiser proclaims the "slogan" of his ready-made clothing, although his purposes are all pacific. Even a philosopher, a platonist, writes that certain plays "intrigue" him, when evidently he means not that they perplex him but merely that they interest him.

"Scotland Yard."

Scotland Yard is the headquarters of the Metropolitan police of London and is situated within a stone's throw of the houses of parliament in southwestern London. Formerly, the department was housed in a group of buildings surrounding a courtyard near Charing Cross. It derived its name, Scotland Yard, from a palace assigned from the time of Edgar to Henry III, as the residence of the Scottish kings when they visited in London. The present head is Sir Edward Henry, commissioner. The chief is appointed by the crown upon recommendation of the home secretary. The yearly cost of Scotland Yard, according to the latest published statistics, is $15,000,000. Sir Henry is the originator of the system of fingerprint as identification, which is rapidly superseding the Bertillon system in all countries.

Powder to Lay Road Dust.

Calcium chloride, a chemical powder, is being used to lay the dust on the stretches of the Prince of Wales highway between Brockville and Ottawa. The experiment is being carried out by the department of [illegible] view of determining the relative values of the chemical and of oil for this purpose, and two stretches of roadway, at Spencerville and Manotick respectively, are being treated. The chemical absorbs and retains moisture and forms a coating over the surface of the road. Its cheapness as opposed to an oil treatment is said to be considerable and as both treatments have to be repeated frequently the department hopes to effect a material saving.

Wonderful Surgery.

Remarkable surgery was performed on the third mate of the liner Ruth Alexander just before she arrived in Seattle, Wash. The mate became ill when the ship was 30 hours from Seattle. Two physicians diagnosed the illness as acute appendicitis. A cabin door was used for an operating table, and the doctors performed the operation with sewing scissors, two pairs of forceps and a darning needle. The incision was sewed up with embroidery silk and cat gut. The operation required only 14 minutes. The mate was taken to a Seattle hospital when the ship docked there, and is recovering.

Island Rich in Verdure.

St. Lucia, the largest of the Windward islands, is twenty-four miles long, and at its widest is twelve miles in breadth. It has an area of 233 square miles. The island is mountainous, and its highest point is 3,145 feet above sea level, while the land is mostly covered with trees and the rapidly growing vegetation of the tropics. Castries, the capital, has a fine port. In 1921 the number of inhabitants of St. Lucia was 51,505.

COULDN'T REALLY BLAME BOY

Worker Around Car Had Forgotten the Somewhat Unusual Appearance He Presented to the World

Out Sixteenth street is one of those massive piles of stone, bricks, etc., that they call apartment houses, in which lives a former army officer who spends his Sunday mornings in fussing around his car. Owing to the fact that he is busy every day during the week, he finds no other time in which to gratify this (to him) recreation. Last Sunday morning he arose before the attaches of the hotel, that is, the day force, had arrived; he donned a pair of overalls and placed on his head a disreputable old green cap, and with monkey wrench and oil can he started for the rear of the hotel, where stood his machine. After fussing with the automobile for two or three hours he returned to the apartment house bedaubed with oil and grease. He did not present his usual immaculate appearance; he started to enter the elevator; the boy in charge of the lift held up his hand and emphatically remarked that the freight elevator was at the other side. The guest was nonplussed for a moment; finally he caught the humor of the situation and spoke to the elevator boy, who, seeing his mistake, apologized thusly: "Deed, sir, I crave your humble pardon. I didn't recognize you in those most unusual clothes for you to wear."—Washington Star.

SHRIMP'S EARS IN HIS LEGS

Here's How One May Tell Difference Between Him and His Cousin, the Prawn.

Are shrimps insects? The question is often asked by those who see these active little creatures alive for the first time.

Insects have six legs, but the shrimp has no fewer than 24. He is a crustacean—first cousin of the crab, the lobster and the crayfish.

Many of the "shrimps" that one sees in shops are prawns. You can tell one from the other by looking at the head, says the Detroit News. The prawn has a long sharp-pointed horn edged with teeth like those of a saw. Prawns turn pink when they are boiled, but shrimps become brown in color.

The eyes of a shrimp are easy to see since they stand out on stalks, but you might search for some time if you wish to discover his ears, for he keeps them in a very odd place.

His ears are in his knees. At the first joint of his first pair of legs, which by the way, are not used for walking, is a little bag which contains a minute drop of water, and this water-filled bag acts as an eardrum.

Relics of Spanish Ship.

Recent finds by the treasure-seekers at Tobermory, Scotland, include a muzzle-loading iron gun, four and a half feet in length, and having a bore of two and a half inches, several broken sword scabbards, and a large salver, possibly silver, which has been taken to experts in London for assay. In addition, there were brought up almost daily during the past fortnight stout timbers of the old Spanish Armada ship in an excellent state of preservation. These finds have been added to by the recovery of a bronze cannon, four and a half feet long, apparently of the same caliber. On the iron gun among other marks were the royal monogram of the king and queen of Spain, "P. and I." (Philippus and Isabella), whose joint reign lasted from 1559 to 1570.

Liquid Air to Crack Hard Nuts.

The chicha nuts from South America have some excellent qualities, but it has never been found possible to crack the shells without damaging the meat at the same time. United States government authorities applied liquid air to the problem. They did not freeze solid a piece of rubber and use it as a hammer, as is done in the classic experiment in physics, but they simply immersed the nuts in liquid air for 30 seconds and cracked them easily without damage to the kernels. Now the physicists are trying to find out whether this method can be applied commercially on a large scale. Chicha nuts were used during the war to make charcoal for gas masks and the oil from the kernels is a valuable food similar to copra.

Kimberley's Wealth.

Kimberley, which is but 60 miles from the new South African diamond field, is one of the richest mines in the world. Its yearly output is placed at $4,000,000. Ninety-nine per cent of all the diamonds produced in the last 20 years are said to have come from South Africa.

Lepers in United States.

GEORGE WASHINGTON FAVORED PUREBREDS

Sires of Good Quality Are to Be Used for All Stock.

Enrollment of Owners of Estate, Latane Brothers, Regarded as of Particular Interest to Breeders of Live Stock.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Wakefield farm, Westmoreland county, Virginia, has been enrolled in the "Better Sires-Better Stock" movement conducted by the various states and the United States Department of Agriculture. This is the farm where George Washington was born in 1732, and the present occupants, Latane Brothers, come from straight Washington stock. It is noteworthy that purebred sires of good quality are henceforth to be used for all classes of live stock raised on this farm which is famous as the birthplace of the Father of His Country. The stock on the historic estate include cattle, horses, swine, sheep and poultry. All sires are now purebred; the females are purebred, crossbred, and grade, and are to be gradually improved.

County Agent L. M. Walker, Jr., interested Latane Brothers in the nationwide movement for improved live stock, and John R. Hutcheson, director of extension for Virginia, regards the enrollment as of particular interest since George Washington was a good farmer and a lover of good stock.

QUAIL DEVOUR MANY BUGS

Bob-White Is Particularly Fond of Beetles or Adults of Pestiferous Corn Rootworm.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The bob-white eats the adults or beetles of the corn rootworm which lay the eggs that later become larvae or worms and infest the corn. As many as 12 of the beetles, according to the bureau of entomology of the United States Department of Agriculture, have been found in the stomach of one bob-white. The red-headed woodpecker, nighthawk, cardinal, kingbird and phoebe also eat the beetles and reduce the damage done by the corn rootworm.

Bob-White Relishes Corn Rootworm.

WEED SEED IN SCREENINGS

Feed for Chickens Should Be Cracked Up So That Germinating Power Is Destroyed.

In many cases weeds are spread about the farms due to the failure of farmers to grind screenings that are to be fed to chicks. Screenings for chicks are valuable as feed, but they often contain many seeds of noxious weeds. Unless the seed is cracked up so that the germination power is spoiled trouble results. In one case they found that wild oats, common mustard, ragweed, corn cockle, European vetch and cowherb resulted from the use of whole screenings. Not only need the screenings be ground, but they ought to be watched, as often they contain poisonous weeds such as corncockle seeds.

WIRE PARTITIONS NOT GOOD

Drafts Permitted Which Are Bad for Young Pigs—Do Not Give Sows Needed Seclusion.

In carrying on experimental work in swine breeding the United States Department of Agriculture has found the use of wire partitions in farrowing houses undesirable and is replacing them with solid wooden divisions about 32 inches high. The wire-fencing partitions permit drafts, which are bad for the comfort and health of the young pigs. Open partitions also permit sows to notice anything going on in adjoining pens, which often causes them to become nervous and irritable, and sometimes to try to fight each other. Sows at farrowing time must be kept as quiet as possible.

DESTROY WEEVILS IN BEANS

Carbon Bisulphide Will Kill Insects if Placed in Tightly Covered Vessel Over Night.

Weevils can be killed in beans and peas by the use of carbon bisulphide. To treat these put them in a jar, tub or other vessel which can be covered tightly. Put into a glass about one teaspoonful of carbon bisulphide for each ten gallons of space in the enclosure and place the glass in with the beans. Allow them to remain in the fumes of the carbon bisulphide over night, then take them out and place in dry storage quarters. Do not take lamps or lighted matches near the material, and do not breathe the fumes.

GROUSE MAKES HEARTY MEAL

Two Thousand Rose Beetles in One Day Said to Be Not a Menu Beyond Her Capacity.

Two thousand rose beetles in one day were on the menu of a hen grouse which was experimented with at Clark university at Worcester, Mass., and which Prof. Hugh Findlay told about in a lecture on "Useful Birds in Our Gardens and Orchards," given recently at the New York Botanical gardens, Bronx park. Professor Findlay, who is horticulturist in the department of agriculture at Columbia university, has spent several years in central New York and the New England states studying the habits of birds during the nesting season.

He has photographed some 200 birds in their natural haunts, and from these photographs has developed slides which he has colored with Japanese transparent dyes. The birds range from the tiny humming bird to the great eagles photographed near Oneida lake. In his lecture, Professor Findlay showed some of our most destructive insects and their particular bird foes, showing plainly which species help to keep our plants, and trees from being destroyed by insect foes.

The hen grouse, who was proved to have made away with 2,000 rose beetles in one day, he used as an illustration of the economic value of some birds in the destruction of insect pests.

WHERE ALL SPEED IS ALIKE

Light, Electricity, X-Rays, and Magnetic Storms Declared to Move with Equal Velocity.

That in the radium rays we have an indication of a new and mysterious world of energy, we find what seems an impressive testimony in the law of velocity governing these in common with other recently discovered phenomena. "One definite thing we do know," says Professor Soddy, writing of the ether, "namely, the velocity at which influences are transmitted. It is 185,000 miles per second, the speed of light. So far as we yet know, all influences that are transmitted by the ether travel at this one definite velocity. Not only light, but also the electro-magnetic radiations employed in wireless telegraphy, the magnetic storms, as they are termed, which reach us from the sun, and also as we believe, the X-rays, travel through the ether at this one definite speed." That speed is in all these cases the same is suggestive of a common source and fountain head, and one is emboldened in the supposition that behind and within the material system with which we are familiar is a subtle and infinitely marvelous world from which the universe we know is fed and sustained, and which uses the light—swift undulations of the ether—as the carrying agent of its varied influences.—Charles Kassel in the North American Review.

Tool Straightens Nails.

Even bent wire nails are being salvaged from the waste piles in Germany and restored to usefulness by means of an ingenious nail straightener that may be fastened to the work bench. The devise is described in the Popular Science Monthly.

Hinged to one end of the cast iron base is a long lever with a handle. A few inches from the fulcrum of the lever an iron rod is hinged, and to this is attached a claw which grips the head of the nail to be straightened. The nail is placed with its head in the slot of the claw and with its body between the jaws of a straightening die which is operated by a lever. The jaws firmly grip the body of the nail, and when the long lever is drawn back the nail is pulled through the eye of the die and effectively straightened.

Indian Has Remarkable Memory.

The most retentive memory in America is said to belong to a native Indian of the Yakima tribe. His brain cells register everything he sees or hears.

During the war he served with the army in France, and was of much value in carrying long messages, observing positions, or checking supplies, according to an Indian bureau report. When he was in camp he could call off a regimental roster and catalogue every item of equipment without any note or memorandum. On one occasion, after making a full report of observations to the extent of a thousand items or more, he repeated the full text of a lecture he had heard the night before. This was in the presence of the lecturer himself and was pronounced perfect.

Boy Found Treasure Trove.

A kettle of gold has been found on a mountain by a French schoolboy who left Chambery intending to ascend Mount Blanc. He had no guide and no food, and did not even carry the traditional alpenstock. After half an hour's climbing he came across a kettle. Looking into it he found 167 gold pieces dated 1199 and bearing the arms of the house of Savoy. Immediately the young would-be mountaineer abandoned is projected climb and took his find to the police.

New Arrangement.

He was a contractor and after building nine houses on the same plan, blue prints were of no consequence to him. The tenth house was well under way before he gave much attention to the details. He surveyed the structure and was astonished to find that a fireplace had been built in the kitchen. His other houses had all faced the west. This one faced the east.

3 Important Things Every Housekeeper Should Know

When you buy a new range you expect three things above everything else — durability — efficiency — economy. Whether or not you get these things depends entirely on what your range is made of and how it is built. When you start out to buy, forget the little immaterial things, and keep these three big important facts in mind:

One— The Monarch gives long years of service. It is made of malleable iron — a kind of iron that cannot crack or break. The Monarch's flues are protected against rust damage by Vitrifused Flue Linings — the best protection scientists have found for this purpose.

Two— The Monarch bakes as well after many years as when new. The "air-leaks" which are inevitable in a stove-puttied range, cannot occur, because Monarch joints are riveted—a form of construction possible only where malleable iron is used.

Three— The Monarch burns no more fuel afters of use than it does at first — Due to the riveted joints which prevent "air-leaks"— the Duplex Draft which burns all the fuel in the firebox — the quick heating malleable iron top— the Monarch is the most economical range known.

Come in and let us show you these and many other points of the Monarch. It's a pleasure to show so good a product.

NO TIME LIMIT FOR VATICAN

Its Statesmen Seemingly Take Little Thought for the Inevitable Passing of the Years.

Time is not measured by the Vatican according to our accepted forms. While we think in days usually, in months not always, in years very seldom, and in generations nearly never, the Vatican thinks in centuries ordinarily, in generations fairly often, in years only under the pressure of unusual circumstances, in shorter periods never.

It is this difference in the measurement of time which makes the Vatican such a difficult subject for the secular political investigator. There is no time limit, in the usually accepted sense, for the Vatican's political thought. At least it is not limited by a lifetime.

The cardinal who at the time of writing is at the head of the Vatican's foreign office—segreteria di stato—is a very old man, who for 30 years has been connected with political affairs. But he continues to look ahead into the centuries.

He, I believe, is the only statesman in Europe who can and who does coolly discuss the possibility of Russian Bolshevism, under some form or another, enduring for 50 years yet.

What are 50 years for the Vatican? Imagine any other European statesman, anxious for the success of his butterfly career, talking in this cool way about Moscow.—Vladimir Poliakoff in the London Daily Telegraph.

"DEAD LETTER" MAIL HEAVY

Few Realize How Much Correspondence Can Never Be Carried to Its Proper Destination.

You may take pride in your little 20 by 100-foot lot. It may have looked pretty big to you when you laid out your hard cash for it.

Just imagine that lot is covered with letters, not the unfolded letters, but just as they are dropped in the mail box. That would look like a lot of mail, wouldn't it?

Now, double the size of the lot, cover it up with letters, placed so closely together that not as much as one spear of grass could show between. Keep the process up, in your mind, of course, until you have covered 1,979 such lots, or the whole of a fair-sized town with letters. There would then be some 3,058,333 square feet entirely covered by mail.

Imagine that on every single piece of this mail there is a mistake of some sort in the address.

By this time you will begin to get some idea of the volume of business done by Uncle Sam's dead letter office. The amounts given are not for the history of the service, however. They are for only one year, the last fiscal year. During the 12 months there were 19,000,000 letters returned to the dead-letter office through carelessness in addresses.

Gold Found in Wales.

A discovery of gold has been made on a farm at Cessailown Bach, Bontddu, near Barmouth, Marionethshire, where mining operations had been carried out for several weeks. The site of this new discovery is midway between the famous Clogau gold mines and Gwynfyndd gold mines, which supplied Princess Mary's wedding ring. For half a century land in the neighborhood of Bontddu has raised hopes of rich finds which have largely disappointed. So certain at one time did it appear that gold in paying quantities was to be found in North Wales that long and costly litigation ensued as to the ownership of land to which previously nobody had troubled to establish a claim.

Spectacles for Horses.

It appears that among the many unique inventions of a more or less practical nature there are spectacles for horses. The purpose is said to be not to improve the sight, but, by causing the ground in front to appear nearer than it really is, to induce the horse to take high steps. After a training with such spectacles, it is averred, the horse acquires and retains the habit of high stepping. These spectacles, it is said, are largely used in England by lovers of horses of the thoroughbred type.—Washington Star.

Water Power in New York.

New York state leads the country in the amount of its developed water power with 1,300,000 horsepower. California comes next with 1,111,100 horsepower. These figures place New York state almost on an equality with the most progressive countries in water power development in Europe, where France leads with 1,400,000 horsepower, Norway has 1,350,000 horsepower and Sweden 1,200,000 horsepower.

Smoking Car for Women.

"Smokers" for women now make their appearance on British trains, notes the Scientific American. Women have been crowding the men's compartments to an uncomfortable degree—not, officiels say, because they want to ride with the men, but because they insist on smoking while traveling.

Plural Husbands in Tibet.

Polyandry, or plural husbands, is one of the peculiar institutions of Tibet. One woman may have as many as half a dozen husbands at the same time.

Self Starter for Planes.

English inventors have developed a self starter for airplanes that is operated by an aviator pulling a lever from his seat.

THANKSGIVING DAY PROCLAMATION.

By the Governor.

"Enter into His gates with thanksgiving, and into His courts with praise; be thankful unto Him and bless His name."

We have come again to the season of the year when, in accordance with the devout custom established by our fathers more than three centuries ago, we formally set apart a day of thanksgiving and praise to Almighty God for all His mercies and blessings.

We have every reason for thankfulness. Our fields and orchards and vineyards have yielded richly of their products. Our people have been sober, industrious and steadfast. Industry and enterprise have translated the varied and unlimited resources of our commonwealth into wealth and happiness for all who have had the initiative and the capacity to do and achieve While we face a new day big with many perplexing problems, may our faith in the integrity of American institutions be rededicated to the government which has always symbolized the best that has been achieved since the struggle for representative government began.

Therefore, by virtue of the authority vested in me as Governor of the State of Michigan, I hereby join the President of the United States in designating Thursday, November 30th, 1922, as a day of Thanksgiving and prayer.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State this tenth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two, and of the Commonwealth the eighty-sixth.

Alex J. Groesbeck,
Governor.

By the Governor:
Charles J. DeLand,
Secretary of State.

PUMPKIN VINE 75 FEET LONG BECAME PERFECT NUISANCE.

Tabor, Ia., Nov. 3.—The story of E. C. Worchester's 105 pound pumpkin, which was published in these columns has some additional features of interest which were not given in the former story. The vine on which the pumpkin grew was a volunteer vine, and the only one of its kind on the place. It grew unusually rank, and after being cut off several times as a nuisance, attained a spread of about 75 feet in spite of everything. One branch of the vine climbed up into a dead tree which stood in itsway, and grew a dandy pumpkin about the size of a bushel basket in a three-way fork, which is still there and a pair of turtle doves have taken advantage of its protection and built a nest and raised their young in the fork under it.

Some pumpkin alright, but Ras. Hicks down near Britton had one that bore a pumpkin which weighed 384 lbs. and it would have been much larger except that the vine had dragged it clear across Ras's farm and about 60 rods onto his neighbors and when it went across the lane they had to chop out a section five feet wide so the cattle could get up to the barn and this stunted its growth. Ras lost an old sow and she was gone all winter but appeared next spring with a litter of ten pigs which the old lady had raised in one of the pumpkins and they hadn't eaten up half the seeds at that. Pretty good land around Britton alright.

NORTH ADRIAN

The Ladies' Aid was nicely entertained at the home of N. A. Bailey by his daughter, Miss Mary Bailey, assisted by her niece, Mrs. Mildred Bailey, last week Thursday, 32 being present. At noon a bountiful picnic dinner was served. After dinner the meeting was called to order by the President, Mrs. F. W. Ives, opening with music from the graphophone, followed with Bible reading and all repeated the Lord's Prayer. Then a short business meeting was in order, arrangements were made for our annual bazaar. Mrs. F. W. Ives was to have charge of the apron booth; Mrs. Nora Harris, the candy booth; Mrs. Eckert, the fish pond; also a farmer's store which will be held December 14th at the church. A supper will also be served. All come.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Ives are home from Wamplers Lake for the winter.

Nolan West has rented the W. L. Fair home and expect to move the first of this week.

Eugene Harris and lady friend, of Napoleon, attended church at this place last Sunday and visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Harris.

Saturday evening a goodly number of Lonnie Dibble's friends came and reminded him it was his birthday. It was a great surprise to him, they came with well-filled baskets. He was also presented with a gift from his friends. All present spent a very happy time and all wished him many more returns of the same.

PROTESTS AGAINST NARROWING STREETS BRING RESULTS

According to the plans laid out for putting down our pavement, the street intersections were to be narrowed up from three to five feet on each side, and the contractors have carried out these plans with the curb and gutter on the boulevard east of Ottawa St.

This makes the turn onto the cross streets very narrow in places and is especially bad at the turn onto the Toledo road, by the East Branch school house. Just why the engineer made such a requirement is not understood by those who have looked it over unless it be to save the contractor a few yards of cement.

But when the same thing was attempted on West Chicago St., R. A. Heesen and others on Union St. made such a vigorous protest that the plan was abandoned and the curb placed where it will come flush with the curb on each side of the cross streets, which will make the cross streets full width west of Pearl St., a much better condition of affairs.

AT THE BRADLEY.

Prettiest Girl In Town Made To Run for Mayor.

"Woman's Place," Constance Talmage's latest First National picture, which will be shown at the Bradley Theatre on Saturday, Nov. 18 opens with a Women's Political League which is trying to do just this. At their meeting the leader points out that in view of the crooked politics of the town there's nothing left for the women to do but to run a woman candidate for mayor at the next election. They decide to put up the most attractive woman they can find—brains don't matter much in a mayor, anyway, says the leader.

"Woman's Place" is an original story by John Emerson and Anita Loos. It was directed by Victor Fleming. Kenneth Harlan is Constance Talmadge's leading man. Others in the cast are Hassard Short, Florence Short, Ina Rorke, Marguerite Linden and Jack Connolly.

Novel Touch Given Big Special Film.

A novel touch has been given to "Flower of the North," the James Oliver Curwood special production, which will be shown at the Bradley Theatre on Sun, Nov. 19th. This touch is found in the prologue which shows the North country in the days of the French Chevalier, when knights fought for a fair lady's hand. This comes in decided contrast with the story itself, which deals with the North country at the present day.

All the scenic beauty of the Northland, and an ideal cast of players, selected because of their fitness for the roles, make this picture one of the biggest Curwood productions to be presented to the American public. It is a story that moves.

Another Beauty Secret.

At last Katherine MacDonald has explained the secret of her beauty.

The mystery was revealed when Miss MacDonald was working on the new feature, "Stranger Than Fiction," her Associated First National release, which will be shown at the Bradley Theatre, Wednesday, November 22d.

One of the self-appointed traveling evangelists preaching the Blue Law movement got inside the MacDonald studios and insisted on talking to the screen beauty, saying he was a writer and wanted to interview her.

Plenty More Like This in Tecumseh

Scores of Tecumseh people can tell you about Doan's Kidney Pills. Many a happy citizen makes a public statement of his experience. Here is a case of it. What better proof of merit can be had than such endorsement?

Thomas Russell, retired farmer, 209 Pearl St., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills on different occasions and always found them very beneficial. My back at times has given out, due to heavy lifting when working on the farm and my kidneys wouldn't act regularly. They showed signs of disorder in other ways. I suffered from rheumatic pains in my lower limbs, too. Whenever I have felt these symptoms coming on, I have gone to Pulver's Drug Store and gotten a box of Doan's Kidney Pills. It has never taken them long to relieve me of my trouble."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Russel had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

En-Ar-Co-Boy's
Optimistic Patter Makes LIFE WORTH WHILE

When passing the monster school boy in front of Whelan & LaBounty's place of business, our reporter was agreeably surprised to read "Cheer Up! The less you have the more there is to get."

Her curiosity was aroused and on investigating found this boy to be a surprisingly pleasing youngster because his sayings only pertained to the bright and sunny side of life such as—

"A soft answer may turn away a grouch."

"Never lose your temper if you would hold your edge."

"Cheer up! The first three months of winter are the coolest."

"Better build air-castles than not to build at all."

"Don't worry! Worry the other fellow."

"Even the crabapple has it's bright side."

"It's always darkest before dawn, so sleep 'till daylight."

"No matter if your brakes don't hold—you'll stop anyway."

Whelan & LaBounty

have hired the boy to help them sell En-ar-co Motor Oil—an oil that is refined with such scientific accuracy and paintaking care that it is considered everywhere the best motor oil obtainable. It will make your motor run smoother, keep it remarkably free from engine trouble, repair costs and other similar annoyances. (adv)

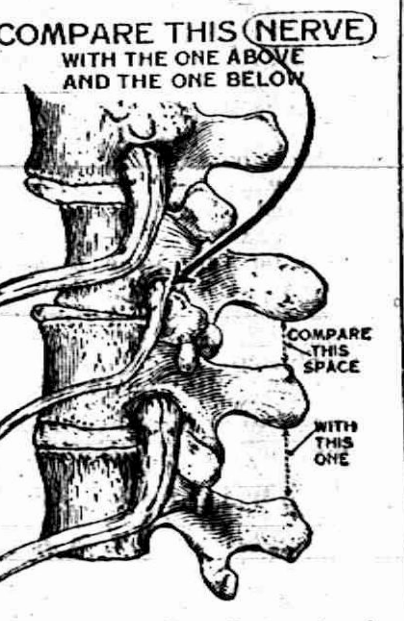
HEALTH
Nature's Way CHIROPRACTIC



(Section of spinal column showing pinched nerve the cause of disease.)

When we advertise the fact that our patients recover their health, we are not indulging in boastful conversation.

In this series of health talks, which have attracted much favorable comment, we have simply tried to put over the big truth, as an incentive to induce YOU to investigate—for our mutual good.

Our patients talk more forcefully for us than these messages, therefore, if we can persuade YOU to act upon their testimony, we will have accomplished the one big purpose behind these health talks.

The thinking person will agree that there can be no better proof of our claims, than the testimony of patients who have recovered health through Chiropractic, after all other methods have failed.

Investigation will not only convince you that Chiropractic is right, and just as applicable in YOUR case as it has been in hundreds of other cases like yours, but it will stabilize our claims, justify this advertising, and prove to you that Chiropractic is really the better way to health.

Avoid Waste of Feed

Having healthy, thrifty stock, or animals that are in rundown unhealthy condition is largely a matter of care.

Care of stock has become a science, also this holds true with reliable stock remedies.

Those remedies having outstanding merit have become so well known that their use is recognized by most feeders and growers of stock and poultry as an insurance against waste and loss of profit.

We recommend and urge the use of Dr. Hess Stock Tonic and Poultry Panacea, also Summer's Worm Powders are unexcelled for sheep or hogs.

The Purity Bake Shop is putting out some of the best bread that ever came to Tecumseh and the proprietor, Mr. L. O. The Purity Shop also is stocking some of the best candies to be found and their line is very complete. Candy has taken quite a drop in price and one can buy the best brands anywhere now at a price that would seem miraculous a short time ago.

ROAD COMPLETED YESTERDAY.

The contractor who has been putting in the road east of town from the corners one-half mile east from the city has completed the stretch up to the new boulevard and in a short time it will be thrown open to traffic.

Mr. Friesinger who has charge of the work has done far more than was expected when he started east of the city last month but everyone was hoping that the weather would hold good enough to let him connect up with the city paving and it has done so.

The road from the corners east of town to the Hayden Mill will be opened on Nov. 28th and the north side of the boulevard will be opened on Nov. 21st. This new strip of road will let the farmers around Holloway get to the Hayden Mill by Nov. 28th over the new road and soon after the road will be open clear into the city or as soon as the new bridge over the tail race is set.

The curb and gutter will be in in a few days and everything will then be cleaned up for winter. The new pavement certainly makes Tecumseh look like the real city it is and everyone speaks loudly of the splendid appearance and the convenience it is.

The contractors and engineers have worked hard to get as much done as possible and they have done exceedingly well considering the obstacles they had to overcome. Early next summer the rest of the work will be completed and then Tecumseh will be on the map right. Let the good day hasten along.

PLANS MOTHERS' MEETINGS.

The Parent-Teachers' Association is planning for a series of Mother's Meetings during the year. The first of these will be held next week on Tuesday, November 21. Mothers who are interested in the third, fourth, fifth and sixth grades will meet in the music room at the high school, from three until four o'clock.

On Wednesday, November 22, mothers interested in the kindergarten, first and second grades will meet at the kindergarten rooms in the West Branch School from three until four o'clock. A short program will be given and school and home problems discussed at each of these meetings.

Membership cards for the Association will be circulated the first of next week. It is hoped that these meetings will be well attended.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

Although 1918 War Savings Stamps do not mature until January 1st, 1923, Postmaster H. W. McClure announces that he will accept them on and after November 15th in exchange for the new 4% Treasury Savings Certificates.

Every 1918 Stamp presented now will be accepted at its maturity value of five dollars if used as part payment for one or more new Certificates, dated January 1, 1923.

This opportunity should appeal to everyone who holds War Savings Stamps bought in 1918—whether he holds one Stamp or two hundred.

Postmaster H. W. McClure is anxious to handle the bulk of these exchanges before the usual Christmas rush begins at the post-office. All owners of 1918 War Savings Stamps should take notice and govern themselves accordingly.

NOTICE.

The Baptist Ladies' Union will hold a rummage sale beginning Saturday, November 18, in the store building formerly occupied by Guy E. Belding.

THE HOOVER
Suction Cleaner
IT BEATS, AS IT SWEEPS, AS IT CLEANS

The culmination of fourteen years experience in building electric cleaners.

There is nothing that we might suggest to our patrons that would make a more practical or thoughtful Christmas gift than The Hoover. It efficiently combines the three essentials of thorough cleaning; it is sturdily built, yet light in weight; it is easy to operate, yet it cleans more thoroughly than any other electric cleaner; it is not injurious to even the most delicate rug. The Hoover has our unqualified endorsement—there are no others that equal it. Free home demonstrations gladly made.

Don't "Buy" Tires

Invest in them. Consider a tire as an investment from which you will receive returns in the form of long wear, cushioning and traction. Without anyone of these returns, your investment is not a good one.

When you buy bonds, what do you consider? The color of the paper or the gilt on the edge? No. Instead you consider the integrity and the resources of the firm behind it—also the firm you are buying from.

The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. recently (July) built its 45,000,000th tire.

They do not have to experiment on the public.

An investment in Goodyear Tires and our Service, no matter what its nature, will yield maximum returns.

WOMEN ASSAIL MICHIGAN LAWS.

Chicago, Nov. 14.—The National Woman's Party is focussing attention on Michigan and Ohio for passage of an equal rights law. Thus far the only state having such a law is Wisconsin. The proposed law provides that women shall enjoy all rights, privileges and immunities possessed by men. In Ohio leaders are encouraged by the fact that Ohio was the third state to ratify the suffrage amendment.

The report of the party on the two states declares: "In Ohio man is paramount and there are few states where woman occupies a more degraded place in respect to rights under the law." It is also asserted: "Even today it is true in Michigan that married women in this state have no general capacity to make contracts."

The report, which was prepared by women lawyers, said that in Ohio "the husband as head of the house owns the services of his wife and earnings of his children. The husband is entitled to damages when the wife is injured thru negligence just the same as injury to his other property. A court decision said if the wife for any reason was unable to perform her services the loss was the husband's, not her's. On the other hand the Ohio Supreme Court has ruled that a wife has no property interest in her husband's services. Ohio is one of the seven states which still consider the father the natural guardian of the children and entitled to their custody and control, to their services and earnings."

"One of the strange inconsistencies of the Michigan law," said the investigators, "with regard to a contract is shown in the fact that a married woman is held responsible by the courts if she goes to the store and buys supplies for her family and charges them in her name. She and not her husband may be required to pay for them. The theory that a wife is not allowed to contract for her own protection thus falls down completely, when she may contract and is bound by it if she is buying necessities for her family in her own name.

"The theory that a wife who aids her husband in committing a crime is persumed to be acting under his coercion and is therefore not guilty is, with certain restrictions, still in force in Michigan. In two cases in 1921, where wives had operated stills in their homes, the hubands not the wives, were convicted of violating the law.

"In Michigan a boy is not capable of marrying until he is 18, but in the case of a girl, the legal age is 16. Since minority is meant as a protection to young people, the law should extend this protection to girls at least as long as to boys."

ENTERTAINS FOR BRIDE-TO-BE.

Mr. and Mrs. C. V. N. Munro entertained a party of friends Friday evening at their home on East Shawnee street, honoring their neice, Miss Ariel Cummings, a bride-to- be of this month.

Music and contests were enjoyed during the early part of the evening, after which the guests were invited to the dining room which was beautifully decorated. Streamers of green and white extended from the chandelier to the table, marking each cover, a large basket of white crysanthemums centering the table.

A dainty two-course luncheon was served after which the guest of honor was presented with a miscellaneous shower, receiving many beautiful and useful gifts.

MONDAY CLUB MEETS.

The Monday Club met in regular session on Monday afternoon. At the business meeting, three new names were added to the membership roll, namely, Mrs. A. W. Stahler, Mrs. Charles Hanna, and Mrs. Howard Evans.

This being Federation Day the afternoon was devoted to the reports of the various meetings.

The county report of the Clinton meeting was given by Mrs. E. T. Armstrong while the State report of the Federation meeting at Flint was given by Dr. Pauline Bredow. This report was most excellent as the delegate had culled from each address given before the Federation, the best thoughts to present to the club. There are 444 clubs that are federated and they represent 60,000 women, so one can realize the importance of such a united body. The key note of the Federation was "World Peace" with many other topics of vital interest to women and to the communities at large.

Dr. Bredow had the pleasure of being entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Truman H. Medbury while at Flint and among the many interesting events planned for this large body of women was a trip to the Lapeer Institute which houses 2000 of the feeble minded, and which is not 10% of the number in the state that are unconfined.

The next meeting will be Sunshine Day with Mrs. C. N. Graebner chairman. The following committee, was appointed by the President, to assist at this meeting, Miss Jennie Gillespie, Mrs. Leslie Drake, Mrs. Guy Pocklington and Mrs. Martha Dunn. Mrs. Alta M. Fulcher will speak in the afternoon on Health and Hygiene, and a pot luck supper will be served. Each member is requested to bring their own dishes and may invite a guest for the occasion. The members are also requested to bring their annual Thanksgiving gifts for the inmates of the County Home.

BAND GIRLS WILL GIVE DANCE.

The members of the Ladies Band will give a Thanksgiving Party at Witherell Hall on Thursday, Nov. 30th and a big crowd is expected as they have engaged Ike Fisher's Orchestra to play and this always attracts a big crowd.

Full particulars are given in an ad elsewhere in this paper. The committees for the occasion are: Music, Mrs. W. F. Fisher, Mrs. A. J. Weir and Mrs. E. M. Campbell; Reception, Mrs Clement Hardenburgh, Mrs. R. J. McCoy, Mrs. Chas. Deery, Mrs. W. F. Fisher; Decoration, Miss Ethel Keyser, Mrs. Clement Hardenburgh, Mrs. R. J. McCoy, Miss Edna Taylor, Miss Teresa Deery, Mrs. B. E. Breese, Miss Verna Howard, W. L. Coller, Mrs. Howard Matthews; Refreshments, Mrs. Claire Dickinson, Mrs. Chas. MEETINGS CLOSE AT FRIENDS CHURCH.

The series of meetings which have been in progress the past two weeks at the Friends Church closed Sunday evening. They were very well attended throughout and much good resulted from them.

Among the special features of the campaign, were the noon meetings held in the various factories of the town and the street meetings held on the four corners each Saturday evening. Many people were reached in this way that otherwise would not have been.

Sunday was a very busy day for the party, with three services. Evangelist, F. H. Tormohlen gave very timely sermons. In the afternoon meeting he spoke especially to the church, urging that it live up to its mission, be spirit filled, aggressive and winning. Miss Sams and Miss Shefmire rendered vocal selections at each meeting.

Rev. Tormohlen spoke to the young people in the C. E. meeting, telling of Home Mission work he had been in, speaking especially of work in the mining districts of Pennsylvania.

The final service of the campaign was well attended, a large number from Raisin Center Friends Church being present. During the service it was reported that $565 had been raised in cash and pledges for the work of the Cleveland Bible Institute.

THE BAPTIST BROTHERHOOD.

An extra good meeting of the Brotherhood was held in the church chapel last Tuesday night. Forty-two members of the class and a few visitors were present. At the business session it was decided to change the regular meeting night from Monday to Tuesday night.

President Hendershot appointed a committee of two, Henry Baird and Norman McConnell, to confer with two ladies to be selected by the Berean Circle to arrange for a reception for the new pastor, Rev. H. A. Buell, who will occupy the pulpit for the first time as pastor on Sunday, December 10th.

The speaker of the evening, Rev. T. J. Hopkins of Adrian, gave us a very excellent and instructive talk.

After the speech came hot oysters and coffee which were greatly enjoyed.

NO-NAME CLUB.

Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Hunt entertained the No-Name Club Monday evening at their home on South Oneida Street at the first meeting of the season. A delicious chicken pie dinner was served at six-thirty. The tables were centered with yellow crysanthemums, which were also used together with winter bouquets, throughout the rooms.

Six tables of members spent the evening playing progressive pedro, Mrs. H. W. McClure and Allen Montgomery winning first places.

The club will meet in three weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Lester Rogers.

BRIDGE CLUB.

Mrs. F. S. Dickinson entertained her bridge club Tuesday afternoon at her home on North Maiden Lane.

Fall flowers were used as decorations, making the rooms very attractive. Bridge was played during the afternoon, a dainty two-course luncheon being served at the close of the games.

Mrs. Frederick Colegrove of Bowling Green, Ohio was present as a guest. The club will meet in two weeks with Mrs. Leon Williamson.

ENTERTAINS FOR GUEST.

Mrs. J. D. Shull entertained at a luncheon Thursday noon, for Miss Lyde Crowell of Cleveland Heights, Ohio. The dining room was very attractive with its decorations of fall flowers.

Covers were laid for Mrs. Harry Moore, Mrs. Robert Moore, Mrs. Margaret Beuchsteiner of Washington, D. C., Mrs. F. B. Wood, Mrs. E. D. Brown, Miss Edith Shull and Mrs. J. D. Shull.

Music was enjoyed during the afternoon.

About twenty-five members of the Freshmen class, chaperoned by Miss Martha Caldwell and Earl McNeil, enjoyed a masquerade party at the gym Friday evening.

Indoor baseball and other games were enjoyed during the evening. Prizes were awarded for the funniest dressed and the best dressed, Lyle Schneerer and Clarence Waring receiving them. Refreshments were served.

BROKEN TOYS.

The Almoner Circle requests that all who have discarded toys will please give them to the Circle so that they may be used for their annual Xmas present for some little child, perhaps not so fortunate as your own. Broken toys that can be mended will be gladly accepted. Please leave any that you may have at the home of Mrs. Harry Moore before Dec. 8th.

The work of this little circle is far reaching and they will appreciate greatly your assistance.

ADDS NEW DEPARTMENT.

Lilley State Bank, Tecumseh, and People's State Savings Bank, Britton, Mich.

Realizing the need of a broader service to investors of the community, the Lilley State Bank and the People's State Savings Bank of Britton will endeavor to keep a supply of high grade safe bonds on hand at all times and have secured a connection with the American Bond & Mortgage Company of New York, Chicago and Detroit.

The American Bond & Mortgage Company operates on a national scale and has satisfied holders of close to one hundred million of bonds and first mortgages secured by high grade income properties in the largest and most stable cities of the United States.

No investor has ever lost the smallest portion of interest or principal on any bond secured by the thousands of high grade buildings, which this company has assisted in financing. They have been doing business under the present name for the past 20 years. The officers and directors of the company offer investors the protection afforded by 15 to as many as 42 years of actual experience in this particular line of work. The bond offerings of this company are handled by several banks located in different parts of the East and middle West.

Through the efforts of the Lilley State Bank and the People's State Savings Bank of Britton and the personal service of the district representative, investors are assured of a permanent service not to be obtained in any other way.

The officers of the bank will be very glad to welcome any one who has an investment problem and now can give the services of an enormous company in any problem that pertains to almost any type of investment.

FELL AND HURT BADLY.

Last Friday afternoon as John VanVleet was crossing Evans St. he stubbed his toe against the raise on the pavement put down to keep cars three feet from the track and fell heavily striking his face against the steel rail of the railroad. His lip was badly cut so that it necessitated taking several stitches to close the wound. He also knocked out several teeth and was badly bruised about the face. It was a bad accident and he is only one of many that have fallen over this same obstruction.

ENTERTAINS MERRY-GO-ROUND.

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Moore and Mr. and Mrs. Lavern Russell were hosts and hostesses Tuesday evening to the Merry-Go-Round Club at the home of the former on Chicago Street.

Fall flowers prettily grouped added to the attractive rooms. At six-thirty a delicious chicken dinner was served, the guests being seated at ten small tables centered with bud vases holding a single chrysanthemum or crystal baskets with baby chrysanthemums.

Dainty place cards marked the covers. After the dinner the gentlemen enjoyed the usual smoker after which the tables were filled for the games. High scores were won by Mrs. Harry Moore and R. A. Heesen, the low scores going to Mrs. H. S. Temple and Harry Moore.

Miss Lyde Crowell of Clevelahd was an out of town guest and the hostesses were assisted in serving by the Misses Marjorie Dean and Florence Tulledge.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry McClure assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Thos. McCann.

NEW HITCHING POSTS INSTALLED.

The contractors have installed a number of iron hitching posts three feet high along the edge of the new sidewalks on Chicago St. in the business district.

These posts were put in for the convenience of the farmers who find it necessary to drive a horse to town occasionally and here they will find convenience in tying them.

Also if anyone finds his "Henry" is a bit skittish when one of our two hundred busses goes through he can just lasso a post and set tight until the danger is past.

Late stragglers can find a steady friend here also until George comes around and sets their compass homeward bound and thus reigneth peace and convenience all round.

ENTERTAINS AT SIX O'CLOCK DINNER.

DECEMBER FIRST
Will Last Ten Days

December first will last ten days at the Lilley State bank, because deposits made during the first ten days of the month will draw interest from the first.

No matter what may be the state of your finances on the first of December, we respectfully suggest that you do one of two things: either open a savings account here where your money earns 4 per cent interest compounded quarterly, or make a substantial deposit on the account which you already have.

Don't wait until Janurary first to make resolutions. Start a month ahead of time with the resolve that you will build up a worth while sum in a savings account at the Lilley State Bank. The quarterly interest payments will make this much easier.

And remember, December first lasts ten days at the Lilley State Bank.

Obituary.

Gladys Irene Gibson, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Gibson was born March 21, 1916 and died November 13, 1922, aged 6 years 7 months and 23 days. Her little life was full of love and undescribable void is in the hearts of the loving parents and brother, Harold.

Now like a dewdrop shrined
Within a crystal stone,
Thouart in heaven, my dove,
Safe with the Source of love,
The Everlasting One,
"And when the hour arrives,
From flesh that sets me free,
Thy spirit may await,
The first at heaven's gate,
To meet and welcome me."

The funeral services were held Wednesday morning, November 15 at 10:30 at the home, the Rev. J. C. DeRemer officiating.

Mrs. B. T. Craig sang. The pall-bearers were David Gibson, Jennings Frayer, Alvin Pollitz, John Beal, Edwin Hanley and Joe Holubik. Nine little girls, schoolmates, acted as honorary bearers and carried the flowers. The remains were laid to rest in Ridgeway cemetery. Those from away attending the funeral services were Mr. and Mrs. George Younglove, Mr. and Mrs Ned Sudborough and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hartley of Detroit; Mrs. Ruth Amidon of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Underwood of Ann Arbor; Mr. and Mrs. David Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. George Simpson of Deerfield; Mrs. John Hartley, Mrs. Mabel Brockway, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Weiland and Mrs. George Harrison and daughter of Blissfield, and Mrs. W. S. Cavanaugh of Adrian.

Card of Thanks.

Words cannot express the gratitude we feel to those who were so kind during our recent bereavement. We would especially thank the Rev. J. C. DeRemer for his comforting words; Mrs. B. T. Craig for her beautiful songs and all who sent the beautiful flowers. All were so kind.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gibson, and Harold.

Clare Merton Feldman.

The entire community mourns the death of one of its promising young men, Clare Merton Feldman, who passed away so suddenly Thursday morning that his loved ones scarcely had time to think of death.

His death followed a four days illness of inflamatory rheumatism during which he suffered intensely.

Clare was the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Feldman, and was born in Macon Township May 4, 1906 and died Nov. 16, 1922 at the age of 16 years, 6 months, 18 days. He is survived by his parents, and two brothers, Stanley and Thomas, in the immediate family and a large circle of more distant relatives and friends.

About two years ago he accepted Jesus Christ as his Saviour and united with the Britton Christian church. He was a member of the Young People's class in the Sunday school and by his daily conduct endeavored to follow the teachings of the Divine Master.

Before coming to Britton four years ago he attended Sunday-school at Saline where he had many friends. He was a member of the Sophomore class in the high school. The sunny smile and cheerful disposition which characterized him will be sadly missed by all of the organizations of which he was a member.

The cloud of sorrow hangs low and the burdens of grief is great, but in the darkness there is a ray of light in the consciousness that he knew the voice of his Master and the burden is made not too heavy to bear in our faith that the promises of the Father still hold true.

The funeral services were held Saturday p. m. at 1:30 at the home with the Rev. J. C. DeRemer and Rev. R. C. Powell officiating. E. L. Palmer sang two beautiful selections. The pall-bearers were Lloyd Gibson, Lawrence Zeluff, Lawrence Hoagland, Edward Gripton and Glen and Jay Curry. The honorary bearers and floral carriers were the members of the Sophomore class. The remains were laid to rest in the Brookside Cemetery in Tecumseh. Those from away attending the services were Will Wittenburg and family, Mr. and Mrs. Dustin Haggett, Mr. and Mrs. Gersh Feldman and Mr. and Mrs. George Feldman of Lansing; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Murray and family, Mr and Mrs. Jay Agner and Mr. and Mrs. Chas Feldman of Milan; Mr. and Mrs. Will Feldman and family of Scofield; Mr. and Mrs. Lee Madison, Mr. and Mrs. J. Pyle and family of Monroe; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Feldman and son of Deerfield; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. McCalla of Ann Arbor; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Anderson of North Adams; Mr. and Mrs. Percy Boyd and son Percy of Detroit; Mrs. Andrew Johnson of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Murphy and Ralph Wilson of Tipton; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wagner, George Runne and daughter of Maybee and hosts of other relatives and friends from Tecumseh, Clinton, Tipton and Saline.

Card of Thanks

It is with sincere gratitude from the very depths of our hearts we wish to extend our thanks thru the Herald to all who were so kind during our recent bereavement. We are especially grateful to the pastors, singers, members of the Sophomore class and for the respect shown by closing the school and to those who sent the beautiful floral pieces. Words fail to express our thanks.

Price vs. Quality

Pure Rich Milk produced by a large herd of Tuberculin tested cows can be bought for 9c a quart. Why pay more?

Extra Heavy Whipping Cream, the kind you would use in your own home at 15c per half-pint. Why pay more?

Our price is the lowest and our quality is the highest obtainable. Isn't there quite a satisfaction to know the milk you are getting is Rich and Pure and bottled under sanitary conditions. We do not buy any milk that we sell, we produce all our own.

AT THE BRADLEY.

If You Would Kill A Jinx Now's Your Chance To Do It.

If you have any doubt about your pet superstitions, and want to hold onto them, better see "The Ladder Jinx," Jess Robbins comedy which will be shown at the Bradley Theatre on November 29 and 30. At least it will convince you that if you do or don't do thus and so, a lot of things might happen to you. A clever comedy, with a clever cast, including Edward Horton, Tully Marshall, Margaret Landis, and Otis Harlan.

"Playthings of Destiny," starring Anita Stewart, the Associated First National Pictures attraction, which will open an engagement of one night, Saturday, Nov. 25th, at the Bradley Theatre, was originately written for production on the "speakie" stage by Jane Murfin author of "Lilac Time," and Larry Trimble. Louis B. Mayer, however, secured permission to film the story before it was produced on the boards, where it probably will be seen next fall.

Andy Taylor may not be able to crack twenty-five straight at the pigeon shoots but he is mighty handy with the shooter in the field. Last Monday, he and Wilson Aldrich went hunting up near Sand Lake and Wilson shot a partridge. Soon thereafter two others got up in a hurry and Andy just copped 'em both and they went at unknown angles too. Some shooter we say.

MORENCI TRIMS TECUMSEH.

Last Friday afternoon the Morenci football team came over and lifted the scalps of the local braves by the margin of 20 to 0.

The Morenci players were much heavier than the locals and have had considerable more experience which proved the undoing of Tecumseh although the locals put up a good contest in the first half and at one time seriously threatened the goal of the visitors. However, a bad play was pulled right when the locals should have stuck to straight football and their only chance was lost.

The locals worked the short forward pass several times and made splendid gains but they could not hold the pace and lost the ball on downs. One of the scores made by Morenci was when a forward pass essayed by Tecumseh was caught by a Morenci player who ran fifty yards for a touchdown.

This game puts Morenci in the finals for the pennant race which now lays between Blissfield, Hudson and Morenci. The referee from Adrian College was one of the best officials ever seen on the local grounds and his work was entirely above criticism.

About another year Tecumseh should have some good material for a real team if they get the proper coaching and should make a much better showing than they have this year.

CHANGES ROUTE.

As some sections of the Chicago Pike are extremely bad at present and will be impassable during the winter, the INTERURBAN AUTO TRANSIT COMPANY have somewhat changed their schedule and will make the run from Adrian to Detroit over the State roads, all concrete after leaving Ridgeway.

New cars with heaters, driven by the owners of the cars,, will be used entirely. The policy of the management will be, "Not How Rapid, But How Safe." The line will be a regular community taxicab service, catering to everyone on the entire line.

The cars of this line will have green banners and green spot lihgts

There will be green signs at the waiting-room and stopping places in each town as soon as they can be arranged.

The Commerce Club of Tecumseh are much interested in this matter, wishing to give Tecumseh people the means of reaching Detroit and returning the same day. In order to have the line run on schedule there will be emergency cars at different points to fill in, in case of car trouble.

Cars will stop anywhere for passengers so farmers can hail them at any time or phone for reservation.

DODGE BROTHERS
SEDAN
Many who could well afford more expensive cars are showing a marked preference for Dodge Brothers Sedan.
They find it easy to drive, economical to run, and comparable in beauty and elegance with cars much higher in price.
In the vast amplitude of Dodge Brothers closed body plant, this sedan is constructed with all the studious precision that marks the work of the finest custom builders.
Eighteen days are devoted alone to the 18 rubbing and varnishing operations which are responsible for the unusual brilliancy of its lustre.
Months of seasoning precede the use of the fine, critically selected ash which gives the body its rugged firmness.
The interior fittings, too, are chosen with thoughtfulness and rare good taste. The upholstery is covered with genuine mohair velvet of a singularly rich and beautiful pattern. The seats are roomy and luxurious.
Steel disc wheels (with cord tires) harmonize in a most effective way with the new grace and smartness which Dodge Brothers have recently brought to the lines of the body.

Suction Cleaner

IT BEATS, AS IT SWEEPS, AS IT CLEANS

The culmination of fourteen years experience in building electric cleaners.

There is nothing that we might suggest to our patrons that would make a more practical or thoughtful Christmas gift than The Hoover. It efficiently combines the three essentials of thorough cleaning; it is sturdily built, yet light in weight; it is easy to operate, yet it cleans more thoroughly than any other electric cleaner; it is not injurious to even the most delicate rug. The Hoover has our unqualified endorsement—there are no others that equal it. Free home demonstrations gladly made.

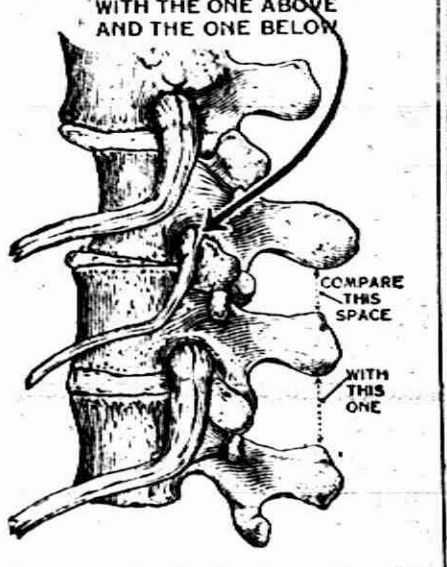
HEALTH

Nature's Way

CHIROPRACTIC

COMPARE THIS NERVE WITH THE ONE ABOVE AND THE ONE BELOW



(Section of spinal column showing pinched nerve the cause of disease.)

"Stop, look, and listen"—is not a bad motto at any time. It is equally good in matters of health.

Some day you will stand at the cross roads—with the road to health stretching out before you in one direction—and the road to disease in another. The road down is always an easy one to travel,—just neglect, carelessness, disobedience to the laws of health.

The road upward to health is always a little harder to travel—it means a little thought, a little attention, a little self denial.

In either case, stop and think—What is at the end of the road? Are you at the cross roads now? Or have you already slipped a little on the downward road?

Stop now, and think where you are. Choose the right road now while you may—and if you have already thoughtlessly started on the downward path, turn back now before you get too far from the goal of health.

Let us help you check up on your physical condition. Let us show you how we may help you onward on the right road, the road worth while, the better way to health. Consultation and spinal analysis free.

Avoid Waste of Feed

Having healthy, thrifty stock, or animals that are in rundown unhealthy condition is largely a matter of care.

Care of stock has become a science, also this holds true with reliable stock remedies.

Those remedies having outstanding merit have become so well known that their use is recognized by most feeders and growers of stock and poultry as an insurance against waste and loss of profit.

We recommend and urge the use of Dr. Hess Stock Tonic and Poultry Panacea, also Summer's Worm Powders are unexcelled for sheep or hogs.

WELL SHOWS UP STRONGER.

The oil well on the Lieb Farm northeast of Deerfield was a surprise last week when after it had been pumped for a time it flowed 12 barrels of oil into the tank after the pumps had been stopped.

The oil is of the very highest grade and commands a better price than Pennsylvania oil. A number of Tecumseh men are stockholders in the company that holds this lease.

A Jackson Co. has leased the ground just west of the Lieb well and are now putting down a hole. If this should prove a well, it will make these leases quite valuable as the oil is of such high grade that a small well of 50 barrel capacity would be a great payer. All authorities agree that this will be a rich field when it is properly developed.

The Sophomore class enjoyed a progressive party Friday evening. Thirty members of the class, chaperoned by teachers, Misses Dean, Wolfe and Boyce, met at the home of Cora Collins and enjoyed a pleasant hour with games and refreshments were served.

Everyone then put on their overcoats and went to the home of Alice Barber where another social hour of games and refreshments was enjoyed.

The next stop was at the home of Helen Hall where more games were played and refreshments served.

The last stop was the home of David Reed, where after games and refreshments were enjoyed, the crowd went home tired, but reported a very pleasant evening.

COMMUNICATION.

Tecumseh, Nov. 28, 1922.

Dear Mr. Editor:-

I wish to state that the reference to The American Legion which appeared in a recent issue of The Herald meant the local Post only. This interview if I remember correctly stated that The American Legion was not back of the Red Cross. To be more exact certain departments or Posts of the Legion might be back of the Red Cross, but in this particular case the Underwood-Orr Post of the American Legion (the Tecumseh Post) is not back of the Red Cross drive of Adrian. I understand that one of the members of the Red Cross Executive Committee appeared before the Monday Club yesterday afternoon and made certain statements about the above interview and the person interviewed. The person who gave you the interview Mr. Editor assures me that his statement outside of the above mentioned minor error still stands. The larger part of the money which the Red Cross has had the past four years was given them during the War for the benefit of the service men. During the war it was so spent. At the end of the war large sums of money were left in the different Red Cross treasuries and the National officers determined to carry out the work for which this money was given and at the same time develop other lines of work for the general good of the different communities. In certain chapters this work has been done without losing sight of the original purpose for which the money was given.

The Lenawee County Chapter has up to the present time done a wonderful work for the disabled service man in acting as an agent between him and your government. Some of your readers, Mr. Editor, probably believe that Uncle Sam takes care of his wounded and sicg but he does so only after a great deal of effort is expended in each case to prove that the wounded and sick actually served Uncle Sam and actually received his hurts in his service. (Many die while these efforts are being made). This effort has been supplied largely by the local Red Cross through their very efficient secretary, Mrs. Pangburn, who has been unremitting in her efforts for the disabled boys who were entitled to them. Mrs. Pangborn was recently resigned, one of her reasons possibly being that she had a better job offered. But there was plenty of money in the treasury to have made her job a better job for her, and to assist in carrying out the work she knew ought to be done. And Mr. Editor, the service men of Lenawee County need her experience and her ability to fight for them in their prayers to your government to take care of our disabled as you want them to be taken care of. And they are going to need these same efforts for some years.

In this Monday Club talk the member of the Executive Committee is said to have stated that the Legionaire you interviewed admitted he was wrong because he refused to attend a special meeting of the Executive Committee to be called for him. Last spring two members of the local Legion attended a meeting of the Executive Committee which was rather stormy and I do not believe either of them care to repeat their experience unless there should appear some chance of doing good. Large sums of money were being spent from a legal standpoint, possibly correct, but not for the purpose for which your readers gave it. These two Legionaires went to this meeting to remonstrate, and they were not received by an Executive Committee that seemed to have a real sympathy for the disabled service man, a knowledge of his needs and I believe an understanding of the broad policy of the National Red Cross.

A Legionaire.

Thirty-five members of the Presbyterian C. E. visited the Holloway C. E. Sunday evening. Miss Alice Heilman led the meeting and Miss Mildred Boyce gave an interesting talk on the Passion Play which she recently saw in Europe.

Lenawee-Monroe Convocation Of O. E. S. Draws Largest Crowd Ever In Local Lodge Room. Interesting Program Entertains Delegates. Three Candidates Initiated.

The Lenawee-Monroe County meeting of the Eastern Star convened here last Thursday for their annual meeting. The convocation was presided over by Mrs. Ira Smith of Deerfield and sixteen chapters were represented at the afternoon meeting. Miss Nannie Kyle gave the address of welcome, Miss Turner of Onsted responding.

The afternoon was spent in transacting the necessary business. The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Mrs. Frank Snedicor; 1st Vice-President, Floyd Carpenter of Fairfield; 2nd Vice-President, Mrs. Nina Galloway of Hudson; Chaplain, Mrs. A. A. Kennedy of Morenci; Secretary and Treasurer, Margaret Lawson of Deerfield; Marshall, Mrs. Helen Pentecost of Onsted.

During the afternoon the kindergarten kiddies, under the direction of Mrs. Ketcham, gave several orchestral numbers which were very pleasing.

At six o'clock a very fine dinner was served to the guests under the auspices of the Presbyterian church.

For the evening session, over 350 members filled the lodge rooms, it being one of the largest attendances ever assembled in the lodge rooms.

A piano solo by Elwin Mize, a nephew of Mrs. Montgomery was an opening number of the meeting. The young boy who is a true artist responded to the repeated applause. The meeting was then opened by the Tecumseh chapter, after which the County officers exemplified the degree work with three candidates, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beard and Mrs. Lawrence Ketcham who were initiated into the order.

It was a very successful meeting and shows the splendid interest that is taken in the work of the order.

Among the distinguished guests present were Mrs. Ada Sangster, Worthy Grand Matron of Michigan; Mrs. Clara Eldredge, Worthy Grand Esther of the National Chapter of O. E. S.; Mrs. Luella Hall, Past Grand Warden; Mrs. Lovell, Past Grand Deputy of Ohio; all of whom gave interesting and instructive talks at the close of the work.

Onsted extended an invitation for the next meeting which will be in the spring and the invitation was accepted. The fall meeting will be held at Morenci. The meeting then adjourned to the dining room where supper was later served to the guests.

FAY—CUMMINS.

A very pretty wedding was solomnized Wednesday at high noon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Tenny, when their grand-daughter Miss Ariel Cummins became the bride of Harmon Fay.

As Monroe Cummins, a brother of the bride, played "Lohengrin's, Wedding March," accompanied by Dale Fish on the violin, the bridal party marched in, led by the maid of honor, Miss Naomi VanWinkle, followed by the bride and groom and the bride's maid, Miss Mabel Lockwood and the best man, Chas. Trolman, taking their places by a bank of ferns. Rev. Millard of Clinton performed the ceremony, using the ring service.

A delicious two-course dinner was served by Mrs. Orris Bumpus and Miss Eyrcil VanWinkle, covers being laid for forty..

The bride is well-known in Tecumseh, having lived here most of her life and the groom is from Quincy. They both have many friends who will wish them happiness.

Among the guests were Mrs. May Farewell, the groom's mother, and Lee Farewell of Quincy; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Cummins and Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Cummins of Adrian; Mr. McCarther of Flint; Mrs. Fish and son Dale and Mr. Chase of Quincy.

GIVEN A SURPRISE.

Miss Faye McClure was pleasantly surprised Friday evening when a party of friends dropped in to help celebrate her birthday. A delicious supper was served after which games and a social time were enjoyed. Miss McClure received many nice gifts and many happy wishes. Mrs. S. N. Wyman helped to make the evening pleasant by telling fortunes and some were much surprised at what is to come.

Those present were Miss Ruth Reed, Ellen Smith, Vesta Wilson, Florence Eccles, Veiva Hardcastle, Mrs. P. C. Snell, Mrs S. N. Wyman and Miss Faye McClure.

SKIDDED—CRASH.

Sunday evening Chas. Kempf was driving his car with a load of young people on the way to Holloway. As they went thru town on the main corners, he put on the brakes to avoid striking a car ahead and slid, hitting the railroad track which overturned the car, sending the occupants thru the top and badly smashing the car.

GIVEN FAREWELL RECEPTION.

The Baptist Church Sunday School and B. Y. P. U. gave a very pleasant reception Friday evening at the chapel for Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Harris who leave the first of the week for Detroit.

Curtis Ashley played a piano solo as the first number on the program which was followed by short talks by Alva Knight, representing the B. Y. P. U., Jay Morse from the Sunday School and Dr. North the church.

They were presented with a nice gift in remembrance of the occasion.

Mrs. Robt. Moore gave a very pleasing solo after which Mr. and Mrs. Harris each made a few remarks. Refreshments were served.

HELD ENJOYABLE MEETING.

The Missionary Circle of the Presbyterian Church met at the pleasant home of Mrs. E. H. Halladay, Friday, Nov. 24th for the annual Praise Service.

The devotionals were led by Mrs. C. H. Kemp, with Mrs. S. W. Boyce leader of the program.

My Thanksgiving Box—Mrs. A. D. Lawrence.

Her Offering—Mrs. A. W. Mills

Vocal solo, "Sound His Praise" —Mrs. Stella Billings.

Mrs. Stanton's Thank Offering—Mrs. Geo. Kidman.

Yourself in Her Place—Mrs. J. F. Kiskaddon.

The Thank Offering boxes were opened and proved such a splendid success that the Circle will use them again next year.

Mrs. Fred Rector also read an interesting letter from the girl whom the society are supporting in Ashville school. There were thirty present.

WIT AND WISDOM CLUB.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Turner and Miss Mildred Boyce entertained the Wit and Wisdom club at the Turner home Monday evening, Mrs. Turner having charge of the program.

Miss Boyce gave a splendid talk on her recent trip through Switzerland and France, illustrated with the radioptican. Miss Margurette Wilson and Margaret Turner gave a Swiss Poke Dance in costume, which was very pretty, and Mrs. Eugene Rosacrans in her pleasing manner gave a French solo.

After the program refreshments were served. Mrs. Helen McNeil will entertain the club in two weeks.

BLISSFIELD RUNS AWAY WITH TECUMSEH.

In a decidedly one-sided game of football played at Blissfield last Friday, the local school team went down to a crushing defeat at the hands of the more skillful Blissfield players.

When the curtain was finally rung down on the slaughter it was found that Blissfield had run around, over and through Tecumseh for a total of 81 points while the locals had never a score to offset it.

Tecumseh has had a rather disastrous season and has made a poor showing due to the fact that the team is light and entirely inexperienced while their antagonists have had experience to aid them in winning. It is hoped that another year the local team will make a better showing.

A large number of rooters accompanied the team to Blissfield but could find very little to root about. However, they took their defeat gracefully and will improve thereby like real warriors should.

SHOOTERS WIN MANY PRIZES.

The local shooters and a number from Adrian and Clinton went to the Park last Friday afternoon and indulged in a handicap shoot for geese, ducks and chickens.

It was a fifty bird handicap and Dr. Britton refereed the game as well as did the best shooting. Just how the thing was arranged we do not know but we do know that everyone present had a good time and everyone won a prize so it was a genuine success from every angle.

There was a bad wind blowing and it was cold which also handicapped the shooters because the rocks would dodge like a kite in a gail and it took much luck beside a steady hand to break the targets.

We believe that more birds were missed than ever before and strange to relate the fellows who missed the most got the final high scores which shows that you don't have to be an expert shot to get a real prize which is just what these handicaps are arranged for Next time we hold one everyone come out and try your luck and you will not be disappointed. It was great fun and all had a good time. Fifteen shooters toed the line and as there were fifteen prizes, we all got there and made good if it was a bad day.

LOCAL I. O. O. F. LODGE VISITS CLARK'S LAKE.

About fifteen members of the local I. O. O. F. Lodge vsited Clark's Lake Lodge last Monday night and put on the third degree. Three candidates were initiated and an elegant supper served in the dining room by the boys from Clark's Lake.

It was a very enjoyable trip and without incident except that the steering arrangements of one car became slightly twisted and caused a little delay. However, with the assistance of a local farmer that was quickly set right and everything went smoothly again.

These pike trips are very enjoyable occasions and the lodge surely prospers thereby. Next Wednesday night there will be a masquerade dance at the local I. O. O. F. hall. All members of the orders welcome.

MONDAY CLUB.

The Monday Club met in regular session at their club rooms, Monday afternoon, with a large attendance.

Two very pleasing vocal solos were given by Lester Waring after which Mrs. Alta N. Fulcher of Lansing gave a very interesting and instructive address on "Child Hygiene and the Work of the State in Organizing Mother and Baby Clinics, and the Public Health of the State." Mrs. Fulcher is a state lecturer and organizer for the State Board of Health at Lansing.

Clare Camburn accompanied by Miss Edna Taylor at the piano, played two cornet solos, which were very much enjoyed.

A pot luck supper was served after the meeting and a pleasant social time was enjoyed.

The meeting next week will be led by Mrs. Paul Hunt and the following papers will be given: "Jesuits, Missions, Schools," "The Rubber Industry" and "Coffee Plantations."

CARD PARTY.

The Royal Neighbors gave a card party at their hall Friday night, fifteen tables of players being present

Mrs. B. W. Mominee won first place, Mrs. Ernest Howard being consoled, and J. J. Jensen won first place and Wm. Bennett the consolation for the gentlemen. Supper was served after the games. A large number of Clinton members were present

JOSEPH CROWELL PLEASES AUDIENCE.

The second number of the Lyceum Course was given at the high school auditorium Tuesday evening, with a large number present.

Joseph Crowell, a character portrayalist, impersonator and entertainer, delighted his audience with his portrayals of various characters, which he made very effective by the use of wigs, grease paint, make-up, costume changes and dialect.

The various nationalities he impersonated were French, Irish, Italian and Chinese. The pianologues he gave were exceptionally fine, making the audience laugh one minute and cry the next.

The last impersonation was that of an old man who gave one of Edgar Guest's poems, "It Takes a Heap O' Livin' in a Place to Call it Home," and a pianologue, "Songs My Mother Used to Sing," which were very good.

ANNOUNCE OPENING.

Elsewhere in this paper is the announcement of the opening of the new Cozy Cafe now owned and operated by Roy Prichard.

This cafe will be one of the finest in this part of the country as it has been completely re-equipped with new furniture and inlaid linoleum on the floor. Every convenience that a modern cafe affords will be found here and the people are assured of the very best in eats at all hours.

They will serve regular dinners at 40c per plate and short orders at any time. Both Mr. and Mrs. Prichard are experienced in this line of work and they have the reputation of putting on one of the best meals to be found in these parts, consequently the public will doubtless appreciate this new place of business.

Read their announcement of the opening and go if you want a most excellent dinner at the new Cozy Cafe.

ENTERTAINS "500" CLUB.

Mrs. H. S. Bredow was hostess last Friday afternoon to her "500" club, at her home on West Chicago Street.

Ferns and blooming plants added to the attractive rooms. Five tables were filled for the games and the afternoon was spent very pleasantly.

At five-thirty a delicious two-course luncheon was served by the hostess.

THE ONLY REMEDY.

The only remedy that can stop the extortionate taxes on real estate (farms and homes) is to get a law through the legislature placing a limit of 1½ per cent on all real estate. This will effectually stop taxing the farmers out of existence and give the home owner in the towns a chance to live as he should.

The slogan—make 1½ percent the limit—should take hold of every farmer and small home owner throughout the state and they could force the law through as easy as rolling off a log. All they would have to do is to make the politicians who are so anxious to go to the legislature, either do the bidding of the people or out they go and it would come to pass promptly.

Its directly up to the people whether they pay extortionate taxes and meekly submit to political soft soap or whether the aforesaid plain people demand a 1½ per cent limit on all real estate and get it. If the people stay at home at the primaries or take no interest in who represents them, then they must pay the fiddler as long as they let the faithful few run things in the interest of the faithful and their greedy friends.

Doctors, preachers, school teachers, engineers and every other public profession which serves the public put strict requirements on who holds these places that prove those who essay to practice them have special fitness for so doing, the public must be protected. But when we elect a man to office, we just sit around and let him go out and start himself and then we stay away from the primaries and let his friends and the favored few nominate him, and then we go to the polls and just put the seal of approval on him whether he has any fitness for the place or not. This is true clear down to the small town offices and the people stand around and let it go on, often offering the excuse—what can we do? What can we do? We can elect someone with special fitness who will stand and fight for a 1½ per cent limit on real estate if we want to. We are in the vast majority and our votes each counts one, so it is easy to elect someone who will stand and fight for just such a measure and then the plunderers of the public purse can go look [illegible] to spend if they have to have it, to pay off their political friends.

Just start the slogan—limit the taxes on real estate to 1½ per cent and see how frightened the gang gets and tells you it will bankrupt the state and destroy the sunshine and rain and bring the black death around to every door. But these statesmen who went to Lansing a short time ago to pass a law to stop profiteering in coal and then grabbed 10 days pay for four days work, we presume think they are patriotic citizens. But do you think so?

Lack of interest in who represents you in the legislature and in Congress is the absolute cause of every evil that is now threatening to engulf the home owner and farmer with taxes that eat up his income and that of his family, making them virtual slaves who work and dig like beavers and turn every cent they can earn over to a lot of political pirates to spend for luxurious appointments while they ply the last of ever increasing taxes and lessening prices.

How long will you call yourselves men and allow your honestly earned money to be taken from your family's needs and thrown to the winds by a crowd of political spenders, while you continue to take little interest in who represents your interests where the laws are made. When will you wake up? There were signs of it at the last election but if you would wake up at the primaries and see that men who will work and fight for a 1½ per cent limit on real estate taxes are nominated, you will be settling the question P. D. O.

Start the 1½ per cent ball rolling and see the politicians throw a fit and commence a state wide propaganda with your money to stop it. But they never can if you and others who own their homes get in earnest and pass the word along. Limit taxes on homes and farms to 1½ per cent. That will bring plenty of revenue for all necessary government expense and the spenders can go to Helen Hunt for the rest to spend among their incompetent relatives and political bosses. Start the ball rolling and in two more years it will have gone around the state and nothing can stop it. It will settle the extortionate tax question with a sharp crack that can be perfectly understood and easily applied. Will you do your share?

GOVERNMENT MAKES ALLOWANCE.

The U. S. Government makes an annual allowance for the keeping of cats at the Post Offices over the U. S. It has been found that the only successful way to combat rats and mice is by keeping a cat, and hence the Postmasters are given an allowance for supplying cats with a living at the post offices.

If everyone would use the same judgment and keep a cat, and you can keep one if you feed it and take care of it. It must have drink and food the same as you and if these are supplied cats will keep rats and mice away from your store. Rats and mice destroy fifty times what it costs to keep a good cat and if you are humane and treat the cat right, it will earn its keep fifty times over. One cat is worth more than a ton of rat poison to destroy and keep away these pests.

We have no desire to boast but we do have absolute confidence in our ability to deliver health to the sick. We consider it our privilege, yes, our duty to let others know that they may benefit.

Stop and think, is there anything equal to confidence—pure unadulterated 100% confidence? Think of the perfect satisfaction that comes to the Doctor when he knows, and knows that he knows, and then having put that knowledge to the acid test with gratifying results, he knows that he can do it again and again.

As Doctors of Chiropractic, we know that the CAUSE of fully 90% of the sickness in this community can be corrected with Chiropractic Adjustments. The fact that our patients do recover their health after trying other methods, creates confidence in our claim that Chiropractic is really and truly the better way to health.

A Message to Folks Who Live Out of Town

Once in a while somebody says, "I couldn't get that in our town and the merchants there sent me to you." It doesn't make us mad a bit. We like to feel that a comradeship exists between us and all the other storekeepers.

If your home town store has what you want, buy it there. We don't want to take trade that rightfully belongs to the man who helps develop your community. He knows just how complete our store is, and also knows that we will treat you right in service, price and quality. Whenever your wants are beyond him, he will send you to us.

That doesn't always mean that you have to take a trip in here. Just to accommodate out-of-town customers we maintain a regular shopping service. Write a letter to—W. O. ALBIG, Adrian, Michigan.

Big Opportunity Opened Up Today

Herald Puts on Campaign That Should Meet With Instant Approval. Gives Christmas Club Plan Which Saves You Real Money. Ends Jan. 1st. Take Advantage If You Want To Save.

Although print paper is now exactly three times as costly as it was before the war with no prospect of coming down a single cent (it is evidently controlled by the paper kings just like every other commodity) and the cost of our overhead is much more than it was before the war, we are going to make a special offer good only until January 1st, 1923. This offer positively stops Dec. 30. 1922 when we close up for business. Here is the plan.

Every old subscriber who will bring in a new subscription to the Herald together with his own renewal for a year will get the two for one year for $3.00. That is provided he is paid up to date. ALL SUBSCRIPTIONS MUST BE IN ADVANCE.

New subscribers who come in the office without a renewal accompanying them will be clubbed with some old subscriber who has made application and the two will count the same as if brought in by an old subscriber. i. e, the new subscriber will get the Herald one year for $1.50 and the one with whom he is clubbed the same.

Now is your chance. Ask your neighbor or someone whom you know would like the Herald and who is not now a subscriber to subscribe and you bring in the new subscription with your own renewal, if paid to date, and you get the two for $3.00 for one year each. If that is not saving you real money, what is?

We make this sacrifice and charge it up to advertising to get a larger list of new subscribers. Its our loss pure and simple but we want to send the Herald into every home in the northeast quarter of Lenawee County and are making this great offer to finish up the work we have nearly completed.

The Telegram keeps a salaried man on the road all the time to solicit subscriptions. It costs them big money and we have decided to give you this cost instead of putting on a solicitor. How is that?

Remember this Xmas Clubbing plan ends Dec. 30, 1922. This gives you over three weeks to take advantage of it. We send the paper anywhere in the U. S. at the same rate. Why not club for the boy or girl who is away from home but who loves to get the news. No gift on earth so much appreciated. Send them the old home paper and be thrice blessed. Do it today while you can get that new subsbcriber easily before someone else does.

The Herald is an all-home print newspaper and its the old home paper that everyone appreciates. It stands for your interests and fearlessly advocates them. That deserves support also and we together will win the battle for better conditions for the common people.

This is YOUR OPPORTUNITY. You have heard of that word before, it is useless unless you do your part and take advantage of it. Get that new subscriber and save one dollar on the cost of the two papers. Delay may mean someone else has your new subscriber you counted on. Get busy at once if money is worth saving to you. If its not then you have no worry at all in this old world.

With best wishes for a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year, the Herald wishes the whole world health and happiness as never before.

Remember $3.00 gets two club subscriptions to the Herald for a full year each. Take the only paper in the county that stands relentless for lower taxes and better living conditions for the home folks.. Your neighbor will gladly subscribe on this plan if he does not already take it. Do it today.

ENTERTAINS MONROE B. Y. P. U.

The local B. Y. P. U. entertained at a banquet Friday evening in honor of the Monroe B. Y. P. U. After the banquet, a program of music and speeches was given by the people from Monroe which was very much enjoyed.

Games and stunts were played after the program and everyone reports a fine time. Rev. and Mrs. Curtis and family were present and all enjoyed visiting with them.

INSTALLS REGULAR SCREAMER.

If you happen to be eating your evening meal when the new fire siren lets go, don't swallow your cud and necessitate the services of Doc, for this new fangled apparatus just put in by Manager Pruyne of the Telephone Exchange has the great American Eagle faded fifty miles.

We were walking home last evening thinking how we were going to meet those?? taxes when the durned thing let go and we came the nearest to swallowing our Adam's apple that ever occurred in our family history. It started with a low piercing wail that sounded like forty ghosts were full of colic from green apples and then it ran the gamut from lower c to high c in such blood curdling scream that it must have startled old Tecumseh from his happy hunting ground and put the Devil in that Red Skin's eye. At least it just naturally faded us into a limp bunch of humanity that brot the cold sweat out in globules until we got our second wind and saw that it wasn't coming any nearer.

Its just like the old man Pruyne to put up such a squaker that will throw the constable at Tipton into a cat fit when it blows some dark and rainy night just as the ghosts from Sleepy Holler are homeward bound. If everyone in Tecumseh don't get to the next fire, it won't be Pruyne's fault, but we ought to have reasonable warning when the darned thing is about to scream.

SCHOOL STARTS CAFETERIA,

The local schools have inaugurated a cafeteria dinner which was put on for the first time last Monday, over eighty being fed.

Hot cocoa, sandwiches and scalloped potatoes were served to the students at a cost of about fifteen cents. The whole scheme is to furnish students, especially those from the country, with hot cocoa etc to go with their own lunch if they desire, or to furnish a more extended lunch for anyone who wishes it.

The domestic science department is managing it and everything will be sold to the students at exact cost. These cafeterias have proved a great success in other places and will doubtless be popular here.

There's Still Time--But Hurry!

December first has come and gone, but there is still time for you to deposit money in a Lilley State Bank savings account and have it draw interest from the first of the month. This is because we allow all deposits made until the tenth to draw interest from the time our quarterly interest period starts.

It doesn't matter so much how small the deposit is with which you open your account, as the regularity with which you make deposits after it is opened. Start your account with whatever sum you have, but determine then and there how much you will add each week or month.

We put all the money you deposit in a savings account to work for you drawing interest at 4 per cent compounded quarterly.

Don't delay. Remember, only deposits made before December tenth will draw interest from the first. Come in today and take advantage of this offer.

BRUSH LOADS.

The old stand-patters have discovered Abe Lincoln was right—you can't fool all of them all the time.

There are no character assassins living below the Mason and Dixon Line. They are all sleeping in the cemetery where they belong.

Falling over the obstruction on Evans St. and off the narrow planks on Chicago St. is the favorite past-time of pedestrians now days.

The fellow who writes the Dung Hill paragraphs is certainly right at home on his subject. Some column we say.

Only 14 shopping days to Christmas, Buy that present early while the selection is large and you can get a wide choice and if you want extra good values—buy it in Tecumseh.

If Dolf Heesen lives, Union St. will be wide enough after the new pavement is laid so you can turn the hearse toward the cemetery without having to back it up. Anyway he gets results.

The fellow who voted for Groesbeck will soon have a chance to see how much it is worth when he steps up and pays his taxes. He should not whimper a word because political slavery has cost him nearly all he is worth.

The person who is in the hog wallow himself usually is found slinging mud on everyone within reach so as to make them look more like himself. Misery certainly loves company.

If the woman who is so fond of gossiping about some other woman's husband knew as much about her own as others do she would doubtless haul in her long tongue and retire to complete silence.

Congress is trying to vote a loan of $5,000,000 to Liberia and the interest amounts to $50,000 more than the whole customs receipts, and J. P. Morgan gets half of the loan to help pay his crowd back according to reports. Some finances for our government to get into.

Some of the learned ones please rise and tell us what we get in return for the extortionate taxes we are about to pay. Do we get any more or better government than we did when taxes were one-fourth what they are today? Please rise you followers of Groesbeck et al.

A member of the Chicago School Board says that its the parents who need lectures on sex questions not the children. What the children need, is more old-fashioned parental control. We believe it applies to small towns just as well as to Chicago judging from reports.

After you have paid the first installment on your coal bill, please tell us who is paying for the strike loss to the coal barons? Also tell us what Congress is doing to prevent the hold-up? And you might also tell what Congress is doing in anyway to help the common people? It is a very short story.

To Do Your Shopping

Christmas will be here before you realize it and you can avoid this "last minute" confusion by coming in now when you can take your time in making your selections and be better satisfied by having large, complete stocks to choose from.

Ours is primarily a Man's Store so when ready to get a gift for "Him" come here and let us help make suggestions.

Our entire stock is in the class of acceptable and practical gifts—the two main points in Christmas giving at the present time.

Which Kind Are You?

We were in rather a contemplative mood the other day, watching the busy crowd of Christmas shoppers. It was a good study of human nature. Early in the day good feeling reigned, but as twilight deepened, folks were less good natured. Perhaps that's the reason you see signs posted about everywhere, "Do your Christmas Shopping Early."

Some do and some don't. One customer was so previous as to have all her gifts wrapped and marked about Thanksgiving time. They've been undone and the cards changed several times since, but she will avoid the rush of shopping at the last minute.

You'll enjoy shopping here in this big Xmas store. Lots of room, lots of clerks and lots of Gift Goods.

SOME PUP ARRIVES.

Dr. Hammel has just received a liver and white pointer which carries the cognoman or nom de plume of Julius Caesar and he is an aristocratic pup judging by his ancestral tail (Tale).

His grandfather was Commanche Franc an international champion bird dog with a record longer than a village ordinance against spooning in the Park, nevertheless, Julius Caesar is a real bird dog from the very best stock available. Doubtless the genial Doctor will have loads of sport shooting over him when Mr. Dorg gets out of his swaddling fur and into ship shape for field work.

Cries of "Author!"

The child actors who appear with Viola Dana in her new Metro picture, "The Five Dollar Baby," by Irvin S. Cobb, at the Bradley Theatre, Sat. Dec. 9, are enthusiastic about the story. Miss Dana, overhearing two of them—boys about ten years old—discussing the picture, found an unexpected reason for their enthusiasm. One boy was saying: "I'll bet that Jack Dempsey, Babe Ruth, Mugsy McGraw or none of them would write a play like this."

So Miss Dana asked who he thot had written "The Five Dollar Baby." "Why Ty Cobb, of course," he said.

Rex Taylor adapted the story for the screen. John Arnold did the photography.

Novel Titles Found In Comedy Film.

The titles in "Too Much Happiness," which will be shown at Bradley Theatre on Sunday, are decidedly novel. They add much to the comedy and many of them come as surprises to the spectator.

"Too Much Happiness" is a comedy based on Earl Derr Biggers' Saturday Evening Post story, "John Henry and the Restless Sex." It was produced by Jess Robbins with an all-star cast which includes Edward Horton, Ethel Grey Terry, Tully Marshall, John Steppling, Carl Gerard, Elsa Lorimer, Helen Gilmore, Mack Fenton, Tom Murray and a score of children.

Hard To Believe Film Was Not Made In City Of Paris.

When "A Rogue's Romance," which will be shown at Bradley Theatre on Wednesday, Dec. 12, was projected in Paris the atmosphere and backgrounds were so true to the environs of the city that it was hard for the Parisian to believe that it was produced anywhere but their home city. But such was not the case. The picture was produced on the west coast with Earle Williams and Rodolph Valentino in the stellar roles.

"Satan's Empire Falling

MILLIONS NOW LIVING WILL NEVER DIE"

DO YOU KNOW who Satan really is—what his name was before he became the adversary of God—how he drew after him many of the angelic host—how he was the one who caused Adam to lose his life, and therefore the whole human race through Adam—how that God has permitted it all and additionally will cause it to work out a greater blessing through His supreme wisdom?

DO YOU KNOW that Satan has usurped the ruling power of this world to himself—that his power will soon be taken from him—that he has the power of death—that "the last enemy to be destroyed is death"—that he, too, will perish along with his works?

DO YOU KNOW that Satan is the originator and perpetrator of spiritism or the so-called "talking with the dead"—that when you think you have received a message from a loved one that you are in reality forming a forbidden link with the demons?

DO YOU WANT the Scriptural and historical proof for these facts and also that the fallen angels are now under process of judgment—that they will very soon be shorn of their power—that an opportunity is now opening to all who desire to line up on Jehovah's side and thus be one of the millions who will never die. If you are one of these you will need no urging to come and hear

Nature's Way CHIROPRACTIC

(Section of spinal column showing pinched nerve the cause of disease.)

When you are sick, do you know the reason WHY?

Some say germs, loss of sleep, improper food, worry, overwork, and various other so-called reasons are offered. Isn't it funny, when we stop to think about it, that we are like monkeys—just repeat and imitate?

What is it that causes you to be sick. Isn't it because some part of your body fails to work as it should. When we consider that every organ in the body is dependent upon NERVE ENERGY, isn't it easy to understand how pressure on spinal nerves cutting off the flow of, this nerve energy, will affect the organ involved and cause sickness?

And isn't it just as easy to understand how the removal of this pressure will restore the full flow of nerve energy, allowing the sick organ to again do its work as nature intended?

This common-sense idea of the CAUSE of sickness and its correction, is what has made Chiropractic famous. If you would know more about this better way to health, visit our office and we will be glad to explain more fully, and if desired we will give you a free spinal analysis and tell you frankly what we can do for you.
